

The Guide to World Energy Privatisation

Produced by The Petroleum Economist Ltd., London in association with Arthur Andersen/Andersen Consulting

ANDERSEN
CONSULTING

ARTHUR ANDERSEN & Co, SC

PETROLEUM
ECONOMIST

ARTHUR
ANDERSEN

ARTHUR ANDERSEN & Co, SC

Picture: Unloading facilities at Yamburg port, Russia

4	A PRIME MINISTER'S VIEWPOINT	The appeal of going private Tansu Çiller, Prime Minister of Turkey
6	WORLD ENERGY PRODUCTION	Oil, gas, power and coal production shown in graph form
10	CASE STUDY: YPF	Vision for the next decade Jose A Estenssoro, President, YPF
14	PRIVATISATION: ITS MECHANICS AND BENEFITS	The transformation of national oil companies J David Simpson, Arthur Andersen, Houston
20	CASE STUDY: PETROPERU	In to profit and in to foreign hands Emilio Zuniga Castillo, Chairman, Petroperu SA
24	ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES	Clear up the clean-up factor before buying George Pilko, Pilko and Associates, Inc., Houston
29	PRIVATISATION: THE PROCESS	A step-by-step guide to going private Daniel J Arbess and Joshua Kiernan, White & Case
38	MEETING THE COMPETITION	Predictable Patterns: the competitive challenge facing national oil companies David L Moore, Arthur Andersen, Houston and Kenneth W Baldwin, Andersen Consulting, Buenos Aires
45	ENTERPRISE TRANSFORMATION	How to transform from public to private Royce Bell, Andersen Consulting, London and Richard Emerton, Arthur Andersen, London
48	GERMANY	The Treuhandanstalt: Turning east into west Dr. Michael Bauer, Project Manager, Privatisation/M&A, Roland Berger & Partner, Berlin
52	ITALY	Going private but the state retains a grip Gabriele Rosa, Arthur Andersen, Rome
55	UNITED KINGDOM	The juggernaut slows but there's plenty of mileage left Jim Levi, Petroleum Economist
59	ARGENTINA	A southern-cone success story James Harris, Petroleum Economist
61	PERU	Peru swallows the privatisation pill Marco Antonio Zaldivar, Arthur Andersen, Lima

63	BRAZIL	Easing the state sector John Kolodziejski, Latin America correspondent, Petroleum Economist
67	FRANCE	A smooth path from regulation to liberalism Pascal Macioce and Philippe Diu, Arthur Andersen, Paris
70	SWEDEN	All quiet on the energy front Maria Kielmas, Petroleum Economist
72	BALTIC STATES	The Baltics ease the brakes but jump-start needed Nick Johnson, Watson, Farley & Williams, Solicitors, London
74	SRI LANKA	Wanted: a clear policy David Haarmeyer, Senior Advisor, public/private partnerships, Centre for Financial Engineering in Development, Washington DC
76	HUNGARY	Preparing for the private route Emery Jakab, Arthur Andersen, Budapest
78	PAKISTAN	The need is great but the finance is wanting Nigel Ash, Petroleum Economist
80	ISRAEL	Only a long-term prospect Zeev Holtzman, Chief Executive Officer, Giza Group, Tel Aviv
82	INDIA	Striving to meet the surge of demand Lalit Ahluwalia, Arthur Andersen, New Delhi and Ashok Wadhwa, Arthur Andersen, Bombay
85	SPECIAL SECTION	Oil and gas infrastructure in Russia Rosneftgazstroy
93	RUSSIA	The giant stirs but the bones creak Steve Sandweiss, Arthur Andersen, Moscow
97	SPAIN	Progressive deregulation brings its benefits Eduardo Sanz and Enrique Lubian, Arthur Andersen, Madrid
100	PHILIPPINES	Forward with the energy plan Mildred R Ramos, SGV & Co., Manila. Member Firm of Arthur Andersen
103	TURKEY	Full steam ahead to the private sector Tansu Çiller, Prime Minister of Turkey
105	BOLIVIA	Bolivia tries a novel approach Alan Jones, Partner, and Pablo Cavallaro, Associate, Clifford Chance
108	CHINA: OIL AND GAS	State hand loosening grip on the tiller David L Moore, Arthur Andersen, Houston and Gong Li, Andersen Consulting, Hong Kong
111	CHINA: POWER	A complex interplay of politics and economics Neil Donoghue, Baker & McKenzie, Solicitors, London
114	CASE STUDY: ÖMV	Forty years old and going private Vladimir Baum, Petroleum Economist
116	PORTUGAL	Setbacks fail to derail the programme Paul Mollet, Petroleum Economist
119	MEXICO	National wealth not for sale Nigel Ash, Petroleum Economist
120	CARIBBEAN	Slow steamer through the Caribbean David Renwick, Petroleum Economist
123-168	ENERGY PRIVATISATION: WORLD REVIEW	A comprehensive listing of world privatisation activities
169-172	DIRECTORY	Arthur Andersen and Andersen Consulting offices

Published by The Petroleum Economist Ltd, Export House, 25/31 Ironmonger Row, London EC1V 3PN.
Tel: +44 171 251 3501 Fax: +44 171 253 1224
© The Petroleum Economist Ltd., March 1995
ISBN: 0 906618 23 1