

SCOUT OF THE SHADOWS

Women in Malay
Court Narratives

Ruzy Suliza Hashim

Contents

Preface . . . 9

Introduction: Of Stories and Lenses . . . 11

CHAPTER 1 Women in Malaysian Studies: The Story So Far . . . 15

CHAPTER 2 Contextualising Malay Court Narratives . . . 31

CHAPTER 3 The Lens of Feminist Dialogics . . . 53

CHAPTER 4 The Lens of Exchange Theory . . . 68

CHAPTER 5 The Lens of Islamic Theology . . . 93

CHAPTER 6 Sounds of Silence . . . 117

CHAPTER 7 Consenting Voices . . . 161

CHAPTER 8 Dissenting Voices . . . 194

Conclusion . . . 229

References . . . 233

Index . . . 245

Preface

This book is based on my doctoral dissertation which was submitted to the Department of English, University of Otago, New Zealand in 1999. I am indebted to Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia for giving me the opportunity to take my study leave from 1996-1999.

During the research, I benefitted from the guidance and friendship of Professor Jocelyn Harris and Dr Pamela Smart. Professor Harris introduced me to feminist studies in 1986, and I have not looked back since. I am also indebted to Associate Professor Tineke Hellwig of the University of British Columbia whose comments and advice have been really helpful. I am grateful to Professor Barbara Watson Andaya who provided me with an opportunity to present some of my findings in Hawaii in 1998, and the comments I received there proved very valuable. Many thanks are due to Professor Zawiah Yahya and Dr Fadillah Merican who encouraged my pursuit in women studies. I also cherish the companionship and supportive criticism of many friends who read my work at various stages – Ungku Maimunah, Lynda, Nor Faridah, Holly, Nick, Nicola, and Val. I shall remember with fondness Lynda's invigorating and creative editing of my work.

I am indebted to my parents for their faith in my abilities. Both of them brought me out of the shadows of nonexistence and complacency, and facilitated my path into academia. Also, terima kasih daun keladi to my siblings, especially Julie and Azizan, whom I could depend on for sourcing for materials.

Finally, the dwellers in my court. My children, Dina, Danial, Daud and Dian, put up with their mum's long business trip into antiquity, and helped me get the project into perspective at times when it seemed overwhelming. And as always, my husband, Imran Ho, whose encouragement, support, ideas and criticism have sustained this work from its inception. Despite the pressures of his own career and the demands of his own research, he has shared in the challenge and growth of a study taking shape. To him and to our children, my thanks of love.

Ruzy Suliza Hashim
Bangi