

THE INQUISITION
OF THE MIDDLE AGES

HENRY CHARLES LEA

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I.—THE INQUISITION FOUNDED.

Uncertainty in the Discovery and Punishment of Heretics	1
Growth of Episcopal Jurisdiction	4
Procedure in Episcopal Courts.—The Inquisitorial Process	5
System of Inquests	7
Efforts to Establish an Episcopal Inquisition	9
Endeavor to Create a Legatine Inquisition	11
Fitness of the Mendicant Orders for the Work	14
Secular Legislation for Suppression of Heresy	15
Edict of Gregory XI. in 1231.—Secular Inquisition Tried	20
Tentative Introduction of Papal Inquisitors	22
Dominicans Invested with Inquisitorial Functions	24
Episcopal Functions not Superseded	26
Struggle between Bishops and Inquisitors	28
Settlement when Inquisition Becomes Permanent	31
Control Given to Inquisitors in Italy; in France; in Aragon	32
All Opposing Legislation Annulled	37
All Social Forces Placed at Command of Inquisition	38
Absence of Supervision and Accountability	39
Extent of Jurisdiction	43
Penalty of Impeding the Inquisition	45
Fruitless Rivalry of the Bishops	46
Limits of Extension of the Inquisition	47
The Northern Nations Virtually Exempt	48
Africa and the East	51
Vicissitudes of Episcopal Inquisition	52
Greater Efficiency of the Papal Inquisition	60
Bernard Gui's Model Inquisitor	63

CHAPTER II.—ORGANIZATION.

Simplicity of the Inquisition	65
Inquisitorial Districts.—Itinerant Inquests	66
Time of Grace.—Its Efficiency	67

Buildings and Prisons	69
Personnel of the Tribunal	70
The Records.—Their Completeness and Importance	75
Familiars.—Question of Bearing Arms	77
Resources of the State at Command of Inquisitors	81
Episcopal Concurrence in Sentence	83
The Assembly of Experts	84
The Sermo or Auto de fé	87
Co-operation of Tribunals	90
Occasional Inquisitors-general	93

CHAPTER III.—THE INQUISITORIAL PROCESS.

Inquisitor both Judge and Confessor	95
Difficulty of Proving Heresy	96
The Inquisitorial Process universally Employed	97
Age of Responsibility.—Proceedings in Absentia .—The Dead	98
All Safeguards Withdrawn.—Secrecy of Procedure	101
Confession not Requisite for Conviction	103
Importance Attached to Confession	104
Interrogatory of the Accused	106
Resources for Extracting Confession.—Deceit	110
Irregular Tortures, Mental and Physical.—Delays	113
Formal Torture	117
Restricted by Clement V.	120
Rules for its Employment	122
Retraction of Confessions	124

CHAPTER IV.—EVIDENCE.

Comparative Unimportance of Witnesses	125
Flimsiness of Evidence Admitted	126
The Crime Known as "Suspicion of Heresy"	128
Number of Witnesses.—No Restrictions as to Character or Age	129
Mortal Enmity the only Disability	131
Secrecy of Confessional Disregarded	132
Suppression of Names of Witnesses	132
Evidence sometimes Withheld	134
Frequency of False-witness.—Its Penalty	135

CHAPTER V.—THE DEFENCE.

Opportunity of Defence Reduced to a Minimum	139
Denial of Counsel	140
Malice of Witnesses the only Defence	142
Prosecution of the Dead	144
Defence practically Impossible.—Appeals	145
Condemnation virtually Inevitable	149
Suspicion of Heresy.—Light, Vehement, and Violent	150
Purgation by Conjurators	151
Abjuration	153

CHAPTER VI.—THE SENTENCE.

Penance not Punishment	155
Grades of Penance	158
Miscellaneous Penances	159
Flagellation	160
Pilgrimages	161
Crusades to Palestine	162
Wearing Crosses	164
Fines and Commutations	167
Unfulfilled Penance	171
Bail	172
Abuses.—Bribery and Extortion	173
Destruction of Houses	177
Arbitrary Penalties	179
Imprisonment	180
Troubles about the Expenses	185
Treatment of Prisoners	187
Comparative Frequency of Different Penalties	190
Modification of Sentences	191
Penitents never Pardoned, although Reprieved	192
Penalties of Descendants	194
Inquisitorial Excommunication	196

CHAPTER VII.—CONFISCATION.

Origin in the Roman Law	197
The Church Responsible for its Introduction	198
Varying Practice in Decreeing it	200

Degree of Criminality Entailing it	203
Question of the Dowry of Wives	205
The Church Shares the Spoils in Italy	206
In France they are Seized by the State	209
The Bishops Obtain a Share	210
Rapacity of Confiscation	213
Alienations and Obligations Void	218
Paralyzing Influence on Commercial Development	220
Expenses of Inquisition, how Defrayed	221
Persecution Dependent on Confiscation	224

CHAPTER VIII.—THE STAKE.

Theoretical Irresponsibility of the Inquisition	230
The Church Coerces the Secular Power to Burn Heretics	232
Only Impenitent Heretics Burned	237
Relapse.—Hesitation as to its Penalty.—Burning Decided upon	239
Difficulty of Defining Relapse	243
Refusal to Submit to Penance	244
Probable Frequency of Burning	245
Details of Execution	247
Burning of Books	250
Influence of Inquisitorial Methods on the Church	253
Influence on Secular Jurisprudence	255
Index	259