Thanks for your comments (HAS TERRORISM SUCCEEDED - March 29, 2010 7:11 PM).

I have looked at the pictures. They show nothing.

But most interesting they are from the Holocaust Museum, United States. They are obviously Israeli propaganda.

The "Holocaust" happened 60 years ago. The Jews were killed by Nazi Germans. Why don't the Jews punish the Germans instead of the Palestinians and Muslims?

Tribal wars take place in Sudan and most countries in that area since ancient time. Darfur was highlighted at a time when incarceration and torture of prisoners in Abu Ghraib was exposed. Obviously the intention was to deflect attention from Abu Ghraib.

Malaysian relief workers have gone to Darfur. They report no genocide, only a lot of starving people because of the tribal wars.

If you are interested I can send you pictures of torture of the genocide in Iraq where 500,000 children were killed by starvation and lack of medicine when sanctions were applied principally by the United States and Britain.

I agree there are no winners or losers in a war. That is why I have been campaigning to make wars of aggression a crime. Killing people in order to solve disputes is uncivilised and primitive. The right thing to do is to negotiate, arbitrate adjudicate in order to solve disputes.

Rarunasalam, you are comparing bush, blair, howard to daim,lim leong sik, samyvellu and sanusi junid.

How can you compare heads of states to ministers?are they on the same level? for sure not.

Does Dr M calling them frauds or liars have anything to do with you? Did you get anything from them?

KLIA, you are comparing a regional hub that was opened before the commonwealth games. How can you compare KLIA with an established airport i.e changi airport and bangkok airport that has been there for quite a while.

If petronas wants to buy stake at perkapalan, its their call, it happens that Tun's son is working with perkapalan. so does it matter to you? did you lose money when Petronas bought stake at perkapalan.

Petronas or Petroliam Nasional Berhad is owned by the government. Our beloved Tun is only an advisor to petronas. Tun can only advise, government decides on what to do with the company.

Why don't you give an advise on what to do. Rather than telling people that they are hypocrites.

22 years Tun was PM, he brought the country to a developed country status. Yes, there is flaws, but all humans make mistakes, nobody is perfect.

Lets help build Malaysia together, work together. Improve the economy of Malaysia.

okay - in case you didn't understand what I meant by refering to Tun M. as hyprocite, it was "Tun M. does not practise what he preaches" - Period!

Don't get upset if I am calling your idol that - that is the fact.

Tun M calls others frauds and manipulators i.e. Blair, Bush, Howard - tell me in his 22 years how many projects and people he has manipulated to carry out his bidding (Ling Liong Sik, Samy Velu, Sanusi Junid, Daim Zainuddin, etc etc)

Tun M calls others mismanagers and corrupt - how does one interpret Petronas buying stake into Perkapalan, a company owned by his son.

Tun M initiated a lot of projects with no clear business plan or return of investment or longevity - do you need examples - well I'll give you one - KLIA. It performs below par for being a regional hub, much lower compared to Singapore or Bangkok.

Tun M scolded his successor Tun Abdullah, called him names, all for benefiting his personal selfish self. But when Tunku criticised him when Tun M. was PM, what did he do? He ignored the elder gentleman and founding father. He censured him.

Tun M calls for war on war - well, isn't that massive hypocrisy? What happened to seeking peace?

I can go on but it's your blind devotion that sees my comment as insulting whereas if only you understood the context of the claim, it's not an insult brother - Its a fact!

So, pipe down and if you cant bear to read my comments, ignore them, thats your right. But it's my right to write to Tun with my feedback which I convey responsibly (without name calling or racist comments from the likes of you).

oh by the way, in case you didnt realise, I do have a blog - www.expmmalaysia.blogspot.com

Do go on it and do give your comments. I am not unhappy to receive your negative comments. In fact there are those who have called me names in it. I dont get upset. I just shake my head and say tsk tsk for their anger and hatred.

You really need to stop getting angry and if you want to counter comment - write why you believe Tun is not a hypocrite. That will show merit that you're a sensible person, and willing to engage in the argument in optimal manner.

And one more thing - putar belit means being inconsistent. I have always been consistent in my claims about Tun in his blogs... so get your facts right!

Deii tambi..., Rarunasalam @ Ravi..., Yaarrethe..!?

Who do hell do you think you are? Coming onto someone's home & platform (Tun M's blogsite) and calling the guy a hypocrite..!

Only a complete and total imbecile like you would display such unconstructive, rude and shameful attitude to vent your abhorrence & hate towards a host, on his platform that is meant to be for beneficial and constructive discourse of many. And this is not meant to insult you. It is meant to somewhat jolt you unrestrained ego.

Why not you open up your blog platform and provide you own views on several issues. Perhaps many others would love to hurl their 'shit' at you just for the fun of it. Anyway, I have read your comments on this platform and topic which are all pure garbage, irrelevant and demeaning.

Regardless of this, I am surprised though that the good Tun Dr. have allowed your comments to be displayed for all to read. This would thus clearly indicate that the man is not a hypocrite that would NOT try to hide and brush aside dissenting voices towards him. Is that no so., huh..., tambi...!?

What do hope to achieve in venting your hatred & loathing on this platform. I guess you will only succeed in increasing your blood pressure by doing so. Perhaps you might even be stricken with a severe stroke for such exploit.

How can you say that you have no intention (or at least) of insulting someone when you have actually done so. Now instead, it seems that you ARE the hypocrite. You see, you deny your own intention. You utter something but deny of having intention of doing so. You are damn hypocrite & liar. How's that for insult., eh., tambi..!?

You might as well be a gentleman and say that you have no qualms in insulting Tun Dr. M as being a hypocrite., period..! Do not instead deny of having no intention of insulting him., understand..!?

You see., it is not that difficult to spot and identify a manipulator or a 'kaki putar-belit' ..., you know..! And... tambii..., you are also one such person- a 'kaki putar-belit'. Again, that's no insult either.., That's FACT..!

And lastly..., Podaah...!!!

thanks for skimming thru my comments - obviously you didnt read them OR you have a misconception as to what is an insult and as to what is an accusation.

I am not insulting Tun M or at least have no such intention. I am however accusing Tun of being a hypocrite...and that is fact. Tun M is a hypocrite. That is not an insult. An insult is if I was rude by calling him names. I have and would not do such thing.

And it's your prerogative to not read my comments as these are in response to and directed to Tun's attention.

Thank to you, Mr John Byrne. I know I should have 30 questions for the test. Yes, that was the missing question. Do you think Mr Hannan will still fail this simple test even though I have given all the answers to those question? I bet he will fail.

May God bless all of us

ranunasalam,

I find it particular that you are calling people out for their blind devotion when you yourself are the bent on discrediting Tun. I'm not trying to pick a fight with you but its obvious that all your post are aimed at insulting Tun. Even when he makes a post about something totally non-govermental like war or just post an opinion about something thats not related to politics, you still find a way to belittle his post.

I would actually take your comments more seriously if you werent so repetitive and easy to predict. These days if I see your name, I'll just skip to the next commentor. I believe I'm not the only one who does this.

It was the Germans who inflicted sufferings on the Jews. For atonement, it is only logical that the state of Israel should be created on part of Germany and not Palestine.

Prof ridiculously

I am impressed in how you position your argument...a question to you - if by what you claim that Muslim's wear this unfortunate tag is indeed true, then why is that you see a lot of Christian's continue conducting business and support transactions in the Middle East, Indonesia, Pakistan and in parts of the world highly populated by Muslims?

Could it be more than just for the sake of making money, that indeed people of other faith have a sense of camaraderie regardless of one's ethnicity and religious association?

Agreed that in the last 10 years, the world has severely criticised extremists and fanatics...and unfortunately those extremists and fanatics did it in the name of Islam. But that is exactly the point that one should note that the rejection is based on the extremism these groups subscribe to as well as their modus operandi. Nothing to do with any religion whatsoever.

Being the educated person you sound to be...is it better for you to be the sponsor of integration of people and highlighting irregularities of fact, rather than emphasise on data that is circumstantial?

I appreciate your writing and enjoy reading your thoughts so do keep your nuggets coming...and wish you the best sir!

Salam Tun,

A war is a situation where the army can test a new invented weapon or bomb in real situation. Selling weapon is good business, weapon manufacturers can increase its sales, etc etc...

Events in Gaza, Iraq and Afghanistan shows a new technology of WMD. The experiment were shown by media, thanks to Al-Jazeera, Wikileaks and others. Although they try to hide it, this things still leaked to the world.

Now we know about Israel's bombing in Gaza.

Now we know about MOAB in Iraq.

Now we know about the attitudes of US and Nato soldiers towards Muslim in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Now we know about children of Israel writing at bombs before "sending" them to Lebanon.

Now we know about Israeli "camping tour" to watch attack on Gaza.

Now we know about "compensation" in Afghanistan to keep Afghans to "silence".

Now we know about Egypt "tied hand".

My comments are not malicious or out of hatred - at least my comments are no different to what Tun M. has served on Tun Abdullah.

It's a pity, we won't get an open and transparent view of all that is Tun. M

But you're more than welcome to maintain your blind devotion. That's your right to stay ignorant.

Assalamu Alaikum Tun,

To rarunasalam.

You assume yourself as critical against any idea propagated by Tun Dr Mahathir?. Actually you don't. Your opinion has been poisoned by hatred feeling and assumption. You can't argue only based on assumption. People will laugh at you. Critical person doesn't simply believe from hearsay.

salam Tun,

to 'blinded with hate' Rarunasalam,

We, and by that I mean many of us here believe that you are a pompous self-regarding individual with devious intentions. Please enlighten us with your accusations. Don't just talk blindly. Better still why don't you file police reports.

As it is Tun remains the ONLY so-called dictator in the world who stepped down voluntarily and completely (unlike a certain leader down south).

Nobody with skeletons in their closet will step down voluntarily. They will prefer to die with their boots on.

Tun has issued a challenge for a thorough study to be conducted by an independent third party about allegations from people like you and S. Tan about the unfair policies of the NEP. You dare take up the challenge?

excerpts from a newspaper report;

"KUALA LUMPUR 27 Mac - Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad mencadangkan supaya satu bancian komprehensif dibuat bagi mendapatkan kebenaran berhubung pelbagai tuduhan kononnya orang Melayu membolot segala-galanya.

