

Updated for Windows 98 and Internet Explorer 4.0

"The Little PC Book takes you by the hand and leads you through buying, setting up, and using PCs and Windows. Suddenly it's not scary anymore."

— Jan Ziff, *Sound*Bytes*, heard on CBS Radio

A friendly introduction to computer basics, choosing hardware and software, getting started with e-mail and the Web, and more.

The Little

PC Book

Third Edition

LAWRENCE J. MAGID

ILLUSTRATED BY JOHN GRIMES

toc

Table of Contents

Part 1/Getting Oriented	1
1 Why Learn About Computers?	3
2 How Is a Computer Like a CD Player?	7
3 The Two Kinds of Personal Computers	8
4 What Is Windows?	11
5 Good Places to Get Help Learning About Your PC	16
Part 2/Putting Together a System	26
6 What Do You Call That Thing Anyway?	28
7 Where to Buy a PC	31
8 Should You Get a Notebook Computer?	36
9 How to Choose the Right Computer	41
10 The CPU: How Fast Is Fast?	45
11 Memory: The Electronic Workspace	51
12 The Hard Disk: The Computer's Filing Cabinet	53
13 Removable Disk Drives: The Computer's Front Door	56
14 Expansion Slots and Ports: Ways to Add More Stuff	61
15 Monitors: The Face of the Computer	64
16 The Keyboard: Not Exactly a Typewriter	70
17 Mice and Other Pointing Devices: Making Quick Moves	74
18 Modems: Dialing for Data	77
19 Printers: Putting Your Work on Paper	83
20 Scanners and Digital Cameras: Adding In Art	89
21 Accessories: Making Yourself Comfortable	94
22 Putting It All Together	98
23 Setting Up Your Workplace	104

Part 3/Working With Windows	108
24 Starting Your Computer	110
25 The Windows Desktop	114
26 Giving Commands in Windows	118
27 Seeing Your Files: My Computer and My Documents	128
28 Working With Desktop Windows	136
29 The Taskbar	141
30 Getting Help From Windows	144
31 Opening Programs	147
32 Working With Applications	150
33 Working With Multimedia	161
34 Organizing Your Files	166
35 Backing Up	171
36 Customizing Your Desktop	175
37 Housekeeping Tasks	185
38 If You Get Stuck	192
39 Shutting Down	196
Part 4/Exploring the Internet	200
40 Getting Online	202
41 Internet Explorer and the World Wide Web	209
42 Sending E-Mail With Outlook Express	222
43 Joining Newsgroups With Outlook Express	230
44 Internet Channels and Active Desktop	237

Part 5/Stocking Up on Software	242
45 How Much Software Do You Need?	244
46 Software You Already Have	246
47 How to Choose Software	248
48 Where to Get Software	253
49 Software Suites: Cheaper by the Half-Dozen	257
50 Installing and Uninstalling Software	260
51 Word Processing: Writing Made Easy	263
52 Spreadsheets: Working With Numbers	270
53 Personal Information Managers: Your Electronic Secretary	273
54 Financial Software: Running Your Home Like a Business	278
55 Presentation Software: Making a Professional Impression	282
56 Graphics: Working With Pictures	285
57 Database Management: Organizing (Lots of) Information	296
58 Utility Software: Computer Housekeeping	300
59 Entertainment Software: Just for Fun	305
60 Children's Software: Learning and Playing	317
61 Reference Software: Knowledge on CD-ROM	328
Glossary	336
Index	359