

The Singapore Story

Memoirs of LEE KUAN YEW

Contents

Preface -----	8
Acknowledgements -----	10
1. Suddenly, Independence -----	13
2. Growing Up -----	25
3. The Japanese Invaders -----	44
4. After the Liberation -----	84
5. My Cambridge Days -----	99
6. Work, Wedding and Politics -----	134
7. My First Clashes with the Government -----	146
8. Widening the Oxley Road Circle -----	156
9. The World of the Chinese-educated -----	166
10. Enter the PAP -----	177
11. Round One to the Communists -----	194
12. Marshall Accentuates the Crisis -----	205
13. A Fiasco in London -----	223
14. Exit Marshall, Enter Lim Yew Hock -----	240
15. Three-quarters Independent -----	256
16. Flushing Out the Communists -----	268
17. Rendezvous with the Plen -----	278
18. Election 1959 – We Fight to Win -----	290
19. Taking Charge -----	306
20. Glimpses of Troubles Ahead -----	328
21. Trounced in Hong Lim -----	351
22. The Tunku's Merger Bombshell -----	362

23. Eden Hall Tea Party -----	373
24. Communists Exposed -----	385
25. Moving Towards Merger -----	402
26. Getting to Know the Tunku -----	410
27. A Vote for Merger -----	429
28. Europe Beckons Britain -----	454
29. Pressure from Sukarno -----	460
30. Bitter Run-up to Malaysia -----	470
31. The Tide Turns -----	484
32. Singapore Declares Independence -----	495
33. Konfrontasi -----	511
34. Winning Friends in Africa -----	525
35. Venturing into the Malay Heartland -----	540
36. Albar Stokes Up Malay Passions -----	551
37. Singapore-KL Tensions Mount -----	570
38. Constitutional Rearrangements? -----	581
39. Seeking Support Down Under -----	593
40. UMNO's "Crush Lee" Campaign -----	600
41. The Quest for a Malaysian Malaysia -----	616
42. The Tunku Wants Us Out -----	628
43. "Talak, Talak, Talak" (I Divorce Thee) -----	648
Chronology of Events -----	664
Index -----	668