Beliau yang merupakan bekas Perdana Menteri berkata, bancian berkenaan amat diperlukan kerana sudah terlalu banyak tuduhan tanpa fakta dan hanya bersandarkan tanggapan dibuat pihak tidak bertanggungjawab.

Katanya, bancian itu lebih sesuai dilakukan oleh pihak yang bebas manakala fokus kajian itu perlulah mencakupi sektor swasta dan perkhidmatan awam.

"Ada banyak desakan yang bukan-bukan, kononnya semua biasiswa diberikan kepada bumiputera, semua ini betulkah? Kita kena tahulah (fakta), cakap sahaja tak boleh.

"Ini negara berbilang bangsa, kita perlu berkongsi dan hidup bersama-sama, tetapi jika kita mula menuduh satu sama lain tanpa fakta, ia akan menyebabkan ketidakstabilan yang akhirnya menjejaskan semua orang," katanya."

Tun wouldn't have issued the challenge if he doesn't know the facts. The question is DO YOU KNOW THE ACTUAL FACTS?

Sarang tebuan jangan dijolok.

Salam dan dengan izin Tun,

It looks like Kamaliuk fell for Zionist propaganda and swallowed the whole disinformation of the Holocaust industry hook, line and sinker. The raison d'etre of the Holocaust museum/s is to increase Israel's leverage on world affairs.

Nobody denies the atrocities against the Jews of Europe in World War 2 and it is a blot on humanity that it happened, but to manipulate the tragedy of the Holocaust in order to further a political agenda -- that of Israel -- is another matter.

With regards to USHMM, it is interesting that it doesn't contain any information on the other "peoples" that were targeted by the Nazis, namely the gypsies (Roma) and the handicapped. The USHMM, however, does take the trouble to document the genocides of Rwanda, Bosnia and Darfur, although there is not a word on the Armenians or even the Rape of Nanking where hundreds of thousands of Chinese were killed by Japanese soldiers and tens of thousands of Chinese women were raped.

Is it a coincidence that Armenia and Nanking are not mentioned or does it have to do with the fact that the USHMM being an American institution, it has to be sensitive to the fact that two strong US allies, the Turks and the Japanese, won't be happy if the genocides were to be immortalised in an American institution?

It is classical propaganda: serve half-truths, appeal to prejudices, repeat the message ad nauseum, and use the 'guilt by association' [to Hitler in this case] fallacy on anyone questioning the propaganda.

And well-meaning people like Kamaliuk will fall for it.

Objective Q

Thank you for your apology [philosophical sense] on behalf of Islam. I enjoyed reading it and it gave me pause for thought.

It is pretty obvious that Islam is under attack both internally and externally, with the external attacks gaining momentum post-911.

Muslims are used to being labelled by their enemies. Prophet Muhammad صلى الله عليه و سلم was labelled 'madman' and 'magician' by the pagan Makkans but to no effect. Wasn't it Pope Urban II who called the Muslims in the Holy Land 'infidels' when he was trying to organise the First Crusade? Later on of course during the Reconquista, Muslims were pejoratively called Moors -- even the 'first recognised novelist,' Miguel de Cervantes, fell prey to the prejudices of the time. And a bit later during the Western colonisation of the East, they were called Mohameddans. Very recently we've been honoured with the epithets 'Islamist' and 'Fasco-Islamist.' What will they think of next?

What did the Muslims do? They called, and continue to call the Europeans, both Christians and Jews, -- correctly I might add -- 'People of the Book,' an honourable description as far as Islam goes, in accordance with Islam's teachings.

Having said all that, it does not mean that Muslims should sit back and enjoy the name-calling. No, we don't subscribe to the 'turn the other cheek' doctrine. It is a battle of the minds being waged mainly in Europe, North America, Australia and other democracies, and to a certain extent India -- places that matter to the Zionist (both Jewish and Christian) cause, actually. It is a concerted effort to impress upon the average European, American, Canadian, Australian or Indian mind that Muslims are to be feared and best avoided. Muslim minorities in these lands are in the process of being differentiated and isolated from the mainstream society. Demonisation at its finest.

There, there's the answer to your "current prejudices and injustices against Islam and Islam's prophet Mohammed to be absolutely misguided, unfair, unjust, discriminatory."

Hence the urgency of the efforts by the OIC to combat Islamophobia. But what's important is for Muslims to recognise the labelling and injustices for what they are -- provocations -- and continue to employ their collective wisdom in facing these incitements, and to remain united and steadfast in the face of adversity.

Salam Tun,

To Idea,

You are sorely mistaken about Spell Cast. This program is from Singapore produced by the Singapore Government controlled MediaCorp. The lone Malay contestant you saw in the program was just a show that the Singapore PAP government does not discriminate the Malays. If you watched and followed the program as I did, the Malays were always given difficult words to spell compared to the Chinese and Indians to make sure that they will not succeed to the end. I am certain that it will disgust you. Watch the program at 7:30 pm Tuesdays on NTV7 to believe.

Regarding Miti, if what you said is true, then Najib must do something about it before we lose our patience. He should also check why SOCSO CEO is an Indian.

May Allah bless TUN M and Malaysia.

Salam Tun & Fellow CheDet's bloggers,

The mention of word "JEWS" , will draw a lot of criticism from many like Mr.Hannan and other non-jewish and will label such a person as anti-semitic. What so special about about this race call JEWS? Nothing to be surprised about it why people hated the JEWS so much. The answer can be found in Quran for anybody who are interested to find the truth out curiosity.

The European and USA are happy that they had finally managed to get rid of them by giving a state of its own as far away from them. They washed their hand clean. Then they need to keep the status quo by continue to support its existance in any circumstance so that their countries economy will be not be "disturbed" and will be good reason to fulfill their colonisation agenda. They are and will prove wrong as the Jews will not be satisfied and will continue to haunt everybody until the end of the world. Israel will be USA and European's biggest liability to serve as the leader of the civilised world.

May Allah bless us all.

Aaaah...! What an unpleasant surprise to find Hanan again giving a few comments in this forum. Hanan - the proud Zionazi. Oops sorry..., I mean..., err...., the proud Zionist.

Since our esteemed colleague have found some time to contribute some points here, well..., I guess I might as well respond to Hanan..., just for the fun of it. OK..., Hanan..?

I have a nice video URL here that I reckon many would love to watch & see. It is a very popular video on YouTube, with so many viewers that up till now have registered more than 51,600,000 hits..! That's a lot of hits. And the title of the video is "Battle at Kruger". Here is the video link:-

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LU8DDYz68kM&feature=related>

Very interesting video isn't it.., eh Hanan..? But there is also a moral story to the depiction of that video. It's not merely about - The Law of The Jungle.., The Battle of The Beast..., The Survival of the Fittest.., etc., etc. It is also a story about Love & Care, Unity & Teamwork as well as Courage & Fighting-spirit.., etc, etc.

Just for the sake of a parable, I would regard that those lions as similar to being the forces of The USA.., i.e. the great predator – always pouncing on helpless victim and prey at any opportunity that presents itself. And those buffaloes I would regard as being the rest of the world (3rd World Nations especially) – who go about their lives, living-off the land and doing no harm to anyone. While the crocodile I would consider as being the Zionist-Israel or International Zionism..., i.e. that cold-blooded & dastardly beast always lurking out of sight, pouncing and grabbing onto anything for its own stomach and agenda.

Well..., let's take look at the attributes of those lions then (i.e. the USA). They have fearsome 'weapons' such as claws and fangs. While the crocodile (The Zionist) have huge jaws and ugly fangs. But those buffaloes have no such fearsome 'weapons'.

We can observe that the USA (the lions) had capitalised the situation when it presented itself and quickly pounced on those powerless nations (those buffaloes). We can also notice that the USA (those lions) had gone after and attacked the weakest of victims – i.e. the buffalo calf. All the US forces then made sure that the victim was securely compromised when all of their forces pounced onto the helpless victim.

Then it seems that the Zionist (crocodile) also wanted a piece of the action and tried to grapple for the victim when it was dragged into the water - i.e. International Zionism territory. However, the US forces managed to drag the victim out of the ugly jaws of the Zionist crocodile and out of the water. So, now they have the victim all for themselves.

Then suddenly, the story takes a sudden turn. This is where love & care, unity & teamwork as well as courage & fighting-spirit comes into picture. Those buffaloes out of their love & care for the helpless calf (their own kind) had managed to organise themselves (unity & teamwork) and mustered enough courage to fight and challenge those lions. One by one, we can notice that the lions gave up their prey and were chased away by the buffaloes. Finally the injured calf was saved from being the meal of the lions. On the other hand those buffaloes could have simply walked away and live for another day, and merely let the young victim be a forgotten issue. However, it seems that even buffaloes have more love & care for their young and helpless ones. This however, cannot be said of human sentiments when young & helpless children are massacred – as in The Gaza Strip, as an example..!

By nature and common sense we do not see buffaloes challenging a pack of lions..., do we? It's an impossible feat..! In this video though, those buffaloes have done the most ridiculous of actions – i.e. challenging and attacking those pack of lions. But they did so for a worthy cause – saving their own helpless kind. Thus, the adage – “Those who attempt the ridiculous can achieve the impossible”..., seems to be true after all. And those buffaloes have done the impossible..., period..!

In conclusion, as a parable as well the moral of the story presented here.., the question is - how many of us would value and care for the lives of humans that much – i.e. the children & young ones especially? And how many of us are prepared to stand united and muster enough courage and dare face-up to challenge and ward-off those ‘cold-blooded’ and predator mentality ‘beast’...? For now, all I can see is that – not many of us are prepared to do so. So, if that is the case then let us prepare ourselves to become prey and victims of those beasts. Lately, those of ‘special interest groups’ in the USA as well as those Zionist forces have displayed themselves as being ‘beasts’. They have applied The Law of the Jungle and The Survival of Fittest approach into our modern civilization. And many have not noticed this situation as being real..!

Nonetheless, it is still not too late for us to – Attempt the Ridiculous so we may achieve the Impossible..! And, let us not fall prey to those predator ‘beasts’.

