

With an Introduction by Peter Drucker

TECHNO VISION

THE EXECUTIVE'S
SURVIVAL GUIDE
TO UNDERSTANDING AND MANAGING
INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

Charles B. Wang

Contents

A Special Acknowledgment	vi
Additional Acknowledgments	vii
Preface: Why I Wrote Techno Vision	ix
How to Read This Book	xiii
Introduction by Peter Drucker	xvi

Part 1. The Disconnect	1
1. What on Earth Is Going on Here?	5
2. The Development of the Disconnect	9
Information Technology as an Enabler of Strategic Applications	14
Global Competition Made the Playing Field Unlevel	18
Did No One See the Danger?	20
3. What We Have Here Is a Failure to Communicate	23
4. Misinformation, Mythmakers, and Mayhem	31
Consultants and Analysts	34
The Computer Industry Media	36
5. The FUDGE Factor	41
6. How Disconnected Are You?	45
Gauging the Extent of the Disconnect	46
7. It's a Great Idea. I Don't Like It.	53
8. Aligning Business Strategy and Information Technology Strategy	57

Part 2. Realignment	61
9. Foundations for Realignment	65
1. Select the Right CIO	67
2. Decentralize and Disperse Information Technology Resources	72
3. Transform Information Technology to a Profit Center	75
4. Advance End-User Computing	76
5. Promote Evolution, Not Revolution	78
10. Ten Steps for Improved CEO/CIO Relationships	81
1. Keep All Eyes on the Prize	82
2. Realign Information Technology as a Team Player	84
3. Transform Information Technology Methodologies	85
4. Increase CIO Participation in Strategic Planning Sessions	86
5. Overcome the Techno-Illiteracy Crisis	89
6. Foster an Environment in Which Mistakes Are Welcome	92
7. The Facts Are Friendly: Insist on the Truth	94
8. Without Trust, Everything Is Friction	97
9. Rank the Information Technology Managers	98
10. Have Fun	100
11. Putting It All Together	103
12. Lessons from "The CEO in a Wired World" Conferences	109
Part 3. Information Technologies	119
13. Computer Platforms	123
The Desktop	124
UNIX and Open Systems	127
Midrange	128
Mainframe	131

14. Database Management Systems	137
15. Graphical User Interface (GUI)	141
Multimedia	143
16. Downsizing and Rightsizing	145
17. Client/Server Computing	149
18. Network Computing	155
19. Application Development	159
Computer-Assisted Software Engineering (CASE)	160
Object-Oriented Programming	162
20. Groupware	165
21. Business Issues	169
Outsourcing	169
Business Process Reengineering	176
Quality	180
Part 4. Connect	183
22. If You Want Things to Change, You Have to Change Things	185
References	194
Index	196