chedet.co.cc

September 9, 2010

Saya dan isteri saya mengucapkan Selamat Hari Raya Aidilfitri, Maaf Zahir Batin, kepada semua rakyat Malaysia yang beragama Islam, khususnya kepada pembaca blog ini.

Saya harap semua rakyat Malaysia akan dapat merayakan hari kebesaran ini dengan penuh ketenangan dan kegembiraan, dan tradisi kunjung mengunjung ke rumah terbuka akan diteruskan dalam semangat perpaduan yang erat antara kaum.

Bagi mereka yang pulang ke kampung berhari raya, pandulah dengan cermat. Biarlah lambat sedikit asalkan kita sampai ke destinasi yang dituju untuk beraya dengan orang yang dikasihi.

Saya juga ambil kesempatan ini untuk menjemput kepada yang berkesempatan ke rumah terbuka saya pada hari Ahad, 12hb September 2010 di kediaman saya di 58, Jalan Kuda Emas the Mines, Seri Kembangan bermula dari jam 10.00pg - 1.00tgh dan 3.00ptg - 5.00ptg Assalamualaikum wbt dan selamat hari raya aidilfitri, maaf zahir dan batin diucapkan khusus untuk Yg Bhg Tun, Yg Bhg Tun Dr. Siti Hasmah serta seisi keluarga.

Dukacita saya dan keluarga tiada kesempatan berkunjung kerumah TERBUKA Yg Bhg Tun pada 12 September, 2010 kerana berhari raya bersama sanak saudara di kampung.

Usaha berterusan mengadakan rumah terbuka setiap tahun di hari perayaan aidilfitri oleh Yg bhg Tun menandakan Tun seorang pemimpin ulung negara yang sangat perihatin dan mengambil berat tentang hubungan antara rakyat dan pemimpin dan disamping itu merupakan suatu kaedah menyuburkan hubungan perpaduan antara kaum.

Akhir-akhir ini selepas pilihanraya ke 12 (2008), isu-isu perkauman dan agama (khususnya kedudukan agama Islam), perlembagaan negara yang menyentuh hak-hak keistewaan orang melayu dan bumiputra begitu serius diperkatakan sehingga sampai ketahap boleh membangkitkan sentimen perkauman diantara kaum di Malaysia dan boleh menuju kepada penggugatan hubungan antara kaum di Malaysia. Dalang-dalang khususnya yang berkepentingan politik telah dan sedang dengan beraninya membangkitkan isu-isu sensitif tanpa mengambil kira akibat buruk kepada institusi perpaduan yang telah sedia terbina semenjak Malaysia mencapai kemerdekaan 53 tahun yang lalu.

Amat malang bagi rakyat Malaysia dan negara Malaysia jika isu-isu perkauman dan agama digunakan bagi meraih sokongan politik pihak-pihak tertentu khususnya politik pakatan pembangkang (Pas, DAP dan PKR). Isu agama amat tidak sesuai diperjudikan untuk menjadi suatu mekanisma meraih sokongan politik, begitu jugalah isu-isu yang berkaitan dengan kepentingan sesuatu kaum di Malaysia. Isu-isu yang lebih relevan dengan tuntutan semasa adalah isu-isu yang berhubungkait dengan kepentingan hidup rakyat, kepentingan memajukan negara Malaysia. Rakyat Malaysia pada keseluruhannya amat memerlukan peningkatan aspek-aspek kehidupan yang lebih baik melalui peningkatan segala kemudahan yang perlu disediakan oleh kerajaan yang memerintah. Agama Islam dan agama-agama lain sudah cukup stabil di Malaysia dimana semua penganutnya dapat mengamalkan kepercayaan masing-masing dengan cukup selesa dan amat bertoleransi tinggi. Kenapa ianya perlu diganggu gugat khususnya agama Islam. Adakah agama Islam dan penganutnya menjadi satu ancaman kepada penganut-penganut agama lain di Malaysia? Jawapannya sudah tentu tidak. Jadi apa perlunya isu-isu agama khususnya agama Islam diperkotak-katikkan dan diperlekehkan? Kita harus sedar dengan memperlekehkan sesuatu agama sudah tentu ianya boleh menjurus kepada pengwujudan sentimen agama dan kaum yang serius di Malaysia.