Cheerio.

Why don't you see that your race is a proven trouble-maker? Anywhere Jews go, sure war and killing. Jews and Palestinians are two types of people in this world that are not welcome in many parts of the world. The world is so smart (especially Europe and middle-east) that after the WW2 they recommended that two countries to be form, one for Jews and one for Palestinians. They are so smart that they know if they don't create a state for these two types of people there will be disaster and killing everywhere, so Israel and Palestine is cleverly created next to each other so that killing and other not so nice thing happen in a small area rather then everywhere in the world.

Now at least there is some peace in parts of Europe and Middle-east. Palestinians are Muslim but they are also not welcome in many middle-east muslim countries. Why coz are trouble-maker like you, give 1cm want 100mtr.

Read many of your writing and I think you misunderstand what we Malaysian are thinking.

Don't blame you as you are Jew, luckily you are not American as if you are Jew and American then you will be worst. You think you know what franking speaking you don't know. You can only see from one angle and there is Jews.

Peace to you and your people and hope that your people can stop been so greedy.

Asalamua'laikum Tun,

Dengan izin.

Dear readers, you might want to read "Confessions of an Economic Hit Man" a biography by John Perkins to understand how the US uses consulting firms and so called aid agencies to subvert the economy on countries that they have strategic interest or importance.

Then you might not be so quick to judge others of so called conspiracy theorist

Dear Tun,

Thank you very much for taking the time to reply to my comments.

It might surprise you to know that I believe that 9/11, while not necessarily a blatant CIA plot as some people might advocate, was nevertheless an anticipated opportunity used by the neo-conservative elements of the US Government to further its Middle East colonial policy. This was unashamedly stated in the infamous Project for the New American Century's report, Rebuilding America's Defenses.

Like you and many others, I too am angry at the blatant one-sidedness of most major Western Governments in their address of the issues in Palestine. However, I also see that other Arab states need to shoulder also some of the blame for not giving generations of Palestinian people any other option than one of armed struggle, despite their oil-rich wealth. In observing the the billions of dollars of wastage that these oil-related states like Dubai had squandered in its empty mega projects over the past few years, one can't help wonder if some of this could have been channeled to better the lives of the Palestinian people. But this is an argument for another forum.

I am also well aware of the agenda of economic colonisation of the developing nations by the West including ours, under the pretext of financial liberalisation, and while I feel that your advocacy of an Islamic dinar is economically simplistic within the present financial reality, I too share your concerns on unfettered globalisation. Dinar advocates are trying to climb the hill of creating a new currency system yet fail to see that Malaysia's regulatory authorities are quite happily opening the floodgates into the domestic financial system to the very Western banks they so despise. Such is the hypocrisy.

However, to attract any sense of credibility in criticising the injustices of the West, one also needs to play a balanced hand when addressing other injustices against humanity and democracy, including those which may fall under the banner of regimes Malaysia may consider allies, which includes Sudan and Zimbabwe.

Even the alleged 'anti-Muslim' United States Congress for all its evils, in 2005 passed a resolution declaring that "the Serbian policies of aggression and ethnic cleansing meet the terms defining genocide" in order to condemn Serbian aggression against Bosnian Muslims, leading NATO to take action in putting an end to the aggression. In fact, the Holocaust Museum also has testimony and pictures of the crimes against humanity committed against Bosnian Muslims on its website.

http://www.ushmm.org/genocide/take_action/gallery/portraits/bosnia

Are these stories also Israeli propaganda?

On Sudan, the UN Commission of Inquiry on Darfur had in its final report concluded that while the Government of Sudan had not pursued a policy of genocide, its forces and allied militia had "conducted indiscriminate attacks, including killing of civilians, torture, enforced disappearances, destruction of villages, rape and other forms of sexual violence, pillaging and forced displacement." and that "international offences such as the crimes against humanity and war crimes that have been committed in Darfur may be no less serious and heinous than genocide."

Is the United Nations, in which Malaysia presided over the Security Council for 2 years to the year 2000, also a tool of Israeli propaganda?

In criminalising wars of aggression we must not take sides. Closing a blind eye to the atrocities of our allies makes us no different from the Western hypocrites we criticise.

Kita ashik berbincang pasal ekonomi, politik keganasan, kezaliman , pembunuhan dan berbagai-bagai hal lagi.

Tahukah kita hasil yang baik adalah dari benih yang baik, jiwa yang bersih adalah dari hasil makanan yang bersih. Kenapa mereka macam tu ?

Kita kaji hasil nya... Malaysia dah mula melaluinya Tun, rakyat tidak bersifat waras bunuh bayi, kanak-kanak, ibu bapa, rogol dan sebagainya sebab hasil yang jadi darah daging dari sumber yang kotor..

Ini juga dikategorikan pengganas juga cuma dia orang tak pakai senjata api saja.

Apa pun Yang Berbahagia Tun Pasti kan rakyat malaysia makan makanan yang halal iaitu kalau kilang mengeluarkan produk halal pastikan betul-betul halal di mana kilang dipastikan mengaji sekurang-kurang pekerja kelulusan menegah agama oleh kilang tersebut dan pegawai ini kena lapur ke JAKIM..Kalau keluarkan lesen pusat penyebelihan islam mistilah usahasama dengan JKIM memastikan pekerjaanya adalah dikalangan orang berpegetahuan agama..barulah hidup selamat ISLAM SENTIASA DIHATI.. Dear Tun,

I am responding to the comment by JimmyHillhead.

1. Last night, I watched Spell Cast, a spelling contest for kids, on NTV7. It was disappointing to see only one Malay kid in the contest despite the Malay's being the majority. Are we still that weak in English?

2. Somebody told me Miti, a government organization that is dealing with international trade negotiations, is dominated by the non-Malays. Somebody else might deny. The way I see it, the Malays are occupying the support positions. Many of the heads are non-Malays despite the Malay's being the majority. Are we really this weak in English?

3. I am disappointed. I am really, really disappointed.

Tun,

The article written by Objective Q on March 31, 2010 4:48 PM and By non-jibaok on April 1, 2010 2:19 AM are so interesting and educational and I wonder why someone is calling and giving others names.

Why! I believe it is political game created by American Organisation (maybe or maybe not Jews). The game is to conquer and own the world's wealth. Who started the modern days holy war? American politicians is the answer!

We have seen how they use religion and start a war against Islam by linking all sort of bad things happening to the world to Islam. They are trying to link Islam to terror and look properly they are also doing it to others too.

If you notice that the last 10-20 years there are more American style Christian organisation in Malaysia. Look at how these organisation changes the mind-set of the Chinese and Indians.

These organisations are preaching and teaching non-muslim to discard their original culture and believe in, worship and live a life preached by "King Of Israel". Can you see their propaganda and mind-changing programs and money-making schemes?

When I was a young boy, I attended Christian classes too because of the school I was in and also out of curiosity, fun and opportunity to get-to-know girls but we were never told not to practice Yoga or not to hang red cloth in our house or dragon images or chinese painting are devil . All religion is good but I think some powerful force is using religion to change and alter life-style and mind-set of people to suit/meet their agenda. Their agenda is as simple as "anything not American means not good"

Stop America and sure world peace but then again someone else will start another war!

Objective Q

[[No rational mind, logical sense or wise soul would ever, so unjustly, attack Islam if they are only to know more about its peaceful and harmonious teaching. It is therefore that the rigorous study of Islam's Military History and Military Philosophy might help bridge the discriminatory gap of intolerance and fear of the unknown, while once and for all demonstrating communicating to the world its true message of peace, justice and enlightenment.

It was Aristotle, a student of Socrates' disciple Plato, one of the three fore fathers of modern Philosophy that taught Alexander the misguided belief that "We make war that we may live in peace." encouraging Alexander to Invade the Persian empire, whom he regarded as a threat to Greece by Mindless Barbarians that are to be dealt with as one would deal with Animals.]]

First and foremost, I must say I am not worthy to comment on your brilliant piece of writing. But as Islam is concerns..every muslim have right to an opinion and here are my 1 cent's of worth.

Quraish tribe's did not acknowledge Muhammad as Rasullulah s.a.w. So when Rasullulah s.a.w mentioned..Ini adalah perjanjian di antara Muhammad Rasullulah s.a.w di antara..

Nanti-nanti..kata Suhail Ibn Amr..Kalau kami mengakui Muhammad itu Rasullulah s.a.w tidaklah kami memerangi!!

Point pertama:Kepura-puraan.Dah tahu pun Muhammad itu Rasullulah,tapi tak mengaku.Satu kaum di zaman dahulu. Begitu juga kaum ini di zaman moden.

The Repetition.Vicious Cycle Of Banality.

Point kedua :Beralah ddan bertolak ansur.Rasulullah s.a.w bertolak ansur.Maka jadilah perjanjian ini

Dengan nama Allah. Ini ialah syarat-syarat keamanan antara Muhammad putera Abdullah dengan Suhail ibn Amr, wakil Makkah.

[[Aristotle,Socrates and Plato]]

Among them there is muslim,sage and saint.I did know who but they gives proper guidance to Iskandar Zulkarnain.Refer Al Kahfi.Pointed contention of course.

[[Then how did this concept of "Pre-emptive war" propagate through history and still prevail today?]]

Rasullulah s.a.w sent's letter (like Tun Letter's that sent's to selective World Leader)to respective Kingdom like Rome and Persian.In this letter's Rasullulah s.a.w propgate Islam.Some tored Rasulullah s.a.w letter.Did this justify Muslim invasion? It is not. It is "Pre-emptive war" when call for consultation's have failed.

[[What is the reason behind the current attacks on Islam?]]

Why bother the international front? Look's closer at home. Why current attacks on Islam happened after Tun left the political scene? Official and powerful political scene. Tun..our Islamic guardian here have left and all feels open and sundry to attacks Islam..

[[So I ask, how could we now in our weakest and most pathetic state, be called aggressors, tyrants, intolerant, extremists, militant, and murderers?]]

I already mentioned this on hadith about "Muslim as the main course" of food..Sauce anyone?

[[Unfortunately, we are our greatest enemy!]]

