

VICTORY IN SARAWAK

Chedet.co.cc

By Dr. Mahathir Mohamad

1. I would like to congratulate Tan Sri Abdul Taib Mahmud, the chairman of Barisan Nasional in Sarawak for the victory achieved by the party in the recent election.
2. Dato Seri Najib and Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin also deserves to be congratulated. The two were on the ground campaigning almost throughout the whole campaign period. They worked very hard and they had good supporting staff from the Peninsular as well as Sarawak.
3. I congratulate the DAP for bringing its racist politics to Sarawak. Before this all races co-operated well with each other for the good of Sarawak. Now we see clearly that the Chinese community in Sarawak has rejected multi-racialism.
4. Perhaps the SUPP are at fault but others in the BN also committed many wrong things. But the rejection is almost entirely by the Chinese community.
5. They have become infected by the virus of Chinese racism that is the guiding principle of the DAP. In the past DAP was almost totally rejected in Sarawak.
6. The DAP will talk about Malaysian Malaysia i.e. Malaysia for all Malaysians. But its appeal had always been to the racist sentiments of the Chinese. Those Chinese who reject the DAP seem to be considered as non-Chinese by the DAP.
7. Malaysia faces a grave danger of being divided by two parties - one Malay dominated by default and the other Chinese by choice. This will not be good for Malaysia. But this is what the DAP is striving for. A two-party system based on race will not contribute to stability much less national unity.
8. The presence of a few Malays in the DAP is just window dressing. It is the same as in Singapore where the PAP Government side lined their Malay supporters completely. The Malays make up 15 per cent of the island's population but their share of political power and wealth of this very prosperous nation is about one per cent. Of course Singapore is ruled by Singaporeans. The same would happen in Malaysia should the DAP rule this country. It would be ostensibly Malaysian.
9. I will be called a racist for pointing this out. For more than half a century the races in Malaysia had worked together to build the nation. The world saw stable BN Governments with power and wealth being shared by all races quite fairly. None of the races got everything that they considered they were entitled to - not the Malays, nor the Chinese, nor Indians, nor Ibans, Kadazans etc. All had to give up something. That is the essence of sharing.
10. Now the DAP has destroyed this power and wealth-sharing formula by separating the Chinese from the rest.
11. Soon we will be holding the 13th General Election. I pray and hope that the Sarawak pattern is not repeated in this beloved country. Let us all think carefully whether we want to split up this country or we are prepared to sacrifice something of our own in order to maintain the stability and growth through the BN coalition.

Dear Tun,

May I refer to etcv. It is a good article every Malaysian must read and ponder irrespective of racial origin. I have exactly the same bitter experience as the writer. MCA or GERAKAN or DAP, they are all the same.

They fight for themselves first, second and the last. DAP is negative and destructive. I always view things positively. Chinese are our friends and Malays are not our enemies. But I have become Muslim and destiny has brought me where I am. I am no racist or supremacist. I have very close Malay friends as well as Chinese and Indian friends.

Malaysian Chinese don't hate the Malays as some Malays may imagine. They just want to pursue their worldly success relentlessly regardless of the weather or the environment. Chinese are very practical, sensible, street wise and survivalists. How I wish Malaysian Chinese can become Muslims and assimilate into the Malays.

They have got nothing to lose except false pride and identity and every thing to gain in the world and the hereafter. If they can become Christians, why can't they be Muslims, easier to practice in Malaysia and definitely they would not regret it in their short life span. Malaysia would then be a great Islamic, peaceful, prosperous and exemplary country. a utopia. El Dorado.

Dear TUN, I agree partially of your stand in this blog entry, but please also see the world from my window. I am a Chinese, born in Malaysia 38 years ago to a poor Chinese family. I am the eldest and I have to support two younger brothers. I grew up under your administration and lived through the "system". I did very well in my SPM in 1988, much better than many of my Malay friends. Somehow, I was not given any scholarship whereas most of my Malay friends that did no do as well as me got scholarship to US and UK. I worked my way, earned to pay for my UNI and studied and came back to Malaysia, climbed the ladder of success, paid tax and supported my two younger brothers with my sweat and blood money so they can graduate and live within the system comfortably. We were not given any chances to succeed or opportunity to progress by our own Chinese politicians, MCA did not help us at all. Somehow, through hard work and diligence, we succeeded early in life, in fact very very successful. I feel that I was deprived of all the opportunities because I am a Chinese and MCA did nothing for me. Obviously I could not turn to UMNO and MIC for help either. I do not blame or hate the Malay race for this deprivation, it was the Government policy to protect them or seemed to be. UMNO did a good job for them. I grew up believing in myself and not any political parties. When I look back now, MCA failed me, where can I go? GERAKAN is the same as well. Chinese like me rejected MCA and Gerakan and thus in default rejected BN not because we hate Malays or other races. I appreciate the multiracial friends that helped me along the way regardless of their political or race standing in this country. Well, wear my shoes and take the route I came from, what choice do I have other than MCA and Gerakan? The point is, I wanted things to be fair to me and the Chinese that is like me. This generation is different, we dare to take the risk of change, we dare to try and seek for changes because I have stood for myself for the past 38 years and I would like to see improvements for my children and their future. MCA or any other BN Chinese party cannot guarantee that as well. The Politicians must come down from their high horses and find out why have they have been rejected.

Yang Dikasihi Tun,

I dont mind being called racist and ultra-malay. I love my people and my country. By Allah, I will defend my race and my country till the last drop of my blood. So, you people of so called anti-racism and anti ultra-malay, what you have got to say?

Dear YABhg Tun,

tumpang lalu,

Hahahahaha, the Great Losers (MCA) have the heart to Ask the Great Winners (Datu Patinggi Taib Mahmud) to pass the baton... Hahahahahah, all this chinese (losers) are great Jokers if not Clowns.

Tau suruh org step down, dia menang satu kerusi pun tak,, ada hati, tau mau tuntutan itu ini, menyumbang satu sen pun tarak...

Assalamualaikum YABhg. Tun

Untuk ini mudah sahaja, kita semua Melayu dan Islam kena bersatu padu menyokong UMNO dan BN sahaja, tidak kisah siapa calonnya. Mari kita eksperimen untuk sekian kalinya di masa PRU 13 ialah eksperimen kaedah "Pulang Paku Buah Keras" ..

Semasa PRU 12 kita telah dikhianati dan ditipu dengan mainan wayang bersekala besar (a greatest shadow play grand design) sampai begitu banyak kampung halaman kita tergadai. Maka dengan ini, saya menyeru umat Melayu dan Islam tidak kira apa ideologi pun,, untuk sekian kali ini marilah kita Pulangkan Paku dengan Buah keras,,, kemudia kita lihat lah hasilnya yang Insya Allah akan memberi manfaat yg berkekalan untuk dan demi anak cucu kita ini. Amin Ya Rabbal AAalamin (Be Careful of Thy Long March)

Pass the baton, MCA tells Taib

PETALING JAYA: MCA vice-president Senator Gan Ping Sieu has called on Sarawak Chief Minister Tan Sri Abdul Taib Mahmud to step down, saying he had lost the overall support of the various ethnic groups in the state.

“Leaders of Barisan Nasional must command the support of all communities irrespective of ethnicity.

“Although Sarawak Barisan Nasional emerged victorious at the recently-concluded state election on April 16 and retained its two-thirds majority to stay in power, it is obvious that Tan Sri Taib Mahmud no longer wields support from Chinese voters,” Gan said in a statement yesterday.

Come on, don't make Taib Mahmud as a scapegoat. Your argument is just crap, Sen. Gan. Please don't ridicule the intelligence of the bumiputras in Sarawak. Even if Taib Mahmud is not the Chief Minister the Chinese will also vote for the opposition, period. Make no mistake about it. Don't give ridiculous excuse. When the majority of other ethnic groups have shown full support for BN I don't see any reason for the Chinese not to support BN. Why? It is very simple and straight forward which the Chinese themselves have the answer. The Sarawak bumiputras are not stupid. They know the answer. They are not hypocrite people like the Chinese. If the Chinese rejected BN, so be it. No big deal anymore. Life must go on without the Chinese participation in running the govt. together with other races.

Now the state govt. must give priority to those who support the govt. Don't expect to get better deal to somebody who had clearly rejected the BN govt. There is no logic to accommodate people who don't appreciate what they have got so far. They have got everything and yet they are not thankful. Don't expect the moon to be given to you !!!

To Timothy, you have not done your research well. Take a look at the following take
From

Wiki especially on the Hugo project which says that the malay populated china first!!!!

Proto Malays

Proto Malay, also known as Melayu asli (aboriginal Malay) or Melayu purba (ancient Malay) are the mongoloids and austronesian speakers from mainland Asia who moved to the Malay peninsular and Malay archipelago in a long series of migration between 2500 and 1500 BC.[10] The Encyclopedia of Malaysia: Early History, has pointed out a total of three theories of the origin of Malay:

The Yunnan theory, Mekong river migration (published 1889)

The theory of Proto Malay originating from Yunnan is supported by R.H Geldern, J.H.C Kern,

J.R Foster, J.R Logen, Slametmuljana and Asmah Haji Omar. Other evidences that support this theory include:

Stone tools found at Malay Archipelago which are analogous to Central Asian tools;

Similarity of Malay customs and Assam customs; and the fact that the Malay language & Cambodian language are kindred languages because the ancestral home of Cambodians originated at the source of Mekong River.

The New Guinea theory (published 1965).

The Taiwan theory (published 1997). For more see Austronesian languages.

The theories presented above could be rendered false and in need of revision due to new scientific evidence presented by HUGO (Human Genome Organization) through genetic studies of the Asian races that points to a single Asian migration from South East Asia traveling northwards and slowly populating East Asia instead of the other way around which as popularly depicted above. From the scientific discovery which has been a silent evidence, it has pointed out that the South East Asian civilizations including the Malays are a much older civilization compared to the widely researched and well documented east Asians' ancient civilizations[11]

The proto Malays are believed to be seafarers knowledgeable in oceanography and possessing agricultural skills. They moved around from island to island in great distances between New Zealand and Madagascar, and they served as navigation guides, crew and labour to Indian, Arab, Persian and Chinese traders for nearly 2000 years. Over the years they settled at various places and adopted various cultures and religions.

Deutero Malays

The earlier Malays were later replaced by the Deutero Malays in the second wave of migration from mainland Asia around 300 BC.[12] The present day Malays of the peninsula and coasts of the Malay Archipelago are described anthropologically as Deutero Malays;[13] a combination of Proto Malays with Kambujas of Hindu-Buddhism faith, the Indo-Persian royalties and traders, southern Chinese traders, the aborigine Negrito Orang Asli, native seafarers, and traders from countries along the ancient sea trade routes.

The emergence of this new hybrid group indirectly forced some groups of Proto Malays and aboriginal people to retreat into the hill areas of the interior further upriver. Notable proto Malays of today are Moken, Jakun, Orang Kuala, Temuan and Orang Kanaq.[14]

Hi Tun,

May I add to my previous posting. Thank you, Tun.

Hi "Malaysian",

I know that my previous sentence may arouse some anger. Knowing that how easily some people can get angry, despite the instruction from Above that we should not be so (keywords: "Slow to anger"), I write this to clarify my sweeping sentence in my last posting.

Two groups of business delegations visit a bunch of billionaires in China. One group from Singapore, and another from Malaysia. All factors being equal, our delegates speak with each other in English, and those from Singapore speak in Mandarin. Which group do you think is more likely to succeed in closing the deal?

In Malaysia, I agree with you that it is rude to speak in a language that you cannot understand, in your presence, AND when you are part of the intended listening party. So, I suggest those who have been inadvertently doing so to be more sensitive to others. Tq.

DAP adalah kongsi gelap cina dan bekas komunis

Salam Tun,

Sebenarnya saya sudah menyatakan daripada dahulu lagi bahawa bukan sahaja kes tbb, malahan sebenarnya ahli dan pendokong DAP adalah ramai daripada kalangan samseng, gangster dan bekas penyokong parti komunis malaya pkm, yang diharamkan dan membunuh ribuan orang melayu sebelum dan selepas merdeka.

Generasi muda sekarang bukannya tahu atau lebih seronok untuk berhibur dan dihiburkan oleh media TV dan surat khabar/majalah dan dilalaikan oleh para wartawan wartawan dan penerbit dari RTM, TV3, TV7, TV8, ASTRO, majalah majalah serta konsert, semua ini melalaikan dan menyebabkan orang melayu lemah daya fikiran dan tiada kesedaran kepentingan perjuangan hak dan kedudukan orang melayu.

Saya tidak dapat lihat apakah pemuda UMNO lakukan selama ini, mereka lebih kepada politiking daripada kesedaran keseluruhan tahap pemikiran orang melayu khususnya generasi muda.

Pernah saya melihat generasi muda orang melayu tidak mempedulikan nasib orang melayu, asalkan dia mendapat hajatnya yakni berseronok, berhibur dan bermaksiat.

PAS yang mendakwa parti Islam, pernahkah melakukan kerja dakwah selain sering melakukan ceramah, usrah atau tarbiah yang bukan sahaja mengajarkan ilmu malahan menyelitkan sifat kebencian melampau terhadap UMNO tanpa sebarang bukti dan saksi. Saya baru baru ini menyelit di sebuah pusat tarbiah PAS di Taman Meru, mendengar 'nasihat' kononnya, sebaliknya lebih kepada menanam kebencian sesama Islam. Kepala memakai serban Sunnah Nabi SAW, tetapi lidah dan hati lebih menjurus kepada sifat yahudi dan kafirin. Malangnya, setiap tarbiah PAS, tidak ada satupun mengenai kenyataan dan penerangan akan kepentingan dakwah, kepentingan Ummah dan kesatuan Silatur Rahim bangsa melayu. Inilah contoh PAS yang mendakwa parti Islam (konon) tetapi sebenarnya ialah sama seperti parti politik DAP, menanam kebencian dan pepecahan.

Saya berpendapat, sudah sampai masanya kita, pejuang cyber bangsa melayu bergabung dan lebih menekan kepentingan bangsa melayu/Islam semakin terhakis disebabkan kelalaian pemimpin UMNO sendiri merebut kedudukan didalam politik tanpa sedikitpun merasa keperluan menanam semangat bangsa melayu terus bangkit dan hidup.

Pedulikan NGO atau parti kaum lain, mereka pun melakukan perkara yang sama kepada kepentingan masing masing.

Sebagai contoh mudah, NUBE (Persatuan Kerani Bank menentang Maybank, sebuah institusi Melayu/UMNO menuntut bonus 80 bulan dengan alasan pihak majikan memberi berbulan bulan bonus kepada kakitangan atasan. Persoalannya ialah:-

a) Kenapa tidak menyerang institusi Bank lain seperti PBB, SCB, OCBC, HSBC.....kerana semua Bank ini bukan diurustakbir oleh UMNO/melayu malahan adalah kepunyaan kaum cina, terutama Bank PBB, kepunyaan bilionaire kaum cina.....apakah yang tersirat?

b) Adalah hak eksklusif majikan memberi imbuhan kepada kakitangan atasan yang mencapai KPI dan seharusnya didalam Collective Agreement diantara NUBE dan MCBA, NUBE tiada hak mana mana sudut menuntut bonus 80 bulan atau mencampur urusan pihak majikan, malahan mereka kena bersyukur, Maybank membayar gaji kakitangan malahan memberi kemudahan dan imbuhan yang tiada langsung didalam CA tersebut. Mengapakah NUBE tidak menuntut perkara yang sama di Bank PBB?

c) NUBE adalah satu persatuan yang mempunyai ahli yang besar majoriti adalah melayu tetapi AJK dan setiausaha adalah India, adalah pelik lagi bodoh, majoriti melayu adalah lebih 70% ahli NUBE tetapi diurus oleh kaum India, malahan ada cawangan Bank dimana IRC adalah India dimana ahli NUBE adalah melayu, apakah ini membuktikan melayu adalah lemah lagi bodoh , tidak boleh mentakbir urus kepentingan sendiri?

d) Apakah ini menjurus satu senario dimana NGO, Persatuan Persatuan dan parti bukan melayu menghentam dan menyerang institusi yang dikuasai oleh melayu.....apakah yang anda dapat baca dari senario ini, ATM, Polis, Felda, Felcra, Bernas, SPRM dan kesemua badan yang dikuasai UMNO/melayu termasuk mahkamah digasak dari semua penjuror arah?.....dan kesemuanya NGO, Persatuan dan parti politik ini adalah dikuasai bukan melayu.....apakah melayu masih bodoh dan masih alpa lagi.....

e) Hanya ada dua sahaja akibat sebab dan musabab kelalaian dan kealpaan orang melayu, yakni:-

1) Melayu akan senasib seperti Palestine

2) Mungkin berlaku peristiwa berdarah 13 Mei 1969, kerana setelah orang melayu tertekan kehilangan semua hak dan kekuatan ekonomi dan kemungkinan kuasa politik, melayu akan memberontak, jika mungkin juga Malaysia menjadi negara liberal seperti Singapura, Semua institusi Kesultanan Melayu akan terhapus , penaung Islam apabila terkubur, maka Islam akan menjadi permainan penguasaan perlembagaan baharu yang berkemungkinan presidennya adalah bukan melayu.....

f) Malaysia adalah daripada dua perkataan Malay dan Asia. Bunyinya adalah Malay...dan...Sia, tetapi jika kita mendengar berita cina ianya akan berbunyi Mali...sia, mereka tidak akan menyebut Malay (Melayu).....perasankah anda.....Malaysia adalah gabungan dua perkataan bangsa Melayu (Malay) dan bangsa asia yg lain (Sia) maka itulah Malaysia.

g) Mengapakah sebegitu banyak persatuan dan NGO dikuasai oleh bukan melayu, apakah melayu tidak cerdik, kebanyakan persatuan dan NGO dikuasai India, Singh dan Cina, lihat FOMCA, Majlis Keselamatan Jalan Raya, dll.....malahan edaran surat khabar harian juga dikuasai oleh persatuan gabungan pengedar surat khabar kaum India, jika mereka boikot, maka tiada surat khabar diedarkan didalam pasaran.....melayu apa yang kita kuasai melainkan melalui kerajaan UMNO, buat masa sekaranglah. Jika melayu sudah kehilangan kuasa, jangan haraplah kaum cina dan india akan belas kasihankan melayu. Sekarangpun terbukti secara halus atau terang, gabungan DAP, MCA, Gerakan, SUPP dan semua NGO cina menggasak menyerang menghentam semua institusi melayu, apakah UMNO buat? Sudah sampai kita membuang sikap terlalu bertolak ansur bodoh bangang kita kepada bukan melayu, jangan kita membuang anak hanya demi menjaga hati (konon) kaum lain, musuh kita sebenarnya ialah hanya ada dua yakni gabungan bukan melayu yang telah mencuba berdekad dekad untuk menghancurkan melayu dan keduanya ramai dikalangan melayu adalah pengkhianat bangsa sendiri, dan inilah musuh terbesar kita , para munafikin yang terdiri daripada PAS, PKR dan sebahagian orang UMNO sendiri.....jangan lupa kakitangan kerajaan yang makan rasuah demi kekayaan peribadi seperti Kastam yang sudah terkenal sejak dahulu lagi (tahun 70an saya pernah membeli barang rampasan yang murah dari Kastam PP yang tidak diistiharkan)Imigresen, Polis, Kakitangan Pejabat Tanah, JPS,JKR (byk tender bawah meja)...dll. Kenyataannya oalah inilah pengkhianat Bangsa, Agama dan Negara.Pedih tetapi benar....sikap melayu ialah suka makan rasuah jika ada sedikit kuasa, ...tunggulah azab Tuhan jika tidak didunia, tunggu diAkhirat, mungkin sebelum menemui ajal nanti.