Parti PKR wujud dengan satu matlamat khusus yang jelas ia itu menyelamatkan kepimpinan individu tertentu dalam parti berkenaan untuk terus boleh mencapai impian peribadinya menjadi pemimpin utama negara. PKR tidak wujud untuk kepentingan rakyat dan negara ianya hanya wujud untuk kepentingan peribadi. DAP berjuang atas dasar Malaysia Malaysia, menolak secara total pengwujudan negara Islam, mengamalkan sikap cauvinis, manakalan Pas pada asalnya berhasrat menegakkan negara Islam dan kini menukar haluan setelah bergabung dengan PKR dan DAP dalam pakatan rakyat. Matlamat utama penggabungan mereka (PKR, DAP & Pas) menumpaskan UMNO dan Barisan Nasional dan membentuk kerajaan baru diperingkat negeri-negeri dan persekutuan/pusat. Persoalannya bolehkah PKR, DAP & Pas dalam pakatan rakyat benar-benar bersatu dengan satu matlamat khusus mengutamakan kepentingan rakyat dan negara? Kelihatannya matlamat gabungan Pas, DAP & PKR masih lagi kabur disebabkan mereka mempunyai ideologi politik, dan perjuangan yang amat jauh berbeza diantara satu sama lain. Buktinya sudah amat jelas pada rakyat khususnya di Selangor dan Pulau Pinang, kecuali di Kedah dan Kelantan tidak begitu ketara kerana dikuasai oleh hampir seratus peratus oleh Pas, oleh itu isu-isu pertentangan antara satu lain agak berkurangan.

Hala tuju dasar politik sesuatu kerajaan yang memerintah mestilah jelas dan mantap, berintegriti tinggi dan meyakinkan rakyat. Sama-samalah kita menilai yang mana lebih baik yang boleh memberi jaminan untuk kita dan generasi kita yang akan datang boleh hidup aman damai, sejahtera dan berkemajuan dari berbagai aspek kehidupan.

PERPADUAN ANTARA KAUM, TOLERANSI ANTARA AGAMA YANG TINGGI, HORMAT MENGHORMATI DIANTARA SATU SAMA LAIN, MENGHORMATI PERLEMBAGAAN NEGARA, MENGHORMATI UNDANG-UNDANG NEGARA, MENJUNJUNG RUKUN NEGARA, MENGHORMATI PEMERINTAH TERTINGGI NEGERI-NEGERI (DYMM RAJA-RAJA & TYT YG DIPERTUA NEGER/GOVERNOR) DAN PEMERINTAH TERTINGGI NEGARA (DYMM YANG DIPERTUAN AGONG) ADALAH MERUPAKAN KUNCI UTAMA BAGI DIAMALKAN DENGAN SESUNGGUHNYA DAN PENUH TAAT SETIA OLEH SEMUA RAKYAT MALAYSIA, BAGI MENJAMIN NEGARA DAN RAKYAT MALAYSIA TERUS MAJU.

Sekian, wassalam untuk Tun dan rakan-rakan peminat/pembaca blogger Tun.

Selamat Hari Raya Aidilfitri Tun & families and non Muslims too.

I read with fervent interest this article from The Star

http://www.thestar.com.my/news/story.asp?file=/2010/9/13/worldupdates/2010-09-12T232908Z\_01\_NOOTR\_RTRMDNC\_0\_-514386-1&sec=Worldupdates

In comparison, can we, as a responsible Malaysia and as a nation, and our leaders ever give positive remarks about other races in Malaysia and positive comments on other religions too? Can we ever be united, whether Malays, Indians or Chinese?

Assalamualaikum Tun.

Alhamdulillah semalam dapat jugak kami berempat beraya dan bergambar dengan Tun berdua. Buku Dr Mahathir di sebalik tabir pun dah sign.

InsyaAllah gambar tu akan disimpan sebagai nostalgia. Cerita dan gambar-gambar Tun ada dimana-mana...tapi gambar semalam saya kira itu juga hadiah hari birthday dan raya yang hanya termampu saya bagi (Tun tahu kat mana nak tengok semula). Kirim salam kat Tun Siti sekali lagi yek.

Sesiapa yang menghuni disini, sebenarnya tempat ni berhantu. Kekadang saya menitiskan air mata dalam kereta dan kat tempat kerja. Kekadang dikejutkan dari tidur waktu tengah malam.

Sesungguhnya memang berhantu. Apatah lagi pada satu-satu masa mudah mengalirkan air mata masa dengar lagu ni dikala dikelilingi lautan ilmu (kerja kedai buku).

Ketika Cinta Bertasbih

Bertuturlah cinta mengucap satu Nama
seindah goresan sabdaMu dalam kitabku
Cinta yang bertasbih
Mengutus hati ini
Kusandarkan hidup dan matiku padaMu

Bisikkan doaku
Dalam butiran tasbih
Kupanjatkan pintaku padaMu Maha Cinta
Sudah diubun-ubun cinta mengusik resah
Tak bisa kupaksa walau hatiku menjerit

Ketika cinta bertasbih nadiku berdenyut merdu kembang kempis dadaku merangkai butir cinta garis tangan tergambar tak bisa aku menentang
Sujud syukur padaMu atas segala cinta

Selamat Hari Raya saya ucapkan pada Tun Mahathir dan Tun Siti serta keluarga.

Sayang anda semua.

Terima kasih Tun.