This is untrue in "Sufi's" doctrine. What is self? Self is the soul. It governs the heart that is the king.

(Seketul darah yang baik)

But the "nafs", deed's and lust always force and imposed itself againsts the soul which 'akal' the mind works like " Tuan Penasihat".

Muslim all over the world could not comprehend this very essence of Islamic being alone. Education. Yes the proper word. But the question of implementation is the foreword.

Finally. I am truly incensed that when Shaikino, The Hidden Secret and his compatriot desecrates Islam here in Tun blog, the self expert's Islam is deafening silence. Where were you all? Tugas Kifayah ke mempertahankan Islam?

Prof_Ridcully and Abd S-Dahenan dah buat ko orang tak payah??

Think's hard..think's very hard when they will emerge's again from those murky water that they promise to do..

Islam is in the very act that what we do. Not in the irresponsive act's toward's the desensitized soul's.

Assalamualaikum Tun.

Taktik Israel mudah untuk dibaca. Cuma yang dibezakan adalah kesungguhan yang ditunjukkan oleh Zionis mengikut rancangan pelan asal.

Satu gerakan dan pelaksanaan yang tersusun.

Gaya permainan Anwar Ibrahim mirip kepada Israel. Tujuan menimbulkan isu adalah untuk memanipulasi keadaan. Tapi Anwar Ibrahim tetap mirip sahaja tapi tidak sama macam Israel. Ini bermakna Anwar Ibrahim tidak sehebat Zionis.

Kelihatan Anwar Ibrahim terikut (maksud saya meniplak isu) dengan gaya Dr Mahathir dan sebenarnya ramai orang ingin menjadi macam Dr Mahathir. Fight with no fear.

Tapi satu perkara yang orang tak tahu adalah 'isu' Dr Mahathir dah boleh dikatakan outdated. Jadi kesimpulannya Anwar Ibrahim dah out dated.

Well, good luck to Anwar Ibrahim. Like RPK said in his 'last posting' long long time ago, "I TOLD YOU".

Terima kasih Tun.

Ayahanda Tun,

I totally agreed with you, but PLEASE do not respond to provocation. You may want to clear some issues but this species will not stop at nothing unless we subscribe to their values and belief. Insyallah, we shall continue with our jihad.

You had issued THE challenge to some of the species in Malaysia - PROVE THAT MALAY HAS GRAB NON-MALAY'S RIGHT - is still unanswered.

I think they has no answer for that but I do think that you have plenty of reasons and answer to that particular question.

I do think you should share your thought on that issue.

I am having difficulties to answer some of my questions here but I do think you have the answers:-

1. During Portuguese, Dutch and British collonisation (over 446 years), the Chinese and Indian were brought over to The Malay Peninsular to worked as coolie or labourer. History has seen that they become traders, businessman, lawyer, doctors, engineers, etc, etc. How come they ended as white collar? Did the British helped them? Did the British provide scholarship or assistance to them to enable them to become what they are now? Do we have the statistic? (I have had several conversations and discussions with some pre-war and post-war Malay professional. We will not get that facts as it was the policies at that particular time but Lee KY is still doing that.) Now "they" are asking us why we only give the scholarship to the Malay. I think we have to highlight this issue, otherwise they will keeping barking at this issue.

2. Because of the above policy, most of the head of the Government Department was non-Malay. The policy was the same. Utamakan bangsaku dahulu sebelum menolong bangsa orang lain. When Tan Sri Ainuddin Wahid was appointed as the head of Institiut Teknologi Kebangsaan which was renamed as UTM, his first task was to increase the intake of Malay student. He found out that the application form from the Malay student was still on the floor unprocessed but "they" claimed that Malay was not interested in technologies and/or Malay did not make the cut to become the engineers. You never highlight this issue. Is it sensitive? I think you should tell the post-war kids regarding this issue, how they manipulate the fact etc, etc, otherwise even the Malays will not learn the actual history.

Thanks.

I wish that you don't have to respond to such nonsense. There are few of them with the 'purposely' intention to provoke. Most of the allegation was merely baseless. Perhaps they got the information from definitely not reliable sources which they themselves didn't know the real situation was. Yet they have these cruel intention that you must answer to all these allegations. These people only know how to criticize. They led not a successful life either. Because successful people posses this value we call positive thinking. Positive people do positive approached. Sometimes the truth is hard to swallow. And these people are very, very good at denying facts. To these people Tun, let it be. Only safe those who want to save themselves.

Sorry Tun, my 2 cents.

Normally, I do not prefer to give my comments on this forum but would rather browse through some of the comments as posted, merely for my own consumption. However, occasionally we do get some impertinent comments from some quarters (such as this 'Kamaliuk1973' fella) that require some repudiation.

With regard to the above topic I would advise that 'Kamaliuk1973' to pay close attention to the video URL as below:-

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cHtCoTHc6Zk&feature=related>

If we watch & listen closely to Mr. Farakhan's speech in the video – i.e. from the minutes 1:58 and up to 4:53, then we will understand how the USA's government foreign policy in undermining other nation's sovereignty (especially the 3rd world nations) for their evil and selfish agenda – particularly in the country of The Sudan that culminated in civil war.

I am no proponent of Mr. Farakhan and neither with that of The Nation of Islam organization. Nonetheless, on this issue (the strife in The Sudan) it is obvious that Mr. Farakhan had spoken the truth and had hit the nail squarely on the head – with regard to the USA government's evil hands in disrupting and creating strife in the affairs of other sovereign nations.

So, with regard to the 'injustice and oppression' as uttered by 'Kamaliuk1973' fella, it would thus be proper for all to voice out against the USA's foreign policy as the root cause of such injustice & oppression, rather than trying to treat the 'symptoms' of such strife. In effort to treat the root cause of the 'disease' to many of the 3rd world nations' strife, it would only be prudent to point our finger at The USA as the culprit. That said, by pointing the finger but not standing up and challenging the might of the USA are two different things. And how many would dare to do so...? How many of us dare to stand up and challenge the big-bullies..!?

And yes, the disruption and undermining the sovereignty of other nations and fabricating lies seems towards them, have apparently become a norm & habit of the US Administration. And by now, many have begun to realise that the 9-11 tragedy was clearly an 'inside job'. However, the US Administration & the controlled mainstream-medias had fabricated stories that Osama ben Laden (and the Al-Qaeda) was the culprit behind the 9-11 tragedy, but it seems that instead the people and the nations of Iraq and Afghanistan have now to pay the price. How ironic...!

So, this 'Kamaliuk1973' fella want to bring out the issue of injustice, oppression & fabrication on this forum..., huh..!?! How is it that such a myopic person can see a germ across the ocean but unable to notice an elephant at only 5 feet away. Such impertinence..!

It is a MASSACRE of the civilian population in GAZA, not matter how you look at it.

Assalamualikum Dear Tun Dr. Mahathir.

I'll just comment shortly to expose how you are an anti Semite (Anti Jewish).

1) When pictures are shown from the holocaust museum it is Israeli/Jewish propaganda. When pictures are shown by you or by your websites, this is not propaganda but reality.

2) When you talk about the murdered Jews by the Germans you say "killed" but when when you talk about the "killed" Iraqis it is a "genocide".

3) 6,000,000 of Jews were just simply "killed" but 500,000 killed in Darfur is a genocide.

The value of life is discriminated intentionally to brainwash people and you are a silent contributor to war and hatred while the mask is criminalizing war.

I have no other way just to describe you as an anti-Semite, simple as that.

I'm sorry being mistaken about you dear Tun and sorry of interrupting your blog for more than one year.

Thank you for your saying what I've always wanted to say that "the Germans are the ones, the Jews , should go after"

Seriously, what have the Palestinians do to them to deserve such a life.

What did the Palestinians in Gaza and the Occupied Territories, had on their dining table today, I'm always wondering? So sad and so unfairEveryday, to not know if you would have food on the table.

To know, when u go out of your country to look for a better life, that you are not to return ever to the land of your birth. How can anyone be subjected to that, how can that be?

To know if you are ever going to be shot while looking for work on the way to some sites allowed.

Didn't Nazi Germany subjected a race of people to the same conditions?

We have not learn from the Holocaust, if at all.....

Assalamualaikum Tun.

First and foremost, you're my HERO.

And if you have your Sinatra Principle, "I did it my way", mine is the Seekers principle, "I'll never find another you".

I agree with your last line but in order to be able to achieve the desired goal, one must be strong and be prepared to go to war. Only when we are strong will our adversary be willing to talk with us and not TO us.

One example is the Palestinians' plight. The Americans have dragged the Palestinians round and round the bush for more than three decades with all kinds of promises, plans and maps. Yet nothing has come of them. And the Jews are still as blatant and brazen as ever and even MORE.

My view is that until the Palestinians are truly strong, with all the Arabs putting their weight behind them, until they can have a godfather who can take on the americans, they will always be talked TO. For another 100 years?

My sincere belief is that
The Pen is Mightier than the Sword
if there is a Bigger Sword behind the pen.

The Muslims have sacrificed so much for the Jews in the past, they had helped the jews when they were hated by the European. This is mainly because they are our brother of Abrahamic religions. But look at how the Jews repay us?

How many innocents child has to die, so that they would end the conflict?

How many innocent woman needs to be killed, rape, and others?

They are human too, just like the other way around.

The problem with the west is that the failure to understand Islam, and the same goes to the Jews. There are delusive belief that Islam propagates hate, and war.

I have limited knowledge of Islam but if Hanan wanted to know about the real Islam, feel free to find me here. malloucius@hotmail.com

I'd be willing to explain to him, about Islam and why there are Jihadist. He'd cry foul when he finds out the truth.

Dear TUN Dr M,

"Genocide in Iraq where 500,000 children were killed by starvation and lack of medicine when sanctions were applied principally by the United States and Britain."

The statement extract from your comments is quite shocking. 1/2 a million innocent children were killed at no fault of theirs. It happened during our time, the "civilized" time. Whoever is responsible for this geonicide should be punished without any mercy.

I am not a racist but facts are facts, the atrocities and holocaust caused during the 1800s and 2000s,in a "civilized" manner was by one race.

