

Mahathir's Administration

Performance and Crisis in Governance

edited by Ho Khai Leong and James Chin

TIMES BOOKS INTERNATIONAL
Singapore • Kuala Lumpur

© 2001 Times Media Private Limited

First published 2001 by Times Books International
An imprint of Times Media Private Limited
A member of the Times Publishing Group
Times Centre, 1 New Industrial Road, Singapore 536196
Fax: (65) 2854871 Tel: (65) 2139288
Email: te@tpl.com.sg
Online bookstore: <http://www.timesone.com.sg/te>

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the publishers.

ISBN 981 232 319 8

Printed in Singapore

National Library Board (Singapore) Cataloguing in Publication Data
Mahathir's Administration: Performance and Crisis in Governance I edited by Ho Khai Leong and James Chin.
— Singapore: Times Books International, 2001.
p. cm.

I. Mahathir bin Mohamad, 1925- 2. Malaysia — Politics and government.
I. Ho, Khai Leong, 1954- II. Chin, James. III. Title.

DS597.2

959.5054 — dc21

SLS2001048103

M

1073023

M
959 5054
107
19 2 MAR 2003
Perpustakaan Negara
Malaysia

Contributors	v
Introduction: Mahathir's Administration Under Siege Ho Khai Leong	1
The Political and Administrative Frames: Challenges and Re-forms under the Mahathir Administration Ho Khai Leong	7
Unequal Contest: Federal-State Relations under Mahathir James Chin	28
Overcoming Race-based Politics in Malaysia: Establishing Norms for Deeper Multiethnic Co-operation Meredith L. Weiss	62
New Crises and Old Problems in Malaysia Ooi Kee Beng	100
Personality, Exigencies and Contingencies: Determinants of Malaysia's Foreign Policy in the Mahathir Administration Joseph Liow	120
Vulnerability and Party Capitalism: Malaysia's Encounter with the 1997 Financial Crisis Ng Beoy Kai	161
Competing Politicians, Competing Visions: Mahathir Mohamad's Wawasan 2020 and Anwar Ibrahim's Asian Renaissance Claudia Derichs	188
Mahathir, Islam, and the New Malay Dilemma Patricia Martinez	215
Conclusion: The Mahathir Legacy and Governance in the New Millennium Ho Khai Leong	252
Index	255

About the Editors

Ho Khai Leong is Senior Lecturer at the Department of Political Science, National University of Singapore. He specialises in public policy theories, political economy and Malaysian and Singapore politics. He has published in journals such as the Asian Journal of Political Science, The Pacific Review, The Asian Journal of Public Administration, Pacific Focus, and Southeast Asian Affairs. His latest work is The Politics of Policymaking in Singapore (Oxford University Press, 2000). He was a visiting fellow at the Japan Institute of International Affairs, Japan in 1992. He received his doctorate from the Ohio State University in 1988.

James U.H. Chin is Associate Dean in the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Papua New Guinea. He has published in journals such as the Asian Journal of Political Science, Asian Survey, Journal of Commonwealth and Comparative Politics, Journal of Contemporary Asia, South East Asia Research and Electoral Studies. His recent publications include Chinese of South East Asia (Minority Rights Group, 2000) and 'Kataks', Kadazan-Dusun Nationalism and Development: The 1999 Sabah State Election (Australian National University, 1999). Prior to an academic career, Dr Chin worked as a journalist in Singapore and Malaysia.

About the Contributors

(in alphabetical order)

Claudia Derichs is Assistant Professor of Political Science at the Institute of East Asian Studies, University of Duisburg, Germany. She has published widely on Japanese politics and social movements in Japan in addition to articles on nation-building and governance in Malaysia. She is co-editor of the series entitled Discourses on Political Reform and Change in East and Southeast Asia (Duisburg, 2000-). Prior to her academic career, Dr Derichs worked as a science journalist.

Joseph Liow is an Associate Research Fellow with the Institute of Defence and Strategic Studies, Singapore and has written on Malaysian politics and foreign policy. His latest publication is "Crisis, Choice and Change: Malaysian Electoral Politics at the End of the 20th Century" in the Asian Journal of Political Science. He is currently on study leave at the London School of Economics.

Patricia A. Martinez is a Malaysian expert on religion, with a specialisation in Islam. Dr Martinez has published on theorizing in postcolonial premises, the politics of location in feminist work in religion, the racialisation of Islam and Islamisation in Malaysia, and on various aspects of Muslim women's engagement with the state and with modernity. She is a Fellow-In-Residence at the Asia-Europe Institute of the University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur.

Ng Beoy Kui is currently Associate Professor at Nanyang Business School, Nanyang Technological University, Singapore. He publishes widely on macroeconomic management, financial reform, central banking and ethnic Chinese business network. Prior to joining academia, he was attached to Bank Negara Malaysia for twelve years, and the Southeast Asia Central Banks (SEACEN) Research and Training Centre for three years as research economist. He used to be a training consultant to the SEACEN Centre, BOC (British Oil Corporation) Gases, and the Asian Commerce and Economic Studies Centre (ACES).

Ooi Kee Beng is Lecturer in General Knowledge about China, Chinese History and History of Chinese Ideas at Stockholm University, Sweden since 1994. His areas of research interest include Chinese and Malaysian modernisation, nation-building, Taoist morality, and the importance of the creation and maintenance of the Sufficient Discursive Commonality ('Changdao') in the renewal of modern nations. Dr Ooi has translated the 'Sunzi bingfa' from classical Chinese into Swedish.

Meredith L. Weiss is a doctoral student in Political Science at Yale University. She has spent several years in Malaysia and Singapore conducting research on civil society, political change, and related issues. Her recent and forthcoming publications on Malaysia include articles and book chapters on non-governmental organisations (NGOs), the 1999 General Elections, the Reformasi movement, the changing nature of ethnicity and communalism, and the role of civil society in opposition politics. She has also written on NGOs, particularly women's groups, in Singapore.