Selamat pagi Ayahanda tun,

This piece of news was recorded on Friday (10/9/2010), the 1st day of Hari Raya whereby Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad and Tun Musa Hitam were among the 1st VVIP who reached PM Najib and Cabinet Raya Open House:-

1. Monday September 13, 2010

Country's economy is on firm footing, says minister

2. PUTRAJAYA: Malaysia's two-spot drop in the World Economic Forum (WEF) competitiveness index does not mean the country is losing investors and its economy is sliding, Datuk Seri Idris Jala said.

3. The Minister in the Prime Minister's Department said it was important to understand the indicators used in rating the economies, adding that Malaysia had in fact climbed up several rungs in ratings conducted by other organisations.

4. Malaysia, he said, had actually attracted a higher number of investors in the first six months of the year than the whole of last year, noting that this was why the country had shown a robust economic growth in the first two quarters of the year.

5. "We are going to launch the second phase of the Government's economic transformation soon as part of the 131 projects proposed under the National Key Economic Areas (NKEA) and this will put Malaysia on a higher level of economic development.

6. "This means we can expect an even higher number of investments next year.

7. "This will propel us towards transforming Malaysia into a high income nation by the year 2020," he told reporters at the Hari Raya open house hosted by the Prime Minister and Cabinet ministers here on Friday.

8. He was commenting on reports that Malaysia had dropped two spots, to 26th place among 132 countries, in the WEF competitiveness index that listed security, productivity and higher education as areas that needed improvements.

9. Jala said the programmes under the NKEA would act as catalysts to transform the economy and the feedback gathered from public briefings, set to be held in Kuala Lumpur on Sept 21 and Sabah and Sarawak in October would ensure that the programmes achieved their targets.

Comment:

A. WEF competitiveness index listed Singapore 3rd, USA 5th, Hong Kong 11th and Israel 24th.

B. Tun Dr Mahthir Mohamad advised the Government to be very careful for RM to be tradeable offshore.

C. So far only 3 Umnoputras do not like Perkasa, they are Mr Nazri Aziz, Tengku Adnan, and Mr KJ who are so kiasu that the Chinese will not support Umno/BN.

D. For political factor, Tun Dr Mahathir advised Umno not to distance themselves from Perkasa.

E. Follow the father's footsteps, Datuk Mukhriz also supports Perkasa.

F. Continue news from the thestar online now:-

Monday September 13, 2010

MCA agrees to continuation of policy but it must be redefined

BIDOR: The MCA fully agrees with the continuation of the affirmative action policy but it should be redefined, said party president Datuk Seri Dr Chua Soi Lek.

He said affirmative action should be based on needs and merit.

“We fully agree with the Prime Minister that it should be redefined so it will not be hijacked by some people,” he told reporters after attending a dinner organised by Bidor Han Chiang Association yesterday.

Dr Chua said if affirmative action was based on needs and merit, the poor would continue to receive help.

“A good example will be if a bumiputra is poor, he will continue to be assisted based on needs and merit rather than race as the sole criterion,” he added.

Dr Chua was asked to comment on a statement by Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak that Malaysia would continue with its affirmative action policy for bumiputras in reshaping the economy but would make things more equitable for non-bumiputras.

The Prime Minister had said the implementation of affirmative action under the New Economic Model would be reviewed but not its overall objectives since the aim was to develop a more equitable society towards long-term stability.

Dr Chua said affirmative action had to be redefined to ensure no problem in its implementation.

There should be no identification of economic functions with race, he added.

G. I am sure Tun Dr Mahathir including his 5th son, Datuk Mukhriz, felt personally that there were many Chinese too in attending the Raya Open House at Seri Kembangan beside Malays, foreigners and indians. The food was splendid, and the environment is not too hot and most of the guests felt comfortable and happy.

Good day Ayahanda Tun.

Salam Tun.

Tahun 1980an dulu saya pernah terpengaruh dengan team Ku Li tanpa mengetahui keadaan sebenar, seakan2 sama dengan pemikiran sesat(?) penyokong2 PKR yang menabur 1001 fitnah terhadap Tun! Saya memohon maaf kerana membuat tohmahan terhadap Tun disebabkan kedaifan sendiri, walaupun perbuatan tersebut dilakukan dalam tempuh beberapa bulan sahaja.

Saya berdoa kehadiran Ilahi agar memberi kesedaran kepada penyokong2 PKR berketurunan Melayu & yang berfikiran terlalu taksab supaya menyedari/mengetahui keadaan sebenar dan berhenti menabur fitnah.

Saya juga berdoa agar PM Najib tidak memberi sebarang laluan kepada menantu ex-PM no.5 di PRU13 nanti.

Terima kasih kerana Tun & isteri sudi bergambar dengan keluarga saya pada majlis rumah terbuka Tun hari ini.

Salam Tun,

Petang tadi saya dan keluarga telah mengunjungi Tun di kediaman di Seri Kembangan. Kami anak beranak cucu menantu 10 orang beraya di kediaman Tun. Maka Tun pun sudah menatap wajah saya yang telah berusia 62 tahun. Tun kelihatan letih tapi masih berpandangan tajam dan tidak demansia walaupun berusia 85 tahun lebih. Cuaca hari ini panas terik. Ramai yang mengunjungi Tun. Nasib baik kami diberi peluang potong que sebab anak bongsu kami Arif Tan, Down Syndrome berkerusi roda dan tidak pantas berjalan.