Salam Tun,

I was one of the Malaysian volunteers who went and stayed in a village called AL GENINA in Darfur District,Sudan in 2004.

Our organisation conducted static and mobile clinic around the village areas as well as in Internal Displaced camp(IDP).

We also set up pre school in Kerinding camp for students age from 5 - 12 years old.About 500 student enrolled in our school and they are very keen and eager to learn.

During my One and a half months stay there it was peaceful and no genocide,massacre or mass rape as reported by international media such as CNN,BBC,ABC,REUTERS or ALJAZERA.These are all lies and propaganda with the aim to overthrow the current government.

In the evening it is a routine for us to visit the District Hospital to hand over food to the sick patient and I notice theres not a single patient who is suffering from gun shot wound.Most patient are suffering from skin diseases and malnutrition.

So please dont listent to all the lies being thrown by the foreign media,listen to those who have served in this area.

Ayahanda Tun,

When people are out off desperation, they will hire highly skilled and trained terrorists, for example, the 2 suicide bombings in Moscow, Russia.

Even mother nature can be man made out off desperation too through paid fee to create fear and panic.

When they are in desperation, they will do anything to dis-unite the Country's peace, harmony and development.

What will happen in future, it is UNknown.

I sincerely hope that the new MCA's Dr Chua will not be too carried away with his way of uniting MCA, and he only garnered votes of 901.

All politicians are paid for a fee to fight for their political bosses' agenda.

This blogger Kamaliuk1973... is being nice to show you the pictures, so is donplaypuke. They have their perceptions and I can understand if I put myself in their shoes.

What Obama preached is similar to what Bush has done, but with different strategy. His strategy may be backfired if he only fight for the eggs by killing the chickens.

Khairul Dean is living comfortably, he will not be able to make a huge leap. Since he is comfortable, why should he leap? Human nature....

Desperate people do desperate things. Strong medicine may not cure this desperation.
Moderation is the best strategy.

Good night Ayahanda Tun.

mahathir,

the nazis after war were punished and hanged for the holocaust. just because nazis killed, that doen not mean entire germans should be wiped out for the crime of the leaders.

why u bring in jews on darfur, sudan.

some of us know of your friendship with the sudan president and dealings with petronas there....
u put up a blind eye on darfur as long as your petronas can get contract there.

that shows your double game.

you are no better than the so called cunning jew....

the jews didn't punished the germans coz they have no interest on the germans. in addition, the germans are military stronger than the them..jews have interest on west bank n the palestinians give resistance to them..military wise, palestinians are weaker..that's why they punished the palestinians. actually the jews are afraid..they have the guts bcoz of the americans..

Al Salamu Alaykum Dear Tun Dr. Mahathir,

.....HISTORY OF WAR AND COLORFUL PRPOGANDA TERMS
.....

Please allow me this lengthy open letter to help people better reflect upon definitions and words that are used today so freely and loosely in Media without any scrutiny or challenge. These are paragraphs from an academic paper that I have written recently.

After Emperor Nero burned Rome to the ground and murdered thousands upon thousands of his own Citizens and others, he simply, pointed his finger of blame to the "Terrorists" that collaborated on such act of "Terror" Against Rome. He ordered these "Terrorists" arrested and fed to the Lions in "Festive" Gladiatorial games that would quench all Roman Citizens' thirst for revenge from such "Vile" group of "Terrorists". They were fed to the lions and butchered in front of thousands of "Cheering" Roman Citizens who reveled in the enjoyment of the punishment of such "Terrorists". Ofcourse, today we know that Nero was a madman and a Tyrant and those innocent people he murdered were called Christians. He butchered all these innocent Christians to shift the blame for all the calamity that befell Rome at his tyrannical hands during his reign of Insanity and Madness. He used the Christian Minority as the scapegoat for all his failures, and Romans applauded him for that... Now lets fast forward to today.

Today, terms such as "Islamist", "Militant", "Militant Islamist", "Islamist Militant", "Radical", "Radical Islamist", "Islamists Threat", "Islamic terrorist", "Islamist terrorist" and "Islamist Fascism" are used daily by all Media outlets and Literature. I can't profess that I even understand what these term mean, not even from a linguistic point of view.

What do they mean? When a term such as “Islamist” is convoluted with “Muslim”, “Islam” and “Islamic”? Are all these termed related or carry the same meaning? What are the metrics and guidelines used to clearly distinguish between them? What is the difference between an “Islamist Militant”, “Islamist Radical” and “Islamist”? Even simpler, probably, is what is an “Islamist” to begin with? Where can one obtain these definitions and in what language. I can assure the reader than in the Arabic Language and in plain English, the term has no meaning! It’s like calling an American and Americist or a Malaysian a Malayist ...etc.

In my efforts to try to understand these terms I tried to draw parallels by attempting to substitute other religions or religious beliefs into existing media press releases just to see how it would sound from a linguistic point of view and how would the mind react to such terms. I tried to substitute words such as; Buddhist, Atheist, Pagan, Scientologist, Voodooist ...etc.

By inserting these terms into everyday Media articles or news, it becomes immediately uncomfortable and it presented me with more questions than answers!?! The convoluted terms became quite Vague, Opaque, Ambiguous and Confusing. Could that be the intent all along!?! Why? For What purpose and for Whose Benefit?

What I do know, however, is that all these terms are always somehow used in negative and pejorative sense, reminiscent of the time of the Crusades when Muslims were referred to as “Mohamadans”, or in more recent history Japanese citizens were referred to as “Jappos”, Chinese Citizens as “Yellows”, or when early Irish Immigrants to the US were referred to as “Micks” or “Deigos” for the Italian Immigrants, or “Reds’ for Native American Indians, “Commies” for Russians and so on.

Is there any relationship between an “Islamist” of today and a “Mohamadan” of yesteryears or a “Jappo” of the second world war? One cannot help but ponder the question of how all these derogatory terms came about? Who created them? What are the motivations behind creating these terms? And, how can civilizations move beyond these bigoted and discriminatory epithets that demean all humanity!?!

One thing is obvious, however, is that Islam, tragically, is being viewed today in the most negative of light as a pestilent primarily purveying violence and intolerance. It is to this unfair bias, injurious prejudice and damning discrimination against Islam that I hereby protest these grave injustices and here forth plea to History to honorably adjudicate, as the arbiter of truth, to once and for all absolve, vindicate and exonerate this most noble and peaceful of divine messages, Islam.

No rational mind, logical sense or wise soul would ever, so unjustly, attack Islam if they are only to know more about its peaceful and harmonious teaching. It is therefore that the rigorous study of Islam’s Military History and Military Philosophy might help bridge the discriminatory gap of intolerance and fear of the unknown, while once and for all demonstrating communicating to the world its true message of peace, justice and enlightenment.

It was Aristotle, a student of Socrates’ disciple Plato, one of the three fore fathers of modern Philosophy that taught Alexander the misguided belief that “We make war that we may live in peace.” encouraging Alexander to Invade the Persian empire, whom he regarded as a threat to Greece by Mindless Barbarians that are to be dealt with as one would deal with Animals.

His statement was made at a time, when the Persian empire was regarded by many historians and contemporaries as more advanced than the Greek Civilization Economically, scientifically, Literary, Artistically and Intellectually! Aristotle’s true motives, however, are better illustrated by Socrates, Mentor of Aristotle’s teachers Plato, who eloquently and truthfully revealed the real motivation behind any Military Conquest; “All wars are fought for money.” – Socrates.

A point worth mentioning is that, Ironically, Aristotle hypocritically and repeatedly criticized the Spartans, at the time, as crude barbarians who relied on violence as the primary tool of politics who constantly resorted to war to resolve political disputes and achieve economical objective. Yet Aristotle’s lessons to Alexander of “waging war to achieve peace” against the Persian Empire, a precursor to what we know as a pre-emptive war, was, somehow in his mind, a politically and morally justified decision that would not be classified as Military aggression or “Crude Barbaric violence”, something that would be mirroring the Spartan’s Doctrine of War and which Aristotle was allegedly vehemently against!

The principle of a pre-emptive War, a colorful term substituting for its real name which is a War of aggression, stands against all principles of freedom and humanity and is the ultimate form of Violence and Intolerance, even today It stands against the Charters of the United Nations, Then how did this concept of “Pre-emptive war” propagate through history and still prevail today?

The answer to this perplexing question was provided by Marcus Tullius Cicero, the Philosopher and Politician who introduced the Romans to the Greek Schools of Philosophy and translated some of the earlier Greek work himself. Cicero, Ironically, referred to Aristotle’s writings as “a River of Gold”, which had profound impact on his political and military Philosophy.

Only Cicero, one of the most currently studied historical figures, could truly capture Rome’s Byzantine politics and hypocritical views of the rule of Law as demonstrated in his reveling statement to the Roman Senate, “Laws are inoperative in war.” And considering the fact that Rome was always engaged in war somewhere, well you can see how Julius Caesar justified his endless Military campaigns, following the combined Philosophical teachings of Cicero’s and Aristotle’s again, where basically the rule of Law is suspended since Rome is at War, A war that is a mere act of defense of Rome’s borders against the constant threat Barbarians (Visigoth, Vandals, Celts, ...etc).

In other words, Rome’s “defensive” war was justifiably waged so that Rome may enjoy peace! What historians often neglect to mention about Julius Caesar, besides his battlefield Genius, was that Rome’s borders were ever expanding through Rome’s own conquests of greed and aggression in pursuit of slaves, riches and a bigger tax base. Facts that often take second mention behind the Brilliance and the Glory of Rome’s Majestic Legions and their Battlefield Genius.

This flawed logic justifying the endless cycle of war became the main political occupation of those leaders that subscribe to it centuries later after Caesar and Cicero, as so instructed and promoted the father of modern political skullduggery and intrigue, Niccolo Machiavelli, as he teaches in his famous book "The Prince" "There is no avoiding war; it can only be postponed to the advantage of others... War should be the only study of a prince. He should consider peace only as a breathing-time, which gives him leisure to contrive, and furnishes as ability to execute, military plans"

Machiavelli, in the 15th century, promoted the devilish concept of the Minority rule over the Majority, ensuring the loyalty and dependence of the Minority on the foreign armies to maintain its grip on power over the Majority and thereby providing Foreign States a proxy government to control another state while giving the Illusion of Sovereignty. This strategy was the prevailing and proffered method that almost all colonial powers in the 17th century till today have relied on project influence and control resources.

