

LEE KUAN YEW

THE MAN AND HIS IDEAS

"I'm very determined.
If I decide that something is worth doing, then I'll put my heart and soul to it.

The whole ground can be against me, but if I know it is right, I'll do it. That's the business of a leader."

Han Fook Kwang
Warren Fernandez
Sumiko Tan

Contents

Introduction	11
--------------------	----

THE MAKING OF A POLITICIAN

1. It Began When My World Collapsed	21
2. Taking on the Communists	41
3. The Union Divided	65

IDEAS THAT MADE A NATION

4. The Secret of Good Government	87
5. From Third World to First	107
6. End of History? Asia's Just Beginning	125
7. The Nature of Human Society	153
8. Culture, the X-factor	171
9. First Order, then Law	193
10. Minding the Media	211

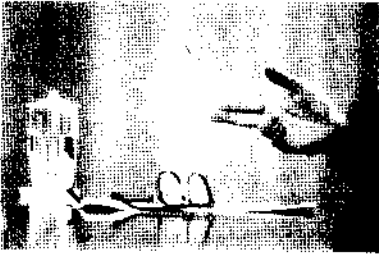

THE MAN BEHIND THE IDEAS

11. I Did My Best	227
-------------------------	-----

IN HIS OWN WORDS:

SELECTED SPEECHES AND INTERVIEWS

If I were an Englishman	253
The returned student	256
Colonies are out of date	263
The battle for hearts and minds	266
How I came to know the communists	269
Why the British misled the communists	273
Clowns and crooks	275
What does Malaysia mean to us?	279
Preserving Malay special rights	285
What will all this bickering lead to?	290
Enemy of the people?	296
Prime Minister, what if you had been arrested?	305
On our own – but we will succeed	310
Singapore's fate depends on 300 men	313

The trouble with the civil service	317
Make sure every button works	321
Clean, clear prose	324
How much is a good minister worth?	331
What I mean by a more just and equal society	343
Endless arguments over how many engineers to produce	347
What's wrong with the Singapore worker	351
Who does Singapore Airlines belong to?	355
Leadership makes the difference	362
What price democracy?	365
They would want the stars.....	369
Universality of democracy?	372
What people want is good government	376
Some men, two votes?	384
An unrepentant socialist	387
Why the welfare states failed.....	390
Schools must have character	393
Being a hard nation	396
The difference between the Malays and the Chinese	398
It's not just about firing crackers and New Year food.....	403
We are too Westernised.....	406
Justice and fair play.....	411
Don't be afraid to innovate the law	414
The ballot and the bullet.....	419
The mass media in new countries	425
Why everything and anything cannot go	431
Which role model for the Singapore press?	438
You appear to some degree dictatorial.....	444
How to make SIA a great way to fly	445
My birthday wish	447
Bibliography.....	451
Index	453