2. Transcript of Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak's interview on CNBC Asia on Saturday is below

3. KUALA LUMPUR: The implementation of affirmative action under the New Economic Policy (NEP) is to be reviewed to make it fairer, more transparent and market-friendly.

4. Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak said what worked in the past, might not work today, and Malaysia would slide backwards and lose its competitiveness without reform or changes.

5. "We are doing this because we are committed to Vision 2020, which was initiated by former Prime Minister Tun Dr Mahathir Mohammad in 1990," Najib said in an interview with Martin Soong in The CNBC Conversation Saturday.

6. He stressed that to maintain the status quo was not an option.

7. However, the commitment in terms of balancing society to make it more equitable, leading to long term stability, still remained.

8. "So, the essence of the New Economic Model (NEM) is not about changing the macro targets but to ensure that how we do it results in greater success.

9. "By doing that, I think it would be more acceptable across the board and be seen to be fairer as well," he added.

10. Najib also said some people were concerned and might fear change (**here means change 1), but he added, this was nothing new.

11. Malay rights group Perkasa and Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad have voiced their defence of the special rights of Malays under the NEP and are against any changes being made to the existing Bumiputera policy.

12. "They are not against us. They are talking more about Bumiputera rights. But actually, we are not taking anything away from the Bumiputeras, but saying, let us do it differently," he explained.

13. Najib emphasised that what is important is to achieve better results and a more equitable society.

14. "At the same time, we want to be fair to the non-Bumiputeras as well. We want to build a 1Malaysia," he highlighted.

15. Transcript of Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Tun Razak's interview on CNBC Asia on Saturday

CNBC: Let's start first by talking about Malaysia's economy, update us if you could. It started out the year 2010 very strongly, 10% in excess of that growth first half. Second half though, fairly obviously things are going to have to slow down because the external environment in the west is still looking fragile and Malaysia is still quite dependent on exports. Six percent GDP growth this year, can Malaysia achieve it?

NAJIB: Yes, I believe we can achieve quite a robust growth this year. As you know, first quarter we achieved 10.1%, second quarter 8.9%. Going forward, second half, yes you are right, we expect growth to taper down. But there is enough momentum domestically, I think domestic demand, domestic consumption is high and I think it will continue to be relatively high this year. And external demand, although there will be some sort of dampening effect, but we do expect it to be fairly strong so we should end up with at least 6% per cent growth.

CNBC: At least 6% growth?

NAJIB: Yes

CNBC: This is what I find interesting, export growth is also decelerating as you would expect, as external demand slows down. The ringgit though, is trading at about the highest it has been in 13 years. Are you comfortable with the ringgit at these levels?

NAJIB: Yes we are, but we are monitoring it in terms of both our fiscal and monetary policy to make sure that the ringgit reflects the fundamentals of the economy and at the moment, we believe it does and the stronger ringgit doesn't seem to have a negative impact on our exports.

CNBC: The ringgit is still not fully tradable offshore though and for several years already, one of the two key things foreign investors wanted to see happen, to see change in Malaysia, in order to make it more attractive for them to invest in the country was one; let's see the ringgit tradable offshore again. Recently, Malaysia has made changes so the ringgit is a little bit more moveable on the capital account. In this kind of environment, economic environment, are any further changes on the ringgit? Do you foresee them?

NAJIB: We are monitoring the situation all the time, very closely. Most investors feel that this is not the key determinant in terms of their investment decisions. Most importantly, there is no restriction in terms of repatriation of dividends and profits, for example, and bringing in currency through the banking system. So it's not really a major factor, but we are open to it. As you know, we are quite adaptive, and if we think that it's going to help the economy, certainly we will review the situation.

CNBC: I'm gonna ask you another unfair question. But because you are the Prime Minister, I'm almost obliged to. We talked about the ringgit. Let's talk about interest rates. In this kind of environment, will it slow down, what economist call "normalisation of rates", that is, raising them.

NAJIB: This is basically the purview of the central bank, and I would like it to be in that context, but we do make adjustments, in terms of interest rates to make sure that the economy is not overheated, for example. Particularly, we don't want a bubble, for example, but we want a steady robust growth.

CNBC: Let me ask you about Malaysia's balance sheet. Debt is running at about 50% of GDP, high but not worrisome and certainly manageable. Several of your own economists based here though have been warning that the situation cannot be allowed to continue lest down the road, 10, 15 years, Malaysia becomes another Greece. What is your priority in terms of reining in that deficit?

NAJIB: We have some options, in the short term and further down the road. For example, we have given this commitment to the market that will bring down our deficit to around 5.6% of GDP this year. And I believe we are still on track. And we have also made an indication that by the end of the 10th (Malaysia) Plan, we hope to bring it down even further to say, around 3%.

