chedet.co.cc
April 21, 2010

1. Saya lega membaca penafian Dato' Sri Najib, Perdana Menteri bahawa laporan Malaysia sudah hentikan bekalan "gasoline" kepada Iran kerana projek nuklearnya.
2. Iran bukan musuh Malaysia dan Iran tidak pernah soal dasar dan kegiatan dalaman kita. Justeru itu tidak ada sebab kenapa kita harus soal dasar dalaman Iran.
3. Benar atau tidak Iran sedang mencipta senjata nuklear seperti yang dituduh oleh Amerika Syarikat bukan masalah kita. Ia adalah masalah Amerika Syarikat, sebuah kuasa militari yang terbesar di dunia, yang mempunyai lebih daripada 10,000 senjata nuklear, yang kononnya begitu takut kalau Iran memiliki dua biji bom nuklear di masa hadapan tetapi rela Israel memiliki sekarang lebih daripada 200 senjata nuklear.
4. Benarkah Amerika takut dunia akan menghadapi perang nuklear yang akan di lancar oleh Iran dengan dua biji bomb nuklearnya. Gilakah Iran sehingga sanggup melancar perang nuklear dengan dua biji bomb nuklear dengan tidak menghiraukan kemungkinan Iran dihujani bom dan roket nuklear oleh Amerika Syarikat, Israel dan kuasa besar yang lain.
5. Sebenarnya kempen terhadap program nuklear Iran oleh Amerika Syarikat bertujuan menindas Iran sahaja. Kita tidak harus menyertai kempen ini kerana ia akan merosakkan kepentingan kita. Dagangan kita yang termasuk jualan kereta, konsesi minyak, bekalan minyak, projek perumahan dan lain-lain menguntungkan kita. Kalau kita bermusuhan dengan Iran semua ini akan hilang. Amerika Syarikat tidak akan ganti kerugian kita. Lagi pun imej kita dalam dunia, terutama dunia Islam akan tercemar.
6. Sesungguhnya saya amat gembira apabila membaca dalam The Star bahawa laporan Dato Sri Najib menghentikan bekalan gasoline kepada Iran adalah tidak benar. Alhamdulillah.

dear Tun,I fear the motivation behind Ahmedinejad's nuclear ambition has something to do with the Syiite's belief in the reappearance of Al Mahdi,supposedly their twelfth Imam who has dissapeared many centuries ago.Based on a certain Hadith he is around already .So I suppose that the Iranians actually believe that having been empowered by these weapons The Al Mahdi will actually be able to defeat their avowed western enemies?I fear the worst for the Iranians should their version of the Almahdi be a fallacy.For it could mean a mass suicide of horrific magnitude for the Iranians!I sincerely hope that this is not the case.Ahmedinejad should not be provocative of the west no matter how much he hates them or no matter how strong they think they are.As muslims we should always surrender ourselves to God and fight only when we have been transgressed upon,i.e in self defense, the way the prophet SAW have taught 1,400 yrs ago.Or don't Ahmedinejad know all these?

Assalammualaikum Tun & warga Blog semua...

Ala biasala tu propaganda US & Israel....

Satu satu negara kuat Islam depa nak jatuhkan, dgn mcm mcm muslihat.. dgn mcm mcm excuses... Dulu depa bagi alasan " Mas Weapon Destruction" kat Iraq. La ni sampai Saddam tak dak lagi pun, depa tak nak keluaq dpd bumi Iraq & the weapon still cannot be found.... Nampak sgt tembelang si US tuu... Depa tau negara negara Islam ni la yg Allah ta'ala telah kurniakan byk khazanah bumi yg utama spt minyak.....

Yg kiter ni lak tak payah nak sgt percaya ngan CNN, NNN, BNN..ANN and mcm mcm news yg depa bagi kat kiter.. selalunya berat sebelah dan byk propaganda US/Israel... kita perlu pandai utk menjaga maruah agama, bangsa dan tanahair... tak perlu dengar sgt fitnah fitnah yg selalu disampaikan oleh depa melalui news dan cara cara lain.

Tun, Malaysia sememangnya mesti berpendirian teguh untuk menjaga kepentingan negara tanpa perlu takut atau tunduk kepada kuasa2 besar apabila kepentingan berkenaan berkaitan kedaulatan dalaman Malaysia dan negara-negara Islam..dalam keadaan kita susah suatu hari nanti (nauzubillah), orang yang akan tolong kita ialah negara saudara seislam kita..negara2 lain apabila menawarkan pertolongan mereka mesti ada undang di sebalik batu..

Bujangrm, kamu berkata: "Mengambil kira prinsip yang sama, mungkinkah juga perikatan pembangkang di negara ini umpama undang beracun yang dulu pernah ditelan oleh Barisan Nasional sehingga sedikit lagi Barisan Nasional lumpuh dalam PRU 12. Alhamdulillah, agaknya "kesakitan" Barisan Nasional dalam PRU 12 sudah mula reda dengan kemenangan P. Kamalanathan. Bagaimana pula dengan pertaruhan Barisan Nasional di Sibu Sarawak nanti? Mudah-mudahan ada vaksin untuk si undang beracun di negeri bertuah ini."

Bujangrm, mengikut petikanmu di atas, nampaknya negara ini hak milik Barisan Nasional. Adakah pandangan itu benar? Adakah kamu percaya tentang sistem kerajaan raja berperlembagaan yang memberikan hak kepada mana-mana satu rakyat untuk membentuk parti politik dan dalam konteks Malaysia, kalau dia menang, dia berhak membentuk kerajaan, asalkan jawatan Perdana Menteri dipegang oleh salah satu ahli parlimennya yang berbangsa Melayu? Contoh undang beracun itu tidak sah sama sekali dalam sebuah demokrasi tetapi mungkin boleh dijadikan benar dalam sistem kerajaan kediktatoran kerana mereka tidak perlu mematuhi logik atau keadilan.

Assalamualaikum Tun,

Semoga Tun sekeluarga berada didalam keadaan sihat wala'fiat dan sentiasa di berkati Allah SWT. Amin.

Iran adalah mangsa serangan media yahudi yang berpangkalan di america sekarang walaupun Iran telah beberapa kali menegaskan bahawa program nuklearnya bertujuan mejana kuasa elektrik untuk pembangunan negara dan bukan nya untuk tujuan nuklear. Dengan cara ini lah yahudi memulakan kempen untuk menindas dan menakluki negara negara Islam dan tidak mustahil suatu hari nanti kita sendiri akan jumpa penindasan sebegini sekiranya pengkianat no 1 malaysia lari keluar negara.

Saya ingin mengucapkan syabas kepada Dato Sri Najib dan Tan Sri Muhyiddin kerana mengambil keputusan yang tegas demi perpaduan negara negara Islam sejagat. Sekarang nampak nya negara europa dan america dilanda ISLAMOPHOBIA dan mereka sekarang di momok momok kan dengan propaganda yahudi semata mata. Tindakan yang sebegini berlaku semasa Saddam Hussien memegang kuasa dengan agenda yang sedikit berlainan yakni Weapon of Mass Destruction yang kemudian nya kedua kedua perdana menteri england tony bLiar mengaku membuat pembohongan bersama sama dengan presiden BUSH kaki botol untuk merampas kuasa IRAQ ketika itu. Penindasan bukan hanya berlaku terhadap orang yang beragama Islam malah negara negara Islam pun di tindas sekiranya tidak mengikut telunjuk mereka.

Saya berharap Tun akan lebih lantang menyuarakan ketidakadilan negara negara yang suka menindas negara negara Islam tanpa sebab munasabah yang kukuh di masa masa akan datang. Semoga Allah memberkati segala usaha Tun Dr Mahathir untuk kedamaian sejagat. Viva Tun Dr Mahathir....May Allah bless you and your family including us@chedet.co.cc always. Aminnn.....

Assalamu `alaikum YBhg Tun & Bloggers,

(01) Hakikat yang pedih tetapi kekal relevan dari dahulu hingga kini ialah yang kuat mampu menelan yang lemah, sekalipun yang lemah tidak memberikan kesakitan sikitpun kepada yang kuat kerana hanya disebabkan yang kuat sakit hati dengan apa yang ada pada si lemah. Ini putaran adat resam dunia bukan hanya melibatkan hubungan Iran-Amerika tetapi juga hubungan mana-mana negara, mana-mana organisasi luar dan dalam negara.

(02) Saya teringat dengan kata-kata rakan saya bahawa satu ketika dahulu mantan Perdana Menteri Singapura pernah menyifatkan Singapura sebagai udang manakala negara sekitarnya umpama burung besar. Bagi memastikan relevannya kewujudan Singapura dan perlu dihormati, beliau mengingatkan bahawa Singapura adalah Ugang Beracun yang mana ia mungkin boleh ditelan tetapi sesiapa sahaja yang menelannya akan merasai kesakitan dan mungkin membawa padah binasa.

(03) Mungkinkah Iran umpama udang beracun kepada Amerika? Mungkin juga Iran waktu ini menyiapkan dirinya dengan strategi tertentu bagi memastikan dirinya tidak sewenang-wenangnya terjajah seperti terjajahnya Afghanistan dan Iraq.

(04) Mengambil kira prinsip yang sama, mungkinkah juga perikatan pembangkang di negara ini umpama udang beracun yang dulu pernah ditelan oleh Barisan Nasional sehingga sedikit lagi Barisan Nasional lumpuh dalam PRU 12.

(05) Alhamdulillah, agaknya "kesakitan" Barisan Nasional dalam PRU 12 sudah mula reda dengan kemenangan P. Kamalanathan. Bagaimana pula dengan pertarungan Barisan Nasional di Sibu Sarawak nanti? Mudah-mudahan ada vaksin untuk si udang beracun di negeri bertuah ini.

Ikhlas,

salam Tun..

sebenarnya Iran adalah sebuah negara yg bertuah tetapi begitu dicemburui oleh jiran2 terdekatnya. jika kita imbas kembali sejarah lama Iran, jelaslah la disini yang Revolusi Islam yang berlaku di Iran telah berjaya membawa sedikit kekuatan kepada dunia Islam walaupun ketika itu Amerika seringkali membuat propaganda di Iran dan akhirnya mereka sendiri tidak boleh membuat apa2 lagi untuk melawan Revolusi Islam ketika itu. Dari waktu itu hingga ketika ini Iran seringkali menerima tekanan daripada Amerika tetapi mereka berjaya membawa diri mereka dengan sendiri tanpa memerlukan bantuan daripada siapa2 pun. Sikap inilah yang kita kagum sekali dimana Iran sekarang dianggap pencabar kepada Amerika walaupun Amerika mengetahui Iran masih lagi membangunkan tenaga nuklearnya tetapi Amerika mempunyai bekalan senjata nuklear yang begitu banyaknya. Ejenjnya Israel sentiasa tercabar dengan kekuatan Iran yang dianggap sangat berbahaya kepada mereka. Pemimpin Iran sering kali menguris perasaan mereka dan inilah yang kita mahu setelah telah lama kita kehilangan orang seperti Tun yang berani bersuara di peringkat antarabangsa.

Sebenarnya Yahudi Amerika yang beri arahan(?) pada setiap presiden USA akan semua yang mereka kehendaki. Kalau engkar nak jadi calon untuk bertanding jawatan presiden pun akan di cantas awal2 lagi oleh Yahudi. Kalau dah jadi presiden kemudian nak engkar, bermacam2 kes terhadapnya akan disiarkan dimuka depan akhbar2 & dalam media elektronik (semua Yahudi punya). Dua butir bom nuklear sudah cukup untuk melenyapkan Israel, jadi Iran mesti kena hukum.

arahkan pula 'pak turut' Bush tu hapuskan al-Qaeda di Afganistan kerana takut ahli2nya menyelinap keIsreal dan buat huruhara.

Jiran angkuh kita yang di selatan tu seakan2 macam Israel. Memang pun Israel dah lantik dia untuk jadi spy terhadap negara2 Islam Asia Tenggara, sebab itulah apa2 jua yang PAP buat semuanya Amerika kata tak salah. Tak pernah media cetak Amerika kata Kuan Yew diktator, walaupun banyak ketua parti pembangkang & cerdikpandai2 yang 'cakap banyak' jadi muflis dan/atau masuk penjara. Seinggakan bila Kuan Yew dah lakukan 'ethnic cleansing' kat orang Melayu pun Hindraf boleh memainkan/persendakan dengan kita, dan tambahan pula Pak Dol 'tak layak' PM tu tolong iklankan Hindraf dalam TV tiap2 malam selama 2 bulan supaya semua orang kenal mereka! Bongok punya ex-PM.

Sebenarnya tak perlu bom nuklear nak kalahkan 'Israel Asia Tenggara' tu, sebutir bom atom pun cukup. Di Kazakhstan dan negara2 ex-USSR yang lain banyak nak jual bom atom 'black market'. Kalau tak boleh beli di pasaran gelap pun tak apa, mudah aje nak buat bom atom. Singapura mesti melutut & merayu hingga keluar airlior kat sesiapa saja yang boleh ancam mereka dengan bom atom. Andai kata mereka tak gentar, letupkan saja bom atom tu. Lepas tu bolehlah kita hantar Sang Nila Utama II untuk buka negara baru, kali ni tukar nama ke Harimaupura atau Buayapura atau.....

