

A FORGOTTEN VISION

A study of human spirituality
in the light of the Islamic tradition

DR. SHUJA ALHAQ

Contents

Dedication	3
Foreword	9
Prologue	11

Book One

Chapter 1

Sufism in today's Islamic world and Iqbal	65
The split between the Muslim intelligentsia and Sufism	65
Iqbal's early mystical thought	68
The transformation of Iqbal's ideas	72
The religious world view of the Asrar-i Khudī	73
Iqbal's expansionist conception of Islam	77
Iqbal's refutation of Sufism	79
The dualist character of Iqbal's thought	85
Iqbal's reputation as a Sufi poet	88
The Western contribution to Iqbal's Sufi image	94
The divergent trends in Sufism	99

Chapter 2

The seed and the split:
The origins of Islamic spirituality	105
The rise of the two schools	105
The Unitarian vision of the Quran	108
Man's relationship with the world	114
Legacy of Ali	121

Chapter 3

The origin and development of Sufism:
The first phase	130
Legacy of the Imams	130
The rise of asceticism	134
Growth of Sufism	138
The ecstasy of Bastami	141
The sobriety of Junayd	144

The transcendence of Hallaj	147
Abu Sa'īd bin Abi al-Khair's vindication of Hallaj	152

Chapter 4

The origin and development of Sufism:

The second phase	167
Ibn Arabi: the beginnings	167
The context	170
Ibn Arabi's exposition of the Unitarian doctrine	174
The God of beauty and belief	200
Ibn Arabi's attitude towards the sharr'ca	212
The unity of ecstasy and knowledge in Rumi	227

Chapter 5

Sufism in India: The third phase

The growth of Sufi orders	244
Rise of the Chishtiyya in India	246
The power and personality of Nizam ad-Din Awliya	249
Crystallization of the two world views	256
The Suhrawardiyya	262
The Firdawsiyya and Sharaf ad-Din Maneri	269
The Qalandars	277

Book Two

Chapter 6

The contemporary Indian spiritual traditions

The Sufi interaction with Indian spirituality	284
Gorakhnath and the Nath Yogis	286
Beginnings of the Indian Sufi tradition of literary romance	291
The Sants and the North Indian bhakti movement	293
Kabir: the paramount saint of Medieval India	304
Kabir's life and early influences	306
Kabir's problem and his sources	308

Chapter 7

The origins of Hindu spirituality

The divine world of the Rig-Veda	313
The Upanishads and the birth of Unitary world view	318
The origins of the Hindu dharma	330
The growth of the Hindu dharma	341
A critique of modern Indology	342

Chapter 8

The unity and continuity of the Hindu dharma	367
Brahmacharya : the parent institution of renunciation	367
The two Householders as mediators	372
Last stages towards Freedom	375
The Unitarian vision of the dharma	379
The caste-structure	396
The work-ethic of the Gṛha	407
Image worship	414

Chapter 9

Kabir's Unitarian Vision

The knowledge of difference	419
Love of God and the problem of immortality and freedom	425
Kabir's critique of religion	433
Unity of God, man and religion	448

Book Three

Chapter 10

The life and work of Farid ad-Din Shakarganj	467
The pioneer of khānaqāh life in India	470
Panjabi poetry attributed to Farid	474
A study of the Farīd-Bānī	481
After Farid	491

Chapter 11

The rise of the Qādiriyya

Miyan Mir: his life and work	498
Shah Husain	505
Shah Husain's work	508
Sultan Bahu and his work	521

Chapter 12

The new world order of Akbar

The spiritual background	533
The contemporary and modern sources	535
The beginnings of Akbar's career	542
Early spiritual inclinations and Akbar's devotion to Mu ^c in ad-Din Chishti	544
The orthodox influence in the court and Akbar's disillusionment	546

The foundation of the Ībādat-khāna and the rise of Abu al-Fazl	550
The concept of the just ruler	553
The Unitarian foundations of the new order	555
Tawhīd-i ilāhī and the concept of the ideal ruler/state	566
Insurgence in art and culture	574

Chapter 13

The orthodox Sufism of Ahmad Sirhindi	579
Sirhindi's alignment with the Ālams	582
Sirhindi's attitude towards the state	585
Sirhindi's approach towards the non-Muslims	590
Sirhindi's self-image	595
Sirhindi's dualism	599
Sirhindi's conception of Sufism	608
Sirhindi's mystical experience	615

Chapter 14

The Unitarian world of Bullhe Shah	626
The life and work of Bullhe Shah	629
The sources of Bullhe Shah's poetry	633
Bullhe Shah's style	635
Some major themes of Bullhe Shah's poetry	637
Bullhe Shah and the end of the Sufi tradition	652

Notes	659
Prologue	661
Chapter 1	669
Chapter 2	676
Chapter 3	683
Chapter 4	696
Chapter 5	716
Chapter 6	726
Chapter 7	737
Chapter 8	751
Chapter 9	760
Chapter 10	766
Chapter 11	773
Chapter 12	782
Chapter 13	798
Chapter 14	809

Bibliography	815
---------------------	-----