

Malayan Postscript

Tens of thousands of men fought and bled and died in the Malayan jungle in an effort that, through no fault of their own, proved vain. This book will, for all time, be counted among the important documents on this tragic campaign and the disaster of Singapore.

Ian Morrison

War Correspondent for The Times in Australia.

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
I. THE SINGAPORE LEGEND	1
II. DREAM AND REALITY	8
III. THE FACTUAL BACKGROUND	14
IV. UNDERESTIMATING THE ENEMY	32
V. THE WAR BEGINS	40
VI. EARLY PERPLEXITIES	47
VII. THE FIRST BIG BLOW	51
VIII. THE BATTLE OF KEDAH	57
IX. VISIT TO THE FRONT	64
X. THE TACTICS OF THE JAPANESE	70
XI. THE WAR IN THE AIR	79
XII. MEMORIES OF NORTH MALAYA	91
XIII. THE FALL OF KUALA LUMPUR	101
XIV. THE AUSTRALIANS GO INTO ACTION	112
XV. MEMORIES OF SOUTH MALAYA	122
XVI. THE SIEGE BEGINS	138
XVII. THE MEN AT THE TOP	151
XVIII. THE CHINESE AND THE DEFENCE OF SINGAPORE	161
XIX. THE LAST DAYS OF SINGAPORE	173
XX. AFTERTHOUGHTS	182