Ini kisah lain pula. Budak Ezam tu dulu mati2an sokong saudara Anwar sambil habis2an kutuk Tun. Bila dia sedar perangai buruk Anwar memang eloklah dia kembali masuk UMNO. Tapi baru2 ni asyik duk tayang surat2 Bank Dunia & nak serahkan kat budak kurang _jar (KJ) tu, dah taksab dengan budak KJ tu pulak!. Nampaknya Ezam tu lari dari mulut harimau masuk kedalam mulut buaya! Bagaimana nak jadi ahli politik kalau umur muda lagi dah buat 2 kesilapan besar.

Objective Q, you mentioned: "Please, please when answering the question (Wajperak and eKompute for example) don't quote a stupid movie, as a "credible reference", some times a few people on this forum continue to site MOVIES as a "credible reference" for their argument as it is Intellectually Tragic, Literary Sad and Socially Pathetic. Reference a real useful CREDIBLE book, not a movie, unless it is just for fun."

Which movie (or is it video clip) are you saying that I am quoting? Saying that a movie is stupid doesn't help in any discussion, unless you explain why you think it is stupid. Some people are very fond of making sweeping remarks and they think they are the most intelligent being in this universe.

Hi Tun, Freemalaysiatoday.com quoted you as saying that there is no halal or haram in politics. You are making me very confused about Islam.

Doesn't make sense to me, so I made a Google search and Youngmuslims.ca says: "The persistent demand made by Islam is that the principles or moral in must be observed at all cost and in all walks of life. Hence it lays down an unalterable policy for the state to base its politics on justice, truth and honesty. It is not prepared, under any circumstance whatsoever, to tolerate fraud, falsehood and injustice for the sake of any political, administrative or national expediency.... to use power and authority for the establishment of justice and not for the perpetration of injustice... and to regard power as a trust from God and use it with the belief that one has to render an account of one's actions to Him in the Hereafter."

Unless Freemalaysiatoday.com misquoted you, you are indeed a very, very brave man!

Kadang2 ada juga orang Islam takut lebih kepada manusia daripada Tuhan. Kita orang Islam wajib yakin kepada Allah Ta'ala. Jika Allah mahu mendatangkan bencana tiada siapa boleh bantu kita. Begitu juga sebaliknya, jika Allah nak beri kebaikan tak ada siapa boleh halang.

Amerika dan lain2 negara yang mempunyai pemerintah kafir(bukan Islam) tidak berani kacau mana2 negara Islam sekiranya semua orang Islam meningkatkan iman dan sudah tentunya bersatu. Kesatuan negara Islam seharusnya diketuai oleh OIC. Peranan OIC perlu dipertingkatkan. urusan sesama negara Islam harus dipertingkatkan dalam semua bidang. I Islam tidak membenarkan sifat perkauman, betul kata pemimpin2 PAS. Semua orang Islam bersaudara tak kira kaum asalkan beragama Islam. Assalamualaikum Tun.

It is amusing to read that the US (and all its allies) are afraid of Iran possessing one or two nukes while they are happily quiet about Israel purportedly having anything between 60-200 warheads. They can't do much to India due to its sheer size nor to N Korea who, whether we want to believe it or not, still has a powerful godfather - China.

Well, Pakistan is an anomaly. The west closed both eyes in exchange for its support in one of its campaigns.

Bottom line: if you're on the US side, or have a formidable godfather, you can get away with anything.

To Objective, thanks for your contribution.

1. Sg has built its muscles since day one after being booted.

I've even heard more than once from unconfirmed sources that Singapore is suspect of either possessing or having the capability of producing IT with you know whose help. And the US will keep a blind as they need its facilities for its war machines.

2. While developng weapons systems is never the answer to peace and stability, it gives a better assurance to a people's continued existence. Look at what happened to the American Indians and the Central American Indians. All nations should heed the lessons of history.

Tun

you accuse that US and UK dont play by the rules, but when Iran and Iraq don't play by rules, you're willing to close a blind eye to it.

Iran having signed the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) makes Iran's nuclear program subject to International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) verification. Yet, when investigations that concluded in November 2003 highlighted Iran had systematically failed to meet its obligations of the agreement, you don't seem to mind it.

Why is that Tun - do you honestly believe Iran's Nuclear research and development is done with only peaceful intentions in mind.

That's similar to your "blind eye approach" to Sadamn Hussein gassing and massacring many Iraqis, Iranians, Kuwaitis and Saudis during his many conflicts he was fond of getting into.

Tun - lets face it. You are hypocritical on many of your views. But stop supporting despotic nations in the perception you want to see fairness in the world, especially since you never were fair to the opposition leaders in our country.

Official Hypocrisy in International Relations

Writing in an Age of Despair

By BOUTHAINA SHAABAN

During the 1973 war, many Arab writers asked “what is the use of writing?” And what is the role of the pen in a world dominated by bombs, tanks and warplanes, which in the end control the destiny of people and the future of their children? Today, however, the international condition is even more unfair to people suffering from wars, sanctions and official torture at the hands of ‘civilized and democratic’ states, as if the language of politics is something and reality is something completely different.

The concluding statement of the nuclear security summit held in Washington on April 13, 2010, speaks of a world which has nothing to do with today’s world in which we follow the news of sanctions they try to impose against a country without nuclear arms, while they completely ignore another country’s violation of all laws and international agreements and treaties. The summit invited an armed country which has not signed the Nuclear Non-proliferation Treaty, while excluding states which have signed and fully committed to it, with inspectors monitoring their activities.

The statement called for “facilitating international cooperation in the field of peaceful nuclear energy”. If that is the case, why propose sanctions against Iran, which abides by international monitoring standards, while sanctions are not imposed on another country which has developed nuclear technology for military purposes? If the objective is the establishment of real nuclear security, then why tolerate an aggressive occupying country which possesses nuclear warheads and refuses to sign the non-proliferation treaty.

The language of the statement is vague to the extent that you need to reread every item several times without ever arriving at the real. So, what is the point of writing, if the tyrants of the world are manipulating language in order to cheat people and falsify facts, using an obedient media machine? The statement confirmed the use of double standards in Western policies. It carries the sword of terrorism against Muslims, invoking “the possibility of terrorists [Islamic terrorists of course] possessing this dangerous weapon” and using it to terrorize and blackmail the world. Signatories to the statement have refused since 1986 to put an internationally accepted definition of terrorism in order to keep the term a flexible instrument in the hands of those who want to use it at the right time and place and make it convenient for the powerful to use against the weak.

While Shimon Peres was lecturing about Islamic nuclear terrorism, his occupation authorities were expelling 70,000 Palestinians from their homes in the West Bank, in an operation of ethnic cleansing greeted in total silence by the ‘civilized’ world. Here again, the language used drives one to desperation. Reactions vacillated between “criticizing” the decision and “calling” for its rescission, and for “using sense”.

Had any other country made the slightest injury to innocent civilian populations, it would have deserved a Security Council resolution under Chapter 7. Iraq, for instance, and despite the war waged on it and the foreign occupation since 2003, is still under such a decision. What is the point of writing, when the West still holds to such shameful positions regarding human rights in Palestine? The language made a dominant use of the passive voice, so The Sunday Times headline on April 12, 2010 reads: “Mass deportation feared after West Bank permit ruling” By whom? In the body of the article, fears and concerns are attributed to human rights groups: “The Israeli army is to enact a ruling that could leave tens of thousands of Palestinians vulnerable to deportation from the West Bank, human rights groups have claimed". The news disappeared completely from TV news and newspapers after a few days and the Palestinians are left to their destiny.

And despite the gravity of the situation, 76 Senators called on President Obama "not to change his policy towards Israel" which means not taking any step which might 'annoy Israel' despite all the crimes it is committing. The new refrain now is establishing the principle of 'land swaps' in proposed solutions and creating a disarmed Palestinian state with no right to Jerusalem and without any discussion of the return of the refugees. In the proposed American peace plan, which some consider to be a hope and a promise, "discussion of the refugees and the old part of Jerusalem will be put off, borders will be based on the 1967 borders and agreeing on territorial swaps, taking into account new fact on the ground".

The term 'territorial swaps', which the Israelis introduced to the settlement dictionary about a year ago, aims at legally establishing stealing Palestinian water and fertile land. The 'facts on the ground' phrase means recognizing all the expulsions, displacements, settlements and thefts of land and water that Israel has perpetrated. Here are East Jerusalem settlers evacuating Palestinians from their homes claiming that their right to these houses is stated in the Torah (see Yediot Ahronot, April 7, 2010).

Does not all of this lead to despair about the role of the international community, the United Nations and of international resolutions and legality? Does not that lead one to lose interest in listening to news and to peace initiatives based on imposing de facto solutions with the force of arms? Is there a point in writing in this age of Arab weakness?

US Secretary of State, Hilary Clinton, ignored all the crimes Israel has committed and called on the Arabs to "support the Arab peace initiative by deeds not words," thus confirming her position that it is Arabs who do not want peace not the Israelis, and as usual stressing 'Israel's security' which is not threatened by anyone; while reality shows that Israel threatens Palestinians' security. She spoke about the right of Israelis and Americans "to live without fear". What about the Palestinian people? Do not they have the right to live in freedom and dignity and without fear, without daily killing and displacement?

President Obama, who made effusive promises in his first speeches, expressed his determination to "put equal pressure on the Israelis and the Palestinians", only to back down quickly because "they are not ready to put an end to the conflict regardless of the amount of pressure Washington brings to bear on them". Thus, President Obama equates the killer and the victim, the aggressor and those who are on the receiving end of aggression. If there is any role for writing, it should be to expose the false language used to impose injustice on the Arabs and create false positions, and to show the official adoption of hypocrisy in international relations.

i guess the words came from her heart:

And what is the role of the pen

Tun yang saya Kasih selalu.

Kita tidak lihat kesimbangan politik dimana-mana pelusuk dunia yang ingin kan kemajuan dari segi ekonomi.

"Menyekat" pembangunan ekonomi berlaku sudah sekian lama kepada Negara-Negara yang dianggap "dunia ketiga" pada pandangan Amerika dan untuk meneruskan mendapat "pelaburan" kedalam Negara maka pendekatan untuk mendapatkan nya harus "liberal".

Amerika yang mempunyai "super power" didalam ekonomi, ketenteraan, kuasa veto dan macam-macam lagi "kuasa" membolehkan mereka "manipulate" sesebuah Negara demokrasi dengan hanya "bersuara" dan Malaysia di "suarakan" sebagai "transit haven" kepada "human trafficking" dan "terrorist stop over" kebelankangan ini dan ini telah memberi impak "negative" terhadap semua sudut pada Negara.

Dengan pendekatan berbuat "baik" pada Amerika boleh mengeneipikan tomahan ini tanpa "konfrantasi" dan membolehkan kita jadi "rakan" pada Amerika dan rakan pada semua.

Memiliki senjata pemusnah sebagai menjaga keamanan dunia seperti Amerika adalah cara paling berkesan untuk "menunduk kan" dan "menguasai".

Kita akan tetap dan terus didalam keadaan ini dan kita tidak mempunyai pilihan.

Selagi senjata pemusnah ini tidak dihapuskan maka seluruh dunia yang terpaksa "tunduk" akan di "tekan" terus-terusan dan rakyat nya akan tetap berada di "tahap" yang di "kehendaki".

Malaysia tidak akan sampai ke "tahap" nuklear dalam masa terdekat walau pun untuk menjana "tenaga" dan ada lah lebih elok jika kita di pihak "neutral".

Peperangan tetap akan ada kemusnahan tidak kira nuklear atau tidak dan perjuangan Tun untuk "criminalize war" ada lah pendekatan terbaik yang sepatut nya Kerajaan memerintah kita tonjolkan sebagai pemankin pendekatan "world peace" tadi dan "hapus" lah senjata-senjata pemusnah ini dan kita mencapai tahap "kuasa" yang lebih baik dengan "fair and justice for all humans"

I am Iranian But I live in Malaysia for 5 Years. LIMA TAHUN.

I believe you and I like you since years before cause you are the best manager who made Malaysia and lead your country from zero until now. But in my country our managers and president are not good like you and you know this better than me. But I would like to tell to you and Malaysian people you are the best for Malaysian not for Iranian and you told correct "inside Iran anything happen Malaysia should keep relation with Iranian government cause it has more benefit for Malaysia. Malaysia has good relation with USA and Iran in same time and it is because you are so clever. Iranian people like Malaysia and like to have good relation with Malaysia but we do not like our dictator leader and president but it is our problem not your problem and we must solve it ourselves.

Your message was great again for Malaysian future not for Iranian future and it is normal from because you are the best manager and leader from Malaysia not from Iran.

I hope healthy for you and long life.

Salam YAB Tun,

Apakah perkaitan antara Iran dan Malaysia? Atau apa persamaan yang ada yang menyebabkan kita lebih rapat dengan Iran jika berbanding dengan negara lain seperti Amerika Syarikat?

Jawapannya sudah tentu kerana Islam. Jadi Islam semestinya sentiasa diutamakan. Jika kita renungkan, istilah seperti 'tanah air' mula dicipta awal 1900 (sekitar tahun 1905) agar manusia itu lebih bersifat patriotik manakala negara-negara yang ada di bumi ini pula mula dibahagi-bahagikan dengan sempadan untuk mengasingkan pergerakan sesama manusia keturunan zuriat Nabi Adam as di bumi ini agar mengasingkan kumpulan/puak/bangsa itu dan ini.

