

David • Paul Kahn • Mike Kami
Mike Johnson

Managing in the next Millennium

a unique collection of insights from the world's top management commentators

John Elkins • Paul Kahn • Mike Kami
• T W Kang • Philip Kotler • Jean-
Claude Larréché • Henry Mintzberg
• Michael E Porter • Louis W Stern
• Lester Thurow • Paul Tiffany •
Thomas Bonoma • James A Champy
• George Day • Peter Drucker •
John Elkins • Liam Fahey • John
Humble • Paul Kahn • Mike Kami
• T W Kang • Philip Kotler • Jean-
Claude Larréché • Henry Mintzberg
• Michael E Porter • Louis W Stern
• Lester Thurow • Paul Tiffany •

AMERICAN MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION INTERNATIONAL

Management Centre Europe

---

Contents

Foreword xi

Preface ix

Acknowledgements xiii

Personal thanks xv

- 1 Welcome to the new business world 1
  - More with less 8
  - Building for a new century 11
  - What to watch for 13
    - Insight* The twenty-five-year-old warning
    - Insight* It isn't easy to think ahead
    - Insight* Ten tipped for tomorrow
    - Insight* Perceptions of the past

- 2 The global world of 2010 14
  - Asia: the great business bonanza 16
  - Russia and the CEE 18
  - Medium-sized is marvellous 20
  - Cultural appreciation 23
  - Taking away the fun 27
  - The growth industries of the twenty-first century 27
  - What to watch for 32
    - Insight* No name tags!
    - Insight* More than a grain of truth
    - Insight* Social forces that impact business tomorrow
    - Insight* When madness strikes
    - Insight* Don't forget the developing world

- 3 Creating the organization of the next millenium 34
  - A fundamental transformation 35
  - Empowerment: not a fad 38
  - The market-driven enterprise 40

- What's the purpose of your business? 44
- The new general manager 46
- Law firm, orchestra, or what? 46
- Be careful with the culture 51
- Embrace constructive tension 56
- Change is not an option 56
- Starting to like change 58
- Confronting the problems 59
- What to watch for 61
- Insight* Innovate, innovate, innovate
- Insight* Wanted: more internationalism
- Insight* Goodbye human resources?
- Insight* Outsource, but don't give away your secrets
- Insight* Making technology count
- Insight* The role of the woman manager
- Insight* Don't waste talent
- Insight* Not too small
- 4 The managers of the next millennium 63
- The new-style manager 67
- Autocrat or democrat? 69
- The glue of shared values 70
- Learning to be executives 71
- Multi-tasking abilities 74
- Self-managed, self-career directed 75
- Exploring the darker side 76
- The rewards 77
- The manager in society 79
- What to watch for 80
- Insight* Bye, bye Euromanager
- Insight* English only
- 5 The currency of knowledge 82
- Make yourself marketable 83
- Education in disarray 84
- The bricks and mortar factory 86
- MBA blues? 89
- The active learning experience 92
- No option but to educate 95
- What to watch for 96
- Insight* Learning isn't always formal
- Insight* Technology will change teaching

-
- 6 Cuddling up to the customer 98
The corporate marketing mind-set 99
Moving to market driving 101
No middle-class market 105
Learn to love demanding customers 108
Accountable entrepreneurism 112
What to watch for 115
Insight Ever closer to the customer
Insight Here's what you'll have to do
Insight A word about complacency
Insight Have an obsession with speed
Insight What about alliances?
- 7 Managing the technology of a new millennium 117
Communication is no longer an option 118
The obsolescence of knowledge 121
Don't delegate technology decisions 122
The mobile office 124
The rise of the office cluster 128
Technology for everyone 129
What to watch for 132
Insight Search for the real competition
Insight Countries too must compete
Insight E-mail it
Insight What office technology can we expect?
Insight The fourth generation office
- 8 The new covenant for 2010 133
Earning employee trust 134
Continued development and growth 135
The reward package 137
Survival of the specialists 138
The training burden 142
Manage change – don't let it manage you
What to watch for
Insight Questions for beginners to the business game
Insight Be independent!
Insight Where your pay-packet is going
- Conclusion 144
Biographies 146