

MARINE HERITAGE — OF — MALAYSIA

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	7
-----------------	----------	--

INTRODUCTION	8
---------------------	----------	--

CHAPTER 1
THE SEA AND ITS SHORE	10
The Shore
A Variety of Planktonic Life
Plants in the Sea
Coral Gardens
A Deadly Undersea Menace
Marine Life
The Economic Impact
A Unique Settlement
Oil and Gas
Protection of the Marine Environment

CHAPTER 2
THE CORAL REEFS	23
Coral Reef Biology
The Physical Environment
Coral Morphology
The Value of Coral Reefs
Causes of Coral Damage
Preserving this Natural Heritage

CHAPTER 3
THE ISLANDS	55
Island Fauna and Flora
Coral Reefs and Associated Marine Communities
Valuable Assets and Management Issues
Legal Jurisdiction
The Establishment of Marine and Island Parks

A conch shell, commonly found in Malaysian waters.

CHAPTER 4

MANGROVES 67

Flora and Fauna
Ecological Functions
Human Habitation and Traditional Uses
Forest Management
Conservation

CHAPTER 5

RECREATION AND TOURISM 81

Attractive Features and Recreational Activities
Marine Parks and Reserves
Fishing Villages as a Tourist Attraction

CHAPTER 6

SHIPPING 93

The Beginning
Foreign Invasion
The Emergence of the Straits Settlements
Early Shipping Companies
Other Major and Minor Ports
Recent Developments

CHAPTER 7

ECONOMIC ACTIVITIES 103

Oil and Gas Resources
Shipping, Boatmaking and Offshore Engineering
Fisheries and Aquaculture
The Tourism Industry

CHAPTER 8

PEOPLE AND THE SEA 113

Types of Coastal Settlements
The Fishermen
Women and Children
Middlemen
Other Occupations
Rituals and Taboos
Social and Cultural Activities

CHAPTER 9

MARINE SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH
AND EDUCATION 123

Marine Research Institutions
The Need for Marine Scientific Research
Institutional Arrangements and Marine
Scientific Research
Marine Science Education

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS 133

INDEX 134