Oleh sebab setiap negara mempunyai sempadannya sendiri, undang-undangnya sendiri, dsn. maka kenapakah kita sibuk mengintip dan ingin tahu apa yang dilakukan oleh jiran-jiran kita. Apa yang dia ada, apa yang dia bina, dsn. Adakah setiap apa yang dilakukannya itu akan mengancam kita atau akan menyusahkan kita? Apakah manusia ini perlu berburuk sangka sesama manusia?

Apa yang hendak diperkatakan disini ialah kalau seseorang itu mengaku dirinya sebagai seorang Islam, maka sepatutnya ia akan bersedia untuk dihukum mengikut undang-undang Islam dengan cara Islam oleh penguasa Islam. Begitu juga dengan sesebuah negara yang mengaku negara Islam.

Jika ada tuduhan mengatakan Iran sebagai sebuah negara Islam telah melakukan sesuatu kesalahan, ianya harus dihakimi secara Islam, oleh undang-undang Islam dengan cara Islam dan oleh penguasa Islam dan kita seluruh umat Islam akan sedia bertanggungjawab atas memastikan bahawa hukumam setimpal dengan kesalahannya akan dikenakan kerana melanggar sebarang undang-undang yang ada di muka bumi ini menurut ajaran agama Islam.

Perlakuan atau kaedah yang sama juga harus dilakukan terhadap persalah daripada mana-mana fahaman dan agama lain. Semuanya harus dihukum menurut ajaran agama atau cara mereka masing-masing.

Jadi setiap agama akan sentiasa memastikan pengikutnya tidak melakukan kesalahan dan sentiasa menegur serta memperbaiki tingkah laku pengikutnya agar tidak memalukan agama yang mereka anuti.

Ramai manusia sekarang ini keliru dan celaru kerana gagal kembali kepada menjadikan diri mereka sendiri makhluk yang sebaik-baik ciptaanNya.

Wassalam.

Assallammualaikumwarahmatullahiwabarokatuh..

Dear Mr Objective Q.

[[Please, please when answering the question (Wajperak and eKompute for example) don't quote a stupid movie, as a "credible reference", some times a few people on this forum continue to site MOVIES as a "credible reference" for their argument as it is Intellectually Tragic, Literary Sad and Socially Pathetic. Reference a real useful CREDIBLE book, not a movie, unless it is just for fun]]

You are an elderly man. So I respect you because Allah chose you to become muslim earlier than I am. But nobody, not even Rasullulah s.a.w are infallible. You included. So forgives me if it irritated you that I cannot "conform" to your values and your high intellect. You forced my hand so I have to complies.

Regarding a stupid movie. Which one? From you tube? About P Ramlee?
Human behaviour are inclined towards the "seed" that have been implanted inside the womb. That is why it is best nurtured according to Islamic values. We can identified this inclination, leaning and proclivity through they way they pronounced their own name, they way they walks and so on. This studies is utmost important in profiling criminal, mental and behavioural disorder etc etc.

Reference using a book is and "old methodology". Our tutor in giving out the assignment says it's ok to use internet. But it is preferably we use good book, magazine or journal. But hey, let's be practical here. We simply cannot afford the time nor the patience.

I just want to touch the subject of skill. Most people like you have forgotten or does not realize that there is two type of skill. Clinical and technical. From your writing it is obvious you have overlook the clinical aspect of the issue. I just want to illustrate an example. The ridicule of the

Quraish towards Rasullulah s.a.w

If Muhammad is a messenger why just it take's so long for his follower to accept and found their calls? And why Allah needs to construct's the world in 6 phases of time? Allah is so omnipotent and utmost powerful..Why not be..and lo and behold..it happened?

This is the fundamental of sublime and profound knowledge.From a clinical approach you must realize that there is definitely no cures for viral fever.We gives those patient antibiotic and vitamin c so their own body mechanism can counter and remedied the defence system themselves.When the immunity in the body has compromised,there is no known cure uptodate.The body must be help by inducing the so called antibiotic and vitamin.

The same principal applies here.When one does not study Islam the way they should,it is impossible they can see through

Allah Light.( Mukmin )

And the basic requirement is muslim,where they can see through the "third eye".Mata hati.If devoid,they will hold Islam externally
Citation.(Imam Al Ghazali.Ihya Ulumiddin)

Third best book after Al Quran and Hadith.

Dear Mr Objective Q.I know the answer when it is required for me by Allah.And most people disagrees.It is because our wisdom is different.Most conventional wisdom will not comprehend the unconventional one.

It takes a full week ( 7 days ) for viral fever to been cleaned out the system.

It takes Rasullulah s.a.w 23 years for Islam to totally accepted.

It takes Tun Dr Mahahatir a lifetime to differentiated between a conventional wisdom from the unconventional one..

And for most people it only dawn to them when their soul at their throat..

Mr Objective Q.Nabi Musa a.s. which is more superior than you care to take inspiration from the lesser one..

Can you?

Ribuan Terima Kasih Tun.

By JamalAuthor Profile Page on April 23, 2010 2:32 PM

Dear Tun,

With you permission.

By Objective Q on April 21, 2010 9:41 PM --- My 2 cents worth to your question, after each of the questions.

However, one must ask the simple question, why the double standards when dealing with various countries and their weapon programs? --- It really seems like double standard to most of us. However, it really depends on which point of view you are looking at the issue from. That is the wonder of the diversity (of people and nations) that this world has been blessed with. The point to note is, with this diversity do we increase animosity or enjoin the wonder of this diversity. Human have been put on this world of different races, colour, creed and language not to fight one another BUT for us to embrace this diversity for the good of Human Kind. However, it is incumbent upon all of us to defend those weaker souls who have been mistreated.

Why is it that some are so highly publicized and others are so simply under the radar of the Media? --- Well there are 2 possible reasons;

1) Purely business (free market forces). All news agencies need to make a profit or at the very least break even so they can survive to keep on dishing out the news 24/7, year in year out. Market forces says with the free market forces it will bring out the best quality reports and news. So it is that the news that sells will get the most exposure. It must also sell to those people who are willing to pay the most. So it goes that the news that will sell to the rich nations (buyers) will sell. Therefore news that will sell to USA, EU and such people will get all the attention. Its just business.

2) Because of the desire by news agency owners to sway public opinion for whatever reasons. So its the intention of these owners which need to be examined. Are the intention for "common good". I say common good with qualification. What could be common good for one can not be for another. So who decided. Right now the USA & EU seem to have the monopoly on the definition of "common good". For Muslims "common good" is defined by the Allah in the Al Quran and authentic traditions of the Prophet Muhammad PBUH.

Finally, if the news can bring the goals in 1 & 2, it will be the news that gets the maximum mileage internationally.

Why is that the media "suddenly" decides to focus on one particular country or one particular weapon system? Who makes that decision? How? --- Please see above discussion for why. as to HOW? --- it all about the use of international news agencies which most developing countries including Malaysia prefer to us for publishing and broadcasting on local news media. We can blame though as most other national government news agencies will have a natural bias toward national interest. The international agencies seem to be more balanced - however they also have their biases as discussed earlier.

Hope this discussion holds water.

Hidup 1Malaysia.

Al Salamu Alaykum Dear Tun Dr. Mahathir,

The recent media frenzy regarding various countries and their weapon systems is quite puzzling! When it comes to Politics, I am pretty neutral in my views, since I have learned long time ago, that most publicized information is either misleading or half-truths.

However, one must ask the simple question, why the double standards when dealing with various countries and their weapon programs?

Why is it that some are so highly publicized and others are so simply under the radar of the Media?

Why is that the media "suddenly" decides to focus on one particular country or one particular weapon system? Who makes that decision? How?

For example, according to the article written below, Malaysia and its Malaysian Muslim Population represents "Hostile Muslim Population",

HAAERTZ:

Was Iron Dome defense system actually built for Singapore?

By: Yossi Melman

A Paris-based online magazine covering intelligence and security issues this week called Singapore one of the most important customers of Israel's defense industry, laying bare the active, though secret, relationship between Israel and Singapore that began more than 40 years ago - a statement that comes after years in which Israel censored all local articles on the subject. Intelligence Online, which is published in English on a bimonthly basis, states that the Southeast Asian island state helped finance the Iron Dome system designed by Israel's Rafael Advanced Defense Systems to intercept short-range missiles and rockets, in exchange for which it is supposed to receive several Iron Dome systems to deploy on its territory.

Even more interesting is the possibility the article raises that Iron Dome was designed first and foremost for the benefit of Singapore - not for the protection of Sderot and the southern communities in Israel that suffered from Qassam rocket attacks and mortar fire for seven years and are still suffering (though Iron Dome is not capable of intercepting mortar shells). Israeli media have previously hinted at this, but the Defense Ministry has vehemently denied it.

The suspicions were bolstered by the fact that after the system was developed and one battery had been deployed as an Israel Defense Forces base, it turned out that the Defense Ministry had no budget for additional batteries. In that case, why was there a need to develop a system for which there is no budget and which the IDF does not intend to deploy? According to Intelligence Online, which focuses on arms transactions between countries and corporations and on appointments of intelligence personnel and their clandestine activity, the Iron Dome transaction is the latest between Israel and Singapore.

The Web site, whose articles are available only to paid subscribers, has thousands of readers, including Israelis. Iron Dome, which its developers said was tested successfully a few months ago, as Israeli media have previously reported, cost roughly $250 million to develop. One battery, whose production cost is about $50 million, has already been deployed at a base in the south of the country, but so far has not been readied for operational purposes and has not yet been activated.

The anti-aircraft division of the Israel Air Force, which is responsible for operating Iron Dome, is training teams at a base in the north. They will be operating the system in Israel, with the aim of intercepting Qassam and Katyusha rockets up to a distance of 40 kilometers.

Vulcan-Phalanx: cheaper and more accessible:

Intelligence Online also repeats an argument published in recent years in Israel to the effect that if the Defense Ministry had really wanted to protect the residents of the south quickly and cheaply, it could have acquired a cheaper and more accessible defense system than Iron Dome: the batteries of the Vulcan-Phalanx cannon system manufactured by Raytheon. The land-based version of the batteries, called Centurion, are deployed in Afghanistan and Iraq, where they are used to protect American and NATO forces.

Although Defense Minister Ehud Barak has told Haaretz several times that Israel will acquire the Vulcan-Phalanx system, that has yet to happen. In other words, the Defense Ministry may have given Rafael a development budget as a way of positioning the project as an Israeli military system that is ostensibly being used by the IDF but is really aimed at improving Israel's chances of selling it to Singapore and other countries.

Small country, hostile population:

The cooperation between Israel and Singapore rests on the two small countries' shared sense of being under threat, since both are surrounded by a hostile Muslim population and want advanced weapons systems to maintain a qualitative advantage over their neighbors.

The Intelligence Online article argues that the fight against fundamentalist Islamic terror over the past decade has increased the cooperation between the two countries, as well as their sense of a shared destiny. In recent years, Singapore has confronted threats by Jemaah Islamiyah, a terrorist group that operates in Southeast Asia.

The island state, a neighbor of Indonesia and Malaysia, has arrested dozens of the group's operatives and exposed plans to attack the Israeli, American and Australian embassies, along with ships from those countries. One of Singapore's main sources of income is the Port of Singapore, which claims to be the busiest port in the world.

According to the article, immediately after Singapore declared its independence in 1965 it asked Israel to help it establish an army. IDF officers including Rehavam Ze'evi (who became a right-wing cabinet member assassinated in (2001) and Benjamin Ben-Eliezer (now the industry, trade and labor minister) were sent to Singapore to head large delegations of military advisers, and helped build the army on the model of the IDF. Israeli military representatives have been active since then at the Israeli Embassy in Singapore, which was opened in 1969.

One of the issues the IDF representatives deal with is promoting large arms deals. Transactions mentioned in the article include Singapore's purchase of Barak surface-to-air missiles manufactured by Israel Aerospace Industries and Israel's upgrading of fighter planes belonging to Singapore's air force. In addition, Rafael supplied drones for naval missions and Israel's Elbit Systems supplied its Hermes drone.

Intelligence Online also says there is naval cooperation between the two countries, and notes that the commander of Israel's navy, Admiral Eli Marom, had previously represented Israel in Singapore.”

.....END OF ARTICLE.....

I wish someone could provide a Scientific answer to my initial questions.

When would the world learn that developing weapon systems, while is the right of every sovereign nation, is never the long term answer to peace and stability in the world.

(Please, please when answering the question (Wajperak and eKompute for example) don't quote a stupid movie, as a "credible reference", some times a few people on this forum continue to site MOVIES as a "credible reference" for their argument as it is Intellectually Tragic, Literary Sad and Socially Pathetic. Askm again, Izinkan makcik bagi opinion atas pendapat Razak Abd Rahman, April 23, 12.43am.

Mengenai cadangan penggunaan Apple Ipad bagi menggantikan buku teks di sekolah. Seperti yang semua orang dah mungkin tahu, Kerajaan Negeri Terengganu di bawah pimpinan MB sekarang, telah menghadiahkan e-book pada semua pelajar tahun 5 sekolah rendah pada tahun lepas (pilot run). Tahun ini, insyaallah akan di perluaskan pada pelajar tahun 4 dan 5 dan kemungkinan tahun akan datang semua pelajar sekolah rendah akan dapat e-book tersebut. Pemberian e-book (katanya kos dalam RM1000 sebiji) tersebut adalah percuma, hasil dari Wang Ehsan yang dinikmati dari hasil minyak. Penghantaran awal adalah terus dari Cina, tapi kabarnya selepas itu e-book tersebut di buat sendiri di kilang Gong Badak, di Kuala Terengganu. Proses scan buku=buku pun di lakukan di sana.