There are various options available, one of which is of course to rein in expenditure, which we have done. We have cut back on development and on operating expenditure. So we have a few options, but going forward, I'm talking about maybe several years down the road, we have to look in terms of our tax base because Malaysia's tax base is rather narrow with one per cent growth in GDP, our tax revenue only increases by about 0.8%, or 0.85%. So there is that limited elasticity in terms of tax returns. So some of the structural problems have to be addressed.

CNBC: We'll return to some of these issues in just a bit. But in terms of fund raising, because of still lingering worries about the sovereign debt crisis in Europe, it has made it very difficult for a lot of other countries, which are in nowhere near as bad shape fiscally as many in Europe, to raise funds. It has made it more expensive for one thing. In Malaysia's case?

NAJIB: In Malaysia's case, not the case. We had a global issue recently and it was oversubscribed and we got good rates for it. I think the market has a positive view of Malaysia, provided we deliver with respect to our promises.

CNBC: Prime Minister, earlier on, you made reference to Malaysia's latest five-year plan, this would be the 10th. One of the cornerstones of that is what a lot of economists are calling a rebalancing of our economy, to be less dependent on exports, more on domestic consumption and the local economy. How are things proceeding?

NAJIB: We have done our strategy, basically that is predicated on the new economic model and what is exciting about the new economic model is that we have identified where the new sources of growth are going to come from, including how do we resuscitate the domestic private economy, the private sector.

The private sector has been taking a backstage vis-a-vis the public sector ever since the financial crisis of 1997. So we want the private sector to play a more dominant role. In fact, we have stated very clearly that to achieve our lofty targets, we have to raise RM150bil per year in terms of total investment. So that's a huge undertaking. We have to address some of our concerns with respect to skills, for example.

We must make sure we move up the value chain in terms of skills level, so we have to prime up the human capital development.

We have to look at new sources of growth, and the growth can come from consumption, growth can come from demand, but growth can also come from innovation. If you want to get to 6%, 7%, then innovation will be the key enabler to achieve that.

CNBC: If the private sector is going to play a leading role in this, if services are going to play a leading role on this, one of the thoughts that struck me when I was doing a little bit of research on the controversy over when, how, how much to reduce subsidies, and therefore, help your fiscal position, the government's fiscal position, is the company, corporate Malaysia has benefited predominantly from subsidies, not so much individuals, so if you remove the subsidies from them, will they become potentially less competitive? Would that hobble their ability to be a driver of growth for Malaysia to 2020?

NAJIB: I don't think so. The message, the key message we are delivering to the private sector is that relying on subsidy gives you a false sense of being competitive. You must be competitive because you are more productive. You must be competitive because you are more innovative. You must be competitive because you made the right kind of investment. You have developed the right kind of talent. And those are the key factors, which will enable us to compete globally, not relying on subsidies because relying on subsidies gives you a false sense of security because the day of reckoning will come when subsidies will be removed eventually.

CNBC: So you are saying, force companies to become competitive.

NAJIB: Exactly, that's what they have to do.

CNBC: At the same time though, a very fine balancing act and you referred to this earlier on, politically sensitive, because you want to encourage the private sector to become more competitive but you do not want to disadvantage the poor who probably need the subsidies a lot more.

NAJIB: Yes, that's why part of our New Economic Model, we are focusing on not just eradicating not just absolute poverty, but we are looking at 40% of the population, the more vulnerable group, the groups that are financially stressed at the end of each month and we have to do something for them, for these people. So when we remove subsidies gradually, we have to look in terms of increasing the income level.

We have to look in terms of ensuring a wider social safety net, and so forth. So there are measures, which must be put into place. But where there has been a misallocation of resources, for example, people who own luxury cars should not enjoy subsidies. So those are in a way, reducing subsidies must also be a targeted way of doing it.

CNBC: Let's pull back and look at your 18, coming to 19 months in office. Three months in, you already started making major changes, making Malaysia more open to foreign investment, foreign ownership, etc., fund management companies, 100% foreign owned, that's fine.

There are still a number of people who look at the changes that you've made, or are trying to make, and are saying that is not enough. And they are voting with their feet. Your balance of payments in the 4th quarter, and the 3rd quarter, is negative, and it seems to be growing. How do you intend to stop this outflow of your talent as well as your money? Tengku Razaleigh Hamzah, I think, was quoted as saying not too long ago that there needs to be fundamental changes otherwise Malaysia will continue to hemorrhage wealth as well as talent.

NAJIB: Well, there are some early positive indications. The 1st quarter this year, we are seeing more or less even in terms of the wealth flow. So that's a good sign. Probably there is a greater sense of confidence, greater clarity in terms of the direction that the country is heading towards.

There is also an attempt now to attract the Malaysia diaspora. I have announced the creation of a talent cooperation. In fact, we will make some important announcements shortly, with respect to the establishment of the talent cooperation and they would be going around and engaging Malaysians abroad, persuading them to return home.