Buktinya, tdak perlu, pergilah kerumah mereka mereka diatas, buatlah search di Pejabat Tanah, apa kereta yang mereka pandu, rumah mereka, simpanan mereka.....saya boleh bawa siapa siapa kerumah seorang Pengarah JPS (pencen) ada 5 hingga 6 biji kereta, dari Proton ke Estima/Alphaard....banyak sangatkah Gaji Pengarah ini?. Seorang polis berpangkat ASP sahaja memandu kereta mewah Volvo, Accord dan BMW, besar sangatkah gaji ASP? Pegawai imigresen mempunyai banglo 1/2 juta.....gaji sebulan RM20,000 kah?.....

Inilah kaum pengkhianat Negara, Bangsa dan Islam, contoh lusu ialah kastam baru baru ini, pegawai mereka ditangkap, persatuan kastan protes supaya SPRM tidak meneruskan penyiasatan, sepatutnya persatuan kastam menggalakkan penyiasatan SPRM membersihkan isu rasuah ini, dan lagi lucunya, menjatuhkan moral dan air muka kakitangan kastam (bukan semua kakitangan kastam rasuah, ramai yg jujur, begitu juga yg lain seperti polis, imigresen, jps dll).....sebenarnya mereka takut setelah selesai siasatan SPRM, mereka akan terikut kantoi, maka kenapakah UMNO dipersalahkan isu rasuah?.....mari kita berfikir (Ada asasnya kebenaran dari petikan laman blog G4UMNO).

YABhg Tun,

If there is one thing we can learn from the just concluded Sarawak state election is the importance of being united, regardless. And the Sarawakian Chinese proven that.....
Now, what say you....Malays!!!!

Hi Tun,

May I respond to the forumer "Malaysian". Thank you, Tun.

Hi "Malaysian",

But those schools had existed even before Malaysia existed. You want to close them down?
Come, put your finger into my mouth.

If the Swiss can have a few national languages, yet they are so peaceful and successful, what for we want only one language?

Yes, indeed, it is rude to speak a language that others don't understand in their presence. So, I strongly agree with you regarding your first point. That's why English (and soon, Mandarin) is so important. Others (except the French perhaps) may not entertain you if you don't speak English fluently.

By faa on April 21, 2011 3:12 PM

Dear Tun,

I agree that the virus of Chinese racism that is the guiding principle in DAP has infected the Chinese in Sarawak. I believe Singapura is not afraid to 'penalize' those who do not vote for the government. I hope Taib has no fear to do so. Somehow there are times that I believe we need not be too kind. It's not about who is the better person but who can bark louder. I think that the main reason DAP won is because they have far better political marketing. In part, they employ similar tactics to what litigators would do. And they got off very easily because there are no rules and no response. Silence is not golden. Silence and non denial only means guilt and admission. SUPP had made no effort to counter DAP's wild accusations and fabrications of facts. For instance, something so simple like renewal of lease became such an issue while in actual every one is entitled to renew their lease provided you update your yearly quit rent and assessment. Taib's wealth, well what about the wealth of those Towkeys? Don't you think the existence of these rich towkeys were due to collaboration between the races? Other than the towkeys, who actually run those companies allegedly owned by Taib's family? When I asked SUPP member why they could not response to DAP's accusations, he couldn't answer. My presumption: they don't care or they refuse to see the Chinese community to split among themselves unlike the Malay.If it's the latter, I really salute them . Jadi, orang Melayu bila lagi nak bersatu? Bila lagi nak berhenti bersidang bawah pokok, warung-warung kopi, surau?Bila lagi nak berhenti ambil rasuah dan bagi anak isteri makan duit haram? Bila lagi nak mula jaga anak jangan sampai jadi gay, lesbian, bohsia, hisap dadah, murtad? Bila lagi nak ajar anak supaya celik sejarah dan hormati orang tua? Bila lagi orang tua kita nak sedar bahawa hormat itu perlu diraih dan bukan dipaksa? Anak gemuk pun nak suruh cikgu jaga, tak cukup ada orang gaji. Berusahalah bangsa ku.

To prof_ridcully

You might soon realise that I was being cynical about the 4th world statement so don't go acting smart. For starters, World Bank Executives do not live in Malaysia, they only rate the country based on false data submitted by the BN government. Furthermore, could you possibly tell me what percentage of Malaysian actually earn USD15,000 per year. When I mean Malaysian politics is "kampung", i mean really really kampung. Hello... not all Malaysians are as stupid as they were before, unlike you who probably still is. At least Pak Lah had the integrity of cleaning up a lot of TDM's mess, paying off lots of debts that TDM incurred during his 22 years of plundering.

Then I already know you don't ever respect our constitution and Malays/Pribumi rights in this country, congratulation. Maybe you not one of the Malaysian, therefore mind your own business. Jolly should be explained the situation here since he/she didn't know or just make it "don't know". Standard behavior for human that forgot their origins or just make it "forgot" their origins. I'm already getting used with that.

By Mohamad Kassim on April 21, 2011 12:39 PM

Pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan perlu letak jawatan dalam parti masing-masing dan dalam Barisan Nasional sekiranya parti mereka kalah teruk lagi dalam pilihanraya akan datang. Ini kerana mereka perlu bertanggungjawab atas kesalahan itu disebabkan mereka tak tahu buat kerja, buat kerja cincai, dan lembab dalam tindakan hingga dibenci oleh masyarakat Cina.

perkauman sebagaimana yang diamalkan oleh sesetengah calon dari MCA terutamanya yang menjadi kepimpinan sekarang ini.

Pimpinan MCA kalau sekadar menjadi pak sorak dan menyalahkan orang lain atas kegagalan sendiri apa gunanya? Letak jawatan sajalah, kerana anda adalah beban yang menyusahkan MCA sendiri dan menyusahkan parti komponen lain dalam Barisan Nasional yang terpaksa berhempas pula untuk menolong anda sedangkan anda hanya sibuk nak perkuatkan kedudukan dalam parti saja tanpa mempedulikan rakan-rakan komponen lain yang berhempas pulas dan bertungkus lumus untuk memperkuatkan Barisan Nasional. Sekian, terima kasih.

By Mohamad Kassim on April 21, 2011 12:27 PM

Saya menyokong kenyataan yang ditulis oleh Saudara Abe Long berkenaan sikap Kementerian Dalam Negeri yang suka memberikan kewarganegaraan secara sembarangan. Ini bukan kerana perkauman, tapi ia melibatkan layak atau tidak seseorang itu mendapat kewarganegaraan berdasarkan undang-undang negara dan kepentingan nasional Malaysia. Menteri Dalam Negeri perlu jelas dalam perkara ini supaya jangan yang dikejar tak dapat, tetapi yang dikendong keciciran hingga diambil oleh orang lain. Malahan dari segi Barisan Nasional masa ini pula, semuanya dibebankan kepada UMNO, PBB dan parti bumiputera lain sedangkan parti komponen bukan bumiputera tidak termasuk MIC yang patut berusaha keras boleh goyang kaki, apa ini semua? Bila orang Cina tak sokong Barisan Nasional, UMNO dan PBB pula yang disalahkan, apa cerita ini? Apa kerja MCA dan Gerakan? Ini menunjukkan pimpinan MCA dan Gerakan kini tidak bekerja bersungguh-sungguh untuk kemenangan Barisan Nasional, mereka nampaknya lebih berusaha bersungguh-sungguh untuk terus berkuasa dalam parti mereka saja. Saya bukannya menuduh melulu, lihatlah MCA dan Gerakan, malahan MCA terutamanya, apa yang pimpinan MCA buat ketika ini? Pimpinan MCA hanya sibuk mencari pasal dengan PERKASA yang dijadikan kambing hitam sebaik sahaja calon MCA kalah dan sokongan orang Cina kepada MCA berkurangan. Pimpinan MCA kena sedar, ini bukannya disebabkan PERKASA, tetapi pimpinan MCA lembab, tak tahu buat kerja, kerja sambil lewa, kerja cincai, sebab itulah orang Cina tak sokong MCA kerana MCA sendiri sudah terikut-ikut dengan sikap DAP yang suka berkonfrontasi dan memainkan isu perkauman.

UMNO tidak perlu bersusah payah berkaitan hal dengan MCA ini kerana pimpinan MCA sendiri tak mahu berusaha kerana mereka lembab dalam tindakan, tak tahu buat kerja, memimpin macam mangkuk hayun hingga dibenci oleh masyarakat Cina. Saya melihat Gerakan lebih baik sedikit dari MCA meskipun sokongan masyarakat Cina terhadap Gerakan juga menjunam, tetapi sokongan masyarakat India makin meningkat terhadap Gerakan. Pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan perlu berusaha keras, bukannya sambil lewa dan sibuk menuntut itu dan ini sedangkan pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan sendiri lembab dan tak tahu buat kerja serta tak tahu memimpin secara kerjasama dengan masyarakat bumiputera dan masyarakat india.

UMNO perlu lebih menumpukan usaha terhadap untuk menarik sebanyak mungkin sokongan orang bumiputera supaya menyokong UMNO, kalau terlalu kasihankan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan yang goyang kaki dan lembab buat kerja itu, UMNO sendiri akan menjadi mangsa kerana UMNO telah menjadi seperti menyusukan kera di hutan sedangkan anak di rumah kebulur menderita tak makan. Kalau UMNO sibuk berusaha untuk MCA dan pimpinan Cina Gerakan, makin naik lemaklah mereka ini, makin kuat goyang kakilah mereka kerana UMNO boleh jadi pecacai mereka pula. Bukannya tak kasihan kepada mereka, tapi apalah gunanya bersusah payah hingga UMNO kehilangan sokongan bumiputera sedangkan pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina Gerakan goyang kaki dan sibuk untuk menguatkan kedudukan mereka dalam parti.

Saya bukannya anti dengan bukan bumiputera, saya boleh terima semuanya selagi rakyat Malaysia, tetapi janganlah bersikap lain di mulut lain di hati, ini sudah melanggar semangat setiakawan yang dibentuk sejak penubuhan Perikatan dan seterusnya Barisan Nasional dahulu. Kalau pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina Gerakan masih sibuk nak perkuatkan diri dalam parti dan bersikap lembab untuk menarik sokongan orang Cina terhadap Barisan Nasional, itu hal mereka, mereka patut malu dengan menggunakan kesempatan atas kebaikan budi UMNO. Pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan patut ditukar kerana telah menjadi liabiliti bukan saja kepada MCA dan Gerakan, tetapi menjadi biawak hidup yang terpaksa ditanggung oleh Barisan Nasional kerana sudah jelas terang-terangan bahawa pimpinan MCA dan pimpinan Cina dalam Gerakan kini tak berkualiti, dulu ada Datuk Seri Ong Tee Kiat sebagai Presiden MCA disingkirkan, sedangkan Datuk Seri Ong Tee Kiat adalah pimpinan yang bersifat nasional, bukannya macam pimpinan MCA ketika ini, asyik dengan perkauman saja. Sekian, terima kasih.

tengok begitu banyak komen, inilah itulah. Apa yang semua orang fikir ni?

Orang hitam pun dah jadi presiden US. kita lagi ade masa cakap Umno, DAP, PAP lagi? ada masa debat parti apa kaum apa? Betapa wajar, bijaksana pemimpin and Pengasas UMNO (yg lama tu) Dato' Onn Jaafar yang sudah dilupakan..... beliaulah pemimpin yang memang berpandangan jauh dan dihormati. orang pertama untuk membentangkan konsep 1 malaysia (versi lama). tapi ahli umno masa itu tidak faham. sampai sekarang pun tidak faham.

Apa isu kaum rakyat sarawak tunjuk? kalau masih fikirkan isu kaum, apa beza DAP dengan SUPP? Kalau masih berkenaan isu kaum, apa beza PKR, PAS dengan UMNO. Sedih, kita masih fikiran kolot. Bila kita boleh maju? Apa harapan kita?

Sudah 54 tahun, kita dipermainkan oleh orang british, dasar pecah perintah, dasar politik asas perkauman. sampai bila baru kita semua sedar? kenapa kita mashi sikap suka untuk bandingkan kita dengan perkara lemah orang lain untuk merasai kekuatan kita? tak kira LKY itu barang siapa (aku tak suka pun), kenapa kita tidak mencabar pencapaian dia dalam aspek ekonomi, kenapa kita tidak mencabar pencapaian dia dalam anti rasuah? Wahai anak malaysia, bangun dan sedar. jangan lagi kita mencabar orang cacat, mencabar kelemahan orang lain. Apa maknanya?

saya hormat tun dalam pencapaian yang telah dicapai, tapi saya tak larat menerima komen Tun dalam hal ini. kenapa tun tidak boleh menyeru kepada semua anak malaysia untuk sama-sama memperbaiki kelemahan yang memang sudah jelas nampak? ape gunanya kita kutuk kelemahan orang lain? Sila cabarlah kelebihan orang lain seperti dulu Tun mencabar orang putih?

jangan kita komen pasal isu kaum lagi, dah cukup kita dipermainkan penjajah, jangan-jangan lagi kita mempermainkan kita sendiri lagi.

Assalamualaikum Tun Dr. Mahathir bin Mohamad.

Saya amat bersetuju dengan dasar pentadbiran Tun yang menggalakkan penggunaan barangan keluaran tempatan untuk menyokong sektor pembuatan di negara ini sendiri.

Saya mempunyai cadangan berkenaan penggunaan kenderaan oleh jabatan-jabatan kerajaan yang dilihat lebih memberikan perhatian yang lebih kepada kenderaan import sedangkan harganya lebih mahal dan kos selenggaranya lebih mahal dari kenderaan nasional Malaysia iaitu Proton dan Perodua. Menjadi persoalan kepada saya apakah jabatan-jabatan kerajaan tidak percaya dan yakin dengan kenderaan nasional Malaysia itu sendiri kerana kalau kita pergi ke jabatan-jabatan kerajaan, kelihatan kenderaan jabatan berkenaan yang bersusun di garaj adalah model import, ini kerana di nombor plat dan di pintu kenderaan berkenaan selalunya menulis nama jabatan berkenaan, tak logik pula kalau itu kenderaan pengunjung awam.

Saya merasakan pihak kerajaan perlu mengutamakan kenderaan nasional supaya pengusaha kenderaan nasional boleh terus maju ini kerana mungkin kalau dihipunkan kenderaan milik jabatan kerajaan di seluruh Malaysia jumlahnya saya rasa beribu-ribu buah. Ini juga sebagai promosi terhadap kenderaan nasional sekiranya jabatan-jabatan kerajaan menggunakan kenderaan nasional, sekiranya menggunakan kenderaan import, macam mana hendak mendidik masyarakat menggunakan kenderaan tempatan? Dalam televisyen, radio, surat khabar, majalah pihak kerajaan sibuk menyeru rakyat menggunakan barangan keluaran tempatan termasuklah kenderaan nasional, tetapi di pihak jabatan kerajaan sendiri menggunakan kereta import, ini menunjukkan teladan yang kurang betul kepada rakyat dan perkara ini haruslah diubah.

Berkenaan kenderaan di jabatan kerajaan, apakah kenderaan nasional tidak sesuai untuk kegunaan jabatan berkenaan? Ini kerana saya rasa kalau sekadar untuk pergi mesyuarat, pergi kursus, buat lawatan ke cawangan, kenderaan tempatan pun berkeupayaan untuk perkara-perkara tersebut. Malahan reka bentuk kenderaan nasional juga menarik setanding kenderaan import seperti Proton Saga, Proton Saga FL, Proton Wira, Proton Waja, Proton Perdana, Proton Exora, Perodua Alza, Proton Myvi, dan lain-lainnya yang sesuai digunakan untuk operasi jabatan.

Untuk tujuan-tujuan tertentu yang mana kenderaan keluaran nasional kurang sesuai digunakan seperti masuk dalam hutan, meredah paya dan lain-lain perkara yang ekstrem itu tak apalah menggunakan kenderaan import, tapi kalau pergi mesyuarat atau kursus guna kenderaan import, ini apa cerita?

Saya melihat beberapa jabatan dan agensi serta syarikat berkaitan kerajaan dalam penggunaan kereta nasional dengan begitu serius seperti Polis DiRaja Malaysia, FELDA, Jabatan Bekalan Air di sesetengah negeri, Telekom Malaysia dan beberapa lagi agensi yang menggunakan kenderaan tempatan. Misalnya Polis DiRaja Malaysia, saya dapati Ketua Polis Balai hanya menggunakan kenderaan nasional jenama Perodua Kancil bila mengadakan lawatan dalam kawasan serta pergi mesyuarat. Begitu juga dengan pengurus FELDA dan Telekom Malaysia hanya menggunakan Perodua Kencana untuk pergi mesyuarat atau melawat kawasan.

Saya berharap agar pihak kerajaan dapat melihat perkara ini dengan serius kerana pihak kerajaan sendiri yang menunjukkan teladan kepada masyarakat dalam penggunaan barangan keluaran tempatan, janganlah nanti bila kerajaan sibuk buat promosi menggunakan barangan keluaran tempatan, orang awam menampah bahawa jabatan kerajaan pun gunakan barangan luar, contohnya kenderaan di jabatan kerajaan yang kebanyakan model luar negara, nanti apa kerajaan nak jawab? Maka saya berharap perkara ini perlu dinilai dengan teliti oleh pihak kerajaan supaya apabila kempen nasihat yang diberikan tidak menjadi seperti pepatah "ibarat menepuk air di dalam dulang, terpercik ke muka sendiri". Sekian, terima kasih.

Assalamualaikum Tun Dr. Mahathir bin Mohamad.

Minta maaf kerana komen saya ini tidak berkaitan dengan artikel ini, tetapi komen saya ini adalah kerana ia melibatkan kepentingan nasional yang telah saya banyak kali menghantar komen dalam blog 1Malaysia, tetapi tiada maklumbalas yang diterima. Saya memohon agar Tun dapat memberikan pertimbangan dan pandangan di atas pandangan saya ini serta Tun dapat memberikan penambahbaikan terhadap cadangan saya ini untuk penilaian pihak kerajaan.