Apa yang Makcik nak komen ialah, walaupun penggunaan e-book pada awalnya ada gangguan (maklum benda baru) seperti, skrin yang terlalu kecil (tahun ni pelajar akan dapat e-book yang punyai skrin lebih besar), buku-buku yang berantaraan bahasa Mandarin tidak di installkan dalam e-book (kebetulan anak-anak Makcik 4 orang semua sekolah Cina), tapi tahun ini kabarnya buku pelajaran berantaraan Mandarin (Bahasa, Sains dan Matematik Cina) akan di scan juga dalam e-book, pada dasarnya penggunaan e-book telah menyelesaikan masalah beban buku pada pelajar sekolah di Negeri Terengganu ini.

Masalah pelajar menyalah guna kerana 'down-load' benda-benda yang tidak bermanfaat dari aspek pelajaran dapat di atasi dengan penyekatan password 'Admin-ID' dan pemantauan berkala oleh guru-guru sekolah.

Makcik memang sokong 200% kalau cadangan penggunaan Apple Ipad ini dapat di teruskan. Kalau diikutkan kos Apple Ipad dengan kos cetak buku teks rasanya tidak banyak beza, malah lebih murah kalau di ambil kira penggunaannya yang tahan lama (secara purata boleh tahan selama 5 tahun kalau di jaga dengan baik)

Sekian, terima kasih

Salam hormat buat Tun berdua

1. Terubat rindu apabila menghadiri 'Public Lecture' Tun semalam di UTP. Menerusi tajuk Beyond Vision 2020 banyak isu-isu yang dikupas untuk generasi akan datang menghadapinya.
2. Walaupun terasa begitu gusar sekiranya apa yang diramalkan mungkin akan berlaku, kita sebagai umat Islam mungkin lebih beruntung kerana mempunyai kepercayaan dan keyakinan bahawa alam dan segala di dalamnya adalah dalam urusan Tuhan yang Maha Pengasih lagi Maha Penyayang. Dia telah mengatur alam ini sebegitu lama sehingga tempoh untuk menjaganya sehingga ke akhir zaman tidak akan mendatangkan masalah padaNya.
3. Pun begitu kita juga maklum bahawa Allah sesekali tidak akan mengubah nasib sesuatu kaum/individu sekiranya kita sendiri tidak mahu berubah.
4. Saya berharap amanat Tun akan memberi manfaat dan semua pihak mengambil iktibar supaya kita tidak dipersoalkan kerana peringatan telahpun sampai pada pendengaran kita.
5. Tun telah menunjukkan semangat setiakawan kerana menyokong Iran. Walaupun kita maklum Iran adalah sebuah negara yang mengamalkan fahaman syiah yang jelas agak bertentangan dengan fahaman ahli sunnah, yang penting bangsa Iran juga adalah manusia yang bertuhankan Allah yang pernah menunjukkan sokongan kepada Palestin semasa perang etnik tahun lepas.
6. Yang sangat jelas pada saya ialah umat Islam memerlukan seorang Pemimpin yang berani, bertanggungjawab, berperikemanusiaan, bijaksana dan berpandangan jauh untuk bersatu mengalahkan musuh dalam Islam sendiri apatah lagi musuh-musuh Islam yang lain.

Tun berdua jaga diri ya.

Embracing Clean Energy

Pew Study: Department of Defense Embracing Clean Energy

Pentagon, Service Agencies Working to Enhance Security, Save Money and Reduce Emissions

WASHINGTON, April 20 /PRNewswire-USNewswire/ -- The Department of Defense has initiated ambitious clean energy programs in service of economic, security and environmental goals according to "Reenergizing America's Defense," a report released today by the Pew Project on National Security, Energy and Climate. The report describes efforts by the U.S. military – whose usage accounts for nearly 80 percent of the U.S. government's energy consumption – to reduce dependence on fossil fuels and cut global warming pollution by enhancing energy efficiency and harnessing clean energy technologies.

"National security experts have been clear in their warnings - America's dependence on foreign sources of energy constitutes a threat – militarily, diplomatically and economically," said Phyllis Cuttino, director of Pew's climate and energy programs. "But, the department is doing more than sounding an alarm; it has enacted energy goals and is inventing, testing and deploying new technologies and alternative fuels to meet those goals. The military is, in many respects, leading the way and helping to reenergize America's future."

United States Defense Secretary Robert Gates has identified energy as one of the department's top-25 transformational priorities and the armed forces – including the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps – have undertaken specific initiatives to save energy, mitigate climate change and reduce costs. The military is investigating and implementing energy-saving measures in all facets of its operations, both at home and abroad, including housing, vehicles, fuels, weapons, supplies and transmission grids.

Overall, the Department of Defense has set a goal of producing or procuring 25 percent of its electric energy needs from renewable sources by 2025. Some specific initiatives by the armed services featured in the report include:

- * The U.S. Navy is developing a "green" carrier strike group to run completely on alternative fuels by 2016. (On April 22, the U.S. Navy will demonstrate the 'Green Hornet', an F/A-18 Super Hornet powered by a 50/50 biofuel blend at Naval Air Station Patuxent River, Maryland);
- * The U.S. Army is developing a 500-megawatt solar power generation plant in Fort Irwin, California that will help power the base and reduce the base's vulnerability to power supply disruptions. Named a 'Net-Zero Plus installation,' the Army hopes to free the base entirely from reliance on the public electric grid within the next decade;
- * The U.S. Air Force has a goal of meeting 25 percent of base energy needs with renewable energy sources by 2025; and
- * The U.S. Marine Corps has launched the 10X10 campaign aimed at reducing energy intensity, water consumption and increasing the use of renewable electric energy.

"The stakes could not be higher," said Navy Secretary Ray Mabus. "Energy reform will make us better fighters. In the end, it is a matter of energy independence and it is a matter of national security. Our dependence on foreign sources of petroleum makes us vulnerable in too many ways. The stakes are clear and the stakes are high. Our response has to be equal to that challenge."

With an annual energy budget of approximately $20 billion, the Defense Department incurs more than $1.3 billion in additional energy costs for every $10 increase per barrel rise in the world market price of oil. In addition to vulnerability to price fluctuations, the department's reliance on fossil fuels also compromises combat effectiveness by restricting mobility, flexibility and endurance on the battlefield. Transportation of fuel to the combat theater is a significant vulnerability as fuel convoys are targets in Iraq and Afghanistan.

"Today's military leaders clearly understand that forward-looking approaches to energy and climate can save American lives and money as well as reduce emissions," said Cuttino. "This leadership and ingenuity of the military must be mirrored by Congress and the Administration. If we are going to seize the opportunity presented by the emerging clean energy economy, we need a strong policy framework that puts a price on carbon, invests in energy innovation and helps deploy low-cost, low-carbon energy sources to help strengthen our nation's security, economy and environment."

"It is the forward-deployed soldier, airman, sailor, or Marine who is truly aware of the critical implications of energy usage from the tactical all the way to the strategic level," said Amanda J. Dory, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (Strategy). "This awareness stems from first-hand knowledge of both the logistical vulnerabilities associated with energy intensive operations and the resource scarcities that stress vulnerable populations and governance capacity."

Defense and intelligence experts have found that situations of instability can worsen from the impacts of climate change as water and food supplies decline, storm intensity increases, agricultural patterns are disrupted and migration increases due to conflict or resource shortages. In February 2010, the department's four year strategic planning document, the Quadrennial Defense Review, for the first time officially recognized climate change as a key issue playing a significant role in shaping the future security environment. It declared "Climate change... may act as an accelerant of instability or conflict, placing a burden to respond on civilian institutions and militaries around the world."

"Throughout history, the men and women of the Armed Forces have been among the first to respond to situations abroad to provide humanitarian relief, to help a nation maintain its sovereignty or to provide support in times of severe shortages of basic human necessities," said former U.S. Senator John W. Warner. "The Department of Defense has been an engine of innovation, pioneering development of cutting edge technologies such as the internet and global positioning systems. Building on this record, the department will continue to help the United States develop and deploy the clean energy technologies our nation and our troops need to be safe, secure and prosperous in the future."

First Green Supersonic Jet Launches on Earth Day

U.S. Navy's "Green Hornet" Aims to Break Petroleum Barrier

Marianne Lavelle

National Geographic News

Published April 19, 2010

When the Navy F/A-18 jet called the Green Hornet takes off over the Chesapeake Bay on Earth Day, it will aim to break a barrier that has proven far more durable than the speed of sound.

The twin-engine tactical aircraft is prepared on April 22 to make a supersonic flight on biofuel—its tanks filled 50 percent with oil refined from the crushed seeds of the flowering Camelina sativa plant. The test flight at the Naval Air Station at Patuxent River, Maryland will be a milestone in the Navy's efforts to reduce its reliance on petroleum, and perhaps, in the elusive search for an alternative fuel for aviation.

The event is meant to showcase the Pentagon's efforts to increase use of renewable energy, not only as a climate change initiative but to protect the military from energy price fluctuations and dependence on foreign oil. When President Obama announced his offshore drilling and energy security plan last month at Andrews Air Force Base, he used the Green Hornet as a backdrop. As naval aviation's biggest fuel consumer, the F/A-18 Super Hornet is a fitting test aircraft.

Secretary of the Navy Ray Mabus has set a target that half of naval energy consumption will come from alternative sources by 2020. A "Great Green Fleet," to sail by 2016, will include nuclear ships, as well as surface combatants with hybrid electric power systems using biofuel and biofuel-powered aircraft.

But for now, the Navy is seeking only to certify its first blend of biofuel and petroleum, by showing it can be used for the Super Hornet's full range of flight operations. That includes demonstrating that the alternative fuel can deliver the power needed to fly faster than the speed of sound (343 meters per second).

Petroleum Paradigm

"One of the challenges we've had is that everything we have ever used in naval aviation has been designed around petroleum-based fuel," says Rick Kamin, the civilian who leads the Navy's fuel program. "[The engine] is taking advantage of everything that a petroleum-based fuel provides. We've had to work to break down that paradigm."

Case in point: Engine seals. They were designed under the assumption that the engines would run on petroleum jet fuel, which contains aromatics—certain very stable compounds—that cause seals to swell, preventing leaks. After months of testing, the Navy concluded that current engine seals still need a certain amount of petroleum.

"One of our primary objectives is that the fuel we approve from non-petroleum sources has to be a drop-in replacement,” Kamin says. “It has to perform the same as a petroleum-based fuel performs and require no modification to the aircraft. Our goal is that these fuels have to be invisible to the operator.”

One of the appeals of Camelina oil, in fact, was that despite the aromatics issue, the fuel made from it was remarkably similar to the military petroleum jet fuel called JP-5. The biofuel developed by Sustainable Oils of Seattle has the same energy density. Not only does it deliver the same power, but all the aircraft systems—including the fuel gauge, which reads energy density—can operate on biofuel just as they would on conventional jet propellant.

“All we’re doing is what nature does over millions of years,” says Tom Todaro, chief executive of Sustainable Oils. “Jets today are flying on biomass—it’s just that with pressure and time, the oxygen has been leached off the oil and replaced with hydrogen. All we did was, using molecular biology and chemistry, make that move at a much faster speed.”

Without the work in the laboratory, wild-growing Camelina would not easily squeeze out a type of oil with the oomph to power military flight. A member of the mustard family and a relative of canola plants, the heavily-branched Camelina looked like a good biofuel source because it produces copious small seeds with high oil content. But Sustainable Oils and its two parent companies, agricultural science firm Targeted Growth and Houston-based biofuel producer Green Earth Fuels, spent a decade and millions of dollars breeding a strain of seed optimized for fuel production. The company won contracts valued at $18 million from the Defense Department last year.

Crop Science

The company is confident that it has overcome many of the disadvantages of the corn- and soy-based biofuels now in commercial use, like ethanol and biodiesel. Camelina is cold-tolerant, needs little water or fertilizer, and can be rotated in the northwestern United States and Canada on fields that farmers otherwise would leave fallow between wheat crops. “We wanted a crop that didn’t compete with food,” says Todaro. The company points to a lifecycle analysis conducted by scientists at Michigan Technical University concluded that the Camelina-derived jet fuel would produce 84 percent lower carbon emissions than petroleum fuel.

Sustainable Oils is just one of several companies working with the Department of Defense in the search for military-grade biofuel. Solazyme of South San Francisco, California has contracts to provide algae-based fuel to the Navy for testing in ships as well as aircraft. Houston-based Accelergy last month announced it has begun production of a synthetic jet fuel from coal and biomass to be evaluated by the Air Force.

For the biofuels companies, the Pentagon is a much-desired customer; it consumes 60 to 75 million barrels of oil per year in jet fuel alone. But some hope a military stamp of approval also will lead to commercial contracts. Sustainable Oils, now running a pilot plant in Houston, is working with partners to build a commercial facility near Seattle. In December, 14 airlines signed a memorandum of understanding with the partnership to negotiate the purchase of up to 750 million gallons of renewable jet fuel and diesel, an agreement that would replace about 10 percent of the petroleum fuel consumed annually at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport. Sustainable Oils is also working on renewable fuels for both ground-based and marine transportation. "But we chose jet fuels to start because it's the hardest," Todaro says. "We wanted to show it could be done."

Reading between the lines ...

Tun's no. 1 and no. 6 (last) statements are repetitious on purpose (I guess) as if to seek confirmation of the truthfulness, an element of doubt perhaps. Each statement is not only longish but disjointed having two opposing or yes-and-no sub-statements.