Secondly, we would have to look at the wage structure in Malaysia. I think we have undervalued human talent in Malaysia. I think human talent has been somewhat undervalued, so we do need to find a mechanism so that we can raise wage levels in Malaysia. Commensurate wage with their true value. And of course stressing on productivity. So these are some of the measures we will do.

CNBC: Prime Minister, since you've taken office one of the biggest initiatives has been to roll back more than 20 years of affirmative action under what used to be known as the New Economic Policy, NEP. The stock market in 18 months since you've been in power has been up about 60%. That's positive, it says something. At home though, I want to ask you, get your reaction to this, there are a number of your citizens, not just the Chinese and Indians, also the Malays who are very nervous about these changes.

They are used to this status quo. The Opposition is also skeptical, as you would probably expect. But even within the party that seems to be not total agreement. Then again, we have got this right-wing splinter group from (former) Prime Minister Mahathir that has come up with Perkasa and they are attacking you from their front as well. How are you dealing with all of this?

NAJIB: Well, first of all, let me explain to you that we are still committed in terms of balancing the society, to get a more equitable society, which will lead to our long-term stability. What I am saying now is that what has worked in the past may not work today. So we are going to review the way we implement affirmative action, not the overall objective but the way we implement it, so that it would be seen to be fairer, should be more transparent, should be market-friendly.

So the whole essence of the New Economic Model is not about changing the macro targets but to make sure that how we do it, ensures greater success. And by doing that, I think it would be more acceptable across the board. And it would be seen to be fairer as well.

Obviously some people are concerned and maybe fear of change as well, but that's nothing new. The other option is to remain status quo, to do business as usual. And we've looked at the numbers, we've looked at the statistics, that is not an option. If we don't make changes, we don't reform, Malaysia would slide backwards, lose its competitive edge. We are convinced about that.

We are doing all this because we are committed to Vision 2020, which was started by Tun Mahathir Mohammad back in 1990. And we want to see that happen. We want to realise Vision 2020.

CNBC: Why is former Prime Minister Mahathir Mohamad, and now Perkasa, why are they so upset though?

NAJIB: They are not against us. They are talking more about bumiputra rights. But actually we are not taking anything away from the bumiputra, but we are saying that let us do it differently. Let us get better results. Let us achieve a more equitable society. But at the same time, being fair to the non-bumiputras as well. Because we want to build a One Malaysia.

CNBC: Equity, fairness, redistribution of wealth. We've talked about some of the dissent within the party, the right-wing splinter group, Tun and Perkasa, the opposition. NGOs as well, civil society are saying one of the key elements that may be missing in your reform is Malaysian institution themselves, in terms of making them more efficient, less graft-prone, where there are, let's say, perhaps, unintended misallocation of resources. Former Prime Minister (Abdullah Ahmad) Badawi, his big plan was fighting corruption. How's that going? There doesn't seem to be that much emphasis on it anymore or am I wrong?

NAJIB: No, this is very much a part of our national agenda because as you know, as part of our government transformation programme, reducing corruption is part of the 6 NKRA's, so it is a key result area, one of the key result areas, which we intend to do. So we are committed, we have strengthened MACC, but we need to produce, you know, more results, and more conviction, but it is a process, it is a journey, we are committed to it, we certainly will be focused about how we should go about it.

We have also done other things like reducing government expenditure, most of our procurement now is based on open tender or restricted tender.

There is less direct, very much reduced direct negotiation, so these are a broad range of measures we have instituted.

CNBC: Very quickly, before we let you go. I want to talk to you about politics and elections. You have a window before elections need to be called again. There has been increasing attention on Sabah. Not a lot of people think about it or talk about it, in the foreign investment community. But in terms of votes, in terms of seats that Sabah represents, it's immensely important for the party. There has been increasing negativity and bad press to do with the way that Sabah has been left to run. What are you doing to address these issues ahead of polls? I mean here there are environmental concerns woven in as well.

NAJIB: Actually, if you see the resources we are going to allocate under 10th plan, especially with respect to the government transformation programme, quite a large chunk of our resources will be channelled into Sarawak and Sabah. You know, take for example infrastructure development, rural roads, electricity, water supply, the bulk of the resources will be spent in Sarawak and Sabah. And we are seeing results because I monitor this on a regular basis, so things are actually happening on the ground and we will see the achievements to be much higher as we move forward because we are gaining momentum.

So our commitment is to actually bring a more equitable development, which includes Sabah and Sarawak because one of the cornerstones of our New Economic Model is to be inclusive.

CNBC: And very quickly before we let you go. After we've finished talking to you, one of the items on your agenda is you'll been meeting with US President Barack Obama. What message will you have for him from Malaysia?

NAJIB: The message is that this is an important region and that the United States cannot afford not to have a serious policy toward Asia, a very serious engagement toward Asia, and that should manifest itself in many ways.