Cadangan pertama saya ialah Sekolah Aliran Kemahiran di mana pelajar-pelajar lepasan UPSR yang didapati tidak berminat dengan pendidikan secara akademik meneruskan pengajian dalam pendidikan berasaskan kemahiran. Ini kerana adalah suatu kerugian sekiranya pelajar-pelajar ini berhenti sekolah semasa tingkatan dua atau tingkatan tiga kerana mereka telah kurang motivasi untuk belajar kerana kaedah pembelajaran di sekolah yang kurang diminati oleh mereka. Apabila pelajar-pelajar ini berhenti sekolah di usia yang begitu muda, mereka adalah terdedah dengan gejala tidak sihat seperti penagihan dadah, mencuri, lumba haram, seks luar nikah dan berbagai lagi masalah yang akhirnya memberikan kesan yang kurang baik kepada negara. Menteri Pendidikan merangkap Timbalan Perdana Menteri pernah memberikan ulasan berhubung perkara ini dalam surat khabar Mingguan Malaysia bertarikh 26 November 2011, kalau tidak sayalah, dalam seminggu dua itu adalah beberapa pihak yang memberikan pandangan yang serupa dengan pandangan saya itu, tetapi selepas itu ianya sepi kembali, saya tidak pastilah samada cadangan saya itu tidak berguna langsung dan tidak memberikan kepentingan kepada negara kerana apa yang saya rasa, cadangan itu adalah untuk kepentingan negara.

Saya telah mencadangkan kepada pihak kerajaan supaya menjadikan pusat-pusat latihan milik kerajaan seperti Giat Mara, Institut Latihan Pertanian, Penternakan dan Akualtultur di seluruh negara sebagai Sekolah Aliran Kemahiran kerana sekiranya pelajar-pelajar ini dilatih dengan lebih awal, maka kemahiran dan keupayaan mereka akan lebih tinggi dalam bidang kemahiran serta gejala keciciran dalam persekolahan terutama pelajar lelaki dapat diminimakan ke paras yang serendah yang mungkin.

Mungkin yang menjadi halangan untuk menjayakan hasrat ini adalah kerana pusat-pusat latihan itu tidak berada di bawah kelolaan Kementerian Pelajaran, tetapi di bawah kelolaan Kementerian Luar Bandar dan Wilayah serta Kementerian Pertanian, tetapi atas dasar untuk menjaga kepentingan nasional, perundingan antara Kementerian perlulah diadakan untuk memastikan hasrat bagi mewujudkan sekolah kemahiran ini berjaya. Ini kerana ketika ini pusat-pusat latihan berkenaan mengambil pelajar berumur 18 tahun ke atas sedangkan potensi pelajar boleh digilap sejak tamat darjah enam lagi. Ini akan menjimatkan masa pelajar di mana selepas mereka tamat pembelajaran 5 tahun di Sekolah Kemahiran berkenaan, mereka boleh terus menceburkan diri dalam industri berkaitan dalam usia semuda 18 tahun samada sebagai pengusaha ataupun pekerja yang mahir di bidang-bidang tertentu.

Salah satu masalah yang saya lihat adalah dari kos operasi, tetapi sekiranya terdapat pakatan strategik antara Sekolah Kemahiran dengan pihak industri, hasil keluaran pelajar boleh dijadikan sebagai penampung kos operasi Sekolah Kemahiran berkenaan dari segi penginapan, makan minum dan lain-lainnya. Ini bukanlah untuk menjadikan pelajar berkenaan sebagai alat untuk mendapatkan untung oleh Sekolah Kemahiran, tetapi sebagai menampung kos pengurusan sekolah berkenaan sahaja dan mungkin hasil jualan keluaran hasil pelajar itu ada peratusan tertentu dimasukkan ke dalam akaun pelajar yang boleh diambil semula oleh pelajar selepas mereka tamat pengajian untuk dijadikan modal memulakan perniagaan.

Saya berasa yakin dengan perkara ini akan dapat memberikan manfaat kepada kepentingan nasional Malaysia kerana di samping dapat menghasilkan tenaga mahir dalam bidang kemahiran untuk pembangunan negara, ia juga dapat mengurangkan pekerja asing ke paras yang paling minimum supaya pengaliran keluar wang negara serta gejala tidak sihat yang diamalkan oleh warga asing dapat dikurangkan ke paras yang paling minima. Malah ini juga akan dapat memacu pertumbuhan ekonomi negara selaras dengan hasrat untuk mencapai kedudukan sebagai negara maju menjelang tahun 2020 serta yang paling utama adalah dapat menyelamatkan pelajar-pelajar daripada keciciran persekolahan serta dapat melindungi mereka dari terjebak dalam gejala tidak sihat akibat berhenti sekolah di usia muda.

Saya dengan ini memohon pandangan Tun sebagai negarawan yang berpengalaman dalam pentadbiran negara berhubung perkara ini supaya hasrat untuk mewujudkan Sekolah Aliran Kemahiran ini dapat dijayakan dengan sebaiknya. Kepada pengunjung blog ini yang mempunyai sebarang pandangan dan cadangan terhadap perkara ini adalah dialu-alukan untuk memberikan pendapat supaya ada kelemahan boleh diperbaiki, ada yang kurang boleh ditambah, saya sanggup menerima sebarang kritikan atau pandangan atau cadangan berkenaan perkara ini supaya kepentingan nasional Malaysia akan bertambah maju dan sejahtera. Sekian, terima kasih.

Hi Tun,

Wonder if I may respond to Azhar85. Thank you, Tun.

Hi Azhar85,

Firstly, if you are not even truthful regarding the Singapore cabinet, twisting the fact to mislead people, how do you expect other people to take your opinion seriously? You practise deception and faked meritocracy, you are going to pay for it. Not the Chinese.

Take an example. There are two Malay guys. One with excellent result. Another is just an average. But both scored straight As. If a Malaysian Indian boss hires the average guy, after a while, he will find out the truth. The next time he hires people, he is going to shun all the Malays, including the innocent, talented Malay who turns up for the interview. In the long run, who will lose out?

Whether you like it or not, judging from the current trend, this century is going to be the century when everyone will want to be a friend of China and India. Be open minded, then the Chinese or Indian people will treat you as one of their own. If you make the Chinese or Indian people your enemies, then nobody will treat you seriously. They will treat the Singaporean seriously, but not you.

You have such a good advantage with so many benign Chinese and Indian people to serve as a bridge into the next century, but you prefer to treat your buddy Chinese or Indian as "bloody" Chinese or Indian. How "clever" are you, it is not easy to see.

BTW, the history grade is meaningless, for the history books are edited over time, by people with political interest. Only the brainwashed people will be proud of their history grades.

Salam Tun,

Hi Jo

You said, "Tun was responsible for the degradation of Malaysia, from a 3rd World Country to a 4th World Country (if there ever was one)"

No, there isn't a 4th world Country. There never was one. In fact Malaysia is classified by the World Bank as a upper-middle-income economy with a GDP per capita of about USD 15 000. That's equivalent to 2nd World status.

You also said, "Times have changed and Malaysia needs a change from 'Kampung' racial politics which came about 30 years ago"

If racial politics is 'kampung' politics, then the US is the largest kampung in the world followed by France, Germany, Denmark and several other European countries. US Republicans are still making fun of Obama with the latest insult being a picture of Obama as head of a family of chimps. European countries demand immigrants to integrate; we only ask for tolerance. Europe is being called the new Mississippi by quite a few social observers.

Yes, Malaysia needs change. You can start by getting out of your hole more often and learn about the world at large.

"All that is left in UMNO for the last 30 years are yes men"

If that were so, Dollah Badawi would still be PM and this country would be in a bigger mess.

By sinister on April 21, 2011 12:15 AM

When malays stand up for their rights, it is racist. If others stand up for their rights, it is democratic.

When majority of chinese towkeys filled up almost the top 10 richest Malaysian in the world, they are smart, hard working and honest. When one Malay filled up the top 30 list, they are corrupted and was given upper hand by Umno.

Are guys for real or blantly ignorance that where we are today is because the collabration between racial based political parties i.e. UMNO, MCA, MIC and others. No races are left behind like Tun's statement # 9. Everybody gots the same free education unless they are willing to pay more.

If we can co exist in this races country, then each of us needs to compromise. It is like newton's third law, our action influence others reaction (either the same or different direction).

By Azhar85 on April 20, 2011 11:56 PM

Oh come on, whatever we said about "hak orang Melayu", someone will said racism statement. Not Tun responsible for the "hak orang Melayu", it's already been written in the history book or constitution certificate before Malaysia were declared as "merdeka" country.

So if you are so clever, why not you guys riot a long time ago. We don't care, whatever rally you do, we will not demolish or change our constitution. If that were to happen, war will spark across the state. I can assure you.

Until what time you all will accept and respect our constitution and "hak orang Melayu". I can said if you all still cannot accept and respect our constitution and "hak orang Melayu", until the world come to an end, this races issue will not settle, and until that, whatever we said about constitution and "hak orang Melayu", you will label us as racist.

But you also didn't aware that you also racist because cannot accept and respect our constitution and "hak orang Melayu" in their home land.

In the name of paragraph 3, we promise that we will always protect our constitution and "hak orang Melayu" even the problem will not settle until the end of days...

Please be more rational when you trying to talk about meritocracy here.

<http://www.sabrizain.org/malaya/malays.htm>

Anthropologists trace the home of the Malay race to the northwestern part of Yunnan, in China. These tribal proto-Malays, or Jakun, were a seafaring people. They were once probably a people of coastal Borneo who expanded into Sumatra and the Malay Peninsula as a result of their trading and seafaring way of life. These sea-tribes, referred to by the Portuguese historian Godinho de Eredia as Saletes (Orang Selat, or People of the Straits), played a major part in the making of the great Malay empires of Malacca and Johor. The present-day Malays of the Peninsula and coasts of the Malay Archipelago are described anthropologically as deuterio-Malays and are the descendants of the tribal proto-Malays mixed with modern Indian, Thai, Arab and Chinese blood.

So even Malays are immigrants. So please do not insult people of "get F in the subject". The truly non-immigrants in Malaysia are the Orang Aslis and the Iban/Bidayuh/Kadazan/etc of Borneo which are among the poorest in the nation due to insufficient aid by the government.

By Timothy on April 20, 2011 10:32 PM

I agree that Singapore is particularly "iron fisted" in it's one party ruling. I do want to point out that, even though Malaysians feel that the government in SG is pro-Chinese, the representation of non-Chinese are evident in both the cabinet and MPs. Heck, even the President (NOT Prime Minister) is Indian. The government doesn't care about your race, aid is provided to all if you are needy, Scholarships are given to all if you are smart or underprivileged not because you are of any certain race.

On the other hand however, there is still discontent towards PAP by the Chinese in Singapore. Why is that true if you feel that PAP is pro-Chinese? Because the fundamental issues are still the same: The ruling party has too much power and there is a restriction in free speech. This issues reflect upon Sarawak, where Taib has been in power for too long, alleged corruption is rampant (which the government refuses to investigate) and freedom of speech is restricted. Major newspapers in Malaysia are 'supposedly' biased towards the BN and refuses to report both sides of the story.

I am still wondering... why is a vote for SUPP, or MCA for that matter, not considered racist, while a vote for DAP is?

Just in case many have forgotten, SUPP has a dark history. In the early 1960s, SUPP opposed the formation of the Federation of Malaysia. Facing deportation for alleged communist activities throughout the decade, several of its senior members moved across the border into Kalimantan where they took up arms against the Sarawak government.

And those people are now friends with UMNO. Is it then the reason why Tun speaks well of them? Self-benefits, rather than principles, seem to me to be the main consideration.

If anyone one wants to talk about racism, we first need to disband all race-based parties like UMNO, MCA, and MIC before they open their big mouth. How can a party which does not allow citizens from other races to participate in their party be talking about racism with a straight face, when the shit in their trousers stink so badly.

By bumiborneo on April 20, 2011 5:08 PM

rac·ism

—noun

a belief or doctrine that inherent differences among the various human races determine cultural or individual achievement, usually involving the idea that one's own race is superior and has the right to rule others.

(The word doesn't fit Dr. M at all but it does fit DAP. First of all, the DAP think they superior and decided to rules Malays.)

a policy, system of government, etc., based upon or fostering such a doctrine; discrimination.

(If our government was being discrimination, then why there is alot of Chinese School in Malaysia. Was it the Chinese make the school for Chinese.)

hatred or intolerance of another race or other races.

(Tun don't hold hatred or intolerance on other race, it is just that we hold distrustfulness towards you based on history of Communist did to not just Melayu but the bumiputera people in Sarawak as well.)

If bumiputera don't protect them self, we might turn out like the Aborigines or the Indians in North America.

If chinese accuse Malay being a racist, then why Malay has no issues with the indians, or the bidayuh or the iban, or the kadazan.. Weird huh..

By Azhar85 on April 20, 2011 5:03 PM

I would like to said "go to hell" with DAP voters that said DAP motive is to make a transition government. What transition did you want? want to be PM and change all the cabinet to be full of racist Chinese and "Omega" type of Malay's like Anwar Ibrahim? I said we will be at war if that happen.

PAS? nahh, they don't have a place if DAP govern. They will lose everything. If I'm Chinese, I would do the same to PAS voters and leaders. Sorry no place for PAS "ajaran sesat" and "extreme" in this country. We don't need anybody that have a knowledge at the same level of "Ayah Pin" in Malaysia. Sorry PAS, you pawned!!!

By bumiborneo on April 20, 2011 4:51 PM

If DAP want to rule Sarawak, I don't see it happen because the party in Malaysia is based on racial.

If DAP win majority votes from all the chinese in Sarawak, DAP is still a Chinese Democracy Party that want to fight for Chinese rights only which doesn't include other races.

Think about it, The Chinese support the Chinese, The Bumis support the Bumis. Even the DAP beat SUPP but still, BN in Sarawak still rule because it is a racial party.

One other thing, Sarawakian bumiputera don't like having other parties from other state (make it alone from other country like Singapore) to come in to Sarawak. Look at PKR, reason PKR lost the election is because majority bumiputera don't like other people from other state or country to but into their affairs. Simple as that.

Btw, even DAP ask SNAP to join forces, I dont think SNAP wouldn't join because they hold to their principle by protecting the dayak rights. Asking SNAP to join would be conflicting.

By Hana on April 20, 2011 4:42 PM

Salam Tun

From my perspective, most of the Chinese people have been enjoying comfortable life in Malaysia. However, it is normal for human beings to want more in life. They are "jealous" of what the Malays have been given in the affirmative actions taken by the Government. Due to this "jealousy virus", they also wanted to get the same treatment as the Malays but they will not be able to get it with the current government. When the opposition promised them that they will have this equal treatment if the opposition were selected to be the government, the people bought this idea and voted for the opposition.

The government should find ways on how to treat this sickness before it becomes epidemic. The systems that are in place and have been implemented for more than 50 years are no longer applicable in this 21st century. Since the economy disparity between the races is still huge, the Government should consider establishing a strong bumiputra foundation to help the Malays and bumiputras should this “equal treatment” be implemented. I believe the Malays will not be happy with this new concept but I think it is time for the Malay people in Malaysia to move forward and reduce their dependency on government assistance. The Government should inform the Malays and bumiputras that there will be some sort of organization that will look into their needs and help them. The implementation should be done phase by phase and with clear explanation to the people.

Thank you Tun....

By Vicmal on April 20, 2011 3:41 PM

Dear Tun,

Could you for once, dont use Chinese to unite Malay? Can you use your wisdom to help the Malay to progress without diverting their attention? Every race in this world has its own strength and weaknesses. By creating fear and hate, we are unable to look at ourselves clearly and conscientiously.

We need to understand ourselves in order to progress. But too many of us would like to blame others for our failure.

I am very sure that by creating differences will not solve the problem. Now you have different race to blame and divert attention. If one day other races no longer in Malaysia (either through migration or killed in racial riot), I think you have to start finding differences in the Malay race in order to divert their attention again, may be using the different origin (bugis, indian etc).

Once origin is no longer an issue (after many people are killed), you would need to divide between those having different interpretation of Islamic teaching (like Sunni and shite). Then after many people are killed, you manage to standardize the interpretation but you still need to find new differences among the people in order to divert their attention from the problem they are facing.

Therefore it would be never ending if you dont tackle the problem straight to the point.

By prof_ridcully on April 20, 2011 3:37 PM

Salam Hormat Tun,

Sometimes your detractors on this blog make me shake my head and wonder...

Somebody -- I can't see the nickname -- quoted the Malaysian Insider which quoted this very article of yours and pasted it here!

Forgive me for for being conceited Tun but what an Idiot [that's 'idiot' with a capital 'i'] he is. I can't believe it. Why must he quote a site that quoted what you wrote at this very blog when he could just quote directly? Is he too lazy to read your article in full and decided to read just the 'juicy parts' posted on Malaysian Insider? He also does not understand in what sense the word 'ostensibly' is used in this present article. What's wrong with this guy? Did he suffer a difficult birth or did he acquire his idiocy from reading and listening to rubbish all his life?

And he has the gall to call those who agree with you 'blind followers.'

No wonder Anwar Ibrahim still a following. There's still lots of people like the commentator above. Sheesh.

But, idiocy aside, I think the incoming Sarawak government should shift focus to the interior and help the people there reach a certain standard of living that's at par or close to par to those living in the cities and major towns of Sarawak. I'm Selangor-born but having spent several years working in that remarkable state -- mostly in the interior, I might add -- I think more needs to be done to help the wonderful people of the interior, especially the highlands. I've always had high regard for Sarawakians. I say this without being patronising: they're open, hospitable, honest, and mix well with others. They're not prone to think badly of others and are tremendously proud of their heritage. It's a pity the DAP has brought a brand of politics that is destroying the peaceful social fabric of Sarawak. The Orang Ulu especially are so forward-looking that even at a time when Ormag Ulu settlements like Ba'kelalan only had a grass airstrip, no electricity [campfires after sunset] or running water and the nearest town, Lawas, was seven days' walk away, they produced the state surgeon and several other professionals.

Things have changed for the better of course, but more can be done to help them modernise so that they and, more importantly, their children, can enjoy the facilities currently enjoyed by city folk -- better schooling, better healthcare, better infrastructure.

It's not easy of course -- Sarawak is a very large state, almost as large as Peninsular Malaysia, but in view of the finite resources that the state has, the priority should just be on the interior. They deserve it. And put politics aside -- Ba'kelalan should be given its fair share of the development allocation for Sarawak.

By malaysian on April 20, 2011 2:48 PM

Hi Jolly,

Very simple...kalau nak equality...All Chinese must always think and believe you are malaysian.

