

B

Lim Mah Hui

Ownership and Control of the One Hundred Largest Corporations in Malaysia

east asian social science monographs

Contents

Preface	vii
Tables	xii
Charts	xiv
Diagrams	xiv
1. INTRODUCTION	1
The General Problem	1
The Problem in Malaysia	2
Research Objectives and Organization of the Study	3
2. OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL: SOME THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL CONSIDERATIONS	4
The Concepts of Ownership and Control	4
The Separation Thesis	5
Critics of the Separation Thesis	8
New Methodologies and Paradigms	9
Some Reconsiderations and Reformulations	12
3. ECONOMIC AND OWNERSHIP CONCENTRATION	18
Introduction	18
Review of the Literature	18
Economic Dominance of Large Corporations	20
Concentration of Stock Ownership	27
Concentration of Control	31
Summary	32
4. INTERCORPORATE RELATIONSHIPS	34
Introduction	34
Interlocking Stock Ownership	34
Interlocking Directorates	39
Patterns of Interlock	45
Economic Significance of Interlocking Directorates	48
Summary	49
5. PROFILE OF DIRECTORS	52
Introduction	52
Nationality and Race of Directors	52

Occupation of Directors	53
Title and Aristocratic Status of Malaysian Directors	55
Political Background of Malaysian Directors	60
Number of Directorships Held	62
Directors' Involvement beyond the Boardroom	64
A Typology of Directors	66
Executive-Professional Directors	66
Owner-directors	67
Functional Directors	69
Summary	69
6. SEPARATION OF OWNERSHIP AND CONTROL IN MALAYSIA	71
Introduction	71
Separation of Ownership and Control: The Berle and Means Method	71
Separation of Ownership and Control: The TNEC-Zeitlin Method	73
Sime Darby: Managers or Owners in Control?	78
Summary	81
7. CLIQUES AND INTEREST GROUPS AMONG THE TOP CORPORATIONS IN MALAYSIA	82
Introduction	82
Cliques and Interest Groups: Graph Theoretic Approach	82
The OCBC-Sime Darby Clique	87
The OCBC Interest Group	91
The Sime Darby Group	96
The London Tin-Charter Consolidated Clique	98
The Malayan Banking Clique	102
The Kuok Brothers Clique	104
The Pan Malaysia Cement Clique	106
The Harrisons and Crosfield Clique	107
The Lee Loy Seng Clique	109
The Sung Chi Fang Clique	110
8. CONCLUSION	113
Introduction	113
Major Findings	113
Implications for Theory and Research of Ownership and Control in Malaysia	117
Appendixes	120
1. Research Methodology	120
2. The Top 100 Public Limited Companies Listed on the Malaysian and Singapore Stock Exchanges as Ranked by Consolidated Total Assets, 1973	124

3. Alphabetical Listing of the Top 100 Companies of Malaysia, 1971–1972	126
4. Data Schedules	129
5. List of 62 Companies whose Share Ownership Distribution was Computed	132
6. The Gini Coefficient	134
7. Control of the 100 Largest Corporations in Malaysia, 1974–1976, Berle-Means Method	135
8. Control of the 100 Largest Corporations in Malaysia, 1974–1976, TNEC-Zeitlin Method	141
9. Techniques for Identifying Cliques	161
10. Adjacency Matrices for Malaysian Cliques	170
Bibliography	173
Index	181