Moreover, each need to be read in one breath (go)and at least a couple of times in order to ascertain what it's trying to say. There is a subtle message in the blurry blurbs. That is how I interpret it.

Well, Tun knows better with nuances of languages both written and oral.

Whatever it is, there is a case of flip-flop here of which the newspaper reports seem to bear more of the brunt. PM don't lie (!). But, could there be misreporting on such an important and sensitive international and national issue?

The collateral damage is yet to be seen very soon in the P94 by-election.

Assalamualaikum w.b.t ayahanda Tun dan isteri, semoga sihat wal-afiat hendaknya sentiasa.

Saya tidak mahu mengulas tentang Iran pada kali ini. Saya pun faham tentang bagaimana pengkayaan uranium dilaksanakan di reaktor-reaktor nuklear. Insya-Allah, saya akan terangkan pada masa akan datang.

Pada kali ini saya rasa terpanggil untuk menyelesaikan masalah beban buku sekolah yang diusung oleh anak saya dan anak-anak kepada seluruh rakyat Malaysia. Konsep e-reader yang yang dipopularkan oleh Amazon Kindle dan iPad Apple telah membawa sinar yang baru bahawa pada masa hadapan buku tulis dan kertas ujian akan lupus sama sekali. Begini caranya.

Amazon Kindle merupakan ebook elektronik berskrin hitam putih digunakan secara khusus untuk membaca buku/surat khabar secara elektronik. Ipad Apple pula secara dasarnya adalah komputer mudah alih (portable computer) yang boleh digunakan seperti kegunaan komputer laptop atau desktop. Kegunaannya merangkumi membaca, menonton video, bermain games, menghantar email dan kerja-kerja menaip dokumen dan lain-lain(spreadsheet). saya cadangkan iPad.

Kerajaan mengeluarkan banyak wang untuk memberi buku percuma, pokok-pokok ditebang untuk menghasilkan kertas, 10 liter air digunakan untuk menghasilkan sehelai kertas, kerja-kerja percetakan buku mengambil masa, wang dan tenaga. Sedemikian banyak kerugian yang ditanggung oleh kerajaan dan alam sekitar dalam menyediakan buku untuk mendidik anak-anak bangsa.

Penyelesaiannya- seorang pelajar hanya perlu satu iPad sahaja sepanjang persekolahannya dari darjah satu (perlu difikirkan kemudian) hingga ke universiti. Maknanya setiap pelajar tidak perlu buku lagi sepanjang persekolahannya selama 6 tahun (sekolah rendah) + 5 tahun (sekolah menengah) + 4 tahun (ijazah universiti) dan secara purata setiap seorang berjumlah 15 tahun waktu belajar. Dengan mengeluarkan RM 1800 (USD 499) sahaja, kerajaan menyediakan seorang pelajar proses pembelajaran yang berkesan untuk 15 tahun yang akan datang. Sudah tentulah harga tersebut akan lebih murah sekiranya dibeli dalam jumlah yang banyak dan juga lebih murah pada masa-masa akan datang. Silibus pembelajaran boleh disediakan secara muat turun (download) melalui internet. Banyak syarikat-syarikat Malaysia yang mempunyai kebolehan untuk menyediakan aplikasi-aplikasi yang bersesuaian dengan kelulusan Kementerian Pelajaran. Ujian dan peperiksaan boleh dilaksanakan dengan baik dan berkesan dan sistem permarkahan boleh diprogramkan untuk kemudahan setiap guru. Guru pula tidak akan dibebankan dengan tugas menyemak (merait) jawapan-jawapan yang akan mengambil masa yang lama. Sudah tentulah cadangan ini akan mendapat komen-komen yang buruk dari generasi-generasi yang tidak mahu berubah seperti cadangan sains dan matematik dalam bahasa Inggeris tetapi saya berpendapat lama-kelamaan proses pembelajaran menjadi lebih mudah dengan penggunaan iPad ini.

Saya optimis cadangan ini akan mendapat perhatian yang dikasihi Ayahanda Tun dan seterusnya membawa perkara ini kepada perhatian PM Malaysia dan TPM selaku Menteri Pelajaran. Saya percaya dengan penggunaan iPad ini akan kerajaan dapat mengurangkan penebangan hutan untuk membuat kertas, mengurangkan penggunaan air untuk memproses kertas, memudahkan tugas guru, menarik minat pelajar untuk belajar, menjadikan beg pelajar ringan seringan-ringannya, meluaskan penggunaan internet di luar bandar, membuka peluang perniagaan untuk penghasilan aplikasi-aplikasi bersesuaian bagi syarikat Malaysia dan paling penting menjimatkan wang kerajaan untuk 15 tahun yang akan datang.

Sekian, Wassallam.

Salam Tun.

Persaudaraan kita dengan Iran sepatutnya ditingkatkan lagi ke tahap yang lebih tinggi yang mungkin meliputi kerjasama keselamatan. Dengan adanya kerjasama ketenteraan, kita boleh belajar daripada Iran kaedah membangunkan industri dan teknologi misil. Bidang kepolisan boleh diselaraskan untuk membasmi penyeludupan dadah dan manusia.

Kita juga tidak perlu takutkan Amerika dan konco-konconya hanya kerana mereka memiliki Anwar Ibrahim (& para balaci) untuk memantau kita.

Askm Tun and pengikut blog TDM,

After following the blog for quite a while, this is my first time commenting...
I totally agree with ayahanda Tun on this issue, and like him I was also glad with DSM statement. Despite all that, I think we need to find out who the culprit that first started this blunder... I actually got to know about this so called 'santioned' from this very own blog..but I forgot who wrote it?

Please dear bloggers, do verify facts before you post anything especially on something this sensitive...on TDM blog which has huge followers...dangerous isn't it...

Salam YAB dan diKasihi Tun,

Tun lega, tapi saya tidak rasa lega, sebab pada pandangan saya DS Najib TIDAK SEBERANI & SETEGAS Tun. Beliau selalu mengambil JALAN SELAMAT. Saya sendiri kurang pasti apa sebenarnya pendirian beliau.

Saya masih tidak nampak kekuatan DS Najib. Beliau cuma pandai berpolitik. Mungkin ini saja kekuatan beliau.

*** Saya doakan Tun sekeluarga sentiasa sihat sejahtera & dilindungi Allah SWT ***

Assalammualikum Tun,

Pendapat saya tentang hal ini lebih kepada persoalan iaitu:-

SEJAUH MANAKAH KEBENARAN KENYATAAN PM TENTANG KITA TIDAK MENYOKONG DAN TERLIBAT DENGAN ISU IRAN-AMERIKA INI?

Keraguan ini timbul atas sebab perjumpaan antara PM dan Presiden AS baru-baru ini yang lebih menunjukkan bahawa kita lebih cenderung dengan pihak Barat daripada pihak Iran.

Semoga kita tidak ikut berkempen bersama AS dan tidak berpihak kepada AS dalam hal ini mahupun hal lain yang tidak berasas.

Terima Kasih.

YABhg Tun dan seluruh warga chedet

Tiada sebab untuk Malaysia menghentikan perniagaan dan perdagangan dua hala dengan Iran.

Saya yakin bahawa perniagaan dan perdagangan di antara Malaysia dan Iran berdasarkan prinsip menang-menang.

Dalam masa 9 atau 10 tahun dari sekarang, Malaysia bakal berstatus negara maju (InsyaAllah. Maju dari segi politik, sosial, ekonomi, sains, teknologi, penyelidikan dan pembangunan, dan lain-lain. Seandainya Iran juga sedemikian, sudah tentu hubungan akrab perniagaan dan perdagangan akan bertambah erat berbanding hubungan dua hala Malaysia-U.S.

Dengan hubungan ekonomi yang sedia ada - Malaysia-Iran - kedua-duanya perlu merintis pengaplikasian Dinar Emas dalam menjalankan urusanniaga. Sudah tibanya.

Iran membangunkan teknologi nuklear boleh jadi untuk kegunaan keselamatan dan kedaulatan negara atau untuk tujuan aman (seperti penjanaan tenaga elektrik) atau kedua-duanya sekali. Kedua-duanya amat penting untuk dibangunkan.

Seandainya Iran memiliki keupayaan nuklear sebagaimana negara-negara kuasa Veto, Israel, India, Pakistan, dan Korea Utara, hegemoni U.S sebagai kuasa nuklear dan ketenteraan akan tercalar. Untuk mengekalkan hegemoni, Kesatuan Eropah (EU), Pertubuhan Bangsa-Bangsa Bersatu (PBB) diperkuda. Moga Malaysia juga tidak diperkuda untuk tujuan sedemikian.

Malaysia di bawah kepimpinan Dato' Seri Najib perlu tegas dan lantang terhadap apa-apa provokasi dan ancaman ekonomi secara halus daripada pentadbiran Rumah Putih walaupun Amerika berpresidenkan Barack Hussein Obama. Saya percaya Amerika akan menggunakan tekanan ekonomi melalui FDI, FTA, dan sebagainya di masa hadapan.

Sejak kebalakangan ini Amerika mencemburui keakraban ekonomi di antara Malaysia dan Iran. Seandainya Iran masih di bawah pemerintahan Shah (yang digulingkan melalui revolusi) sudah tentu Amerika tidak mencemburui atau cuba menghalang hubungan ekonomi Malaysia-Iran. Ini kerana Shah Iran boleh diperkuda dan menjadi proksi Amerika.

Sebenarnya Malaysia tidak perlu tunduk kepada kehendak AS. Malaysia adalah sebuah negara yang kaya dengan alam semulajadi, sumber mineral dan sumber manusia, mengikut telunjuk AS dalam semua aspek melambangkan kelemahan pemimpin Malaysia. Benar, persahabatan dengan AS dapat membawa masuk banyak pelaburan asing ke Malaysia, tetapi adakah persahabatan ini perlu di bayar dengan memusuhi negara-negara Islam lain?

Tun

You seem to have a penchant for wanting to associate with the dreadfully failed states of the world - Iran, Libya, Algeria, Pakistan, Sudan, Ethiopia, Somalia et al.

The state of our nation is such that that we need to widen and expand our economic base vis-a-vis- trading and investment in the new technologies of IT, nanotechnology, biomed, energy alternatives etc.

That can only be achieved from engaging diplomatically and learning from the best and most successful countries in the world - USA, UK, Japan, France, Germany, Taiwan, Korea, Sweden, Finland, Norway etc. It does not mean we have to go on our knees to court them or sacrifice our self-respect and sovereignty.

But equally, we must decide who our friends are. Has Iran been one of our main trading partners for the last 50 years or is it the USA where 50%-60% of our exports have been going to?

So, what exactly do you think our people and children can learn from a theocratic state which exports terrorism and will not ease tensions to find an amicable solution to the Palestine and vexed Middle East conflict?

I suppose you see in the Jew baiting racist and bigoted Ahmadinajad a kindred spirit who is to world peace and stability what Hitler was to bonhomie race relations!

Why, we need to be strong economically, independent of US economy, like it or not we can find other business partners (what happen to our ventures with Latin America, China, the Arabs and Africa?) then only we can take on the almighty militarily economically piece by piece like guerrilla warfare of Vietnam. We need a 25-50 years of economic planning Mengenai Nuklear oleh Iran, nampaknya AS tidak adil kerana tindakan yg sama tidak dikenakan terhadap Korea Utara (KU). Dengan KU, pihak AS sering mengadakan perbincangan dan perjanjian, kenapa ? Ada yg berpendapat KU memang mempunyai senjata nuklear, sebab itu AS tak berani nak sekat macam-macam. Lagi pun AS bukan jauh sangat dgn KU. Mungkin ada kebenaran pendapat ini.

Berbalik kepada nuklear Iran, jikalau IOC dapat bersatu menyokong tindakan Iran dan membantah sekatan AS, dunia akan menjadi lebih aman. Insya ALLAH.

Salam Tun & respectable CheDet's fellow bloggers,

I am not the least surprised that USA or even "you know who" will carry-out a pre-emptive strike at Iran, if Iran continue to defy the USA and "the rest of the world". Of course the best strategy will be to first impose maximum economic and other kind of sanctions to weaken Iran defense and then strike to cause maximum destruction to human lives and properties and with shameless face later to declare to the Iranians and to the world that they are not the enemy of the Iranian people. It sound too familiar, isn't it?

The concept of "pre-emptive strike" as always voiced by US & "you know who", is immoral, criminal in nature, dangerous to world peace. This policy is for the powerful to do justify anything they do, even killing hundreds/thousands and destroying properties and they can get away with it with total immunity. Invasion of Iraq and Afghanistan are the living example.

This concept should therefore be strongly condemned and outlawed. If this is an accepted principle, then the world will have a law that is worst than the law of the jungle. The powerful will become the persecutor and the judge on any issue to serve their interest by bullying, threatening and blackmailing the world.

A draft resolution should be prepared and sponsored by the peace loving nations of the world to be adopted by UN security resolution. There should be no 2-ways about it. Whether it will be approved or not is another issue. Of course, I am 100% sure that US & "you know who" will reject it outright.

May Allah protect us all from these evils...ameen

Malaysia must align itself with all other Muslim countries (especially in the middle east) who continue to see Iran with suspicion. This is not about American supremacy in the region as much as it is about Iran's attempt to export its shia revolution in the region.

Malaysia's interests are better served in unity with the Muslim world in face of a shia agenda to influence its neighbours through proxy.

