

COOPERATING FOR PEACE

*The Global Agenda for the 1990s
and Beyond*

Gareth
Evans

Contents

Preface xi

Acknowledgements xiii

Abbreviations xvi

I DEFINING THE ISSUES

1 Peace and Security in the 1990s and Beyond: Problems and Responses

After the Cold War 3

Defining international security problems 5

Defining possible responses 8

Matching responses to problems 13

The idea of cooperative security 15

2 The United Nations and the International Community

The United Nations system 17

Regional organisations 29

Sovereign states 34

Other international peace and security actors 34

II BUILDING PEACE

3 International Regimes

The concept of peace building 39

Legal regimes and dispute resolution mechanisms 40

Arms control and disarmament regimes 45

Dialogue and cooperation arrangements 50

4 In-Country Peace Building

Pre-conflict peace building 52

Post-conflict peace building 55

III MAINTAINING PEACE

5 Preventive Diplomacy

- The concept of preventive diplomacy 61
Past United Nations practice 63
A new approach: emphasising early prevention 65
Making UN preventive diplomacy more effective 70
Preventive diplomacy through other international actors 76

6 Preventive Deployment

- The concept of preventive deployment 81
Making preventive deployment effective 83

IV RESTORING PEACE

7 Peace Making

- From preventive diplomacy to peace making and keeping 89
Peace making through the United Nations 92
Peace making through other international actors 95

8 Peace Keeping

- The evolution of United Nations peace keeping 99
When peace keepers should be deployed 106
The organisation and management of peace keeping operations 120

V ENFORCING PEACE

9 Sanctions

- Sanctions and Peace enforcement 133
Past United Nations practice 134
Making sanctions more effective 138

10 Peace Enforcement

- The peace enforcement option 143
Peace enforcement in response to cross border aggression 146
Peace enforcement in support of peace keeping operations 149

Peace enforcement in support of humanitarian objectives	153
The organisation and management of peace enforcement operations	160

VI COOPERATING FOR PEACE

11 Reforming the United Nations

The need for further reform	169
Priority 1: Restructuring the Secretariat	170
Priority 2: Solving the funding problem	174
Priority 3: Improving the management of peace operations	177
Priority 4: Giving priority to prevention	178
Priority 5: Rethinking humanitarian coordination	178
Priority 6: Raising the profile of peace building	179
Priority 7: Regenerating the Security Council	180

12 Cooperative security for the 1990s and beyond

Getting the culture right: the cooperative security instinct	182
Getting the concepts right: asking the right questions	183
Getting the delivery right: cooperative security in action	188

Charts

1 Cooperative security: matching responses to problems	14
2 The United Nations system	19
3 Security Council resolutions passed and vetoed 1946–1992	21
4 The relationship between preventive diplomacy, peace making and peace keeping	91
5 UN peace keeping personnel deployed 1946–1993	100
6 UN peace keeping operations 1946–1993	101
7 Proposed reorganisation of UN Secretariat	172

Case Study Boxes

1 Iraq's Invasion of Kuwait in 1990: A Failure to Use Preventive Diplomacy	68
--	----

Contents

- 2 The South China Sea since 1990: An Innovative Regional Approach to Preventive Diplomacy 77
- 3 Cyprus since 1964: Keeping but not Making Peace 93
- 4 The Middle East since 1991: Seizing the Peace Making Momentum 96
- 5 Cambodia 1992–1993: A Flawed but Successful Expanded Peace Keeping Operation 107
- 6 Angola since 1991: Peace Keeping under Strain 115
- 7 The Gulf War Coalition 1990–1991: Peace Enforcement in Response to Cross Border Aggression 148
- 8 Bosnia–Herzegovina since 1992: Enforcement in Support of Peace Keeping Operations 150
- 9 Somalia since 1992: Enforcement in Support of Humanitarian Objectives 154

Bibliography 191

Index 211