

AFTER
the
COLD WAR

Security and Democracy in Africa and Asia

Edited by
William Hale and Eberhard Kienle

After the Cold War

Security and Democracy in Africa and Asia

Edited by

William Hale and Eberhard Kienle

PUSTAKA PERDANA

1001236

Tauris Academic Studies
I.B. TAURIS LONDON • NEW YORK

Contents

Introduction
	William Hale and Eberhard Kienle	1
Part I	Global Changes, Peace and Regional Conflict
1	The Third World and the End of the Cold War: an Interim Assessment Fred Halliday	1 5
2	The Sudanese Civil War in International Relations Charles Tripp	4 3
3	Central Asia and Transcaucasia after the Cold War: Conflict Unleashed Graham E. Fuller	8 2
4	International Relations in Africa after the Cold War Christopher Clapham	9 9
5	Prospects for Asian Security after the Cold War David Shambaugh	1 1 4
6	Thinking Globally from a Regional Perspective: Chinese, Indonesian and Malaysian Reflections on the Post-Cold War Era Rosemary Foot	134

Part II Democratisation and the Fate of Leftist Movements

7	International versus Domestic Pressures for Democratisation in Africa Michael Bratton	156
8	Authoritarianism Liberalised: Syria and the Arab East after the Cold War Eberhard Kienle	194
9	'Good Governance' and the Ideology of Transformation David Williams	227
10	Indian Communism: Re-defining Identity and the Struggle for Democracy Harihar Bhattacharyya	250
11	The African Left after the Cold War Christopher Clapham	274
	Index	286