

THE BIOGRAPHY OF VENERABLE MASTER
HSING YUN

Handing Down the Light

傳燈

Original Chinese text by Fu Chi-ying

Translated by Amy Lui-Ma

Contents

The master's note	ix
Author's note	xii
Translator's note	xvii
Preface	xix
Part I Many, many returns in Buddha karma	 1
1 To the delight of all Buddhas	7
2 Promise on Cloud-dwelling Mountain	 27
3 Facing the turbulent times	49
Part II Crossing the nighted sea, light in hand	 63
4 The T'ang monk set sail	73
5 Ilan, the cradle	87
6 Master of innovation	103

Contents

Part III	'Tis with him perpetual
	Buddha truth	125
7	Heading south	133
8	Epoch of Buddha's Light	151
9	Dragons and elephants of Buddha gate	169
10	Traditional monastery, current version	197
11	Dharma should not be separated from worldly awakening	219
12	Good affinities around the world	243
Part IV	Spreading the Dharma to deliver all beings	267
13	The baton, its passing and receiving	273
14	Like clouds and waters	289
15	Heart for the isle, soul for the mainland	309
Part V	Buddha's Light held high	333
16	The Dharma coming west	341

17 Buddha's Light International Association	365
18 Holding space in an embrace	387
Part VI Returning on wings of his vows	409
19 Heart of a child	417
20 Buddhist path only	449
21 No regrets whatsoever	465
Appendix 1 The chronology of Venerable Master Hsing Yun	483
Appendix 2 Fo Kuang Shan: Distribution of branch temples in Taiwan, 1996	496
Global distribution of branch temples, 1996	498
Appendix 3 Buddha's Light International Association: Global distribution of chapters, 1996	500