First of all, taking Asean seriously, and also for us to be part of the wider regional architecture. For example, the trans-Pacific partnership, Malaysia is keen to be part of that because we think we can add value to it because we are a major trading nation, and America is very positive about Malaysia's involvement in the trans-Pacific partnership and also not to mention the other areas of security, anti-terrorism and so forth.

This is a key area and above all this is the area of growth, so on many fronts the relationship between United States and Asean is a very important relationship. - Bernama smekom tun...saya ada seorang kawan yang berkerja sebagai pengawal keselamatan yang ingin menceritakan nasib beliau yang teriniaya oleh majikn beliau, bukan beliau sahaja tp mungkin ribuan lagi pengawal keselamatan lain mengalami nasib yang sama, beliau sudah berkerja selama 3 tahun sebagai pengawal keselamatan, masalah timbul ketika beliau berkerja dengan saya syarikat pertama dimana pada akhir perkhidmatan beliau dlm syarikat itu, beliau menyedari duit caruman beliau tidak dideposit kedalam akaun walaupun ada potongan pada gaji beliau untuk caruman tersebut, setelah bertukar kepada syarikat keselamatan lain gaji beliau masih lagi tertunggak selama sebulan dengan syarikat pertama tadi, beliau bernasib baik kalau dibandingkan dgn kawan2 beliau yang mana 3 bulan gaji mereka masih tidak dibayar, mintak jasa baik tun untuk menasihatkan para pemimpin untuk mengubati luka2 kecil seperti ini sebelum ia menjadi parah, untuk makluman kawan saya tadi masih lagi percaya pada kepimpinan kerajaan kita sekarang, jadi jgnlh di sebabkan penyangak2 kecil (org BN jgk) beliau hilang kepercayaan. jangan biarkan perkara ini terus menjadi duri dalam daging kepada PM, manusia2 sebegini spesies parasit, semua ini terpaksa ditanggung oleh PM. diharapkan tun peka pada masalah ini, kerana saya percaya bukan kawan saya sahaja yang mengalami nasib sebegini. rakyat didahulukan pencapaian diutamakan. 6.PARA AHLI POLITIK - YAB/YB DUN/PARLIMEN:

Berpolitiklah dengan berhemah demi kesinambungan parti yang YB dukungi agar terus diberkati. Janganlah hendaknya para YB mendapat sebaliknya iaitu dilaknat oleh Tuhan, disumpah rakyat & parti YB ditolak oleh pengundi. Paling utama...biarlah hidup YB bahagia dan sejahtera.Jangan nanti Syaitan pun turut membenci YB. SAYA MERAYU PARA YB

Janganlah hendaknya dalam kita memberi dan menzahirkan sokongan kepada mana-mana parti politik sehinggakan kita merosakkan kerukunan hidup bermasyarakat serta berpecah belah. Ini adalah kerana dengan bermasam muka sesama saudara dan jiran kita itu ianya hanyalah menganugerahkan kepada para YB gaji dan pencen setelah semusim meraka bergelar YB, sedangkan kalau kita kakitangan awam pun perlu menunggu 25 tahun perkhidmatan diambil kira untuk menikmati pencen penuh. Adakah berbaloi sekiranya sampai kita bertumbuk dan bertikam sehingga terkorban untuk memberi keselesaan kepada para YB tersebut. Ingatlah pihak polis akan memberi tabik hormat kepada para YB jika memandu laju (dengan alasan berkejar ke tempat nak membantu rakyat) tambahan lagi bg YB bergelar Dato' dsbnya tapi jika kita ditahan polis maka surat saman kasih sayang yang akan dihulurkan atau pun saman ekor. Jadi padan-padanlah kalau berjuang untuk para YB ini.

Selamat hari raya kepada Tun dan keluarga, maaf zahir batin. Semoga sihat dan ceria semuanya.

Negara kita sungguh bertuah kerana semua kaum dapat merayakan hari perayaan mereka dengan aman dan selesa. Tidak seperti setengah Negara lain seperti Palestin, Afghanistan, dan beberapa Negara Afrika. Negara mereka tidak aman, ada yang terus dilanda kemiskinan dan perang yang tidak berkesudahan.

Sebagai rakyat Malaysia, kita seharusnya bersyukur dengan apa yang kita telah nikmati selama ini. Dengan keamanan yang berkekalan, maka nikmat sedia ada itu akan dapat kita dikembangkan lagi pada masa-masa akan datang.

Pada mulanya kita dikejutkan dengan tindakan gereja Dove World Outreach Centre, di Gainesville Florida dengan megahnya mengumumkan bahawa mereka akan membakar naskah al-Quran di perkarangan gereja tersebut sempena memperingati hari ulang tahun ke 9 serangan 11 Sept. keatas World Trade Centre. Tetapi syukur, kerana acara itu telah ditarek balik.

