

LIFE

An Enigma,
a Precious Jewel

Daisaku Ikeda

Trans. by Charles S. Terry

CONTENTS

Preface 7

I. THE COSMOS AND LIFE

1. THE BODY AND THE SPIRIT 13
The Strange Phenomenon of Life / The Human Body /
Probing the Depths of the Mind
2. MAN AND NATURE 28
Only One Cosmos / Environment and Adaptability / Action and Reaction in Life
3. EYES THAT CAN SEE LIFE 46
What Are Dreams? / A Constantly Changing World /
Time, Space, and Latency / The Constant and Immutable
Self
4. THE RIDDLE OF TIME 64
Physical Time / Subjective Time / Eternity in an Instant
5. THE ESSENCE OF THE COSMOS 76
Concepts of the Universe / Subjective Space / Space-Time

II. THE BUDDHIST VIEW OF LIFE

6. THE TEN STATES OF BEING 91
From Hell to Buddhahood / The Evil Paths / Humanity and Rapture / The Six Lower States / Learning and Realization / Bodhisattva Nature and Buddhahood

7. MUTUAL POSSESSION

132

Examples from Life / The Human Revolution / The Infinite Possibilities of Life / Appearance, Nature, and Entity / The Dynamics of Life / The Principle of Individuality / The Five Aggregates / Sentient Beings and the Environment / Three Thousand Possible Worlds

III. LIFE AND DEATH

8. THE NATURE OF DEATH

171

Death the Inevitable / Life after Death / A Law of Conservation / Death the Expedient

9. LIFE IN OUTER SPACE

190

Probability / Life on Earth

10. THE ORIGIN OF MAN

200

Human Evolution / The Nature of Human Development

11. THE ETERNITY OF LIFE

211

From Sentient to Non-sentient / The Permanent Self / Conditions for Rebirth / Implications for Our Present Life

Bibliography

231

Glossary

236

Index

244