Napoleon's repeat of this philosophical cycle in his Maxim "Read over and over again the campaigns of Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar, Gustavus, Turenne, Eugene and Frederic. ... This is the only way to become a great general and master the secrets of the art of war. ..." is a perfect illustration of how this War Doctrine has survived Centuries being passed down from one Leader to another while being indoctrinated into the intellect of their commanders and generals, generation after generation, as evidenced by General Patton's repeated mention of this particular quote of Napoleon over and over to his field commanders on Numerous occasions.

Napoleon's Contemporary and arguably one of the most studied Military theorist and Commander in modern times, Carl Von Clausewitz, went even a step further outlining how war and politics are merely both sides of the same coin in his famous book "On War" where he detailed his views on War as an actual policy tool itself:

"We see, therefore, that war is not merely an act of policy but a true political instrument, a continuation of political intercourse, carried on with other means. War in general, and the commander in any specific instance, is entitled to require that the trend and designs of policy shall not be inconsistent with these means. That, of course is no small demand, but however much it will affect political aims in a given case, it will never do more than modify them. The political object is the goal, war is the means of reaching it, and means can never be considered in isolation from their purpose.", Which are economical and political of course.

More recently, General's Erich Friedrich Wilhelm Ludendorff's 1936 memoirs Der Totale Krieg (Total Warfare) where civilians, agricultural, natural and all other targets are considered fair game, as his studies and analysis of wars such as the Peloponnesian wars and World War I, has confirmed. This selective morality that intentionally blurs the line between politics and war have been adopted by Eastern leaders as well, "Political power grows out of the barrel of a gun" - Mao Zedong

These particular historical personalities were carefully chosen since they have represented for centuries the backbone of the studies of Politics, Philosophy, History, Foreign Policy, Economics, and War Studies in most schools, Colleges and Universities, throughout the Non-Islamic world from east to west.

Basically the Philosophical cycle of war justification is repeated over and over throughout the ages but always with some new brutal embellishments. These teachings are the basic justification behind the strategy of a "Pre-emptive War", since they have historically were justified as means to achieve "peace".

Yet one wonders, as to why does it seem as if we never learn from History? One cannot help but ponder the question. If we study history, could we not predict the future and maybe improve upon it or avoid its Perils? The answer I think was best captured by Marcus Aurelius, who said, "Look back over the past, with its changing empires that rose and fell, and you can foresee the future, too. ". History truly repeats itself. Those that subscribe to Aristotle's short sighted war philosophy ignored the eternal rule of conflict, that violence always begets violence, and war cannot maintain a civilization as explained centuries later by Montesquieu "An empire founded by war has to maintain itself by war." And, "Any forces that would impose their will on other nations will certainly face defeat." - General Vo Nguyen Giap

There are those that clearly see the fallacy of the current way of thinking, "The world has achieved brilliance without wisdom, power without conscience. Our is a world of nuclear giants and ethical infants. We know more about war that we know about peace, more about killing that we know about living. War: A wretched debasement of all the pretenses of civilization."
- General Omar Bradley

What is important to notice is that with the demise of the pure Military conquerors such as Alexander, Napoleon and Caesar their armies quickly collapsed and most of their accomplishments off of the battlefield were gradually erased by history, for there was very little beyond the conquest itself. There are no groups of people today that call themselves, "Alexandarists", "Napoleonists" or "Caeserists". Their civilian legacy was much shorter lived than their Military one. Very little is ever said of their war atrocities and ruthless butchery of women and children.

There was very little attention to their character or values as human beings, the morality of their actions, the justifications for their aggression or the devastating impact their conquests had on those societies that were conquered. Morality has rarely been examined at the forefront of Historical discussions when discussing the Modern Warfare Doctrine, it just simply a non-factor in the decision making cycle of politicians and generals.

The only thing that most historians glorified was Conquest and Victory, for history is written by the Victors and to the Victors, goes all the spoils. Fame and impartial history are part of those spoils of war that conquerors have always coveted to immortalize and monetize their "successes". A successful military campaign meant fortune, power and fame to those the commanded it, so war was always viewed as a POLITICAL and ECONOMICAL undertaking, first and foremost, the army was merely the blunt instrument to achieve these objective.

This war-based economy and political system uses any justification; religious, ideological or racial, to bestow a populous justification to satisfy its true greed for economic resources and political influence, while constantly changing, shifting, mutating and morphing values, virtues and morality to accommodate whatever economical goals they might have or greed may dictate.

Military actions to achieve these Economical and Political goals are looked upon as just a part of the execution of a business plan based of self-interest, no more and no less. The ends here always justify the means. It is that simple. War is looked upon as a tool to force others to agree to your political agenda, which, usually revolves around the theft of another nations wealth. Call it what you may but it all boils down to pure unbridled greed. "All wars are fought for money." – Socrates

In Summary, the real Non-Islamic view on War and Warfare is that of the Laws of the Jungle, where the strong rules and the Economic ends always justifies the Military means. What is noteworthy is that in all these books and publications that I have read, I have never encountered, not once, an accusation of Christianity, Islam or Judaism as violent religions or purveyors of violence and intolerance! Not once. Not when all these Million of innocent people were butchered have I found a single reference attacking Christianity, Islam or Judaism as Theological Divine messages as Violent or intolerant!

Why is Islam being singled out now? Why now? What changed?

What is the reason behind the current attacks on Islam?

The Non-Islamic views on War and Warfare represent the starkest contrast to the Islam's view on War, Islamic Military Doctrine and Islamic Military Philosophy that forbids and strictly prohibits the indiscriminate slaughter of Humans and destruction of Natures, not even the destruction of a single fruit tree. The Islamic Military Ideology is based on clear Quranic edicts and teachings as revealed in Ayats (60) & (61) in Surat Al Anfal, which has the meaning that translates as follows;

(60) (And make ready against your enemies all you can muster of all of your powers and resources to intimidate the enemies of God as well as your enemies, so that they maybe in awe of your strength.....); and

(61) (But if they incline to or move toward making peace, then reciprocate their inclination or move toward peace and put your trust in Allah Verily...)

In Surat Al Baqarah, Ayat (190) which has the meaning that translates as follows (Fight in the name of Allah for the Cause of Allah those who fight you, but do not be the aggressor or transgress limits; For Allah loveth NOT, aggressors who transgressors limits).

It is by clear Quranic edicts and instructions that Islam views War as defense against aggression. Quran encourages Muslims to be strong as to deter potential aggression, but also to keep open arms for Peace. The Ayats clearly implies that if Strength alone is not a deterrent to your enemies' aggression and you are attacked, then you are to use your strength to defend yourself, but they cease their aggression and move toward peace so shall you reciprocate their move by moving toward peace as well. Peace through Strength and Justice, not through aggression.

Islam's Great Prophet Mohammed instructs Muslims in Hadith number 1741 in Sahis Muslim, as it was narrated on the authority of Abu Huraira that the Messenger of Allah (May peace be upon him) said: (Do not desire to fight the enemy or encounter the enemy, but when you do encounter them be firm.) Here the great messenger of Allah, discouraged his followers from even hoping or wishing to fight or encounter the enemy, not as an act of cowardice or fear but because our benevolent Messenger wanted to teach his followers that War is absolutely a most hated and vile act, that no one should ever look forward to. We should not wish for war, not out of fear, but out of wisdom, mercy and benevolence, but if it is forced upon us, we should hold firm and fight in self defense.

In Sahis Muslim Hadith number 1744 as it was narrated by Ibn Umar that a woman was found killed in one of the battles of the great Messenger of Allah, Mohammed (May peace be upon him), so he clearly and vehemently forbade the killing of women and children.

Nowhere in Quran or Hadith can you find the sanctions of, or justification for war based on Economical greed and Tyrannical Military. Islamic war doctrine does not sanction or permit the murder of innocent lives, for Economical Greed or Strategic gains. It is simply not part of the Islamic Ideology or its Military Doctrine. Islam's enlightened genius built the fastest growing religion in History of mankind though an elevated level of spiritual being that could never be understood by mere mortal butchers and merchants of war and death.

Muslims understood that war like all other activities is governed by the message of Islam. Islam's philosophy views War a necessary evil to fight tyranny, aggression, mischief, and corruption in the world and not to execute a business plan, plunder other civilization's resources or destroy nature.

It is Islam's benevolence at the point of absolute power that proved to be the exception to the rule that says "absolute power absolutely corrupts", as currently demonstrated by super powers of today.

At the peak of Muslim's power; we lived in peace and harmony with Jews and Christians in Andalusia, Jerusalem, and the Balkans; we exchanged ideas, science, culture, music, art and medicine with all races, religions and creeds; we protected the weak and sheltered the Jews from the Vatican-Sanctioned, Spanish inquisitions and its systemic torture and murder of millions, sharing food, water and shelter with all.

When Salahudin Liberated Jerusalem we exacted no revenge or retributions for the crusaders' massacre of Civilians as they entered Jerusalem almost a century earlier, butchering Muslims, Jews and even Orthodox Christians. Islam clearly forbid and prohibits the killing of women, children of any race or religion.

At the peak of Muslim power we declared that all men are created equals regardless, of race, color or wealth, and that the meritocracy built in Islam was based on deed and virtue only and that all lives were equally valued as one.

So I ask, how could we now in our weakest and most pathetic state, be called aggressors, tyrants, intolerant, extremists, militant, and murderers?

Throughout centuries of war and conflict, Muslims have never ever attached neither Christianity nor Judaism as religions. Muslims have never confused the purity and the sanctity of the message with the shortfalls of the followers and has never attacked the message for the deeds of the followers. Islam clearly and adamantly forbids Muslims from attacking the Christian and Jewish religions as they are both divine messages sent by the almighty to mankind. Muslims have never ever accused Christianity or Judaism of Violence and Extremism.

Approximately 55 Million Men, women and Children of various faiths and races lost their lives During World War I (WWI) and World War II (WWII) in, predominantly Christian-Ruled, Europe alone, yet not a single soul accused Christianity of Being a violent religion!?