And off course, since you are malaysian, you must not speak chinese when in meetings and in public especially where other races are attending.

Since we are all Malaysian, we should close all Chinese schools and Tamil schools, we should only have sekolah kebangsaan (National schools)

We will only have 1 language (Malaysian language) and all other language cannot be used in public....like the street name (no need to be written in 3 language), Advertisement, Shops / Company signage all must be written in National Language.

Would you sacrifice all the above to have Malaysian Malaysia.

By MIRICHINESE on April 20, 2011 2:42 PM

Dear Tun

I am a Miri Chinese currently working in Singapore. I did not go back to vote during the recent Sarawak state election because of work commitment. I know many Sarawak Chinese are working in Singapore, KL, Johore, Australia, US and UK. They also did not go back to vote or are not even registered voters. I know these because many of my relatives, friends and classmates did not vote and are not interested to be registered as voters. I also always meet many Miri Chinese on Airasia planes whenever I fly back to Miri. I doubt many of them will also go back to vote because of our busy work schedule in a foreign country. Sometimes we are even required to be posted to China, Vietnam, Thailand and nowadays even Cambodia.

I do not know how many Sarawak Chinese are currently working overseas but I know the number must be quite big given that most of my classmates and relatives, young and old, are working overseas, some for Malaysian companies of Malay bosses.

I met Mr Anwar Ibrahim twice at Miri airport. There were large groups of supporters receiving him, most are Bumiputras. Once, Mr George Chan also arrived at the same time and he received loud jeers and boos from the crowd the moment he exited from the airport.

I think the Chinese are split about 50:50 between supporting BN and Pakatan in Miri. I also believe the report that the percentage swing towards Pakatan is greater among the Bumiputras than the Chinese.

Cheers!

To all Malaysian Malays...

The SG Chinese always want to confuse the people here especially the Malays that never go to SG. Please tell me SG Chinese, how many Malays work in a good position in SG? 1/10? What type of Malay? Is the Malay type is like Anwar Ibrahim? Can change attitude whenever he/she want? or already be influence by the American/Christian culture in SG? If true, then that type of Malay are very little in Malaysia. Our Malaysian Malay is honest and still loyal to Islam and state constitution.

Let face the truth, in SG there were no Malay represent in the SG state cabinet, therefore most of the work place in SG were running by the Chinese. In fact there were no constitution benefit for the Malay in the SG compare to Malaysia. Of course, if you were one of the Malay in SG, you will do anything to survive in your own country without need to care of your personal feeling toward other Malays. SG were rule by the Chinese maa. Republic state maa...if Malay SG didn't make a good relationship with the Chinese in SG , then they will create their own demise meh....

Please think Malaysian Malays and not to be confuse with SG Chinese statement about races relationship in SG. It's completely a motive relationship and not the honest one.

P/S: Can you tell me how many SG Malays work in a good position and stay on par with SG Chinese? 1:10? Is that the case, then that relationship is obviously a desperate one.

Dear Tun,

Thank you for your post.

I believe that many UMNO leaders agree with you. They wont show it in public for fear of being crucified by the opposition.

I also believe that many DAP leaders know this fact and try hard not to say it in public. They will deny, they will lie, pretend and make up false stories to accomplish their agenda... but that is not important.

What important is... we as BUMI now realize this threat. The landslide win by DAP will only unite us even more. Only those who are fooled by Anwar will deny this. And Anwar ohh Anwar... do you believe that you are still using DAP to win chinese vote? Come on, how stupid are you? All these while they were the one who is using you to gain popularity with bumi voters. But you dont care dont you? We all know you have your own personal agenda... (-.)

Tun, once again thank you for your post. May Allah bless you with a long life. We need you now more than ever. Truly, the pen is mightier than the sword... well... sometime.

Salam Tun,

UMNO-BN seharusnya memahami keadaan dan suasana berdasarkan kepada pilihanraya sarawak baru2 ini. Ke mana perginya undi2 dari kaum cina? Dah terang-terang mereka kini lebih bersifat perkauman berbanding lain-lain kaum. Jadi, BN terutamanya UMNO sepatutnya tidak perlu lagi mengharapka undi dari kaum cina. Pada pru-13 yg bakal tiba, undi mereka bkn kepada MCA atau GERAKAN sebaliknya sama seperti yang berlaku pada pilihanraya sarawak baru-baru ini.

Jika BN masih lagi percaya kepada kata-kata dan jaminan daripada MCA mahupun GERAKAN dan berkemungkinan MIC juga sedemikian, maka tidak hairan jika banyak lagi negeri yang akan tumbang kepada pembangkang terutamanya DAP. Bahkan tidak terkejut jika Putrajaya juga diterajui oleh kaum cina.

Saya tidak nampak apa kebaikan yang dilakukan oleh KDN terutamanya menteri yang banyak memberikan taraf kewarganegaraan kepada kaum cina. Kita bukannya tahu adakah mereka betul-betul berada di sini setelah sekian lama. Kita tidak pakar untuk mengesahkan mereka cina yang baru datang atau yang telah lama datang tau sememangnya betul-betul berada di sini sejak sekian lama. Langsung tidak dapat dibuktikan.

Begitu juga dengan taraf kewarganegaraan yang diberikan kepada kaum india. Sedangkan kita tahu, ramai orang-orang india yang baru datang dari india tidak dapat dijejaki. Begitu juga dengan kaum cina. Dan orang-orang inilah yang telah KDN berikan taraf kewarganegaraan.

Saya mempunyai seorang kenalan juruterbang MAS, sama ada benar atau tidak, waulahhualam, menurutnya, orang-orang india yang baru sahaja turun dari kapal terbang di KLIA, terus di isi borang yang seolah-olah seperti borang pemberian taraf kewarganegaraan. Jika ini betul-betul berlaku, tidak lama lagi, kita (melayu) akan mengulangi zaman seperti kita di jajah oleh british bahkan mungkin lebih teruk lagi.

Maaf Tun jika apa yang saya katakan keterlaluan.

Ironically, when Mr. Mahathir when you've mentioned the Malaysian Chinese rejected multi-racialism.

Then tell it to yourself and also many, being supportive of Perkasa also in against Multi-racialism. By setting only a races and supreme ego of race.

Some argues Malaysian Chinese/Indians as kaum pendatang. What is then to those Pakis/Banglas/Indons that is also pendatang.

Who is more pendatang, when in Sarawak, everyone was there longer than any Peninsular Malaysian can say it. Did the Dayaks/Melanaus/Iban/Ulu and more bother about it?

So, what is wrong when a person which has greater mindset, transparent thinking and direct responsive person voted against BN. Honestly BN, had not been a striking success since 1998 onwards.

Our stocks plummeted. Our inflation increased. Our education downgraded. Our economy do not interest investors. NEP failed every year, yet what was poured in, return is near zero. Incapable & mediocre degrees was mass-produced. Corruptio reign supreme with Nepotic/Crony style management.

Only those dependent onto such policies, relies onto this policies. Honestly, urbanites of Sarawak do not owe any allegiance to BN, as we know, our policies don't support smart immigrant people.

Actually, no loss to Urbanites of Sarawak, with or without BN, they still loss their allocation every year.

If swift action on Supremist like Perkasa, MACC deaths, Khir toyo and many more, at least that is the decent things to do.

Ignoring your own fault and to pick on some one, which also minorities is equal towards marginalization of minorities basic rights to choose.

The racists and bigots among you should take note :

1)Brain drain

Malaysia's 2020 vision could miss its mark because we have a serious brain drain. Talent Coporation (<http://www.talentcorp.com.my/>), set up by the government to lure back the Malaysian disapora, majority of whom are non-Malays, has been a dismal failure. In today's world, talent capital powers the innovation of a country's economy. If the discriminatory/unjust policies linger on, more unappreciated talented professionals are going to leave Malaysia.

The economic structure anomalies have to be fixed to reflect the contemporary borderless economy paradigm. This entails doing away with one-sided and unjust laws such as preferential for one race and economic quota. If we don't reform, we shall fall behind other emerging countries/economies.

2)Our educational institutions rankings/standard are plunging

Have you seen reports on graduates who can't even hold a simple English conversation?

Is it fair if someone who has good scores is deprived of further education if another person gets to a college with average marks?

The best way to move forward is to adopt a merit-based system that rewards talented people; having a race-based educational policy will put our country down. This remark relates to the first point.

3)Our economy is heading south

It's a well published and known fact that our GDP once roared past economic giants like South Korea and Singapore. Today, once backward economies like Vietnam and Phillipines are surely but catching up with us.

Recently, Singapore's total GDP (USD239 billion) was just a whisker off from Malaysia's (USD 238 billion).

Have you wondered how could a small dot with no natural resources is almost rivalling our total GDP?

We're in this predicament because of mismanagment, skewed policies, and unbridled corruption.

We must do away with racial based policies if we're to stay ahead.

4)BN's propaganda pitting Malays versus non-Malays

BN is running a hideous propanganda machinery to drive a wedge between Malays and non-Malays. The powers-that-be would like the status quo to remain and to shore up support, they're putting fears into people via racial sentiments. We must be conscious of that fact; we must pride ourselves as Malaysians.

So the Government is not serious about improving the position of the Malays. It serves the BN to keep the Malays down and out. Then the Malays can go to the Government for crumbs. This way the ruling elites get to keep the whole loaf to themselves. Go and visit Indonesia. This is what is happening over there. It is happening over here too.

Does Malaysia have a problem? yes the Malays are not happy, the Chinese are not happy and the Indians are not happy. They spoke out at the March 2008 polls and hope things will change for the better, now they have some oppositions who promised change. The Malays are being duped by their corrupted leaders by using the religion and race cards, the Chinese and Indians are being marginalised by the ruling elites. Let us all Malaysians wake up and fight the corrupt system for the benefit of everyone. Let us all unite and stand together and change the system for once and for all.

regards,
Malaysian sewerRat

To Pak Pandir

I heard enough of your stupid accusation of BN government. Do you don't have any idea anymore or you're so stupid enough to repeatable accuse for every comment that you publish here. I get boring to read your comment that repeat the same accusation from time to time.

"CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER". "Pi mai pi mai tang tu, hg takdak idea ka, Pak Pandiaq oii, nama pun Pak Pandir, patut la idea pun macam Pak Pandir".

Back to English. If you said that the BN government is practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER", then I can say the same to PR. Look at 3 state that PR govern. Do they not practic the same stupid idea of yours? Of course they do.

In Penang, DAP practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when they start to expel Malays hawker from doing their business as a reason they don't have MPPP permission to do the business but for the chinese hawker, they permit it. They also practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when they start to expel the Indian from their village although the Indian didn't want to leave their village.

In Kedah, PAS practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when they start to do illegal lumber jack (pembalakan haram) for their profit with a reason to give more richness to Kedah state but in the end there's nothing richness in Kedah, only dirt, village and low cost town for the people's there. Today hot news, PAS up the land tax 10 times higher than usual in Kedah. Why need to spike the land tax so high although PAS said Kedah already rich with lumber jack profit? Is that not the proof of your lovely stupid accusation to the BN, the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER". "Hang bagitau aku sikit Pak Pandir".

In Selangor, PKR (Parti Omega) practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when they start to sell sand to other country and the organization that was responsible for that is non other than Selangor Exco itself. Then I heard about SELCAT that not to do their work in a fair way. Is that the same as abandon "hak rakyat" and the same with your stupid accusation, "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER"? Of course it's the same.

PAP in SG practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when they don't put any Malays in their cabinet although they still have a Malays in their country, but it's their government right? who care's?

Than Pak Pandir, you tell me which government in the world that not practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER". "Ayah Pin" government?
"Ayah Pin" government also practic the "CORRUPTION AND MISUSE OF POWER" when he said he have "Kerajaan Langit" to his followers, but he cannot bring them to the sky with his effort. Try to think Pak Pandir before you start accuse without thinking.

Salam to Tun and fellow Malaysians,

I have been staying in Sarawak for the past decade, and what I can say is since 10 years the trend of multicultural, multiracial harmony in Sarawak has been on a steady decline, very sad indeed. The local bumis are very hardworking folks, loyal, obedient, naive but poorly represented and assisted. They own many NCR (in Semenanjung it's called Malay reserved land) but with no land grant therefore they get cheated from more 'industrialised minded' counterparts more often by a small sum of money and other small 'rewards'. The trouble is most of the land have no land title due to it's vastness, location or geographical factor. I really lime to see the government either state or federal to get their foot down and help these folks in developing their land and turn it to farmlands, there are very good farmers and the land is fertile, it's the answer for the country's food crises let ne tell you that. All that they need is assistance and guide (which I find lacking), they'll make more income than they can imagine and in turn most of our food are produced locally. I seriously think that it's time they get rewarded fkr their loyalty which will be appreciated. On the other hand the Sarawakian chinese are a very lucky lot, even more lucky than West Malaysian malays I dare say- they literally control the state economy, farming industry, political power(when SUPP was favoured), most of them are chinese educated (I think there's more chinese school here than anywhere else in the country). I do not know what are really the complaints? Not happy with CM staying too long? Well who isn't? NCR land got rob? But it's NCR land, the kampung folks are the one who should be angry. These are the issues brought by DAP, hatred towards CM and NCR land throughout the campaign, nothing is mentioned on how to help the community or the state, what is their longterm planning to improve the economy, nothing was mentioned.... What they achieve is create hatred, divide and conquer.

I really hope the government really push the bumis to a higher level of economical and education level.

Agi idup agi ngelaban!

Salam YBhg Tun...

Saya bersetuju dengan YBhg Tun berkaitan dengan DAP ini. Inilah yang berlaku apabila mereka menang pada PRU 1969 dengan menggunakan pendekatan rasis/perkauman sehingga berlakunya peristiwa 13 Mei 1969. Adakah kita mahu peristiwa ini berlaku kembali?... Adakah DAP mahu peristiwa yang diterajui mereka dahulu itu berlulang lagi di negara kita?.... Mari kita lihat kembali apa yang berlaku pada 13 Mei 1969 seperti dicatit di bawah:

Isu perkauman dalam pilihan raya 1969

Semasa kempen Pilihan Raya 1969, calon-calon pilihan raya serta ahli-ahli politik dari kalangan parti pembangkang, telah membangkitkan soal-soal Bangsa Malaysia berkaitan dengan Bahasa Kebangsaan (Bahasa Melayu), kedudukan istimewa orang Melayu sebagai (Bumiputera) dan hak kerakyatan orang bukan Melayu. Hal ini telah memberi kesempatan kepada ahli-ahli politik yang ingin mendapatkan faedah dalam pilihanraya.

Pada pilihanraya umum 1969 Parti Perikatan yang dianggotai oleh (UMNO-MCA-MIC) telah gagal memperolehi majoriti 2/3 diparlimen, walaupun masih berjaya membentuk kerajaan persekutuan. Hal ini disifatkan oleh parti pembangkang sebagai satu kemenangan yang besar buat mereka. Jumlah kerusi yang dimenangnya dalam Dewan Rakyat (Parlimen) telah menurun daripada 89 kerusi pada tahun 1964 kepada 66 kerusi pada tahun 1969.

Parti Gerakan Rakyat Malaysia (Gerakan), Parti Tindakan Demokratik (DAP) dan Parti Progresif Rakyat (PPP) menang 25 buah kerusi dalam Dewan Rakyat manakala PAS menang 12 kerusi.

Pihak pembangkang yang memperoleh pencapaian gemilang dalam pilihanraya telah meraikan kemenangan mereka pada 11 Mei 1969. Perarakan tersebut sebenarnya tidak bermotif untuk menimbulkan isu perkauman. Malah terdapat segelintir pengikut perarakan (identiti mereka tidak dapat diketahui) telah mengeluarkan slogan-slogan sensitif berkenaan isu perkauman semasa mengadakan perarakan di jalan-jalan raya di sekitar Kuala Lumpur. Perarakan turut dijalankan pada 12 Mei 1969 di mana kaum Cina berarak menerusi kawasan Melayu, melontar penghinaan sehingga mendorong kepada kejadian tersebut.[1]. Pihak pembangkang yang sebahagian besar darinya kaum Cina dari Democratic Action Party dan Gerakan yang menang, mendapatkan permit polis bagi perarakan kemenangan melalui jalan yang ditetapkan di Kuala Lumpur. Bagaimanapun perarakan melencong dari laluan yang ditetapkan dan melalui kawasan Melayu Kampung Baru, menyorak penduduk di situ.[2] Sesetengah penunjuk perasaan membawa penyapu, kemudiannya dikatakan sebagai simbol menyapu keluar orang Melayu dari Kuala Lumpur, sementara yang lain meneriak slogan mengenai tengelamnya kapal Perikatan — the coalition's logo.[3] Ia berlarutan hingga ke 13 Mei 1969 sebelum Parti Gerakan mengeluarkan kenyataan meminta maaf pada 13 Mei di atas kelakuan penyokong mereka. Menteri besar Selangor, Dato' Harun Idris telah mengumumkan bahawa perarakan balas meraikan kemenangan UMNO akan dijalankan pada pukul 7.30 malam, 13 Mei 1969. [sunting] Pembangkang meraikan kemenangan Peristiwa ini berlaku berikutan pengumuman keputusan Pilihanraya Umum pada 10 Mei 1969.

Dr. Tan Chee Khoo dari parti Gerakan telah menang besar di kawasan Batu, Selangor. Beliau minta kebenaran polis untuk berarak meraikan kemenangan parti tersebut di Selangor yang menyaksikan 50:50 di Selangor. Perarakan tersebut menyebabkan kesesakan jalan raya di sekitar Kuala Lumpur. Perarakan hingga ke Jalan Campbell dan Jalan Hale dan menuju ke Kampung Baru. Sedangkan di Kampung Baru, diduduki lebih 30,000 orang Melayu yang menjadi kubu UMNO, berasa terancam dengan kemenangan pihak pembangkang. Di sini letaknya rumah Menteri Besar Selangor ketika itu, Dato' Harun Idris.

Dikatakan kaum Cina yang menang telah berarak dengan mengikat penyapu kepada kenderaan mereka sebagai lambang kemenangan mereka menyapu bersih kerusi sambil melaungkan slogan.

Ada pula pendapat yang mengatakan penyapu tersebut sebagai lambang mereka akan menyapu ('menyingkir') orang-orang Melayu ke laut. Dalam masyarakat Melayu, penyapu mempunyai konotasi yang negatif (sial). Ada yang mencaci dan meludah dari atas lori ke arah orang Melayu di tepi-tepi jalan.

Akibat daripada rusuhan maut tersebut, kesesakan jalanraya turut berlaku.

Di Jinjang, Kepong, kematian seorang Cina akibat sakit tua diarak sepanjang jalan dengan kebenaran polis. Namun perarakan kematian bertukar menjadi perarakan kemenangan pilihan raya dengan menghina Melayu.

