

Hoover Institution Studies 35

Race and Politics
in Urban Malaya

Race and Politics
in Urban Malaya

Alvin Rabushka

Hoover Institution Press
Stanford, University
Stanford, California

1234

1964
1964
1964

Contents

1. Introduction 3
  - Research Procedures 6
  - A View of Plural Society 14
2. Cultural and Political Setting 16
  - The Plural Society in Malaya: A Description 19
  - A Historical Background of Malayan Politics 27
  - Kuala Lumpur and Penang 38
3. An Overview of Malayan Politics 42
  - A Conception of Politics 43
  - Preferences in the Plural Society 45
  - Five Features of the Political Process in Malaya's Plural Society 46
4. Interracial Values and Social Behavior 56
  - The Respondents 56
  - Racial Behavior 58
  - Cultural Ethnocentrism 59
  - Social Distance: Toleration 61
  - Stereotypes 63
  - Political Problems 67
  - Summary 69
5. Racial Politics in Microcosm 71
  - Local Politics 72
  - State and National Politics 81
  - Political Preference 93
  - Summary 97

6. Conclusion	98
Race Relations: A Theory	98
Findings	101
Appendix 1. J. 410 Questionnaire	105
Appendix 2. Malayan Politics: A Review	118
Appendix 3. Registration of Societies	121
Appendix 4. The Transactions Hypothesis	124
Notes	127
Bibliography	136
Index	143

Tables

1	Racial Composition of Malaya's Population from 1921 to 1970 by Percentages	21
2	Racial Composition by State by Percentages, 1970	22
3	Racial Composition of Urban and Rural Population by Percentages	24
4	Economically Active Population Percentages by Racial Group and Occupation, 1957	25
5	Racial Composition of Kuala Lumpur and Penang by Percentages	39
6	Racial Composition of Respondents in Kuala Lumpur and Penang Compared with Census Distributions, by Percentages	57
7	Social Behavior Patterns in Kuala Lumpur and Penang by Percentages	59
8	Cultural Ethnocentrism among Malays and Chinese by Percentages	60
9	Malay Toleration (Social Distance) towards Chinese by Percentages	62
10	Chinese Toleration (Social Distance) towards Malays by Percentages	63
11	Nonresponse by Malays and Chinese (on the Question of Political Issues) by Percentages	68
12	Racial Composition of Penang City Councillors (Elected) from 1951 to 1963, by Frequencies	79