

Switzerland

Alpine Country at the Heart of Europe

François Jeanneret Walter Imber Franz Auf der Maur

Kümmerly + Frey

Preface

From the Introduction to the Geographical Description of the Confederation (1765–1768).
By Johann Conrad Fäsi 6

Introduction

Multiplicity in a Constricted Space

Mountains Mould the Country 20
Man and Landscape * 28
300 Million Years of Swiss History * 38
Mineral Wealth * 41
Climate and Vegetation 48
Genesis of an Alpine State 58
Swiss Cultural Life 61

The Alps

Heartland of the Confederation

Opening up of the Alps 76
Representation of the Alps 82
Biography of a High Mountain Range * 86
Minerals and Crystals * 89
A Varied World of Rocks * 93
Glaciers Now—Glaciers in the Past * 95
The Forest Cantons 100
The Bernese Oberland 106
The Western Swiss Alps 111
The Eastern Swiss Alps 117
Rhaeto-Romance Valleys 125
Italian-Speaking Switzerland 132

The Plateau

Preferred Area of Settlement

Molasse Country * 148
Traces of the Ice Ages * 154
Man and Work 160
Attractive Low Country 168
French-Speaking Part of Plateau 170
German-Speaking Part of Plateau 175

The Jura

A Lesser Mountain Range of Great Charm

Features of the Jura Landscape * 188
Communications and Economy 196
French-Speaking Jura 197
German-Speaking Jura 200

Finale

Small Country at the Heart of Europe

Key Position in a Continent 212
A Small Country in Search of its Destiny 216
The Natural Framework 218
Switzerland and Europe 223
Past and Future 228

Appendix

Cultural Guide Through the Four Linguistic Regions

Nature and Buildings 243
Villages and Towns 244
Feasts and Customs 245
Music and Theatre 246
Education and Museums 247
Bibliography 248
Map Bases 248
Glossary of names in Different Languages

The chapters marked with an asterisk () are by Franz Auf der Maur; the rest are by François Jeanneret.*