Pada hari Selasa 13 Mei, Yeoh Tech Chye selaku Presiden Gerakan memohon maaf di atas ketelanjuran ahli-ahlinya melakukan kebiadapan semasa perarakan. Yeoh menang besar di kawasan Bukit Bintang, Kuala Lumpur. Tapi permohonan maaf sudah terlambat.
[sunting] Rumah Menteri Besar Selangor

UMNO telah mengadakan perarakan balas pada pagi 13 Mei 1969 yang mengakibatkan terjadinya peristiwa ini. Hal ini adalah kerana perasaan emosi yang tinggi dan kurangnya kawalan dari kedua-dua pihak. Perarakan ini tidak dirancang.

Orang Melayu berkumpul di rumah Menteri Besar Selangor di Jalan Raja Muda Abdul Aziz di Kampung Baru, Kuala Lumpur. Dato' Harun Idris selaku Menteri Besar Selangor ketika itu cuba mententeramkan keadaan. Rupa-rupanya, mereka yang berkumpul telah membawa senjata pedang dan parang panjang dan hanya menunggu arahan daripada Dato' Harun Idris untuk mengamuk. [perlu rujukan]

Ketika berkumpul, cerita-cerita tentang kebiadapan ahli parti Gerakan tersebar dan meluap-luap. Jam 3.00 petang datang berita kejadian pembunuhan orang Melayu di Setapak, hanya dua kilometer dari rumah Menteri Besar Selangor. Terdapat cerita-cerita lain mengenai seorang wanita mengandung dibunuh dan kandungannya dikeluarkan dari perut dengan menggunakan besi penggantung daging babi. Sebelum menghembuskan nafas terakhir wanita tersebut sempat memasukkan semula janin yang terkeluar itu ke dalam perutnya.

Cerita-cerita seperti ini yang tidak diketahui sama ada benar atau tidak telah menyemarakkan lagi api permusuhan di antara Melayu dan Cina. Rusuhan besar terjadi. Perintah darurat dikeluarkan, semua orang tidak dibenarkan keluar dari rumah. Pasukan polis berkawal di sekitar Kuala Lumpur. Tentera dari Rejimen Renjer lebih awal dikerahkan menjaga keselamatan sekitar Kuala Lumpur.

Pasukan FRU di keluarkan dari Kampung Baru dan askar dari Rejimen Renjer ambil alih. Malangnya pasukan ini terdiri dari orang-orang Melayu, Iban, Cina, India, Sikh, Gurkha dan lain-lain turut menembak orang-orang Melayu dan ini menyebabkan kemarahan orang Melayu semakin meluap-luap. Menurut laporan, ketua pasukan Rejimen Renjer dikatakan berbangsa Cina.

Pemuda-pemuda Melayu yang mempertahankan Kampung Baru dan yang lain-lain mengamuk merasakan diri mereka terkepung antara orang Cina dengan askar Rejimen Renjer. Beberapa das turut ditujukan ke arah rumah Menteri Besar Selangor.

Akhirnya Regimen Renjer dikeluarkan dan digantikan dengan Askar Melayu. Beberapa bangunan rumah kedai di sekitar Kampung Baru, Jalan Tuanku Abdul Rahman masih terus terbakar. Pentadbiran diambil-alih oleh Askar Melayu. Malangnya beberapa askar Askar Melayu turut masuk ke kedai-kedai emas Cina dan mengambil harta benda di sana. Malah ada askar melayu yang menembak ke atas rumah kedai orang Cina kerana kononnya mereka telah membaling botol ke arah askar melayu tersebut. Ada yang berkata askar tersebut berpakaian preman.

Ramai orang Cina dibunuh dan dicampakkan ke dalam lombong bijih timah di Sungai Klang berhampiran lorong Tiong Nam, Chow Kit. Konon ada rakaman televisyen oleh pemberita dari BBC dan Australia, beberapa pemuda Cina ditangkap, dibariskan di tepi lombong dan dibunuh. Bagaimanapun, sehingga sekarang, tiada bukti yang diedarkan mengenai rakaman ini.

Pemuda-pemuda Cina telah bertindak mengepung Panggung Odeon, di Jalan Tuanku Abdul Rahman, Kuala Lumpur. Beberapa iklan disiarkan dalam bahasa Cina di skrin pawagam menyuruh penonton dari kalangan Cina keluar dari panggung. Penonton Melayu di panggung tersebut langsung tidak tahu membaca tulisan bahasa Cina. Kesan daripada itu, pemuda-pemuda Cina tersebut telah menyerbu masuk ke dalam panggung dan menyerang dan menyembelih penonton yang ada dan membakar pawagam tersebut. Hampir semua penonton di dalam panggung tersebut mati di dalam keadaan yang sangat mengerikan. Ini termasuklah dua orang Askar Melayu yang tinggal di Sungai Ramal, Kajang. Manakala di pasar pula askar melayu telah menembak orang Cina yang melanggar perintah berkurung dengan kereta perisai mereka. Di lebuh raya persekutuan pula, penduduk melayu Kampung Kerinchi telah membuang pasu di atas lebuh raya tersebut dan mengakibatkan kesesakan lalulintas dan kemalangan. Pemilik kereta berbangsa Cina ditetak dan dibunuh. Seluruh keluarga peniaga Cina yang menjual bunga berdekatan habis dibunuh. Di lapangan terbang Sungai Besi waktu itu yang merupakan lapangan terbang antarabangsa, askar melayu telah menembak orang Cina yang baru balik dari luar negeri dengan tanggapan bahawa mereka melanggar perintah berkurung.

Seorang polis bernama Rahim yang tinggal di Kuala Lumpur yang turut menonton wayang di Odeon terkena tetakan di kepala dan berpura-pura mati. Beliau masih hidup hingga sekarang. Sementara Mohd Radzi mengalami pengalaman yang sama di Pawagam Federal, Jalan Chow kit, Kuala Lumpur ketika menonton filem The Came To Rob Las Vegas arahan antonio Isasi Isasmendi. Akibat daripada tindakan sebegini, orang-orang Melayu mulai bertindak balas, dan dikatakan kepala orang Cina yang dibunuh diletakkan di atas pagar.

Abdul Rafai Alias bersama rakan-rakannya dari Semenyih yang datang ke Kuala Lumpur turut terperangkap dan terkejut dengan rusuhan kaum yang tidak disangka-sangka pada 13 Mei itu. Beliau turut melangkah-langkah mayat mereka yang telah terbunuh di atas jalan.

Khabar angin mengatakan Tentera Sabil dari Sungai Manik hendak datang ke Kampung Baru tetapi tersekat. Begitu juga dengan Tentera Selempang Merah dari Muar dan Batu Pahat tersekat dan disekat oleh polis di Balai Polis Kajang dan Cheras.

Ada 4 kiyai di sekitar Kampung Baru mengedarkan air jampi dan tangkal penebat, iaitu ilmu kebal dengan harga yang agak mahal. Sesiapa yang memakainya menjadi kebal dan boleh terbang. Apa yang pasti, Askar Melayu juga telah menyelamatkan orang Melayu di Kampung Baru ketika itu. Mungkin juga ramai yang pernah mendengar kisah parang terbang yang terbang di Kampung Cheras Baru dan penggal kepala orang Cina.

Namun rusuhan kaum tidak terjadi di Kelantan, Terengganu dan Pahang. Di Perak, Kedah, Pulau Pinang serta Perlis tiada sebarang pergaduhan. Negeri Johor dan Negeri Sembilan juga tidak terjadi apa-apa kerana telah diberi amaran oleh PKM. Cuma ada sedikit kekecohan di Melaka. Di Betong ada tembakan dilepaskan oleh PKM dan mereka memberi amaran jika askar melayu menembak orang cina, mereka akan memberi senjata api kepada orang cina.

Ada yang menyifatkan pergaduhan ini sebenarnya adalah pergaduhan "politik" Datuk Harun dengan sokongan Tun Razak yang tidak berpuas hati dengan Tunku Abdul Rahman bukannya perkauman kerana pemimpin cina Parti Perikatan seperti, Tan Siew Sin, Ong Yoke Lin telah "lari" bersama dengan Tunku Abdul Rahman ke Cameron Highlands. Sebelum peristiwa itu masyarakat Melayu dan Cina boleh hidup dalam keadaan yang harmoni. Seperti dinyatakan pergaduhan tidak berlaku di negeri seperti Kelantan, Pahang dan Kedah. Jika ia merupakan isu perkauman, pastinya pada hari itu orang cina dan melayu akan berbunuhan sesama sendiri di negeri tersebut seperti di selatan thai.

Kalangan orang melayu mempunyai pandangan yang negatif terhadap kaum cina yang dilihat sebagai tidak mengenang budi dengan taraf kerakyatan yang diberikan pada mereka pasca kemerdekaan. Persepsi negatif masyarakat Melayu terhadap kaum Cina juga berlaku kerana orang Cina merupakan majoriti menganggotai pasukan Bintang Tiga yang ingin menjadikan negara ini sebagai negara komunis berpaksikan negara komunis China.

Pada tahun 2007, satu buku — May 13: Declassified Documents on the Malaysian Riots of 1969 yang ditulis oleh akademik, bekas ahli Democratic Action Party, dan bekas ahli parlimen Kua Kia Soong — telah diterbitkan oleh Suaram. Berdasarkan dokumen yang baru 'declassified' di pejabat maklumat awam London, buku tersebut mengatakan bahawa rusuhan tersebut bukannya disebabkan parti pembangkang sepertimana cerita rasmi yang diberikan, tetapi rusuhan tersebut dimulakan oleh "ascendent state capitalist class" di UMNO sebagai 'coup d'etat' untuk menumbangkan Tunku Abdul Rahman.

Angka rasmi menunjukkan 196 mati, 439 cedera, 39 hilang dan 9,143 ditahan. 211 kenderaan musnah. Tapi ramai telah menganggar ramai lagi dibunuh. Sebuah thesis PhD. daripada Universiti California, Berkeley menganggar seramai 20,000 orang hilang nyawa dalam peristiwa 13 Mei.

Statistik tidak rasmi jumlah kematian:

* Melayu : 86 orang

* Cina : 342 orang

* Lain-lain : 3 orang

Statistik tersebut tidak begitu tepat kerana daripada kacamata orang ramai yang menjadi saksi, mereka melihat berderet-deret lori membawa mayat yang tidak sempurna ke balai polis Jalan Travers waktu itu.

Ketika itu (13 Mei 1969), Tunku Abdul Rahman baru pulang dari Alor Star meraikan kemenangan beliau di sana.

6.45 petang Encik Mansor selaku Ketua Polis Trafik Kuala Lumpur memaklumkan kejadian pembunuhan kepada Tunku Abdul Rahman. Darurat diisytiharkan pada jam 7.00 malam 13 Mei 1969.

Negara diisytiharkan darurat pada malam 16 Mei 1969. Dengan pengistiharan ini, Perlembagaan Persekutuan telah digantung. Negara diperintah secara terus oleh Yang DiPertuan Agong dibawah undang-undang tentera. Dalam pada itu, Majlis Gerakan Negara (Mageran) telah dibentuk. Tunku Abdul Rahman telah menarik diri dari mengetuai majlis tersebut. Tempat beliau telah digantikan oleh Timbalan Perdana Menteri Tun Abdul Razak. Berikutan itu, Parlimen juga digantung.

Sepanjang tempoh darurat, Mageran telah melakukan pelbagai tindakan untuk mencari punca dan penyelesaian agar tragedi tersebut tidak berulang. Antara tindakan yang diambil ialah membentuk satu Rukun Negara bagi meningkatkan kefahaman rakyat tentang perlembagaan negara. Turut dilakukan ialah melancarkan Dasar Ekonomi Baru untuk menghapuskan pengenalan kaum dengan satu aktiviti ekonomi dan membasmi kemiskinan tegar dan membentuk Barisan Nasional yang bersifat sebagai sebuah kerajaan perpaduan. Hampir kesemua parti yang bertanding pada 1969 telah menyertai BN kecuali DAP dan PAS.

To Jolly

That why I said other races must respect The Malays and The Pribumi here because this is our land. We don't care you can speak fluent English or not but you must remember what country this is. This is not America or European that we're talking about. This is Malaysia. You must know where you came from. Do you skip you historical class and get F in the subject? Please be more rational when you trying to talk about meritocracy here. Then if you want to compare our politics in other country, I can take SG as an example. Do they put any Malays in their country cabinet? no right. Then we Malaysia can do the same maa. All country have their kouta for their residence in every aspect. Even gender has a kouta. Then it's the same for education department maa..try to think before talk meh....

Good morning Ayahanda Tun,

1. Comment By zulkiflee_Arif on April 19, 2011 9:59 PM

2. Why Malays are PERCEIVED failures in Tanah Melayu again and again?

3. They like to talk about the past glory and rubbish (look at how they treat Anwar, we will know), history pun blurred and assumed that all Malays are slow, blind and weak like him.

4. They perceived as failures because they have military imperialist mentality who thinks using violence to fight violence is the best way out, and military business is damN tricky and not straight forward like objective questions of circling a, b, c, d atau e only.

5. Here they go again by jumping into the conclusion that Malaysia belongs to him only.

6. Kalau macam tu, change Malaysia back to Malaya, stop all the developments and make Malays the race that is weak who do not even believe that they can develop and become more independent to colonisation by controlling the economy.

7. Yes, PM Najib has make some mistakes, but these mistakes can be rectified if he really believes that he is the PM for the people.

8. He is not here to become a champion of his own race and without supports from the people, Malaysia will go to the hands of Mad people who are insentisitive to rakyat woes regardless of race and religion.

9. CM Mat Taib and Dr George Chan have worked so hard for Bakun daM, and when things turned ugly due to insensitiveness of USA Presidents and politicians of cakap tak serupa bikin, then all US Presidents will not be able to become the world role model of democracy and liberty because they are only interested in politics and wars, they do not know what is Business and Best Deal Will Travel, even the Amerians do not support their Presidents.

10. Ayam2 dalam kandang KJ@DAP/PAS/PKR pun tak dapat bela, nak hantam Helang kita by paying the tigers with peanuts and expect them to perform King Kong stunt in Putrajaya; and CM Mat Taib has learned by jogging off the red carpet placed by his pembodek2 because he knows those who bodek him are those who are interested only in his wealth and power, not the future of the Sarawakians, and I respect his courage, vision, principle, strength, goodness and weakness because he is willing to take full responsibility of what he has done for Sarawak.

11. Malaysia Federal Government should focus on how to make Bakun daM the 3rd largest Hydro Energy in the world before Vitenam.

12. If Federal Government still think that they are here to champion the UMNO political power only just because DAP claimed that CM Mat Taib and Dr George Chan are corrupted, then they should let CM to decide the development and industrialization direction that he has set for Sarawak since 1960's.

13. Why PM initiated 1 Malaysia concept and bought submarines in the first place?

14. There must be solid reasons why he bought the submarines after 1997 financial crisis.

15. Allah has planned the destiny for Malaysia, undersea submarine cabling to transform Bakun daM hydro-energy into Pahang and Johor can be the solution for another 50 to 100 years of development due to devastating global warming crisis.

16. Malaysia, as Islamic Country, Indonesia has the largest Muslims controlled by Militants because their Sultans were erased from the map of Indonesia due to national debts to USA, in SEA, is slightly below the 'ruler of Khatulistiwa' (ejaan might be wrong) because we do not need fuel to survive winter, we should 'jual at world market rate kepada manusia yang lebih memerlukan minyak untuk memanaskan tubuh mereka untuk hidup to save more lives, according to Geologist Studies, and Premier China Mr Wen Jia-bao, a Geologist is here to visit Malaysia in April 27 and 28, 2011.

17. If the daM is not utilize for industrialization, sooner or later, the tropical and sand of thick forest in Sarawak will be 'botakkan' dan 'lubangkan' for economic activities that will definitely allow sea water increased and lost of sovereign land of Malaysia.

18. Zuklifi, when you are blinded by your KJ Self-SyioK race supremacy who knows nothing about politics and economics, go ahead lah, no one is stopping you, and Singaporean Malays are definitely here to stay because they can tell Zukifli that they are better than u in terms of freedom and human rights of 'being yourself' because they will tell US that people with the mentality of KJ is going to kill our motherland and green; when you put yourself in the shoes of Jake Sully, the OKU American twin in Avatar who hates PRIVITISATION of WMD weapons controlled by Militants.

19. Suka tak suka, Malaysia has set the name in world map when both Malay leaders, Anwar and Najib brought and believe in the the political ideology from USA which has nothing to do with Mat Taib, PBB CM Bumiputra Melayu, Sarawak, and Dr George Chan, SUPP Bumiputra Cina, Sarawak.

20. To err is human, to correct is human too.

21. To flip flop lagi or to continue the Bakun daM, PM should listen to his own heart and someone has to do it.

22. We edi have one weak and flip flop Pak Lah who do not believe in himself, we definitely do not want PM to become another Pak Lah.

23. How corruption is defined, even G7 also cannot answer that, why waste time on defining corruption?

24. Corruption is defined is our heart as 'Siapa Makan Cili, Siapa Rasa Pedas, Mavericks or Hypocrites they will be bankrupted by the Judge of the case through Common Case Law and Tuhan.

25. 1 Malaysia or Malaysian Malaysia, concepts adalah sama.

26. Kalau kaum Malay takut development, then, don't back up PM Najib's 1 Malaysia by supporting PAS or PKR, atau DAP, itu saja.

27. If Singaporean Malays like to become Malaysian again, they will return.

28. If they don't, means they have better destinations in their mind.

29. Y bermulut jahat on other people's affairs when you yourself also like democracy?

30. Zukifli faham apakah itu democracy?

31. Democracy Political Ideology is 1 Vote 1 Rakyat.

32. Apabila, Cina tak vote UMNO, immediately you suggest MIC is here to help KJ, what happened to Datuk Sosilawati and the 3 Malays who were murdered and burnt?

33. Base on the Sarawak registered votes, it's less than 3% of the Sarawakian came out to vote, hence, 97% of the empty or full glass today can be filled up by the LATEST trend and concept of Warren Buffet (WB), 'BE Greedy When People Are Fearful, Be Fearful When People are Greedy, is as simple as that, you decide, if cannot, let the experienced experts to decide lah.

34. dpp champions 1 Human Race, the TuaCheng and TunTuah Human Race, so be it, but when they cannot tahan, they will get out from the kitchens of Malaysia and continue because they are afraid of being original selves.

35. People like them likes democracy dressing only because to his 1 Human Race/Competition, he is afraid to take responsibility of what he had done, so why bother because no matter side he takes, they will loose on the Median Point.

36. We should let Mad goD or Anjing gilA deal with them, why should we bother since all of us are 'all right' and shaped by a 'ruler' in our heart.