Certainly Muslims did not attack Christianity and Claim that the Christian faith was the reason behind the slaughter of 55 Million souls in a 41 years period, indiscriminately accusing Christians of being Terrorists, Militants, or Extremist religious fanatics. Muslims Never attacked Jesus or Moses as purveyors of violence or intolerance.

That is why I find current prejudices and injustices against Islam and Islam's prophet Mohammed to be absolutely misguided, unfair, unjust, discriminatory, malicious and goes against the teaching of Islam, Christianity and Judaism.

Humans are fallible and that is true of any of the followers of the three great divine messages from God, Islam, Christianity and Judaism. History is full of mistakes on all side of the followers of these great religions, but no misdeed or misgiving by the followers of these divine messages should ever give anyone the right to desecrate these three great messages of God.

A greater majority of Muslims, Christians and Jews have lived in peace and harmony throughout history than those that warred.

It is time for Muslim Scholars to carry the Standard of Enlightened Education against the Dark and Barbaric armies of Illiteracy, Ignorance, Belligerence, and Intolerance. Armed with Books and Intellect against the tyranny of Injustice and Intellectual assassination.

Unfortunately, we are our greatest enemy!

In my efforts to try to understand these terms I tried to draw parallels by attempting to substitute other religions or religious beliefs into existing media press releases just to see how it would sound from a linguistic point of view and how would the mind react to such terms. I tried to substitute words such as; Buddhist, Atheist, Pagan, Scientologist, Voodooist ...etc.

By inserting these terms into everyday Media articles or news, it becomes immediately uncomfortable and it presented me with more questions than answers!?! The convoluted terms became quite Vague, Opaque, Ambiguous and Confusing. Could that be the intent all along!?! Why? For What purpose and for Whose Benefit?

What I do know, however, is that all these terms are always somehow used in negative and pejorative sense, reminiscent of the time of the Crusades when Muslims were referred to as “Mohamadans”, or in more recent history Japanese citizens were referred to as “Jappos”, Chinese Citizens as “Yellows”, or when early Irish Immigrants to the US were referred to as “Micks” or “Deigos” for the Italian Immigrants, or “Reds” for Native American Indians, “Commies” for Russians and so on.

Is there any relationship between an “Islamist” of today and a “Mohamadan” of yesteryears or a “Jappo” of the second world war? One cannot help but ponder the question of how all these derogatory terms came about? Who created them? What are the motivations behind creating these terms? And, how can civilizations move beyond these bigoted and discriminatory epithets that demean all humanity!?!?

One thing is obvious, however, is that Islam, tragically, is being viewed today in the most negative of light as a pestilent primarily purveying violence and intolerance. It is to this unfair bias, injurious prejudice and damning discrimination against Islam that I hereby protest these grave injustices and here forth plea to History to honorably adjudicate, as the arbiter of truth, to once and for all absolve, vindicate and exonerate this most noble and peaceful of divine messages, Islam.

No rational mind, logical sense or wise soul would ever, so unjustly, attack Islam if they are only to know more about its peaceful and harmonious teaching. It is therefore that the rigorous study of Islam’s Military History and Military Philosophy might help bridge the discriminatory gap of intolerance and fear of the unknown, while once and for all demonstrating communicating to the world its true message of peace, justice and enlightenment.

It was Aristotle, a student of Socrates’ disciple Plato, one of the three fore fathers of modern Philosophy that taught Alexander the misguided belief that “We make war that we may live in peace.” encouraging Alexander to Invade the Persian empire, whom he regarded as a threat to Greece by Mindless Barbarians that are to be dealt with as one would deal with Animals.

His statement was made at a time, when the Persian empire was regarded by many historians and contemporaries as more advanced than the Greek Civilization Economically, scientifically, Literary, Artistically and Intellectually! Aristotle’s true motives, however, are better illustrated by Socrates, Mentor of Aristotle’s teachers Plato, who eloquently and truthfully revealed the real motivation behind any Military Conquest; “All wars are fought for money.” – Socrates.

A point worth mentioning is that, Ironically, Aristotle hypocritically and repeatedly criticized the Spartans, at the time, as crude barbarians who relied on violence as the primary tool of politics who constantly resorted to war to resolve political disputes and achieve economical objective. Yet Aristotle's lessons to Alexander of "waging war to achieve peace" against the Persian Empire, a precursor to what we know as a pre-emptive war, was, somehow in his mind, a politically and morally justified decision that would not be classified as Military aggression or "Crude Barbaric violence", something that would be mirroring the Spartan's Doctrine of War and which Aristotle was allegedly vehemently against!

The principle of a pre-emptive War, a colorful term substituting for its real name which is a War of aggression, stands against all principles of freedom and humanity and is the ultimate form of Violence and Intolerance, even today It stands against the Charters of the United Nations, Then how did this concept of "Pre-emptive war" propagate through history and still prevail today?

The answer to this perplexing question was provided by Marcus Tullius Cicero, the Philosopher and Politician who introduced the Romans to the Greek Schools of Philosophy and translated some of the earlier Greek work himself. Cicero, Ironically, referred to Aristotle's writings as "a River of Gold", which had profound impact on his political and military Philosophy.

Only Cicero, one of the most currently studied historical figures, could truly capture Rome's Byzantine politics and hypocritical views of the rule of Law as demonstrated in his revealing statement to the Roman Senate, "Laws are inoperative in war." And considering the fact that Rome was always engaged in war somewhere, well you can see how Julius Caesar justified his endless Military campaigns, following the combined Philosophical teachings of Cicero's and Aristotle's again, where basically the rule of Law is suspended since Rome is at War, A war that is a mere act of defense of Rome's borders against the constant threat Barbarians (Visigoth, Vandals, Celts, ...etc).

In other words, Rome's "defensive" war was justifiably waged so that Rome may enjoy peace! What historians often neglect to mention about Julius Caesar, besides his battlefield Genius, was that Rome's borders were ever expanding through Rome's own conquests of greed and aggression in pursuit of slaves, riches and a bigger tax base. Facts that often take second mention behind the Brilliance and the Glory of Rome's Majestic Legions and their Battlefield Genius.

This flawed logic justifying the endless cycle of war became the main political occupation of those leaders that subscribe to it centuries later after Caesar and Cicero, as so instructed and promoted the father of modern political skullduggery and intrigue, Niccolo Machiavelli, as he teaches in his famous book "The Prince" "There is no avoiding war; it can only be postponed to the advantage of others... War should be the only study of a prince. He should consider peace only as a breathing-time, which gives him leisure to contrive, and furnishes as ability to execute, military plans"

Machiavelli, in the 15th century, promoted the devilish concept of the Minority rule over the Majority, ensuring the loyalty and dependence of the Minority on the foreign armies to maintain its grip on power over the Majority and thereby providing Foreign States a proxy government to control another state while giving the Illusion of Sovereignty. This strategy was the prevailing and proffered method that almost all colonial powers in the 17th century till today have relied on project influence and control resources.

Napoleon's repeat of this philosophical cycle in his Maxim "Read over and over again the campaigns of Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar, Gustavus, Turenne, Eugene and Frederic. ... This is the only way to become a great general and master the secrets of the art of war. ..." is a perfect illustration of how this War Doctrine has survived Centuries being passed down from one Leader to another while being indoctrinated into the intellect of their commanders and generals, generation after generation, as evidenced by General Patton's repeated mention of this particular quote of Napoleon over and over to his field commanders on Numerous occasions.

Napoleon's Contemporary and arguably one of the most studied Military theorist and Commander in modern times, Carl Von Clausewitz, went even a step further outlining how war and politics are merely both sides of the same coin in his famous book "On War" where he detailed his views on War as an actual policy tool itself:

"We see, therefore, that war is not merely an act of policy but a true political instrument, a continuation of political intercourse, carried on with other means. War in general, and the commander in any specific instance, is entitled to require that the trend and designs of policy shall not be inconsistent with these means. That, of course is no small demand, but however much it will affect political aims in a given case, it will never do more than modify them. The political object is the goal, war is the means of reaching it, and means can never be considered in isolation from their purpose.", Which are economical and political of course.

More recently, General's Erich Friedrich Wilhelm Ludendorff's 1936 memoirs Der Totale Krieg (Total Warfare) where civilians, agricultural, natural and all other targets are considered fair game, as his studies and analysis of wars such as the Peloponnesian wars and World War I, has confirmed. This selective morality that intentionally blurs the line between politics and war have been adopted by Eastern leaders as well, "Political power grows out of the barrel of a gun" - Mao Zedong

These particular historical personalities were carefully chosen since they have represented for centuries the backbone of the studies of Politics, Philosophy, History, Foreign Policy, Economics, and War Studies in most schools, Colleges and Universities, throughout the Non-Islamic world from east to west.

Basically the Philosophical cycle of war justification is repeated over and over throughout the ages but always with some new brutal embellishments. These teachings are the basic justification behind the strategy of a "Pre-emptive War", since they have historically were justified as means to achieve "peace".

Yet one wonders, as to why does it seem as if we never learn from History? One cannot help but ponder the question. If we study history, could we not predict the future and maybe improve upon it or avoid its Perils? The answer I think was best captured by Marcus Aurelius, who said, "Look back over the past, with its changing empires that rose and fell, and you can foresee the future, too. ". History truly repeats itself. Those that subscribe to Aristotle's short sighted war philosophy ignored the eternal rule of conflict, that violence always begets violence, and war cannot maintain a civilization as explained centuries later by Montesquieu “An empire founded by war has to maintain itself by war.” And, “Any forces that would impose their will on other nations will certainly face defeat.” - General Vo Nguyen Giap

There are those that clearly see the fallacy of the current way of thinking, "The world has achieved brilliance without wisdom, power without conscience. Our is a world of nuclear giants and ethical infants. We know more about war that we know about peace, more about killing that we know about living. War: A wretched debasement of all the pretenses of civilization."
- General Omar Bradley

What is important to notice is that with the demise of the pure Military conquerors such as Alexander, Napoleon and Caesar their armies quickly collapsed and most of their accomplishments off of the battlefield were gradually erased by history, for there was very little beyond the conquest itself. There are no groups of people today that call themselves, “Alexandarists”, “Napoleonists” or “Caeserists”. Their civilian legacy was much shorter lived than their Military one. Very little is ever said of their war atrocities and ruthless butchery of women and children.

