

Society and History

Martyr Murtaḍā Muṭahharī

Translated from the Persian by

MAHLIQĀ QARĀ'Ī

Islamic Propagation Organization

Contents

Translator's Preface	1
INTRODUCTION	3
PART ONE: SOCIETY
I What is Society?	7
Is Man Social by Nature?	8
Does Society Have an Essential and Independent Existence?	10
First View	11
Second View	11
Third View	12
Fourth View	12
The Qur'ānic View	14
II Society and Sociological Laws	18
Determinism or Freedom?	20
III Social Divisions and Polarization	24
IV Nature of Society: Homogeneity or Heterogeneity?	29
V Societies of the Future	33
Notes to Part One	41
PART TWO: HISTORY
VI What is History?	45
Scientific History	50
1. Authenticity and Inauthenticity of Traditional History	51
2. Causation in History	52

VII	Is History Materialistic in Nature?	57
	Basic Principles of Historical Materialism	58
	1. Priority of Matter over Spirit	58
	2. Primacy and Priority of Material Needs over Intellectual Needs	61
	3. Priority of Action Over Thought	62
	4. Priority of the Social Existence of Man Over His Individual Existence, or the Principle of Priority of Sociology over Psychology	64
	5. Priority of the Material Aspect of Society over its Intellectual Aspect.	67
	Conclusions	74
VIII	Criticism of Historical Materialism	88
	1. Baselessness	90
	2. Revision of views by its Founders	90
	3. Self-contradiction in the Doctrine of Necessary Correspondence between Base and Superstructure	97
	4. Nonconformity of Ideological and Class Bases	98
	5. Independence of Cultural Developments	99
	6. Historical Materialism Contradicts Itself	100
IX	Islam and Historical Materialism	102
	Criticism	111
X	Islam's 'Philosophy' of History	133
	Criteria
	1. Strategy of the Call	133
	2. An Ideology's Nomenclature	140
	3. Positive and Negative Conditions for Acceptability	141
	4. Rise and Fall of Societies.	143
	A. Justice and Injustice	143
	B. Unity and Disunity	144
	C. Practice or Neglect of the Principle of al-'Amr bi al-Ma'rūf wa al-Nahy 'an al-Munkar	144
	D. Moral Corruption and Degeneration	145
XI	Evolution and Change in History	146
	1. The Racial Theory	147
	2. The Geographical Theory	148
	3. The Theory of the Role of Geniuses or Heroes	148
	4. The Economic Theory	149
	5. The Religious Theory	150
	6. The Theory of Nature	152
	The Role of Personality in History	153
	Notes to Part Two	156