

THE HISTORY OF THE TIMES

THE THOMSON YEARS

1966-1981

JOHN GRIGG

CONTENTS

Frontispiece

List of illustrations viii

Introduction xi

- CHAPTER I The new proprietor • The good soldier Hamilton • Character of an editor • Rees-Mogg takes over 1
- II Unchanged strategy • New look for the paper • No purge of editorial staff • Lone voice in the boardroom • Premature launch of TBN • An old man and the sea 23
- III Making leaders count • Harold Wilson's hour • Rees-Mogg's antipathy to Wilson • Musings of a European • The Six-Day War • Editor and proprietor • Defending Mick Jagger 43
- IV Devaluation and a new chancellor • A brush with Downing Street • Stern line on honours • Shift of view on Vietnam • Two assassinations • Firm stand on race 65
- V Haley's farewell • Cecil King and coalition • 'Student power' and the Paris événements • Prague's blighted spring • Death in Hove 85
- VI Uneasiness in the board room • Men on the moon • Overboard for Biafra • Northern Ireland: troops in • Lady in waiting 98
- VII War of Hodgkin's article • Busting a police racket • Moment of truth • New talent • Treatment of the arts • Book pages • Lightning Waugh 112
- VIII Wilson out, Heath in • The White Swan affair • Editorial changes • Enter Bernard Levin • New joy for cruciverbalists 136
- IX The new government • Garden House sentences • Nasser and de Gaulle • Hamilton replaced as chief executive • End of the backset TBN • Decimalisation and Rolls-Royce 157

- X Page seven girl • Priceless unpaid contributors • EEC entry: France the key • Editorialising on the grand scale • Vote won, treaty signed • Weekend in the country • Evolution of features 174
- XI Barber cuts taxes • Papist and Presbyterian • A contentious bill • Embattled Levin • Law reporting • Dermatitis strike • Benevolent feudalism 191
- XII Direct Rule in Ulster • Resident reporter • A joke misfires • Union militancy blows the government off course • Unemployment and inflation – which the principal enemy? • A curious rumour • Ill-defined diary 208
- XIII Royal matters • Exclusive notice-board • Signs of schism on the left • Dealings with Mr. Wilson • Ugandan Asians, and the relentlessness of Enoch Powell • Religion as news 230
- XIV Hussey's damned inheritance • Expulsion from Moscow; excursion to Peking • New typeface • Significant departures • The Middle East to Yom Kippur • Office lunches • Home news team 252
- XV The Times as good European • More Ulster experiments • The Times and Watergate • Government in crisis • Anatomy of a conversion 273
- XVI The fall of Heath • May days in Ulster • The move to Gray's Inn Road 294
- XVII Tory heart-searching • The second election of 1974 • Episcopal leg-pull • Conservatives look for a new leader • Mrs Thatcher triumphs • Foreign desk • Sport in the paper 311
- XVIII Referendum on Europe • Foot and press freedom • Sensitive matters • Obituaries: tradition and change • In place of contract 336
- XIV Fisk and Colin Wallace • More fringe problems • An extravagant tribute • Wilson resigns: Callaghan succeeds • Belabouring Healey • Editorial tensions 357
- XX From Roy to Kenneth • Power struggle in China • Monetarist manifesto • Healey turned back at Heathrow • An outsider to the White House 378

- XXI Ominous setbacks for Hussey • Astor incident and Bullock report • India rejects dictatorship • Lib-Lab pact • A surprise appointment • New lobby chief 396
- XXII Silver jubilee • Good Bourbon wins through • Wrongful exposure • Grunwick • Double Dutch • Allen fights for her rights 418
- XXIII Sadat's separate peace • Relations with Mrs Thatcher • Crisis in Italy • Management decides to risk all-out war • Preparing after deciding 441
- XXIV Three Popes • Labour and 5 per cent • Ferment in Iran • Towards the deadline • Commons debate – then silence 460
- XXV Futile initiatives • Foreign adventure • Journalists unhappy and divided • Management in retreat • Peace without security 475
- XXVI Back in business • Timely scoop • Sermon for the new decade • The centre beckons again • From Rhodesia to Zimbabwe • Carter agonistes 500
- XXVII Thatcherism on the home front • 'My money' • Labour rifts grow • Reagan nominated • Golden oldies • Journalists' strike 519
- XXVIII Polish miracle • New Labour leader • Reagan elected • Long shadow of Thatcherism • Decision to sell: Brunton's hour • Picking the winner 540
- XXIX Opposition formally fragmented • Longley v. Opus Dei • Royal election and royal engagement • Special relationship • The new owner • The deal clinched • Rees-Mogg signs off 560
- APPENDIX A Comparative circulations and prices of broadsheet dailies 1967–81 580
- B Editorial and senior management personnel on The Times during the Thomson period 582
- C Awards to The Times and contributors 595
- Chronology 598
- Note on sources 607
- Index 609