It may actually be better if America-Israel-Iran fought each other and killed each other off, but the reality is that almost all nations will be dragged into this conflict with no real end-sight.

Salam Tun, semoga Tun sihat hendaknya...

Saya ingin mencadangkan...

selain daripada mengadakan kerjasama perdagangan dengan Iran, adalah disarankan juga kerajaan Malaysia mengadakan kerjasama dalam bidang pendidikan terutamanya dalam bidang kejuruteraan angkasa lepas (aerospace engineering)...

kalau tak silap saya (terbaca di dalam akhbar beberapa tahun dulu), Iran kini merupakan satu-satunya negara Islam yang telah berjaya mencipta roket untuk melancarkan satelit mereka ke angkasa lepas...

Saya rasa kita boleh belajar banyak perkara dengan Iran dalam bidang yang saya anggap amat penting dan strategik ini...

Saya sangat bersetuju dengan Tun dan tindakan DS Najib atas isu ini dan ia sebagai satu jenis isyarat kepada negara Islam yang lain agar mereka mempunyai hak atas polisi perhubungan luar mereka dan mereka tidak sepatutnya sentiasa akur dengan kehendak pihak mana sekalipun dalam menggubal polisi mereka. walau bagaimana pun.. Malaysia selalu bersendirian dalam isu isu seperti ini..

Chedet

Saya memang menunggu perihal topik ini dari CHEDET BLOG.

Kadang-kadang ada juga polisi dan pendapat Dr Mahathir saya tidak berapa setuju dan sokong. Antara lain tentang PPSMI dan penganugerahan pingat Datuk (Melaka) kepada Shahrukh Khan.

Tetapi apabila menyentuh perihal hubungan perdagangan IRAN-MALAYSIA dan polisi IRAN tentang senjata nukliar memang saya setuju dengan pendapat chedet 200%.

Makanya hujjah-hujjah saya adalah:-

1. Kalau betul fakta chedet mengatakan IRAN hanya ada 2 butir bom nuklear kenapa US jadi paranoid sehingga memanggil 46 pemimpin negara lain untuk mengadakan mesyuarat keselamatan nukliar?

2. Kenapa pemimpin Malaysia yang mengaku negaranya sebagai sebuah negara ISLAM perlu hadir pun ke mesyuarat tersebut?

3. Mengikut pemberita Washington Post, jemputan kepada pembesar-pembesar negara untuk hadir ke Mesyuarat tersebut hanyalah sekadar suka rela. Negara Indonesia hanya menghantar Naib Presiden mereka. Netanyahu langsung tidak hadir tetapi sebaliknya menghantar Timbalannya.

4. Apakah komitmen ISRAEL tentang ini? Tiada pula liputan dibuat.

5. Saya amat berasa sedih campur geram apabila menonton berita TV yang menunjukkan pemuda-pemuda Palestine hanya mengguna batu sebagai senjata untuk melempar kearah askar-askar ISRAEL di tebing barat GAZA. Sedangkan askar-askar mereka mempunyai senjata yang boleh tembak dari jarak jauh.

6. Apabila sebuah negara ISLAM seperti IRAN cuba membina senjata nukliar kenapa pulak negara-negara ISLAM yang lain termasuk MALAYSIA hendak masuk campur berpihak dengan US untuk menekan IRAN ?

7. Apakah Malaysia telah tidak lagi memegang polisi berkecuali?

8. Seperti kata pihak pembangkang, apakah betul PM Malaysia "melutut kepada pihak US?"

2. Jangan pulak jual pasir ke Singapura diteruskan jugak dengan alasan sama tak mau campur hal dalaman Singapura.

3. Sebab pasir hal dalaman Malaysia!

4. Pemimpin Malaysia jangan main wayang kulit.

so i think in no time we will have gulf world part 3. (selepas kuwait, iraq, n now iran) believe lepas iran mesti ada gulf world part iV pulak.

Selain minyak maybe the american gov suka sangat berperang di kawasan teluk oleh kerana they can win these wars unlike the war in vietnam and northern korea.

so..i hope the malaysia government will have a solid and strong stand in protecting our intererst in Iran.

Salaam kasih dan hormat Tun Che Det

Pada mulanya saya merasakan KEKECEWAAN apabila membaca Dato Sri Najib menghentikan bekalan gasoline kepada Iran. Berita diwartakan selepas Dato Sri Najib menghadiri jemputan Presiden Obama ke Washington untuk International Nuclear Summit (12 April 2010)

Saya ada memberi komen pada beberapa laman web tentang Nuclear Summit tersebut. Antaranya saya menyatakan tujuan perjumpaan itu ialah sebagai satu alasan untuk menyerang Iran.

'The Americans RAPED Vietnam and Afghanistan..HELPED to RAPE Palestine..GANG RAPED Iraq and SOON to RAPE Sudan and IRAN'

Tetapi setelah Dato Sri Najib memberitahu bahawa berita itu diSALAH TAFSIR dan tidak benar..ia adalah satu kelegaan (relief)

Saya amat berharap agar Malaysia tidak terlibat dalam mana2 bentuk 'sanctions' atau penindasan terhadap negara2 lemah semata2 kerana KEPENTINGAN beberapa kuasa besar yang tamak.

Semoga Tun sentiasa dalam keadaan sihat dan tenang serta dipanjangkan umur.

Berdasarkan kebimbangan kepada kebangkitan Islam dan hari kiamat, maka Amerika dan sekutunya, seperti yang dilakukan oleh Bush junior dan senior, serta Blair dan Israel, tetap akan mencari sebab untuk menghancurkan negara Islam satu persatu. Mereka pada hari ini percaya mereka mempunyai teknologi untuk mengelakkan hari kiamat. Mereka juga pada hari ini memantau setiap pergerakan ketenteraan negara Islam untuk menyekat kebangkitan tentera Islam akhir zaman yang akan menakluk dunia ini nanti.

Lihat sahajalah apa yang dilakukan mereka kepada Iraq dan Afghanistan, yang mana kita hanya mampu menonton dan membuat bantahan suara, perkara yang sama mungkin berlaku kepada Iran. Maka apabila perkara ini berlaku, apa yang dapat kita lakukan? Macam biasa la, kita akan menghantar memorandum bantahan ke kedutaan mereka, memboikot barangan mereka (tapi pernahkah kita benar benar memboikot barangan mereka?), membuat demonstrasi aman, menghantar pemimpin kita untuk bersuara di pertubuhan bangsa bersatu, dan cuma itu sahajalah yang kita boleh lakukan. Kalau hendak melakukan lebih daripada itu, ha ha ha ha, besar pengorbanannya. Tapi apa salahnya berkorban hatta nyawa sekalipun. Selepas kehidupan fana ini, ada lagi kehidupan lain yang akan kita alami, maka, tak ada rugi apa pun.

Tapi, itu la kan, kita tunggu dan lihat aje la.

Kepada kuasa kuasa besar tu, biar kan la mereka dengan ketidak fahaman mereka, sesungguhnya Allah Ta'ala mengasihi orang yang sabar dan Allah Ta'ala tidak akan sesekali memungkir janji.

Amerika adalah ketua bagi segala perancangan pihak zionis. Kelihatan mereka seperti menjaga keamanan dunia tetapi sebenarnya ingin menawan dunia dengan cara mereka yang amat cantik jalan ceritanya. Segala perancangan mereka amat jelas diterangkan didalam siri 'the arrival' yang dihasilkan oleh pakar-pakar islam yang sophisticated. Setelah meneliti siri tersebut barulah kita nampak bagaimana mereka menakluk dunia dengan 'twist'kan cara pemikiran kita.

Siri ini wajib sangat ditonton. Terlalu nyata perancangan mereka.

Sir,

The point is being missed here! It is not how many weapons a nation has but the responsibility of the nation having it. Iran certainly does not have the credentials of morality and common sensibility and allowing them to possess these weapons is akin to having a monkey "monkey around" with these weapons!. Then see what will happen.....are we willing to take this chance?

By Objective Q Author Profile Page on April 21, 2010 9:41 PM

Al Salamu Alaykum Dear Tun Dr. Mahathir,

The recent media frenzy regarding various countries and their weapon systems is quite puzzling!

When it comes to Politics, I am pretty neutral in my views, since I have learned long time ago, that most publicized information is either misleading or half-truths.

However, one must ask the simple question, why the double standards when dealing with various countries and their weapon programs?

Why is it that some are so highly publicized and others are so simply under the radar of the Media?

Why is that the media “suddenly” decides to focus on one particular country or one particular weapon system? Who makes that decision? How?

Fore example, according to the article written below, Malaysia and its Malaysian Muslim Population represents “Hostile Muslim Population”,

..... THE ARTICLE BEGINS.....

HAAERTZ:

Was Iron Dome defense system actually built for Singapore?

By: Yossi Melman

A Paris-based online magazine covering intelligence and security issues this week called Singapore one of the most important customers of Israel's defense industry, laying bare the active, though secret, relationship between Israel and Singapore that began more than 40 years ago - a statement that comes after years in which Israel censored all local articles on the subject. Intelligence Online, which is published in English on a bimonthly basis, states that the Southeast Asian island state helped finance the Iron Dome system designed by Israel's Rafael Advanced Defense Systems to intercept short-range missiles and rockets, in exchange for which it is supposed to receive several Iron Dome systems to deploy on its territory.

Even more interesting is the possibility the article raises that Iron Dome was designed first and foremost for the benefit of Singapore - not for the protection of Sderot and the southern communities in Israel that suffered from Qassam rocket attacks and mortar fire for seven years and are still suffering (though Iron Dome is not capable of intercepting mortar shells). Israeli media have previously hinted at this, but the Defense Ministry has vehemently denied it.

The suspicions were bolstered by the fact that after the system was developed and one battery had been deployed as an Israel Defense Forces base, it turned out that the Defense Ministry had no budget for additional batteries. In that case, why was there a need to develop a system for which there is no budget and which the IDF does not intend to deploy? According to Intelligence Online, which focuses on arms transactions between countries and corporations and on appointments of intelligence personnel and their clandestine activity, the Iron Dome transaction is the latest between Israel and Singapore.

The Web site, whose articles are available only to paid subscribers, has thousands of readers, including Israelis. Iron Dome, which its developers said was tested successfully a few months ago, as Israeli media have previously reported, cost roughly $250 million to develop. One battery, whose production cost is about $50 million, has already been deployed at a base in the south of the country, but so far has not been readied for operational purposes and has not yet been activated.

The anti-aircraft division of the Israel Air Force, which is responsible for operating Iron Dome, is training teams at a base in the north. They will be operating the system in Israel, with the aim of intercepting Qassam and Katyusha rockets up to a distance of 40 kilometers.

Vulcan-Phalanx: cheaper and more accessible:

Intelligence Online also repeats an argument published in recent years in Israel to the effect that if the Defense Ministry had really wanted to protect the residents of the south quickly and cheaply, it could have acquired a cheaper and more accessible defense system than Iron Dome: the batteries of the Vulcan-Phalanx cannon system manufactured by Raytheon. The land-based version of the batteries, called Centurion, are deployed in Afghanistan and Iraq, where they are used to protect American and NATO forces.

Although Defense Minister Ehud Barak has told Haaretz several times that Israel will acquire the Vulcan-Phalanx system, that has yet to happen. In other words, the Defense Ministry may have given Rafael a development budget as a way of positioning the project as an Israeli military system that is ostensibly being used by the IDF but is really aimed at improving Israel's chances of selling it to Singapore and other countries.

Small country, hostile population:

The cooperation between Israel and Singapore rests on the two small countries' shared sense of being under threat, since both are surrounded by a hostile Muslim population and want advanced weapons systems to maintain a qualitative advantage over their neighbors.

The Intelligence Online article argues that the fight against fundamentalist Islamic terror over the past decade has increased the cooperation between the two countries, as well as their sense of a shared destiny. In recent years, Singapore has confronted threats by Jemaah Islamiyah, a terrorist group that operates in Southeast Asia.

The island state, a neighbor of Indonesia and Malaysia, has arrested dozens of the group's operatives and exposed plans to attack the Israeli, American and Australian embassies, along with ships from those countries. One of Singapore's main sources of income is the Port of Singapore, which claims to be the busiest port in the world.

According to the article, immediately after Singapore declared its independence in 1965 it asked Israel to help it establish an army. IDF officers including Rehavam Ze'evi (who became a right-wing cabinet member assassinated in (2001) and Benjamin Ben-Eliezer (now the industry, trade and labor minister) were sent to Singapore to head large delegations of military advisers, and helped build the army on the model of the IDF. Israeli military representatives have been active since then at the Israeli Embassy in Singapore, which was opened in 1969.

One of the issues the IDF representatives deal with is promoting large arms deals. Transactions mentioned in the article include Singapore's purchase of Barak surface-to-air missiles manufactured by Israel Aerospace Industries and Israel's upgrading of fighter planes belonging to Singapore's air force. In addition, Rafael supplied drones for naval missions and Israel's Elbit Systems supplied its Hermes drone.

Intelligence Online also says there is naval cooperation between the two countries, and notes that the commander of Israel's navy, Admiral Eli Marom, had previously represented Israel in Singapore.”

.....END OF ARTICLE.....

I wish someone could provide a Scientific answer to my initial questions.

When would the world learn that developing weapon systems, while is the right of every sovereign nation, is never the long term answer to peace and stability in the world.