There was very little attention to their character or values as human beings, the morality of their actions, the justifications for their aggression or the devastating impact their conquests had on those societies that were conquered. Morality has rarely been examined at the forefront of Historical discussions when discussing the Modern Warfare Doctrine, it just simply a non-factor in the decision making cycle of politicians and generals.

The only thing that most historians glorified was Conquest and Victory, for history is written by the Victors and to the Victors, goes all the spoils. Fame and impartial history are part of those spoils of war that conquerors have always coveted to immortalize and monetize their “successes”. A successful military campaign meant fortune, power and fame to those the commanded it, so war was always viewed as a POLITICAL and ECONOMICAL undertaking, first and foremost, the army was merely the blunt instrument to achieve these objective.

This war-based economy and political system uses any justification; religious, ideological or racial, to bestow a populous justification to satisfy its true greed for economic resources and political influence, while constantly changing, shifting, mutating and morphing values, virtues and morality to accommodate whatever economical goals they might have or greed may dictate.

Military actions to achieve these Economical and Political goals are looked upon as just a part of the execution of a business plan based of self-interest, no more and no less. The ends here always justify the means. It is that simple. War is looked upon as a tool to force others to agree to your political agenda, which, usually revolves around the theft of another nations wealth. Call it what you may but it all boils down to pure unbridled greed. “All wars are fought for money.” – Socrates

In Summary, the real Non-Islamic view on War and Warfare is that of the Laws of the Jungle, where the strong rules and the Economic ends always justifies the Military means. What is noteworthy is that in all these books and publications that I have read, I have never encountered, not once, an accusation of Christianity, Islam or Judaism as violent religions or purveyors of violence and intolerance! Not once. Not when all these Million of innocent people were butchered have I found a single reference attacking Christianity, Islam or Judaism as Theological Divine messages as Violent or intolerant!

Why is Islam being singled out now? Why now? What changed?

What is the reason behind the current attacks on Islam?

The Non-Islamic views on War and Warfare represent the starkest contrast to the Islam's view on War, Islamic Military Doctrine and Islamic Military Philosophy that forbids and strictly prohibits the indiscriminate slaughter of Humans and destruction of Natures, not even the destruction of a single fruit tree. The Islamic Military Ideology is based on clear Quranic edicts and teachings as revealed in Ayats (60) & (61) in Surat Al Anfal, which has the meaning that translates as follows;

(60) (And make ready against your enemies all you can muster of all of your powers and resources to intimidate the enemies of God as well as your enemies, so that they maybe in awe of your strength.....); and

(61) (But if they incline to or move toward making peace, then reciprocate their inclination or move toward peace and put your trust in Allah Verily...)

In Surat Al Baqarah, Ayat (190) which has the meaning that translates as follows (Fight in the name of Allah for the Cause of Allah those who fight you, but do not be the aggressor or transgress limits; For Allah loveth NOT, aggressors who transgressors limits).

It is by clear Quranic edicts and instructions that Islam views War as defense against aggression. Quran encourages Muslims to be strong as to deter potential aggression, but also to keep open arms for Peace. The Ayats clearly implies that if Strength alone is not a deterrent to your enemies' aggression and you are attacked, then you are to use your strength to defend yourself, but they cease their aggression and move toward peace so shall you reciprocate their move by moving toward peace as well. Peace through Strength and Justice, not through aggression.

Islam's Great Prophet Mohammed instructs Muslims in Hadith number 1741 in Sahis Muslim, as it was narrated on the authority of Abu Huraira that the Messenger of Allah (May peace be upon him) said: (Do not desire to fight the enemy or encounter the enemy, but when you do encounter them be firm.) Here the great messenger of Allah, discouraged his followers from even hoping or wishing to fight or encounter the enemy, not as an act of cowardice or fear but because our benevolent Messenger wanted to teach his followers that War is absolutely a most hated and vile act, that no one should ever look forward to. We should not wish for war, not out of fear, but out of wisdom, mercy and benevolence, but if it is forced upon us, we should hold firm and fight in self defense.

In Sahis Muslim Hadith number 1744 as it was narrated by Ibn Umar that a woman was found killed in one of the battles of the great Messenger of Allah, Mohammed (May peace be upon him), so he clearly and vehemently forbade the killing of women and children.

Nowhere in Quran or Hadith can you find the sanctions of, or justification for war based on Economical greed and Tyrannical Military. Islamic war doctrine does not sanction or permit the murder of innocent lives, for Economical Greed or Strategic gains. It is simply not part of the Islamic Ideology or its Military Doctrine. Islam's enlightened genius built the fastest growing religion in History of mankind though an elevated level of spiritual being that could never be understood by mere mortal butchers and merchants of war and death.

Muslims understood that war like all other activities is governed by the message of Islam. Islam's philosophy views War a necessary evil to fight tyranny, aggression, mischief, and corruption in the world and not to execute a business plan, plunder other civilization's resources or destroy nature.

It is Islam's benevolence at the point of absolute power that proved to be the exception to the rule that says "absolute power absolutely corrupts", as currently demonstrated by super powers of today.

At the peak of Muslim's power; we lived in peace and harmony with Jews and Christians in Andalusia, Jerusalem, and the Balkans; we exchanged ideas, science, culture, music, art and medicine with all races, religions and creeds; we protected the weak and sheltered the Jews from the Vatican-Sanctioned, Spanish inquisitions and its systemic torture and murder of millions, sharing food, water and shelter with all.

When Salahudin Liberated Jerusalem we exacted no revenge or retributions for the crusaders' massacre of Civilians as they entered Jerusalem almost a century earlier, butchering Muslims, Jews and even Orthodox Christians. Islam clearly forbid and prohibits the killing of women, children of any race or religion.

At the peak of Muslim power we declared that all men are created equals regardless, of race, color or wealth, and that the meritocracy built in Islam was based on deed and virtue only and that all lives were equally valued as one.

So I ask, how could we now in our weakest and most pathetic state, be called aggressors, tyrants, intolerant, extremists, militant, and murderers?

Throughout centuries of war and conflict, Muslims have never ever attached neither Christianity nor Judaism as religions. Muslims have never confused the purity and the sanctity of the message with the shortfalls of the followers and has never attacked the message for the deeds of the followers. Islam clearly and adamantly forbids Muslims from attacking the Christian and Jewish religions as they are both divine messages sent by the almighty to mankind. Muslims have never ever accused Christianity or Judaism of Violence and Extremism.

Approximately 55 Million Men, women and Children of various faiths and races lost their lives During World War I (WWI) and World War II (WWII) in, predominantly Christian-Ruled, Europe alone, yet not a single soul accused Christianity of Being a violent religion!?

Certainly Muslims did not attack Christianity and Claim that the Christian faith was the reason behind the slaughter of 55 Million souls in a 41 years period, indiscriminately accusing Christians of being Terrorists, Militants, or Extremist religious fanatics. Muslims Never attacked Jesus or Moses as purveyors of violence or intolerance.

That is why I find current prejudices and injustices against Islam and Islam's prophet Mohammed to be absolutely misguided, unfair, unjust, discriminatory, malicious and goes against the teaching of Islam, Christianity and Judaism.

Humans are fallible and that is true of any of the followers of the three great divine messages from God, Islam, Christianity and Judaism. History is full of mistakes on all side of the followers of these great religions, but no misdeed or misgiving by the followers of these divine messages should ever give anyone the right to desecrate these three great messages of God.

A greater majority of Muslims, Christians and Jews have lived in peace and harmony throughout history than those that warred.

It is time for Muslim Scholars to carry the Standard of Enlightened Education against the Dark and Barbaric armies of Illiteracy, Ignorance, Belligerence, and Intolerance. Armed with Books and Intellect against the tyranny of Injustice and Intellectual assassination.

Unfortunately, we are our greatest enemy!

God Bless Tun and Family

Y.Bhg Tun

Itulah dia sikap dan rakusnya bangsa Jews. Perlukah kita ikut?

Salam Tun,

it's funny how some people try to twist Tun's words to accuse him of many things.

TO UNDERSTAND WHY TERRORISM OCCURS;

1.PLEASE LOOK AT THE ROOT CAUSE.

2.WESTERN POWERS SHOULD TREAT ALL SIDES EQUALLY,WITHOUT FAVOURING ONE STATE OVER THE OTHER SO BLATANTLY FOR INSIDIOUS REASONS.

3.IDENTIFY THAT ENTITY WHICH IS RULING THROUGH PROXY AND DECEIT.

4.IDENTIFY THE ENTITY WHICH ALWAYS CRY WOLF.

5.IDENTIFY THE ENTITY WHICH IS MORE TERRIBLE THAN ITS FORMER TORTURERS.

6.IDENTIFY THE ENTITY WHICH SO BLATANTLY DEFY UN RESOLUTIONS.

7.IDENTIFY THE ENTITY WHICH POSSESSES NUCLEAR ARSENAL BUT GETS AWAY SCOT FREE WITHOUT EVEN A SINGLE THREAT OF SANCTION.

NO WONDER TERRORISM OCCURS!

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THESE TERRORISTS IS ONLY THAT ON ONE SIDE THE TERRORISM IS SANCTIONED BY THE STATE.

Wassallam

The right thing to do is to negotiate, arbitrate adjudicate in order to solve disputes.

Sekarang ni rakyat nak tengok keikhlasan.. bukan sekadar cakap- cakap saja.. Keikhlasan ni pula tidak boleh dibuat - buat..

Tipu orang OK, Tipu diri sendiri OK.. tapi boleh kah kita tipu Yang Maha Esa dan Maha Kuasa..

Seperti yang Tun kupas kat sini iaitu sejarah.. dan apa yang sedang berlaku kini maka.. kita semua perlu sedar yang sekiranya kita cinta dunia lebih dari Allah maka bencanalah yang akan menimpa kita bukan seorang tetapi ramai... semua... Ingat nak jadi Khalifah kat muka bumi ni senang kaaa..?