Tables

2.1	Summary of Types of Control (Ultimate) of 200 Largest Corporations, 1929, according to Berle and Means	7
2.2	Degrees of Separation of Ownership and Control in the Largest Belgian Industrial Corporations according to De Vroey	12
3.1	Distribution of Number of Estates, Acreage, Output and Ownership by Size Group of Rubber Estates in West Malaysia, 1973	21
3.2	Distribution of Number of Mines, Value of Output and Ownership by Size Group of Mines in West Malaysia, 1972	22
3.3	Number of Establishments, Value of Sales and Value Added by Sales Size Group of Manufacturing Industries, West Malaysia, 1968	23
3.4	Distribution of Limited Companies in Malaysia by Place of Control and Size Group, 1972	23
3.5	Distribution of Total Assets, Fixed Assets, Net Profit (Before Tax) Accounted For by the Largest 49 Limited Companies and 85 Large Limited Companies in Malaysia, 1972	25
3.6	Distribution of Number of Shareholders and Amount of Shares Held in 76 Locally Incorporated Companies in Stock Exchange of Singapore, 1975, by Types of Shareholders	27
3.7	Distribution of Number of Shareholders and Value of Shares in the 62 Large Corporations, 1974-1976	28
3.8	Distribution of Shares amongst the Top 797 Shareholders in the 62 Large Corporations in Malaysia, 1974-1976	29
4.1	Distribution of Number of Top Shareholders, Number of Shareholdings, Value of Shares in 62 Large Corporations by Types of Shareholder	35
4.2	Distribution of Top Shareholders by Types and Number of Shareholdings	36
4.3	Distribution of Top Shareholders by Types of Shareholder and Value of Shareholdings	36

4.4	Distribution of Directorships in the Top 100 Companies, 1974	41
4.5	Distribution of All Known Directorships Held by the 579 Directors of the Top 100 Companies, 1974	41
4.6	Distribution of Number of Company Interlocks by Sector, 1974	43
4.7	London Tin Corporation Group's Investments and Production in Malaysia, 1972	45
4.8	Distribution of Company Interlocks between Sectors, 1974	46
4.9	Actual and Expected Proportions of Internal Interlocks to External Interlocks	47
5.1	Distribution of Directors by Race and Nationality	53
5.2	Distribution of Directors by Race/Nationality and Occupation	54
5.3	Distribution of Malaysian Directors by Race and Political—Public Service Career	55
5.4	Distribution of Directors by Race/Nationality and Title Status	55
5.5	Distribution of Malay Directors by Aristocratic Status	56
5.6	Distribution of Malaysian Directors by Race and Political Position	60
5.7	Distribution of Malaysian Directors by Race and Political Status	61
5.8	Distribution of Directors by Race/Nationality and Number of Directorships Held within the Top 100 Companies	63
5.9	Distribution of Directors by Nationality and Number of Directorships Held	64
5.10	Distribution of Malaysian Directors by Race and Number of Directorships Held	64
5.11	Distribution of Companies by Percentage of Ordinary Voting Shares Held by Directors in Large Companies in Malaysia and the United States	68
6.1	Control of the Largest 100 Corporations in Malaysia, 1974–1976, according to the Berle and Means Method	73
6.2	Control of the Largest 100 Corporations in Malaysia, 1974–1976, according to the TNEC-Zeitlin Method	77
7.1	An Interlocking Directorate Matrix	83
7.2	Summary of Malaysian Clique Characteristics	90

Charts

2.1	Types of Corporation	13
2.2	Types of Corporate Control	14
3.1	Lorenz Curve of Distribution of Percentage of Shares Owned by Percentage of Shareholders	29
4.1	Lee Loy Seng's Conglomerate	37
4.2	An Interlocking Directorate System (G)	40
4.3	An Interlocking Directorate System (G1)	40
7.1	The OCBC-Sime Darby Clique	88
7.2	The OCBC-Sime Darby Core Group	89
7.3	Kinship Links between Some OCBC Directors	95
7.4	The London Tin-Charter Consolidated Clique	99
7.5	The PERNAS-Charter Consolidated Tin Combine	101
7.6	The Malayan Banking Clique	103
7.7	The Kuok Brothers Clique	105
7.8	The Pan Malaysia Cement Clique	106
7.9	The Harrisons and Crosfield Clique	108
7.10	The Lee Loy Seng Clique	110
7.11	The Sung Chi Fang Clique	111

Diagrams

7.1	An Interlocking Directorate 1-Graph	83
7.2	A 2-Graph	84
7.3	A 3-Graph	84
7.4	Graph G	86