(Please, please when answering the question (Wajperak and eKompute for example) don't quote a stupid movie, as a "credible reference", some times a few people on this forum continue to site MOVIES as a "credible reference" for their argument as it is Intellectually Tragic, Literary Sad and Socially Pathetic. Reference a real useful CREDIBLE book, not a movie, unless it is just for fun)

God Bless Tun and family

Tun,

Remember a while ago, our diplomat was recalled by Wisma Putra just because he took the same stand as you do now?

<http://www.themalaysianinsider.com/index.php/malaysia/45610-our-un-permanent-rep-in-vienna-recalled>

We are definitely sending all the wrong signals when we punish our diplomat for refusing to let our country reduced to be a gweilo of the US.

I wonder how things are going for that particular diplomat from that moment onwards. Can you please enlighten me on what had happened to him?

Salam Tun yang di hormati,

1. Ramai yang marah Amerika Syarikat kerana tidak membenarkan Iran mengadakan program nukleurnya. Ramai yang menyatakan ini adalah kerana kejahatan golongan Yahudi.
2. Bila Pakistan dan India berjaya dalam program nukleurnya, mungkin tidak ramai yang bertanya bagaimana Amerika Syarikat tidak menghalang. Mungkin juga tidak ramai yang menyatakan ada persengkokolan dengan golongan Yahudi.
3. Iran adalah negara Islam, Pakistan juga negara Islam.
4. Bagaimana Amerika Syarikat membenarkan sebuah negara Islam mengadakan program nukleurnya, manakala menghalang negara Islam lain mengadakan program nukleurnya.
5. Adakah disebabkan Pakistan sekutu Amerika Syarikat? Presiden Pakistan kawan rapat dengan Presiden Amerika Syarikat?
6. Dan Iran sebaliknya.

Salam Tun,

Semoga usaha tuan diberkati dan diberi petunjuk oleh Tuhan...

Tiada apa lagi yang boleh diperkatakan kecuali ALHAMDULILLAH. Dipanjatkan kesyukuran kerana kita tidak bersekongkol dengan musuh Islam dengan menindas saudara se-Islam yang lain.

Terima kasih.

Salam Sejahtera Tun,

Terima Kasih Tun YOU simply the best.

Memang kami nanti nantikan komen Tun tentang perkara ini.

Apa perlu kita mencampuri urusan Negara Iran.

Kita tak perlu takut kepada Amerika, Israel, Britain negara yang banyak sekali memporakperandakan Negara-Negara Islam.

Apa perlu kita menturuti telunjuk mereka.

You

Jangan dengan hampan permaidani merah di sediakan untuk kita oleh Amerika kita sanggup gadai kan maruah kita.

May Allah Bless You Dr Mahathir Amiin.

Tun,
ALHAMDULILLAH, baguihlah kalau Malaysia ada perasaan,tak menyibok hal ehwal dalaman negara lain macam tu.Amerika boleh buat apa dia suka pada siapa dia suka dan bila dia suka.Tak kan kita nak jadi pak turut kot.Atau kita macam kena cucuk hidung pula .
PM kita ni bijak dan langkah yang di ambil beliau patut dipuji.
Buat apa nak takut kat Amerika tu.Kalu kita dok tindas negara islam yang lain takut negara kita ditimpa bala,NAUZUBILLAH.Sengsara nanti.

Salam Tun & Respectable CheDet's Fellow Bloggers,

Dengan izin nak keluar topik sikit, I am glad for the first time that up to now, there is no negative comment ( 100% ) to this issue brought up by Tun. What does that really mean? As usual, Tun being a great strategist, have poured cold water over those over excited com-mentors on the issue Tun brought prior to this one. Tun may also agree to my view in accepting the fact that there will be no near future solution to the problem if nobody can come up with one that would satisfy everybody, not through public forum. Since Tun should have seen the obvious outcome/no outcome of the discussion on that issue, I strongly suggest that Tun should proceed to form a Think-Tank that will outline a new strategy as the MAGERAN had outlined after the May 13th. but now to be based perhaps on your vision 2020 which many "Malaysian" especially "those people" obviously do not understand or refuse to understand.

Come back to the issue in hand. There should not be any surprise on the behaviour of those who are politically, economically and militarily powerful nations led by USA. Human are bestowed by Allah with "nafsu" for power, wealth and sex that ultimately will destroy themselves and have to pay the terrible price if not in this world, in world after that are perpetual. Allah is not cruel and hence human are also equipped with brain to think "what is good and what is bad" and supported by ketaqwaan to Allah ( for the Believers ). as to nuetralise those "nafsu".

These politically, economically and militarily powerful nations are so highly arrogant and deceitful. They will stop at nothing and are wantonly imposing their views/values onto the rest to accept and obey... if not? thou will suffer in one way or another. They appear to be good and honorable but the final aim is to bring evil, suffering and destruction to the world. Their ultimate aim is to rule and control the world with SATAN as the ultimate god. Who are behind it? As already written in the Quran, non others but the great satan who had promised to bring all human to hell. This may sound extreme. However this is not my view but it is written in Quran for those who care to study and understand its content. Allah has warned...

Let us all pray to Allah for His great blessing and His protection from all evil.

In theory it is easy to ignore US.

The reality is that almost the entire world (that includes Iran as well) are heavily reliant on the US for trades and various other business deals directly or indirectly. The banking system in a lot of ways intertwined with the American Banks (not to mention currency and all) so we are very much 'stuck' with the US. Unless we can independently live without any connection with the US (and sustain this environment), our 'wealth' depend on various US actions and policies. Malaysia has significant % of trades with US, if we cut tie now, I think the Malaysian economy and the financial system will crash. This is the fear of every nation on Earth therefore most of them 'bow' to the demands of US.

How to free the world from all this mess? There's no solution to it at the moment, at least not from the living leaders of countries around the world.

Unless we all collectively work hard to invent and become self sufficient, that would help.. but we're far from it at the moment.

Assalamualaikum Tun. Semoga sihat selalu Inshaallah.

Percayalah semua, senjata nuklear yang di bekalkan oleh Amerika ke Israel selama ini akan satu hari datang untuk menelan tuannya sendiri.

Sudah terlambat untuk Amerika untuk pulas tangan Israel, stockpile terlalu besar malah Amerika terpaksa akur dengan tuntutan Israel.

Bukan lah satu rahsia bahawa segala perjanjian yang Israel tandatangani tidak pernah di kotakan. Sila rujuk kepada tebiat sejarah lampau mereka, malah sampai di kitab suci pun pernah kita dimaklumkan.

Waspada! wahai Dunia.

Salam YABhg Tun'

There are none of any muslim country that are allowed to having any nuclear bombs or weapons even for self-defence as what is allowed to Israel for the same reason. What a double standard by the super powers as Israel were evidently known for killing the defenceless pelastinians in their homeland. When Iran develop nuclear facilities for their own domestic power resources the world see it as an evil intention in the expense of killings carried out in Gaza and West Bank !

Why such double standard can exist when one nation call it 'self-defence' and the other is not? Why cant there be a mutual consencious among big nations on a decision to be non-bias for such related issues that been hampered since the cold war? There could be a greater war than the cold war when the sanction begins on Iran? The surrounding Caspian nations are likely to retaliate for not getting enough supply of oil. Cant imagine the distruction would cause by such blockage to millions of innocent people just for the sake of listening to a 'cry-foul' intruder and non-existance nation call Israel which has caused a lot of miseris and hardship around the world today.

Same goes to Malaysia which never had to participate in the sanction which are unjust !

Salam hormat buat Tun.

Betul kata Ayatollah Komeni(kalau tak silap) masa hayatnya bahawa "Amerika adalah The Greatest Satan" di muka bumi ini. Nyatalah bukan saja US malah ramai kelompok European Union juga jadi pengikut syaitan ini yang amat setia mendokong telunjuk US.

Logiknya dunia ini boleh aman jika US gunakan kuasanya dengan adil dan seksama. Namun disebabkan kepentingan ekonomi & politik maka semua resolusi PBB yang dicadangkan terhadap Israel di veto oleh US. Jika ada pun yang lulus resolusi ini namun implimentasi dan kuat kuasa terhadap Israel tidak dihiraukan malahan tidak dititik beratkan oleh kumpulan pro Israel ini. Jadi memang penindasan terhadap Palestin tidak dapat tidak akan kekal sehinggalah Presiden Amerika terdiri daripada orang2 yang jujur mahukan perdamaian dicapai.

Dunia sudah faham sikap US & kuncu2nya. Talam dua muka. Double standard dan cakap tak serupa bikin. Mereka boleh reka apa juga bentuk strategi dan alasan untuk menyerang atau memusnahkan sesuatu negara sebab kekuatan militeri mereka. Justeru untuk tidak mendapat saingan dari mana2 pihak terutama sebuah negara Islam seperti Iran, maka dirangkalah segala macam tuduhan agar Iran diboikot dan jika perlu dimusnahkan sepertimana Iraq.

Yang kuat musnahkan yang lemah supaya tidak mampu bersaing dengan mereka.

Saya cuba kaitkan strategi US ini dengan strategi kaum non Malay yang telah menguasai ekonomi di Malaysia. Macam US, kaum non Malay ini juga punya strategi yang hampir sama. Cubaan menghalang penerusan DEB, menafikan hak2 kaum tempatan berdagang dengan cara "Ali Baba", enggan memansuhkan sekolah2 vernacular kaum dan tidak menyokong sekolah wawasan adalah diantara ciri2 yang ketara dan jelas bahawa kaum ini tidak jujur dan bercita2 untuk menguasai ekonomi dan politik secara bersendiria ala monopoli.

Ini bahaya jika tidak ditegah dari awal. Saya menyeru kepada pemimpin2 UMNO supaya cukup2 lah bertolak ansur and berkompromi dengan kaum ini. Jangan sampai semua sudah berpindah tangan baru kita tersedar bahawa kita sudah hilang satu negara.

The American are hypocrites of the highest level. They are not allowing others to own nuclear weapons but they have stockpiles which can blown off the earth many times over. Why is it that no nation during the nuclear summit demand that the American disarm and dispose off all their nuclears. What makes them thinks that they are angels who will not misuse it ? Of course knowing these hypocrite bastards will never 'kow-tow' to world demands as demonstrated by their invasion of IRAQ but least we can change the focus of their topic during the summit. But as all we can see most if not all attended are ball carriers to the American simply becous of one reason - Economy Benefits !!!

What Principal ???

By fzaAuthor Profile Page on April 21, 2010 12:52 PM

I'm sensing something is not right here..

I do agree that its not our business to interfere with Iran's internal matters. It seems logical that everyone should have the right to nuclear power as long as its not for warfare.

these "big guys" think they are the only ones that can do whatever they want to the world. They are just bullies. Malaysia should not tolerate (and to assist???) with this kind of behaviour. its just like what the Arabs and Jordanians have been doing to Palestine!!

Well, if they want to bomb malaysia they can. so too can they bomb iran with their massive nuclear warheads. They won't stop until god knows when. they are behaving just like a normal crook would. once we are of no use to them, we will probably suffer the same fate as iran would. Just look at what they did to iraq and afghanistan. yeah yeah, destroy and build (so that they can destroy again perhaps? haha..).

My stand: Malaysia shouldn't participate in this madness but we should help our brothers and sisters for the development of their country (other than the building of any nuclear warfare).

So, where is your stand on this wahai Yang Berhormat Dato Seri Najib aka Perdana Menteri Malaysia??? something must be holding you back. question is what?

Assalamualaikum Dear Tun,

Semoga Allah mencucuri Rahmat nya kepada Tun, Meredhai Tun dan Tun tergolong sebagai orang yang benar, jujur dan ikhlas kerana Allah Ta'allah.

Benar sungguh apa yang Tun luahkan di-posting ini Tun.

Subhanallah.

Jika kita perhatikan politik AS dengan teliti kita akan dapati betapa KOTOR nya perjalanan politik mereka. Ini kah contoh demokrasi yang kita nak menjadikan sebagai contoh untuk Malaysia?

Republican sanggup berbohong, berfitnah, menipu, dll untuk menghentam Obama, Presiden sekarang. Democrat juga mungkin begitu jika mereka menjadi pembangkang. Apa saja akan di buat asalkan lawan nya dapat ditewaskan. The END justifies the means (whatever means, does not matter legal or not, moral or not, ethical or not)!!!

Nampak tak bagaimana PKR dan kuncu kuncu mereka juga telah memulakan politik sebegini.

Di-blog ini juga kita boleh dapati beberapa komen yang meninggalkan komen yang tak lebih dari FITNAH, fikiran sempit, tak berwibawa dan tak masuk akal. Kepada komen komen begini .. biar kan sahaja...kalau tak di layan...mereka akan "go away". Mereka adalah macam immature attention seekers yang kalau tidak di layan akan berlalu lah mereka ;-) Akhir kata Najib telah mempamerkan kewibawaan yang kita harap harapkan dari seorang yang bergelar Perdana Menteri Malaysia.

Assalamualaikum Tun.

Iran dikaitkan dengan Syiah dan Malaysia dengan Ahli Sunnah Wal Jamaah.

Perkara ini telah lama berjalan dan tetap dihormati oleh majoriti umat Islam di dunia ini. Bagi yang tidak berpendidikan agama dan tidak kenal sejarah silam tetapi dikurniakan dengan kefahaman agama yang sedikit pun tetap akan dapat menerima keadaan semulajadi ini.

Malaysia dirahmati Allah kerana dipayungi oleh kehadiran keturunan Rasulullah s.a.w dan dikatakan dikurniakan ramai wali-wali Allah.

