

THE TRANSFER OF POWER IN INDIA

V. P. MENON

Contents

Foreword - Capt. C P Krishnan Nair	page	xiii
V P Menon : An Appreciation - M V Kamath		xxi
Preface		xcv
I The Goal of British Policy		1
II All-India Federation — A Lost Ideal		46
III War and the Deadlock		67
IV The August Offer and After		100
V The Cripps Mission		134
VI The Stalemate Continues		162
VII A New Approach		194
VIII The Simla Conference		212
IX The General Elections		252
X The Cabinet Mission I		275
XI The Cabinet Mission II		298
XII The Interim Government I		327
The Interim Government II		351
XIV The Constituent Assembly		371
XV The Evolution of a Plan		408
XVI Acceptance of the Plan		433
XVII The Implementation of the Plan		452
XVIII The Birth of Two Dominions		472
XIX The Aftermath of Partition		487
XX Conclusion		509

CONTENTS

APPENDIXES

I	Extracts from a Report of the Punjab Legislative Assembly Debates, 11 March 1941	519
II	Broadcast Speech on The Viceroy, Lord Wavell, 14 June 1945	540
III	Statement made in Parliament by The Secretary of State for India, L.S. Amery, 14 June 1945	544
IV	Statement of The Cabinet Mission and The Viceroy, 16 May 1946	548
V	The Secretary of State's Broadcast, 16 May 1946	560
VI	Lord Wavell's Broadcast, 17 May 1946	564
VII	Statement by Sir Stafford Cripps at a Press Conference on 16 May 1946	568
VIII	Cabinet Mission Press Conference of 17 May 1946	574
IX	Statement made by Prime Minister Attlee in the House of Commons, 20 February 1947	599
X	Statement made by His Majesty's Government, 3 June 1947	603
XI	The Indian Independence Act, 1947	610
XII	Congress, Comments on the Draft Indian Independence Bill with Nehru's Corrections and Signature	following 632
	Books and Publications consulted	633
	Index	635
		XV The Evolution of a Plan
		XVI Acceptance of the Plan
		XVII The Implications of the Plan
		XVIII The Birth of Two Dominions
		XIX The Aftermath of Partition
		XX Conclusion