

THE LAST GOVERNOR

CHRIS PATTEN & THE HANDOVER OF
HONG KONG

JONATHAN DIMBLEBY

CONTENTS

| | |
|---|------|
| Acknowledgements | ix |
| Foreword | xiii |
| 1 'A Terrible Feeling of Falling' The New Governor Arrives in Hong Kong | 1 |
| 2 'Reckless and Unscrupulous Adventures' Britain Acquires a Colony | 16 |
| 3 'We Had No Option' Deciding Kong Kong's Fate | 37 |
| 4 'No One is Safe' Alarm Bells Across the Border | 53 |
| 5 'No More Games' The Governor Assesses his Options | 72 |
| 6 'A Democratic Time Bomb' Patten Draws Up a Blueprint | 94 |
| 7 'You Deserve Better' An Agenda for Hong Kong | 114 |
| 8 'Restraint in Difficult Circumstances' Britain and China at Odds | 139 |
| 9 'The Criminal of All Time' Beijing Campaigns Against the Governor | 155 |
| 10 'Pebbles in a Black Hole' Talks About Talks | 177 |

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 11 | 'The Mad Governor Factor' Negotiating in Earnest but in Vain | 195 |
| 12 | 'Without Fear or Favour' Defending Free Speech | 211 |
| 13 | 'A Bracing and Bruising Experience' Charges and Counter-Charges | 233 |
| 14 | 'Inside I'm Crowing Like Mad' LegCo Votes on Patten's Reforms | 255 |
| 15 | 'A Matter of Decency' A Row Over the Court of Final Appeal | 272 |
| 16 | 'A Good Moment' The First Fully Elected LegCo | 291 |
| 17 | 'Not Remotely Acrimonious' Tackling the Home Secretary | 310 |
| 18 | 'Thank You For the Visas, Prime Minister' John Major Brings Good News | 336 |
| 19 | 'The Headbanger in Hong Kong' China Maintains the Pressure | 359 |
| 20 | 'We Are Not Simply Limp Victims' The Governor's Authority Begins to Crumble | 379 |
| 21 | 'We All Know the End of the Plot' Wrangling About the Handover | 395 |
| 22 | 'Hong Kong Can't Be Lobotomised' Patten Runs Out of Time | 408 |
| | Epilogue | 427 |
| | Sources and Further Reading | 447 |
| | Index | 449 |