Ini termasuklah alim ulama bukan keturunan Rasulullah s.a.w iaitu antara yang mashyur adalah Tok Kenali di Kelantan dan keturunan baginda sendiri iaitu Tokku Paloh di Terengganu.

Tokku Paloh (1817M-1917M) adalah antara keturunan Rasulullah s.a.w yang sentiasa dikurniakan bantuan Allah bagi mengembangkan bakat semulajadi bagi memayungi pemerintahan bersama dengan Sultan Zainal Abidin III.

Kesimpulannya, kurniaan hidayah daripada Allah tidak kenal bangsa dan keturunannya. Asalkan sesiapa sahaja yang menyerah diri kepada kekuasaan Allah pasti akan sentiasa dilindungi-Nya.

Sedangkan ada juga yang memakai gelaran Syed tapi tidak ada haluan dalam kehidupan. Namun yang penting adalah tidak melanggar pantang larang yang nyata iaitu tidak menyalahi syariat.

Maka Ahli Sunnah Wal Jamaah mengambil jalan untuk menerima bahawa keturunan Rasulullah s.a.w mempunyai kelebihan dalam satu-satu keadaan tetapi tidak dalam satu-satu keadaan yang lain, yang mana ada orang awam lain yang lebih mengetahui.

Maka Ahli Sunnah Wal Jamaah tidak taksub kepada keturunan Rasulullah s.a.w dan tidak pula menghina mereka.

Semasa ini gelombang 'tajdid' sedang mekar diperkatakan oleh mereka yang bersemangat berjuang dalam memperkembangkan agama Islam.

Saya mendapat berita bahawa hadith Rasulullah s.a.w membawa khabar gembira kepada kita semua iaitu :

"Sesungguhnya Allah swt akan membangkitkan dari kalangan umat ini dipermulaan setiap kurun mereka yang akan mentajdidkan agama umat ini". Riwayat Abu Dawud, al-Hakim dan al-Baihaqi.

Tajdid di sini bermaksud membawa umat Islam ke arah pemahaman Islam yang sebenar dan bukannya memperbaharui agama itu sendiri kerana Islam telah diperakui oleh Allah swt sebagai agama yang telah lengkap dan akan dipelihara hingga ke akhir zaman.

Apabila kita membawa obor slogan 'perubahan minda dan tajdid' ini bukanlah satu perkara yang kecil, kerana sebenarnya kita bermain dengan hadith Rasulullah s.a.w.

Untuk diangkat menjadi 'mujaddid' adalah atas hidayah Allah swt sendiri dan bukan kita sendiri yang melaung-laungkan bahawa kitalah yang sedang melakukan tajdid agama dalam masyarakat.

Sedangkan hanya untuk menjadi hamba Allah yang amat dikasihi-Nya, semestinya kita perlu buktikan terlebih dahulu dengan melalui dugaan-dugaan yang tidak ternilai. Tapi kalau takut dilambung ombak, maka kita bertempirar lari bagaimana kita sanggup menyerah diri kepada kekuasaan Allah swt? Masjid kat Aceh okey je lepas kena tsunami. Tak runtuh pun.

Kalau takut dilambung ombak, jangan berumah di tepi pantai.

Kalau kail panjang sejengkal, lautan dalam jangan diduga.

Kerana apa yang anda duga, mungkin anda menduga kekuasaan Allah s.w.t

Terima kasih Tun.

Terima kasih Tun.

Assalamualaikum Tun,

Sampai saat ini, counter hit Tun dah hampir 29 juta...boleh di kata secara matematik mudah semua rakyat malaysia dah pernah visit blog Tun,dan lebih hebat dari itu, citizen luar negara pun akses blog Tun,nama-nama jahat mcm Hannan Israel yang saya fikir dari Israel pun visit dan menegakkan argument mereka yang tak masuk akal di blog Tun.Mana ada blog lain seperti blog Tun....

Manusia cerdas pandai,golongan pelajar, siswa, ahli politik kerajaan / pembangkang yang pragmatik,pesimistik,optimistik,sarkastik tak lepas peluang akses blog Tun.Mencambah fikiran...bertukar pendapat serta pandangan...Blog Tun telah menjadi wacana wadah percambahan , penyebaran dan pertembungan idea dan fikiran...Bahasa mudahnya...Blog Tun ini amat amat bermanfaat , berguna dan berkualiti...

Saya amat mengagumi Tun sejak bersekolah rendah lagi...masih saya ingat ketika kecil saya bersekolah rendah, guru sekolah saya memberi buku bacaan kanak-kanak berkenaan Tun..sejak hari itu...Tun menjadi idola saya...Saya dan rakan rakan seangkatan umur saya ( standard cucu kepada Tun) adalah hasil produk Tun melalui dasar-dasar Tun...Dasar pandang ke Timur...Bersih Cekap Amanah...Buy British Last...Dasar penswastaaan dan paling dekat dangan saya dan Melayu Melayu SEDAR DIRI yang lain adalah Dasar Ekonomi Baru.

Saya bukan orang kaya..Cuma bakal menjadi golongan 'middle class' keluar dari Putaran Ganas Kemiskinan/ vicious cycle of poverty yang rata –rata menjadi birthright kebanyakan etnik Melayu.

Alhamdullilah...

Saya dan umat Melayu lainnya menerima kesan 'crutches' ini secara langsung melauai peluang pendidikan yang ada di negara ini...dan mengguna peluang , MENGHARGAI serta BERSYUKUR dengan penuh kesedaran kepada tanggungjawab agama,diri dan bangsa. Saya dan rakan rakan marhaen lain tidak berpeluang menjadi kaya raya seperti Zaid Ibrahim yang mendapat banyak TONGKAT BESAR dalam DEB.

“Tapi tak apalah...itu rezeki dia...paling tidak....Zaid Itu bangsa aku juga...Kalau berjaya pun dia...itu bangsa aku...berkereta mewah berumah besar pun dia...itu bangsa aku...jika termasuk dalam senarai billionaire Forbes seperti Syed Mokhtar Al Bukhary ...lagi aku bangga..sebab itu bangsa aku.”

Yakin saya ..bukan saya seorang ada fikiran seperti di atas...

Cuma harapan saya...jangan lah lagi ada Melayu yang mementingkan diri sendiri sahaja...fikirkan lah nasib-nasib manusia sekeliling yang kurang bernasib baik dan yang perlukan pembelaan.Belajarlah dari komuniti Cina...Bantu lah insan yang memerlukan..Jangan lah apabila sudah lepas tembolok kita...hal orang lain tidak dipedulikan...lebih teruk lagi...sudah lepas tembolok kita..dituba dan diracun pula habuan/bahagian yang sepatut diterima insan lain...hal begini adalah sama atau lebih teruk dari pegangan hidup Shimon Perez dan Ariel Sharon.

Tun,

Tun adalah insan terpilih..Di pilih Allah menjadi pemimpin...Diberi Allah kelebihan berfikir lebih dari manusia lain...terlalu ramai orang ingin menjadi sebijak Tun...Tun petah berkata-kata...indah susunan mengatur butir ayat...menempelak dalam kesopanan...analisis yang hebat...perkiraan yang menjadi...pandangan dan perancangan jauh...ariff dalam keputusan...Berani dan tegas dalam perbuatan....

You are the greatest thing ever happen to modern malay society/ civilization and modern history to me ,Malay masses and Malaysia, Asian region an Islamic world...Dr M for Noble prize!
Siapa kata orang Melayu tak hebat?Siapa kata Melayu lemah?Tun Dr M , Tun Perak...Idola Melayu...kebanggaan rumpun bangsa..saya berharap dan yakin suatu hari nanti Tun Najib juga begitu.

Harapan marhaen seperti saya ,Melayu- Melayu lain serta rakyat Malaysia agar Tun dirahmati Allah dan diberkati senantiasa hidup Tun.

Take Care Tun...God Bless You.

Iran bukannya negara pertama yang memiliki kuasa nuklear (jika ada). Apakah salahnya jika Iran memiliki kuasa nuklear, kalau negara-negara yang lain boleh memilikinya? Apakah logik dan kriterianya?

Untuk menghalang pertumbuhan kuasa nuklear di dunia, Amerika Syarikat patut menghapuskan kuasa nuklear sendiri lebih dahulu sebelum membuka mulut besar. Bagaimanakah negara yang tidak diperlihatkan sebagai negara yang adil dapat menuntut diri sebagai polis antarabangsa?

Good morning Ayahanda tun,

Due to Universal Norm of human inteligence on press reporting and movie industry, we do not know whether US is afraid of nuclear war or not. However, Barrack Obama was quote saying that if nuclear power is aimed at US, the first thing that he does is to whip the snacks.

Yesterday, a local newspaper, The Sun, reported that Obama's administration has issued a statetment out that Israel and Palestine must solve their conflicts, and if they do not, it will be hard for US to do anything if US wants to gain world support.

Nevertheless, international prevention is better than national cure in terms of cost and efficiency.

In national TV news, we know that Iranians are caught with 'syabu' by our Custom Department recently, and Iranians are human beings like all of US.

Yes, The Star Online reported the news from BERNAMA that PM Najib had denied such allegation.

The Star Online's Hulu Selangor By-Election.....

Najib slams those who spread lies to confuse people

TOKYO: Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak has hit out at those who indulge in “gutter politics” in their campaigning for the Hulu Selangor parliamentary by-election.

The Prime Minister said he has noticed that there were those who were “spinning” his recent visit to the United States and meeting with President Barack Obama as Malaysia “kneeling down” to the superpower.

“I heard that people are spinning our relationship with the United States. If we have a good relationship, it doesn’t mean we are bowing or kneeling down.

“We have no plans to do so and we never will. This is total rubbish and the lies are to confuse the people.

“I will turun padang tomorrow at Hulu Selangor and sort out matters. This is fitnah (slander) and not at all ethical,” Najib, who is also Umno president, said at a dinner with some 300 Malaysian students who are studying in Japan. The event was hosted by Yayasan Pelajaran Malaysia.

“If we want to play politics by all means play politics but don’t indulge in gutter politics. Such stories will not benefit the country,” he added.

Later, at a press conference with the Malaysian media covering his first official trip to Japan as Prime Minister, Najib said the Opposition would twist the facts.

In Kuala Lumpur, Home Minister Datuk Seri Hishammuddin Tun Hussein called on the Pakatan Rakyat supporters to stop dragging his family into their political game.

Hishammuddin said he was aware that doctored pictures of him drinking alcohol which first surfaced eight years ago were again being circulated on the Internet.

Meanwhile, after three days of campaigning, Barisan Nasional candidate P. Kamalanathan and his opponent from PKR Datuk Zaid Ibrahim finally crossed paths.

Both of them stopped for lunch at the same restaurant in Taman Teratai near Bukit Beruntung.

Have a pleasant day at Perdana Putrajaya, Ayahanda Tun.

Salaam Tun,

Dunia Barat terlalu angkuh dengan demokrasi yang cuba disembarkan ke seluruh dunia. Mereka menganggap nilai2 mereka adalah universal dan terbaik untuk umat manusia sedangkan kita tahu nilai2 ciptaan manusia tidak akan kekal. Nilai2 kekeluargaan Barat terlalu rapuh dan tidak diisi dengan kasih sayang sebenarnya. Mereka merasakan dengan teknologi yang mereka ada sekarang mereka akan dapat menguasai umat manusia selama2 nya. Seperi yang Tun selalu ingatkan kami...belajarlh dari sejarah. Sejarah telah membuktikan tamadun yang begitu gah di era nya sekalipun hancur disebabkan kemajuan teknologi tidak diisi dengan nilai2 moral kemanusiaan.

Saya berharap Dato Seri Najib akan terus membalas hujah2 negatif mana2 pihak ke atas kerajaan kerana berdiam diri akan mengundang lebih banyak persoalan. Tidak adil saya rasa kiranya membandingkan Dato Najib dengan Tun, malahan untuk membandingkan Tun dengan mana2 pemimpin Malaysia pun tidak adil kerana pemimpin dengan karisma macam Tun akan hanya datang sekali seumur hidup kami rakyat Malaysia.

Terima Kasih seperti biasa dari rakyat biasa yang sentiasa mengenang budi.

Mereka boleh dan mengapa negara lain tidak boleh memiliki senjata Nuklear?
Banyak negara yang dipaksa menandatangani perjanjian berkaitan nuklear tetapi kenapa Israel dibiarkan begitu sahaja?

Orang Bodoh pun boleh mempertikaikan cara mereka yang sebegitu....apatah lagi mereka yang bijak.

Siapakah sebenarnya yang mempunyai Agenda tersembunyi? Begitu ramai rakyat Iraq yang terbunuh kerana prasangka dan dakwaan palsu mereka. Mereka semua barangkali menghidap penyakit 'Anxiety'?

Kita tidak kata kita bersetuju dengan Iran mengenai pengayaan Uraniumnya tapi saya secara individu menyokong Iran Dalam Usahanya.

Kita memang tidak suka akan peperangan tetapi saya memandang dari sudut lain. "Keseimbangan Kuasa".....Ramai yang tidak percaya kepada kesimbangan dan berpegang kepada Dominasi dan Monopoli. Akhirnya kita tahu apa kesannya bukan?

Salam.

Salam Tun and good morning.

Most of world leaders are obliged to agree with the US due to international trade and political reasons. Perhaps they are worried if they 'dont stay inline', the US will not support their countries.

This has to stop and I hope DS Najib and his team are firm in their decisions. So are the Iranian government and the people.

Berani kerana benar!

Thank you Tun.