37. Dear KJ, DAP stands for Democratic Action Party, the rocket (outdated edi because today we have Space Shuttle) and PAP stands for People Action Party, the Thunder, the mother nature, you know?

38. UMNO stands for Kris, MCA stands for Kuning untuk Kedaulatan Bintang, PAS stands for Full Moon, bukan National Moon of Kuning untuk Kedaulatan Bulan Sabit, in this world.

39. PKR, MIC and PPP in Peninsula stand for what, up to them to decide lah since Selangor has the highest nation debt ratio % in the whole country what.

40. Why they ban 1Email Malaysia, a collobartion of Berhad and Microsoft when our Malaysian Corporation is willing to come up with banking funding by issuing bond to participate the Merchant Partnership with 1 Malaysia, only Tuhan knows wat are in the mind lah?

41. Like we say, they are the lost soul of 1 Human Race, sendiri pun tak faham apakah itu 1 Malaysia, so be it, so be it because 1 Malaysia has at least 90% of the people who are not connected with Government Programme since Merdeka and Malaysia Day on September 16th, 2010.

42. This is Malaysia, ini bukan Amerika SYARIKAT, faham ke, Melayu Oh Melayu, Cina Oh Cina, India Oh India, Malaysian Oh Malaysian, 1 Malaysian Oh 1 Malaysian, Kaum Minoriti Oh Kaum Minoriti; and who know may be your children will be the CEO in 1Malaysia Email one day.

43. To be or not to be, kucing gemuk, kucing kurus, kucing putih, kucing brown, kucing grey atau putih hitam, it does not matter as long as they can catch rats.

44. BNM cannot issue print RM, BNM can create and issue Sukuk and Conventional Bonds to tap investors' portfolios.

45. GE13th will be fix on September 16, 2011 because Malaysia has enough of dumb Democracy and Liberty during Penang punya Uncle Lah's Prime Minister-ship, and Peninsula Malaysia and Sarawak are brothers tak kira kaum atau religion.

Good day Ayahanda Tun.

saya sokong & nak ulang balik apa yang Tun Tuah cakap...

Tun Tuah quote "AKU BOLEH HAPUSKAN HAK KETUANAN MELAYU AKU.. TAK DE HAL TAPI KAUM KAUM LAIN YANG BISING TU TOLONG LUCUTKAN KERAKYATAN KAMU.. ADER BERANI????"

By ekompute on April 20, 2011 8:45 AM

Hi Musang Si Guntang, talking about effort... how much effort have you put in for the advancement of Malaysia, other than stretching your hands out, asking for financial assistance? I know, I know... even stretching out a hand requires effort.

Let me quote you this paragraph from Tunku Halim's History of Malaysia: A Children Encyclopedia.

"For centuries, the Malays have mined tin on a small scale. In the mid 19th century, large tin deposits were found in Perak and Selangor and, at the same time, there was a huge demand for the ore overseas.

The local Malays knew this would bring great wealth but they did not have the means to mine the huge deposits. So they asked the businessmen in the Straits Settlements for help. Those businessmen brought in thousands of labourers from Southern China to work the tin mines."

Question... where were all the Malays then? Why can't they do what those Chinese labourers do? Simple because it is much, much harder than wearing sarungs lazing under the tree. And you call that effort?

By pakbelalang on April 20, 2011 7:09 AM

Dear Tun,

The Chinese and the DAP never learn a good lesson what was happening during May 13. They also "mudah lupa" and dah "naik tolang". They thought the situation now is different. They are dead wrong. This time around if history repeats again I am sorry for the Chinese community. Don't blame others but blame themselves for instigating and reluctant to face the reality of living in a multi-racial country. If it happens the whole political scenario will be upside down and probably you can expect the whole socio-economic development will collapse and we are back to square one.

My advice to DAP leaders enough is enough of harping on racial issues. At the end of the day it will create more serious tension among the Malays particularly and it does not benefit the Chinese community at all. The Chinese will lose more than the Malays. Let's be serious about this issue. There is no point of telling others as racist but the DAP should look and reflect how much damage they have done being racist.

For heaven sake, please don't push your racial sentiment too far. There is a limit for other races to tolerate particularly among the Malays. Looking at the situation now there is no point for the Malays particularly trying to restraint from being racist. It won't help if the other party can continue being racist.

By sarawak maju on April 20, 2011 7:02 AM

Tun,

Being a leader for more than 2 decades yourself, I believe you know a good or a bad leader. I cant really understand why you came to Sarawak at the very last moment to campaign for a corrupted leader like Taib.

Taib is a 'rapist' and a plunderer who has raped and plundered the virgin forests of Sarawak. One of the consequences of his action is the serious logjam problem last year but the government did not take any action against the culprit. Taib's conscience has been seared already, or no more conscience at all!

Sarawak people are not against BN but we are definitely against a corrupted leader. We dont want a rapist and a plunderer. For whatever personal reason you are still supporting him, we all know deep in our hearts. We Sarawakians can only pray that Tun's conscience will speak to you why you are still supporting such a leader.

When the crave for power rules in any leader's heart, the leader does not mind supporting a rapist and a plunderer. I am really so saddened to see Putrajaya closed down for 10 days to support such a corrupted leader.

It has been my prayer for some time already that a new leader will rise up to freeze Taib's properties once he steps down and return all that to Sarawak. We are one of the richest states in Malaysia but due to his mismanagement and abuse of power, we become one of the poorest states. So the time for a change in leadership has come. It does not matter who rises up to power BUT they must be transparent in everything they do. Transparency is all we ask for from any government, be it BN or PR!

DAP has check-mate themselves..in the end BN will get benefit from this..

Even with malay & Bumi vote we can still tick-to-tac or tac-to-tic them.

they have exposed their true color...

Ever since independent...they still continuously & constantly harassing us in many ways..at once it has lead to May13 tragedy...

Yet still they never admit it...even try to hide the facts with so called "...intellectual academic study/research of that tragedy.." pretending that it was a setup here and there...they are trying to hide & closed it from future generation...

and our very own so called educated ppl like lawyer Sharom Azmi...Hishamuddin Rais..Nik Nazmi...Mansur putih...etc...also known as " Pemijak Kepala sendiri Terhebat " keep on pijak kepala sendiri ..to get DAP & chauvinist supporters loud clappings....kononnye nak tunjuk "..hey im an open minded guys..hey im a think outside the box guy..hey im a open here and there.. keep on bashing their own race with their low class mentality type of critics (kononnye pemikiran kritis).. but forget about how their own race history, being treated like animals before....
instead they willing to pretend like it never happen or even take place...

What a load of rubbish. Tun was responsible for the degradation of Malaysia, from a 3rd World Country to a 4th World Country (if there ever was one). When will these Malaysians who have been disillusioned by Mahathirism ever be able to think and analyse for themselves. Times have changed and Malaysia needs a change from 'Kampung' racial politics which came about 30 years ago. All that is left in UMNO for the last 30 years are yes men and apple polishers who know nothing else but taking away the country's wealth.

By fbm_ on April 20, 2011 3:13 AM

Assalamualaikum Tun,

1. Thanks Tun, someone does need to point it out loudly.
2. Clearly known that UMNO, MIC, MCA are racial based parties. In that sense, there is no hidden agenda that each of the parties representing different race. On a common ground of BN they could lay down a shared understanding by simply being honest that they are racial based parties. At least each of them beforehand knows that there are going to be gives and takes. In the same time, BN (UMNO, MCA, MIC, and etc) do needs to look into the allegations made by the public, do not keep those corrupt and unreliable leaders who works for themselves, we simply do not want them.

3. On a different world but of the same country, DAP says 'Malaysian Malaysia'. While they seems to be like the saviour of a utopia of equality where everyone receives mutual benefits and treated equally, it is not; because everyone knows that it is a single race dominated party (whether they want to agree or not, it is there on their leadership board).

4. On DAP; regarding Sarawak, I would say most of the campaigns held in Sarawak were held in either mandarin or other Chinese dialects. I would rather choose someone who honestly saying who they represent then someone who pretending to represent everyone but has a hidden agenda of who knows what (which somehow can be smell miles away).

5. Dear DAP reps, your Malaysian Malaysia and your vision and mission statement are some great ideas but somehow your actions do not agree to those utopian ideas. Economically, your equality is more likely to benefits on those who love cronyism (where likely in this case, cronies of a singular race) and sidelining those who does not benefitting you. Come on guys, we are not Singaporeans, we are Malaysians.

6. DAP reps, if you wish to continue your Malaysian Malaysia, please do agree on these.

- a. National language (Bahasa Malaysia) as a language for all.
- b. Close all SRJK schools or ensure that they will be taught mainly in national language and the second language would be the international language of English. (Don't say that they want to keep their racial identities; doesn't that sound racism?)
- c. Do state in your vision to abolish UEC certificate and integrate it into SPM so everyone will have a standard Malaysia language based school examination.
- d. On education scholarships, do select those who need more first and balance them with their merit points. A common policeman son with a good merit do need the scholarship more than a factory owner daughter with an excellent merit.
- e. Put up a law on banning other than national language and English as requirements for generally most of the job offers. Isn't it obviously weird that a competent electrical engineer graduate unable to get a job just because he doesn't speaks a language which does not even related to the work he is going to do.
- f. Ensure that no racial domination on any economic sector explicitly and implicitly.
- g. Do walk the talk on fighting against corruption and graft by not handpicking, giving or ordering the punishment racially.
- h. Put it in your agenda to ensure that the top 20 richest people in Malaysia reflects Malaysian racial composition (Something like a proper social mobility on Malaysia scale).

Those are some of many of my idea on what is a true equality for Malaysian Malaysia. Will you?

7. I've seen many people who aspire to live abroad from the very beginning of their secondary level education. They just want to plunder what they can and leave. While doing that, they complain and keep looting inconsiderately. After they leave, they keep complaining and seeding hatred to those in Malaysia, but when we ask do you want to go back to Malaysia, they will reason with thousands of lame reasons. Some do have genuine good reasons of why not being a Malaysian anymore, and i respect that; but to these selfish wannabe and selfish already ex-Malaysians, pergi main jauh-jauh boleh?

8. Dear foreign friends*, I respect and cherish your third party views as they will complete our understanding of ourselves from different perspective and strengthen our mould of unity. *with exception for those in the previous paragraph.

Reality is merely an illusion, albeit a very persistent one ; Einstein

In reality , racist politics is a precedency dominating the racial minds of Malaysian . We Malaysian must learn to manage the polemic of racial politics well , with the strong sense of tolerance and acceptance for hope of our peace and harmony to prolong .

Undeniable , we are all know that the only political prerequisite for us Malaysian to earn our cultural and racial sovereignty is to acknowledge the importance and the realization of multiracialism in Malaysian context . In reality and sadly we are all caught in the sentiment of racism . But to be a racist is a matter of obnoxious mentality .

Racialism has its touch of honorable identity and the feeling of belonging . But when racialism is let to the thinking of one doctrine which involve the idea that one's own race is superior than the others , it becomes a conflict to everybody mind . Yet , racial politics could supersede the peace and harmony of our good minds .

Dearest Tun

1-Its really good that an almost complete victory of any one party is finally over in Malaysia.Thank God that good sense has finally arrived into Sarawak. Power corrupts.Absolute power corrupts absolutely.

2-That Rajah of Sarawak must go.He is too long in power already.Especially that he has now a very young wife to tend too it will be very difficult to serve the rakyat of Sarawak.I don't think all the tongkat Ali and the gambir found in the rainforest of Sarawak can help him.At his age he must choose which one to devote.He needs to concentrate,if he wants to be great.

3-And I think Tun,being the ultra person that you are, had you been a Sarawakian Chinese I bet you will vote for DAP too.

4-By the way why is multiculturalism only alive only when people vote for the Barisan Nasional? In my humble opinion,multi-culturism your BN way can only work when the non Malays were an insignificant minorities like before but once they are strong as they have emerged now it just won't work anymore.

5-BN really need to reinvent itself to remain relevant. This Globalization and the borderless world thing is making the non Malays much more secured now as compared before so it is really naive to think that just because 'something' works before it will still work today.

6-For a start the BN leadership including their former, must stop raising Melayu oh Melayu issues very so often as they also promote multi culturism. They really sound like hypocrites. You can't have the cake and eat it too.

Thanks Tun.

To john2y

Yes one party that only talk about "hak orang Melayu" is UMNO, but are you so stupid enough that you even not recognized what UMNO stand for? UMNO stand for United Malays National Organization, of course we always talk about "hak orang Melayu". There's no Chinese or Indian in UMNO. Chinese get their part in MCA, Gerakan or SUPP etc. Indian get their part from MIC. Then you can talk about your "hak orang Cina" or "hak orang India" in your component parties.

If you want to said "hak rakyat Malaysia", of course BN has already provided that with UMNO and all of it's component parties. DAP? PKR? PAS? where's the cabinet? don't fool "rakyat" especially the Malays and the Bumi's with DAP slogan "hak rakyat Malaysia", although the whole Malays/Bumi know what DAP always told the chinese when they give speech.

We also know why some Chinese still enter PKR although they still have DAP to represent them. This is just a scheme to attract a fool bunch of Malays to believe the chinese in PKR are still honest and tolerate to the Malays and willing to share their richness with them if one of the PR parties were elected to the Putra Jaya. Of course DAP will go the Putra Jaya if PR win because there were no highest educated people in PKR or PAS. For me, I just look PKR and PAS as a profit for the DAP to achieve their goals. Nothing more.
"Pembahagian kerusi maa..of course la lu orang ada peluang boley menang.."

P/S:

PKR and PAS..two parties dominated by the Malays. If the PAS parties think they are fighting for the Muslim and expected PKR as their ally, why don't PAS just combine with PKR and just let PKR be a Malays and Muslims one dominated party for opposition(PR). Why they didn't combine until now? So we want to expect there will be two separate Malays and Muslim dominated parties in a cabinet if PR govern? that will be a serious problem. The Indians? what parties should represent them? DAP? but DAP is for Chinese right? then the Indian will be isolated from the PR government and can represent any parties that they like as we Malays said "ROJAK"....

Dear Tun, I know u too old and have heart problem so I guess u just have miss all the ceramah by the pakatan rakyat during the pre-election campaign around kuching.... u can watch it here <http://www.allaboutborneo.com>

DAP for bringing its racist politics to Sarawak? The only one party that preach only one thing "hak orang melayu" is UMNO, other preach hak rakyat Malaysia... so who is racist? Democracy mean only those who friend with BN can win and rule?

Assalamualaikum Tun,

Saya ingin membuat beberapa andaian mengenai PRN Sarawak baru-baru ini. Memandangkan saya masih mentah dalam situasi politik (masih berumur 20 tahun) harap Tun dapat membaca terlebih dahulu komen saya ini.

1. DAP menang 12/15 kerusi yang ditandingi, walaupun ia kelihatan kecil, tetapi apakah yang akan terjadi jika DAP bertanding 71 kerusi DUN Sarawak? . Pandangan ini saya buat dengan andaian jika DAP bukan lagi dalam pakatan rakyat dan sokongan padu pengundi cina dalam kawasan majoriti bumiputera.
2. Kita tidak perlu hairan jika cina setia pada DAP. Jika Malaysia ialah 'Chisia' dan melayu diandaikan minoriti, adakah melayu akan mengundi DAP jika ia adalah kerajaan?
3. Saya juga berpendapat jika masalah mengenai hak sama rata dalam pelbagai aspek tidak dapat diselesaikan, kaum cina tidak akan meninggalkan DAP walaupun parti itu gagal dalam menunaikan janjinya. (mengenai manifesto yang tidak berkaitan dengan hak sama rata). Penyelesaian harus dilakukan kerajaan tanpa menggugat keistimewaan melayu seperti dalam pendidikan antaranya mengenai MARA, UiTM dan Matrikulasi.

Selain itu, saya ingin berkongsi pandangan mengenai golongan muda cina terhadap Nik Aziz. Kisah ini berlaku ketika saya masih belajar di sekolah menengah sebagai calon STPM di mana saya adalah pelajar lelaki melayu tunggal di dalam kelas dan selebihnya adalah terdiri dari pelajar cina. Mereka menggelar bahawa Nik Aziz bodoh kerana beliau berkata di dalam Youtube "rogollah orang yang tidak menutup aurat yand terdedah betis dan pehanya" (petikan berbeza tetapi maksud adalah sama). Saya agak terkejut kerana golongan muda cina mengikuti perkembangan PAS (juga memahami dialog Kelantan). Tetapi, apa yang penting di sini adalah setiap perkataan yang dilontarkan oleh PAS akan menjadi tarikan kepada golongan muda cina berbanding golongan muda melayu. Juga dapat diperkatakan bahawa hukum Islam sememangnya tidak disukai DAP. Malangnya, PAS terus mengakui dasar DAP yang menentang hukum Islam.

Selain itu, saya juga bimbang dengan golongan muda melayu yang terus mengkritik dasar kerajaan tanpa sebarang asas dan menggunakan psikologi penulisan supaya dianggap sebagai bukti kukuh bagi menyalahkan kerajaan. Saya telah meneliti berbagai-bagai blog pro PR yang dikarang oleh golongan muda melayu. Gaya luahan emosi yang hampir sama kesemuanya.

Hemat saya adalah sepatutnya diwajibkan subjek Pengajian Am terhadap semua institusi Pra Universiti dan peringkat diploma. Ini adalah supaya kritikan yang akan dibuat hendaklah berasas.

Saya mohon maaf jika pandangan saya telah menyimpang dari topik asal kerana saya tidak selalu memberi pandangan pada Tun. Jika ada respon dari Tun, saya ingin bertanya mengenai pandangan masa depan melayu dan Malaysia jika momentum semasa berterusan?.

Sekian,

Pedot

Tun says: "Perhaps the SUPP are at fault but others in the BN also committed many wrong things. But the rejection is almost entirely by the Chinese community. They have become infected by the virus of Chinese racism that is the guiding principle of the DAP. In the past DAP was almost totally rejected in Sarawak."

Well, if BN has also committed many wrong things, don't you think that they too should be rejected? Why would any citizen in his right mind vote for a party that has committed many wrong things?

The answer is simple. Tun raised it up but came to the wrong conclusion. And that simple answer is simply this: "That the Malay community has become infected by the virus of Malay racism that is the guiding principle of UMNO and its partners in the Barisan Nasional."

By ekompute on April 19, 2011 11:49 PM

I read Eanisazman and there are a few things which I would be glad if he would care to answer.

He says, "I asked my Chinese friend he said, the recent result speaks about Anti-Taib kind of thing. He is rich because of corruption whatsoever. Then the discussion went out..."

From Taib, Eanisazman jumps on to other things without giving his personal views on Taib's wealth or whether Taib is rich NOT because of corruption whatsoever. What is Eanisazman's views about corruption or does he really thinks that Taib's wealth is accumulated through honest means? Seen in the context of Islam as your religion, tell me what do you think about Taib. Don't just shoot. One ought to give one's views as each issue is presented... that's simple common sense.