SELAMAT HARI RAYA DAN MAAF ZAHIR BATIN kepada semua bloger yang melayari blog cekdet dan juga warganya. Berhati-hati dan bersabarlah bila memandu dijalan raya. Pandu Cermat Semua Pengguna Jalan Raya Akan Selamat.

Akhir kata, nikmatilah halwa terlinga.

Kepada Tun Dr M,

Terlebih dahulu, saya bersama keluarga saya, ingin mungucapkan Selamat Hari Raya Aidil Fitri kepada Tun, Toh Puan beserta kesemua ahli keluarga Tun.

Kita di Malaysia amat bernasib baik kerana dapat merayakan perayaan-perayaan yang berlainan dan mempunyai perbezaan cara perayaan yang unik mengikut kaum atau suku kaum yang merayakannya.

Setiap perayaan itu dirayakan bersama, secara langsung atau secara tidak langsung, oleh rakyat Malaysia secara keseluruhan dengan semangat muhibbah dan semangat perpaduan.

Walaupun begitu, budaya "Rumah Terbuka" yang kita sebut-sebut dengan bangganya serta dianggap unik kepada Malaysia sudah berubah kepada tahap yang terpesong.

Kini, biasanya "Rumah Terbuka" hanya dianjurkan oleh parti-parti politik, NGO, Ahli-ahli Politik dan Korporat. Ia sering dianjurkan di dalam dewan ataupun padang. Walaupun tetamu-tetamunya ramai dan meriah, tetapi, ada kekurangannya. Tetamu- tetamu yang datang hanya untuk berjabat tangan dengan VVIP dan VIP. Kemudian terus menjamu juadah perayaan bersama ahli keluarga atau rakan-rakan dan terus balik. Mereka jarang beramah mesra dengan tetamu-tetamu lain biar apapun keturunannya. Tujuan "Rumah Terbuka" hanya separuh tercapai.

Pada pendapat saya, Rumah Terbuka yang patut dikembalikan dan digalakkan ialah Rumah Terbuka setiap keluarga yang merayakan perayaan masing-masing dan tetamu mereka lebih baik jiran tetangga, rakan kerja serta rakan perniagaan yang berbilang kaum. Ia, saya syorkan Rumah Terbuka seperti masa dahulu.

Cara begitulah yang betul-betul akan memupuk semangat kejiran serta semangat perpaduan yang lebih erat. Seperkara lagi yang penting ialah tuan Rumah Terbuka serta para tetamu, haruslah peka terhadap sensitiviti tabiat makanan serta adat pakaian masing-masing dan membuat persiapan yang wajar.

Sekian, Selamat Hari Raya Aidil Fitri kepada kesemua rakan blog ini yang beragama Islam.

Assalamualaikum Tun, everybody.

Currently, there's Florida priest's plan to burn copies of the Koran on the anniversary of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks... Obama said it is completely contrary to their values as Americans... Even the Danish newspaper published a cartoon in 2005 depicting the prophet Mohammad with his turban turning into a bomb... The American and European are too racist towards the religions and they look like an uncivilized beast... They are ugly faces until I dunno on how to describe those aliens... We know as a muslim, we cant simply burn the Bible, burn the Jewish's Torah... We cant - because we are the muslims... We have a high value of respect to other religions... Currently, they were accusing China of violating World Trade Organization rules by subsidizing exports of clean energy equipment to the United States. They open an investigation of Chinese trade practices within 45 days. They make it as a dirty business. Really dirty. I think we have our own standard of living as a human and love compared than them. Bast**d European racists.

Assalamu'alaikum Tun,

SELAMAT HARIRAYA untuk Tun sekeluarga dan para penyokong Tun diblog ini.juga untuk seluruh umat Islam di Malaysia,di Nusantara serta di seluruh dunia.semuga Hariraya kali ini membawa kpd perpaduan dan kemenangan bagi agama suci kita.

.....La ilaaha ilallahualaa na'budu illaa iyyaahu mukhlisiina lahuddina walaukarihal kaafirun....

setahun dua kali berkumpul bertakbir,inilah ucapan kita.semuga ini juga lah ucapan para pemimpin kita.dan semoga ia diterjemahkan menjadi perangai dan tingkahlaku,perkataan dan perbuatan kita dan pemimpin kita dalam menangani serangan dan provokasi kaum yg ibarat anjing tersepit yg menggigit tangan tuan yg menyuap nya makan.

dalam kita menyambut hariraya kali ini jgn kita leka akan musuh-musuh Islam yg sentiasa menunggu peluang menimpakan bencana keatas kita.belum tentu tahun-tahun mendatang kita dapat terus berhariraya.musuh kita terlalu canggih,strategi nya hebat,peralatan nya lengkap.selagi kita berwaspada,penuh curiga,mereka tak akan berani.tapi bila kita hayal-leka,anai-anai yg berselerak ini akan makan makan tiang seri kita dalam senyap.

pesan Imam Jaafar AsSadiq r.a'

"Every day is As-Sura.Every land is Karbala".

terimakasih Tun.
