

CHANTILLY

Jean-Pierre Babelon

Photographs by Georges Fessy

EDITIONS
SCALA

Château de Chantilly

LIST OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION 9

THE ORIGINS OF CHANTILLY: FROM CUP-BEARER TO THE KING TO CHANCELLOR OF FRANCE 17

A special site

Chantilly I. The Bouteillers of Senlis

Chantilly II. Chancellor Pierre d'Orgemont

THE MONTMORENCY PERIOD 27

The foremost barons of France • Anne de Montmorency, a Renaissance prince

The first building work. The gardens. The Galerie des Cerfs

Chantilly III. Pierre Chambiges's work at the old Château

The Petit Château by Jean Bullant. A manifesto of new architecture • The last Constable de Montmorency

The work carried out by Pierre Biard • The tragic end of the Montmorencys

THE GREAT CONDÉ, RIVAL TO THE SUN KING 67

The rebel pardoned • Le Nôtre at Chantilly. The gardener and his master

The pleasures of court • Mansart's renovation of the Petit Château

Chantilly IV. Reconstruction of the old Château by the Great Condé's son.

THE BOURBON-CONDÉS IN THE AGE OF ENLIGHTENMENT 109

Monsieur le Duc, Prime Minister • Completion of the reconstruction of the old Château

Suites of rooms in the new fashion • A palace for horses, the Grandes Écuries

The work carried out by the last Prince de Condé • The Hameau at Chantilly

THE TWILIGHT OF THE PRINCES. THE END OF THE BOURBON-CONDÉS 153

Chantilly through the trials and tribulations of the Revolution

The Prince de Condé on his return from emigration

The last duc de Bourbon

A NEW RENAISSANCE PRINCE: THE DUC D'AUMALE 169

The Orléans family at Chantilly. The duc d'Aumale's first building projects

The Duban proposal for the reconstruction of the château • Aumale in exile

Daumet is instructed to build Chantilly V

The château of a royal prince during the Republic • The heroic donation

The Musée Condé or the Musée d'Aumale?

Notes 232

Bibliography 235

Chronology 236

Family trees 237

Table of illustrations 240

Index 244