Eanisazaman then says, "This gives me an impression that indirectly they hated the 'Malay' domination whatsoever. To some who gone extreme, they become anti-Malay and or anti-Islam. This will eventually result in a total division between Malay and Chinese where we will never become a true friend. Instead, a true foe."

Well, he hit the right spot without realizing it. No one likes to be dominated, not the Chinese, nor the Malays. And the Constitution guarantees the position of the Malay Sultans which is the best guarantee that the Malays will never be dominated by any other race. Or you have your doubts over whether the Sultans are capable of protecting the Malays?

Eanisazman then goes on to say, "This has always been the case but the recent Anwar announcement to wipe out all the 'Ketuanan Melayu' concept and social contract catalyse the situation."

Obviously, Eanisazman is a non-practising Muslim, if at all he is one. He doesn't even know what the Prophet reminded in his Last Sermon, so how can he justifiably call himself a Muslim? The concept of Ketuanan Melayu directly runs counter to the teachings of Islam, if you need to be told that.

Eanisazman says, "We don't want to end up like Malay Singaporean." Well, first of all, Eanisazman doesn't know the demographics in Singapore, as compared to Malaysia. Even so, he doesn't know that some Singaporean Malays are prouder to be Singaporean than Malaysians, based on what some of my Malay friends across the border tells me. In fact, some of them look at Malaysian Malays as invertebrates, so to speak. But of course, there are also some Singaporean Malays who would rather carry a tongkat, just as much as some Chinese do.

Salam,

Dah lama saya tak beri komen, walaupun boleh dikatakan hampir setiap hari saya buka laman Chedet. Penulisan saya ini tidak ada unsur perkauman kecualilah anda samada seorang perkauman atau tidak faham Bahasa Melayu.

Senario Politik Semasa di Malaysia

Keadaan politik di Malaysia sekarang menjurus kepada persaingan mendapat kuasa dikalangan dua kumpulan. Kumpulan bumiputera dipimpin oleh UMNO dan kumpulan kaum Cina yang dipimpin oleh DAP. Alhamdulillah di kalangan bukan bumiputera terutamanya kaum India kebanyakannya masih menerima konsep kepimpinan Melayu/bumiputera. Kaum Cina sedang mengambil kesempatan diatas perpecahan kaum Melayu angkara perbuatan PAS dan PKR. Tidak sukar meramal perangai kaum Cina. dengan hanya membaca sejarah kaum Cina di Malaysia dan juga di negara asal mereka. Pemberontakan banyak berlaku di negara Cina. Buku sejarah kebanyakannya ditulis oleh orang Eropah. Yang malas nak baca buku sejarah boleh tahu perangai kaum Cina dengan mudah dengan hanya melihat cerita TV Cina . Media prima ada TV khas untuk depa iaitu TV8.

Terlalu banyak keistimewaan diberi, tahi kucing pula yang dihadiahkan kepada BN

Budaya Cina sebenarnya adalah amat berbeza dari budaya orang Melayu , Bumiputera dan kaum India. Sebab itu amat sukar di asimilasikan dalam 1Malaysia. Datuk Najib Nampak gaya orang Cina tak minat lagu 1Malaysia. Depa lagi suka Malaysian Malaysia lagu ciptaan bersama Lim Kit Siang dan Lee Kuan Yew. Kaum Cina di Malaysia dah terlalu banyak dapat keistimewaan.

Sekolah Cina ,TV Cina,iklan Cina , pekerjaan keutamaan kepada kaum Cina di swasta,terlalu banyak dihuraikan satu per satu. Kenapa BN perlu beri keistimewaan kepada orang yang benci kepada BN? Ini namanya kerja “bijaksana “ ?

Once bitten, twice shy.

一朝被蛇咬,十年怕井绳。 [yì zhāo bèi shé yǎo, shí nián pà jǐng shéng 。

Seolah2 wujud sistem kasta di Malaysia . Budak2 Universiti dikalangan bumiputera ramai yang jadi penggangur ,sementara rakan depa dikalangan kaum Cina senang2 dapat kerja. Mungkin Perkasa kena anjurkan aktiviti riadah untuk Lebai2 PAS berkunjung di kawasan perumahan sekitar PJ , Damansara, Kepong , George town, Butterworth dan lain2 tempat dimana ramai kaum Cina tinggal. Mungkin boleh buat program homestay untuk Lebai PAS dari UK (Ulu Kedah dan Ulu Kelantan) menikmati kehidupan PAS for All, Malaysian Malaysia . Lamai kaum Cina duk situ yang masih tak lak tau cakap Malayu. Kalau di England atau Eropah jangan harap depa dapat layanan sewajarnya. Kena penampaq. Kaum Cina nampak peluang diatas kelemahan orang Melayu dan bumiputera angkara perbuatan pemimpin PAS dan PKR untuk menuntut hak yang diperuntukkan untuk bumiputera. Kalau kita cakap lebih sikit depa kata perkauman. Yahudi? Yang peliknya pemimpin UMNO masih tak sedaq2. Pemimpin PAS dan PKR lagi teruk duk syok sendiri! Nampak Yahudi jauh noooooooooooooon di padang pasir tetapi di Malaysia kata UMNO pula bersifat Yahudi. Hang pa Lebai PAS pakailah serban betui2.

*Semakin kuat DAP maka semakin kuatlah UMNO dan parti berasaskan kaum dalam BN**

Secara ikhlas saya tak bimbang trend yang berlaku sekarang kerana saya memang dah jangka. Malahan mungkin baik untuk orang Melayu ,bumiputera dan kaum India. Orang Melayu dan bumiputera lain semakin kembali semula kepada UMNO dan parti masing2 berteraskan kaum masing2. Kenapa? Semakin kuat DAP semakin bimbang bumiputera semua

. Sejarah juga telah membuktikan majority kaum India lebih selesa dan yakin kepada keikhlasan orang Melayu daripada orang Cina. Berilah lebih peluang kepada kaum India dan bumiputera lain. Inilah pelaburan yang sebenarnya sekiranya BN nak menang dan kekal memerintah!!!! Orang India lebih menghargai bantuan yang diberikan kepada mereka. Kerajaan kena kaji semula dasar2 bantuan seperti biasiswa dan sebagainya. Jangan sampai orang Melayu pula benci UMNO.

Bagaimanapun kerajaan kena wajib bantu kaum Cina yang miskin . Kasihan kat depa kena tiup api perkauman DAP. Mungkin depa tak nmpak ada pilihan sehingga depa terpaksa ikut tiupan api. MCA dan Gerakan sebenarnya parti yang gagal!!! Gagal.Gagal. &Gagal. Kat Penang bagi macam2 kemudahan pun lingkup habis Gerakan. Presiden pun dah kena bergerak keluar dari Pulau Pinang melarikan diri ke Putrajaya. MCA yang masih ada pun hidup atas belas kasihan undi majority Melayu dan India. Dalam masa 10 tahun, berapa banyak Presiden dan Timbalan Presiden MCA bertukar ganti? Parti Shopping Complex ke?

Masalahnya pemimpin BN kalangan bumiputera asyik duk layan Cina kaya, Cina miskin diabaikan. Ada apa2 ke? Kalau boleh UMNO kena turun padang seperti komando “search and rescue mission” turun dari helicopter pi selamatkan Cina miskin, bawa keluar depa dari kepungan DAP dan batuapi2 dan lautan api lain. Bawa Cina, India dan lain2 kaum yang miskin hidup bersama orang Melayu bumiputera lain. Bantu depa. Jauhkan depa dari anasir2 tak diingini. Ingatlah masalah ini wujud zaman British lagi sehingga lah diwujudkan new village. Tunjukkan bahawa Melayu dan bumiputera lain perihatin kat semua rakyat miskin tanpa membeza kaum.

Assalamu'alaikum Tun,

Singapore announced polling day on 7th June, about three weeks from now. but the result already out. PAP win 90% of the seats and Lee kuan yew win a complete 100%.

di Singapura, mengundi adalah wajib. orang Melayu, suka tak suka, terpaksa keluar beratur panjang untuk mengundi. walau pun tiada calon yg benar-benar datang dari keinginan orang Melayu, mereka terpaksa turut serta mengambil bahagian dalam "proses-demokrasi". dan penyertaan Melayu memberi semacam kredibiliti kpd pemerintahan orang-orang asing di Singapura.

seandainya Tun boleh mempengaruhi orang-orang asing yg kini berkuasa menjajah Singapura agar melonggarkan kewajipan mengundi, erti nya undi tidak Wajib. pasti kita akan lihat tiada satu pun orang Melayu yg mahu buang masa turut serta dalam proses wayang-kulit PAP. sikap racist LKY telah begitu kukuh menguasai segenap bidang dan penjurong Singapura hinggakan tidak mungkin bagi orang Melayu disana akan dapat peluang memilih pemimpin untuk mewakili kepentingan mereka.

berbeza dgn kita disini yg mana segala anjing dan babi begitu bebas menyalak dan menyondol. padahal mereka-mwereka ini semua adalah orang-orang asing yg tidak kita kehendaki. dan keberadaan mereka disini bukan lah salah kita. anak-cucu kuli-kuli British ini, yg asal nya cuma pelarian ekonomi yg patut kita kasihani kini sudah besar kepala menuntut persamaan hak dgn kita bangsa Bumiputra.

dgn jumlah yg agak besar dan menguasai hampir tiap bidang ekonomi, mereka melancarkan hasutan secara tersusun. apa yg keluar dari mulut LKY, mereka jadikan ikutan. bermula dgn konsep racist Malaysian Malaysia yg menafikan keistimewaan Bumiputra, LKY dan DAP terus mengasak kita bertubi-tubi membuat kita rasa tersepit antara menjaga kesopanan dgn MCA atau terus lawan api dgn api menentang dasar supracist yg sudah sebatididalam darah dan daging tiap seorang dari mereka.

saya menggesa kerajaan mengambil tindakan tegas secara berperingkat-peringkat. pertama sekali batalkan Dasar 1 Malaysia. dan berterus terang terhadap orang-orang asing ini bahwa sebagai cucu-cicit pelarian ekonomi, kerakyatan mereka di sini cuma sementara. PERKASA harus masuk campur untuk membendung tindak-tanduk Datuk Seri Najib agar jgn terlanjur seperti Almarhum Tunku yg memberi kerakyatan dan hak mengundi kpd orang-orang asing ini hingga menyusahkan Bangsa Bumiputra hari ini.

Datuk Ibrahim Ali, penakatan Bangsa Melayu dalam bahaya. jgn lah cuba berlagak rasional. sebaliknya buatlah sesuatu. Umno lebih berhak mendapat mandat 100%. bukan parti yg menjajah Singapura.

terimakasih Tun

Salam Sejahtera Y.Bhg. Tun Dr. Mahathir

Pada pendapat saya, perkara yang paling penting yang orang melayu patut buat adalah mendaftarkan diri sebagai pengundi SPR. Kalau tak silap saya, peratusan pengundian berdaftar bagi orang melayu masih rendah berbanding dengan kaum cina.

Hanya melalui pilihanraya sahaja yang dapat mengekalkan kuasa politik di tangan orang melayu.

Mungkin pihak SPR boleh mengadakan inisiatif sendiri untuk mendaftarkan orang melayu terutamanya golongan muda yang masih belum mendaftar lagi. Mungkin boleh dimulakan dengan pejabat-pejabat kerajaan yang mana terdapat ramai orang melayu disana. Kemudian baru diteruskan ke kilang-kilang yang juga terdapat ramai melayu di sana. Orang melayu kena ada kesedaran politik demi survival orang melayu di tanah air sendiri.

Bila kita orang melayu sudah hilang kuasa, semua hak istimewa yang dikecapi selama ini akan musnah sama sekali. Mungkin bahasa cina dan agama budha menjadi bahasa dan agama rasmi malaysia. Ya Allah Ya Tuhan Ku, Moga-moga dijauhkan dari malapetaka ini.

Sekian, terima kasih.

Assalamualaikum Tun,

Looking from the comments, some would like to believe just because the chinese are with the opposition, they have controlled Sarawak. They forget BN, Party Pesaka Bumiputera Bersatu, a malay based party, won all the seats it contested and BN has a whole won a two-third majority. The results clearly show, the bumiputras i.e Malays, Dayaks, Melanaus, etc are behind BN, while the chinese, especially the urbanites, are behind the opposition, particularly DAP.

Why are the chinese supporting the Pakatan? I think it is clear that Pakatan is pro chinese. Its actions are pro chinese. They may say about equality, meritocracy, etc, but their actions have consistently been pro chinese. If we were to look Selangor for example, the first project to approve was a pig farm in Sepang. Of all the places in Selangor, Sepang, a malay area, is designated to have the largest pig farm project in Malaysia. Malays would want to sell their property in Sepang, because they would not want to be near a pig farm. Who would they sell to?

Who would be comfortable having a pig farm near their place? We know Sepang is being developed as a major development area. Whoever stays there will benefit its development.

The same goes when the Selangor state approves the building of temples in Malay populated areas. In Perak, there was a plan to convert land into freehold and sold to the Chinese, when Pakatan was ruling the state. What has Pakatan done for the Malays?

I am from Selangor, and from the day Pakatan won Selangor until now, there was no development. It was as if time itself was frozen in Selangor.

In Penang, land is being sold at high prices, which is out of reach for most Malays. The Malays would have to move out of Penang due to the high cost of land.

Previously, it was assumed that having PAS in Pakatan would help protect Malay rights and interest. Judging from what happened in Selangor, Penang and Perak, they are mere puppets to DAP.

The strategy of having a pro Chinese stand disguised in equality for all will win Chinese votes as seen in the Sarawak Elections and other by elections, but it has the negative effect of alienating the Malay voters. In some way, it is good as this will unite the Malays. The Malays, whether they like or not, would be forced to support BN, due to the extreme pro Chinese nature by Pakatan.

Having said that, the Sarawak election is predictable in sense where the area is Malay majority, BN won, where the area is Chinese majority, Pakatan won. Thus, we can see how SUPP, a BN Chinese party had a crushing defeat in the elections.

Pakatan assumed that the political landscape was still like PRU 12. They assume the Malays are still divided. They are counting the votes will be split just like in PRU 12. When Malay votes are split, it will be the Chinese vote will be crucial. Thus, that is why they are going all out for Chinese votes. They forget their pro Chinese stand is losing them the Malay votes that supported them in PRU 12 as can be seen in increased Malay support for BN in recent by-elections.

A united Malay vote forced to support BN due to Pakatan pro Chinese will destroy any chance of Pakatan to become the next government.

They may win the battle for Chinese votes, but they lose the war to become the government of the day, and that my dear opposition politicians, is the end game.

My frank forecast for PRU 13 is all the Malay dominated will be won by BN, and all the Chinese area will be won by Pakatan. MCA and Gerakan is expected to face crushing defeats. MIC is 50/50 as I think some Indians are still with BN.

BN must be prepared of having to rule the government by UMNO only, and maybe with MIC.

Tun,

Just finished reading your book and let me just say "Thank You Very Much" for all you did for Malaysia. Inspired by the book and just to see if I could help the party I went to the UMNO HQ in KL and picked up an application form for the party, hope that in my small way I could continue the struggles that you have fought for so long (may not be to your level though but I'll try).

It is certainly worrying that the trend in the Serawak state elections is not what we hoped, but the more troubling sign is that we could not with any educated guess or political forecasts have known that the trend to vote in the urban area is such. When going in I dare say we could not see it in the eyes of the voters that they would vote that way. Which I have to agree that it took me by surprise too. Are they just loyal to their respective urban townships to not even consider the opportunities that BN have brought to them in the form of the Bakun Hydroelectric project? The rate of future development not to mention rate of future wealth will be exponential, I think that is what makes the current holder of your previous rank in the government worried, (he looked very worried at the golf thing he attended I think). I think he will have to strategise on a line that is harder and stronger, in a similar style to your own. But he is a very talented leader in his own right and he has a solid political style of his own and I think he would make the right decisions in the end.

But the trends that is shown that a community grape vine (or bamboo vine) could be such a secretive weapon that could broadside our elections hopes and dreams must be taken into consideration with our long term strategy. BN would instead need to remind the components to remember to toe the line and not just play up any sentiments that will disrupt unity.

Also I think that our UMNO Youth leader is a very capable man, BUT he needs to align his views and objectives based on party's overall objective I think. KJ needs to read a bunch of UMNO and Malaysia history books or better yet your book. This is when we miss UMNO Youth leaders like Dato Hishamuddin (which to me is a very impressive Minister right now I might add, hope that he avoids all the pit falls of previous politicians).

I admit being worried for the people of Malaysia if they continue the same trend that we saw in Serawak. But I believe that talented, loyal and educated leaders would continue to fight for what is right. And if leaders don't then maybe the doctor will need to surgically remove the infected parts or give medication for ailing patients.

Some of the posts are troubling here as some folks keep on harping the racism chasm.

How is promoting equality, good governance, and other such noble qualities equitable to inciting racial sentiments or polarising the Malays as claimed by some posters here?

Only people who oppose the above qualities are insecure and clueless about themselves. For no rhyme or reason, almost every discourse on the aforementioned good qualities are spinned into racist jibes.

It's appalling to note some folks twirl issues such as good governance into Malay and non-Malay camps. Perverted logic? Go figure yourself!

We ought to debate issues on its own merits without bringing in racial undertones. The we versus them slur is not healthy for political discourses.

For the sake of humanity, we ought to bury the hatchet of racism and unite as one - Malaysian!

YABhg Tun,
The recent Sarawak Elections Results is actually a precursor to the coming General Elections. Think!! When will the leaders learn that being father christmas will not bring in the votes; as the urban Chinese have shunned the BN and government no matter what the handouts and benefits..

It is rather unfortunate that racial polarisation especially in our politics has taken off in full flight with Sarawak which was essentially the true blue 1Malaysia state. Thus it is the Bumis and Pribumis in government while the Chinese are on the opposite side. Understandably the Sarawak leadership in TS Taib and George Chan have overstayed their welcome and would have been a good call to let other younger leaders lead for change and progress into the elections; there will never be a successor in their same mould as Allah Ta'ala created individuals who are similar but never the same. Thus to keep harping on grooming a successor is plain bullshit as the very same leaders are in denial of their overstay. However by the same token, TS Taib is a performer with his party PBB... he delivered the seats for BN which the SUPP could not. It is not for the MCA or Gerakan in Peninsula to call for SUPP's withdrawal from government but that call belongs to Sarawak as they didnt btu accept gleefully all government posts considering their own whitewash in the last elections. Yet shamelessly, they get appointed from backdoor, sidedoor ...all in the name of community representation. Time these people take the Firefly, the Community Airline and fly to elsewhere; what say you?

We must take heed of such profound changes in the political landscape and understand the need of stability with a nation-building agenda, not polticking for power and wealth. As mentioned earlier, it is definitely a precursor to the forthcoming general elections and even the charisma and all the transformation propagated by Najib is not going to be good enough in bridging the divide caused by DAP and to some extend, MCA and Gerakan. So take a look at a hypothetical scenario for the next GE..... what happens when the Malays being a majority in numbers but divided into 3 major factions? I dare not speculate so GO FIGURE!!

Nation Building calls for unity in thought and actions. Politicking will be the death of all of us, be it Malays Chinese Indians, Dayaks Ibans Bidayuh Penans Kadazans Sikhs etc etc. When will we ever get over this politicking and get on with nation building?

History repeats itself.

They'll never learn from what they did back in 1969.

The more DAP try to portray themselves as a democratic party that represent all races, the more it appears to me that they are no more than a Chinese extremists party. Their motive is very clear. Serious people, clear-headed people will realise this.

u talk about " Equality "... while DAP and minority in this country also unable to practice or even agree to Malay & Bumi equal right as per our country constitution article 153? yet you still want to argue?

Let say there is Investor A & B invest in stocks :

You (Investor A)invest in a stocks RM10..and the other (Investor B) put more effort and invest more money RM100,000...but in the end you request and want the same amount of profits ? you must be joking..

Try to practice a check-and-balance in your demand 1st..before enter into such an arguments..

come on..grow-up pls :)

Anniyan says: "... Do you understand the view of multi-racialism in malaysia ? Do you mind share us "Your understanding" of "Multi-Racialism".

Well, let me answer on behalf of Tun because I doubt you will get an answer from him. Seems like he is having a problem differentiating between black and white, right and wrong. When one is black and claims to be white, then what should one called "white"? Black, of course! And if one is wrong and claims to be right, what do you called the action of the guy who is doing the opposite? Wrong, of course!

Actually, many things that are happening in Malaysia cannot face the light of day. Many things are hidden under the Official Secret Act because apparently, it cannot face Allah. How many Barisan Nasional politicians, not just UMNO politicians, dare to declare their assets and say, "I earn it honestly through my own efforts." The key word is "honestly", not "effort", because I know, they did put in the 'effort'.

What is legal does not necessarily imply just, as I have found out, albeit a bit too late. Supposing a board of directors decides to dispose of some of their subsidiaries, and they decide to take part of the shares of these subsidiaries and divide it among themselves, either for free or buying it at par value rather than the market value, is it not CBT? But that's exactly what UMNO is doing all along under its program of privatizing government-owned companies. And ultimately, who is the loser? The shareholders of the company, of course... i.e. the Malaysian rakyat in the case of the privatization program.

Dividing part of the shares of government-owned companies among the component parties of the Barisan Nasional... is that universally acceptable? Tun may think it is fair because he distributed it among the major races but is that what other countries will think as fair, if the true nature of the transactions are presented to them? They will shake their head and say it's no different from daylight robbery. Shares going to MCA doesn't mean going to the Chinese public, neither do shares going to MIC and UMNO ministers go into the pockets of the Indian and Malay public. I think most non-Malays know this, except the Malays because they sometimes manage to eat some meat in between the bones. And those Telekom shares to Maika Holdings which 'disappeared' into thin air. Doesn't take a genius to guess where it has landed.

And closed tender? Smells like a rat! How do you get the best price from a closed tender? No way! But who needs the best price anyway? The worse the price, the better for all parties involved, isn't it? Fortunately, Malaysia has a lot of natural resources... even petroleum, otherwise, we would have been bankrupt long ago.

That Tun should choose to align himself with Taib Mahmud speaks much about him. See the flake that is thrown onto Tun at The Malaysian Insider and one can only say, "Well, birds of the same feather flock together!"

By Doctor of Social Media on April 19, 2011 4:10 PM

Racism or not, the point is even there is a victory, how can we be assure that the present government will run the economy, justice and others fairly and well-distributed?

If people are facing hard time to earn a living, happens to malay, chinese, indians as well as other bumi-natives, how could government help?

A simple thing that, if as a government not able to take care people I mean real taking care, not just giving out token, then what would you expect us to do?

Remember, the government income not only from our national oil but also from inland revenue, which people like us contributing as tax money. Without that, I don't think you could pay the government servants with all bonuses you have announced.

With that, what happen after winning is far important then just merely winning it. Today's world is a must to have results, if not many people see a significant results, then you expect normal people like us to believed things will get better somehow?

The point is who can run a better and efficient government?

Salam Tun.

16th April 2011, 10th Sarawak state elections.

I'll remember the date. It marked the worthiness of being glued 3 hours in front of the tv screen, while enjoying the Sarawak elections results that rained happiness one after another.

It's sort of dream come true, almost fully.

I was desperately hoping all the Bumiputra areas to vote for BN and the others to go for opposition, and when the final outcome showed the results that are within whiskers to my perfection, it's time to celebrate!

Come PRU13, let's us Bumiputras show the ungrateful & 'we never invite them' racists the meaning of true unity by the 'Sons of the Soil'. Thank you to all Sarawakians (including to the non-Bumis) for each having shown your respective true-colours.

The last time when voters decided that even stone, stick, any other thing is better than that no quality & useless Pak Dol was PRU12 in 2008. Barely 3 years on, the mostly rich & well-to-do ingrates residing in modern & all perfect cities/towns of Sarawak decided in almost similar manner; we'll vote any jolly, ecompute, andrewtay, tuachang, even ahleng & chinpeng, but the BN!

How I appreciate the 'great help' indirectly rendered by the racist Sarawakian city/town folks in helping to expedite the Bumiputra unity throughout Malaysia.

Another major issue that Guan Eng was trying to imply then,

"Please let the Sarawak government help only the rural areas. We're very well-off already. We'll politely refuse any offer on aid/assistance from that old man Taib!"

p.s.

Thank you to

1. Hj. Amin Tan for the wonderful & beneficial lunch. Saya berdoa kehadiran Ilahi agar kita diberi kesejahteraan & kesihatan yang baik agar boleh terus menghambakan diri & berbakti kepada Nya.

2. 'prof_ridcully' on this infidel Kassim Mohd Hussain issue. I'm still waiting his reply to my challenge.

3. 'faa' for giving some reality within the much-hated BAR Council. Even when The STAR decided to publish the complain, they'll read it several times then will pretend like never seeing it.

Just look at the rude, bias & anti-establishment statement by BAR's supreme boss Lim Chee Wee in today's papers, "....speaks VOLUMES to its UTTER LACK OF TRANSPARENCY & ACCOUNTABILITY".

How in the world they appointed/voted a man with gangster-like statement/attitude tells the real truth about BAR Council. No quality!

BAR Council is the perfect example of 'know all, all correct' moron!

saya seorang rakyat sarawak. kaum cina mungkin tidak akan menunjukkan secara terang terangan yg mereka ada sedikit sifat racist. siapa yg mahu mengaku sendiri racist sedangkan racism adalah sesuatu yg ditentang di seluruh dunia? kaum cina di sarawak secara terang terangan menolak wakil mereka di dalam kerajaan negeri. walhal mereka sudah tahu kemenangan akan berpihak kepada pakatan rakyat (PR) amatlah tipis sekali. Mungkin di dalam ceramah dap mereka mengutuk habis habisan pemerintahan Tan Sri Abdul Taib Mahmud (Taib), tetapi dalam diam dan dgn cara halus mereka inginkan seseorang dari bangsa mereka sendiri untuk menjadi ketua menteri sarawak. Salah seorang calon dap Violet Yong (Dun Pending) menyatakan yg sudah lama kaum melanau menjadi ketua menteri dan seharusnya kini mereka perlu diberi hak untuk memegang jawatan tertinggi tersebut di sarawak. Lihatlah bagaimana dap hanya menumpukan perhatiannya di kawasan yg penuh dgn majoriti kaum cina. mereka mengutuk Taib dengan menuduh Taib mengamalkan korupsi, merampas hak rakyat (sedangkan tiada bukti kukuh menunjukkan perbuatan tersebut). Jadi apa sebenarnya yg kaum cina mahukan? mereka mahukan kuasa. kuasa kerana mereka merupakan pemegang utama sumber ekonomi negeri. Mereka telah lihat dimana SUPP amatlah lemah dalam memperjuangkan kaum mereka. hanya DAP sahajalah yg dapat merealisasikan impian mereka iaitu memegang tampuk tertinggi di dalam negeri Sarawak. Mereka dengan cara halus membawa kaum cina jauh dari kaum lain. Memang DAP membuka keahlian kepada kaum lain tetapi hanya pada nama sahaja tetapi pada zahirnya siapa yg memonopoli parti tersebut? siapa yg membuat keputusan? adakah karpal singh? tidak sama sekali. walaupun UMNO adalah parti yg berasaskan kaum tetapi mereka tidak pernah mempersoalkan hak kaum cina di negara ini. mereka boleh lagi menerima parti seperti MCA dan MIC. mereka bebas berniaga di kawasan melayu. tetapi, jika ada org melayu yg berniaga di kawasan kaum cina di bandar negeri Sarawak, mungkin akan ditekan habis-habisan. itulah realiti di bandar2 utama yg majoritinya kaum cina di sarawak. Jadi kepada kaum cina jgn lah anda melenting kerana siapa makan cili akan terasa pedasnya. kenapa mahu mempersoalkan kredibiliti TUN yg sudah 22 tahun memerintah negara dan begitu masak sekali dengan geopolitik negara ini? itu adalah teguran ikhlas dari Tun. Parti BARisan Nasional yg majoritinya dimonopoli kaum Cina di negara ini hampir kesemuanya begitu bertolak ansur terhadap kaum lain tetapi DAP dengan "Malaysian Malaysia" nya adalah tidak mungkin sama sekali. Saya tidak memusuhi kaum cina di sarawak kerana mereka memang mesra sekali terhadap kaum lain. tetapi DAP lah yg akan merosakkan semua ini. Kaum Bumiputra Sarawak akan sentiasa menyokong pemimpin yang adil terhadap semua kaum tetapi dalam masa yg sama menjaga keistimewaan yg telah ditetapkan di dalam perlembagaan Malaysia.

Dear Tun,

My advice to Sarawak BN govt. to focus and concentrate more on the welfare of all bumiputras in the state if they want to continue control the state. The bumiputras are always very loyal to BN and they must be given all the benefits due to them first. Forget about getting votes from the Chinese in future elections because the Chinese prefer to be in the opposition until doomsday. Always remember this Malay proverb " yang dikejar tak dapat yang dikendong tercecir". So don't waste time to please the Chinese by giving a lot of sweets. They don't appreciate you. BN won't get their votes forever. That is their choice and let it be. They are "pure racist and hypocrite of the first order". The sign is clear and they just cannot deny it.

Chinese are alright with who ever that rules, AS LONG AS the government heavily punish the corrupted, racist politicians.. NOT FORGETTING keeping the price of groceries low.

If and only if chinese are seriously interested to run this country, Sarawak won't even consider joining Malaya previously, it was a biggest mistake. Sarawak is self-sustain!!

The non-transparent, corrupted cases:

Khair Toyo, LingLiongSek, ChanKongChoy, MACC (2 people die: that's the fact), Mohd AliRustam, TaibMahmud.

Our government just sweep under the carpet!

It is like: in M'sia, you get rich only after you become politician; in US, you are usually bloody rich before becoming President.

To our leaders, it is the ECONOMY, STUPID~!

You are the reason why i don't believe in GOD. That's because the good die young, and the BAD like you live a long life, with money and nice houses in London and with kids that didn't die or suffer from sickness. Karma is total BS too, because if there really is Karma, you'd be at the receiving end of it.

in response to:

why people look into taib saja?

taib kaya and ALOT OF TAUKE CINA KAYA JUGAK..

There is a lot of discontent even among the Chinese in Sarawak against those linked to Taib, non-chinese or otherwise, are getting rich just because they are 'in-favor' of Taib, not because of their merits. What Sarawakians are unhappy about is that such alleged 'hand-outs' of projects are inefficient in handling tax-payer's money as it is a monopoly by said parties on whatever government project being handed out.

For example, a "Construction King" in Sarawak, Ting Pek Khiing, is granted numerous projects each year despite being declared bankrupt for up to the third time. Just try googling his name, "Tan Sri Ting Pek Khiing"

(<http://www.google.com.sg/search?q=Tan+Sri+Ting+Pek+Khiing&ie=utf-8&oe=utf-8&aq=t&rls=org.mozilla:en-US:official&client=firefox-a>)

On a personal note, I have a close relative who is a subcontractor for Ting Pek Khiing and is now bankrupt due to inability to get payment from Ting Pek Khiing for work done on Tan Sri's behalf.

Once again, I would like to reiterate that the argument of DAP being racist solely because it is a one race composition party is flawed. If it were true, UMNO would be one of the nations's most racist party wouldn't it?

As for the sajak(?) by Harimau Tujuh Utara,

It's not very constructive and even borderline trolling since it doesn't address the issue at hand, is DAP racist and as such inciting a discriminatory politics in Malaysia?

As for cokangla's:

'No' % increase in the Malays involvement on area in singapore such as

-Parliament Representative

-Economy Pie

-Government Key Position

Proof of such claims are needed.

By Zulfadzli on April 19, 2011 1:30 PM

Tun,

Isyarat telah jelas.. masyarakat Cina mahu DAP jadi pemimpin. Benar kata Awang Selamat, mengapa kerajaan perlu memberi fokus kepada kaum Cina lagi.

Kerajaan perlu memberi menarik kembali kepercayaan masyarakat Melayu, India dan Bumiputera. Kita kembali kepada keadaan asal dimana kita memberi tumpuan peningkatan keupayaan kepada kaum-kaum ini.

Buatlah dan berilah apa sahaja kepada kaum Cina, mereka tetap akan mengundi pembangkang, yang dipimpin oleh DAP. Sepertimana kata Nik Aziz kepada rakyat Kelantan, kerajaan nak beri kita ambil tetapi mengundi tetap pangkah PAS.

Saya mengesyorkan agar kita semua berjuang untuk merealisasikan sistem pendidikan 1 Malaysia. Kerajaan perlu menghapuskan sekolah vernakular. Sebagai alternatif pertingkatkan kapasiti Sekolah Kebangsaan. Wajibkan Bahasa Mandarin di sekolah-sekolah kebangsaan agar pelajar Cina terus menguasai bahasa tersebut dan pelajar melayu serta india juga mendapat manfaat. Tidak rugi kita belajar bahasa tambahan. Apa lagi alasan yang hendak mereka berikan jika kita mewajibkan bahasa mandarin disekolah kebangsaan?. Cuma mungkin pejuang Melayu pula yang tidak selesa. Jangan fikirkan tentang kemasukan bahasa Mandarin si SK, tetapi fikirkan siapa yang mendapat manfaat..iaitu generasi kita yang akan datang.

Assalamualaikum Tun.

Tahniah kepada BN sebab menang di Sarawak.

Harap PRU 13 nanti,kaum Cina tidak mengikut arus seperti di Sarawak.

Saya tak nak komen banyak-banyak,sebab setiap patah perkataan yang ditulis saya perlu semak sendiri.

Saya fikir saya dah terlebih masa di sini. Tetapi apa yang saya tahu, ketika umur beginilah (30-an) Tun bersemangat sekali melibatkan diri dalam politik. Namun masa makin berubah. Persekitaran juga turut berubah.

Adalah sesuatu yang mustahil untuk saya terus kekal di sini. Saya cuba menulis sesuatu yang jika boleh dipanggil 'memoir' sepertimana yang Tun tulis sebuah Memoir : A Doctor In The House.

Tetapi memoir saya lebih ke arah tasauf, seperti yang telah direkodkan sebelum-sebelum ini. Yang mana saya menentukan protokolnya sendiri iaitu dengan open to public.

Ia juga merupakan satu kemudahan kepada Tun bagi mengenali serta mengetahui mengapa saya menyebut nama orang-orang besar yang saya amat kasihi.

Terima kasih banyak-banyak pada Tun kerana sudi melepaskan komen-komen yang bukan dalam bidang pengetahuan Tun.

Pada pertama kali saya fikir adalah tidak munasabah untuk berjaya menulis suatu perkara yang tersusun tentang 'memoir' ini. Tapi alhamdulillah hasrat saya tercapai sepertimana yang diinginkan.

Tiada tujuan lain melainkan ingin memberitahu kepada bangsa Melayu bahawa inilah Melayu ketika situasi merendah-rendahkan orang Melayu berleluasa dalam negara Malaysia.

Saya sentiasa berharap agar persahabatan sentiasa kekal di sini. Tetapi dalam keadaan yang memerlukan saya sentiasa berhadapan dengan pembaharuan, ia adalah sesuatu yang mustahil untuk mengekalkan tenaga bagi mengerjakan lebih dari satu perkara dalam satu masa.

Saya mendoakan semoga rahmat Illahi sentiasa mengiringi pentadbiran Dato' Sri Najib Tun Razak yang mana telah lama saya mengiktiraf beliau sebagai pemimpin negara Malaysia.

Salam kasih dan salam sayang.

Sekian.

Salam Tun and Bloggers,

I sense same feeling as you did. Why is it the Chinese are all at 'pembangkang site'. What I know about this group of party is that they always use the reason that BN is corrupted party and that they are not.

I asked my Chinese friend he said, the recent result speaks about Anti-Taib kind of thing. He is rich because of corruption whatsoever. Then the discussion went out in a large context that they felt discriminated by the Malay dominated government until the Chinese politician are forced to become yes man. This gives me an impression that indirectly they hated the 'Malay' domination whatsoever. To some who gone extreme, they become anti-Malay and or anti-Islam. This will eventually result in a total division between Malay and Chinese where we will never become a true friend. Instead, a true foe.

This has always been the case but the recent Anwar announcement to wipe out all the 'Ketuanan Melayu' concept and social contract catalyse the situation. It's now or never for the Chinese to actually set themselves free from Malay domination. This united pembangkang group is portrayed as clean, efficient, no discrimination, ideal, perfect, etc, etc,. Even a lot of Bumis also bought this. But I don't trust them. Because when they willing to lie today, I will eventually be taken for a ride later on.

Bumis are all united again to prevent from being dominated by the Chinese while the Chinese thought that they just want to have equal ground. But Bumis always skeptical about this PAP branch. We don't want to end up like Malay Singaporean.

They will always rants about corruption etc, while I still thinks that somehow is always about the conflict between two races in general.

From your note:

3. I congratulate the DAP for bringing its racist politics to Sarawak. Before this all races co-operated well with each other for the good of Sarawak. Now we see clearly that the Chinese community in Sarawak has rejected multi-racialism.

Ordinary citizen (non-political persons view):

PKR: Malay, Chinese, Indian
DAP: Malay, Chinese, Indian
PAS: Malay, Chinese, Indian
UMNO: Malays Only
MCA: Chinese Only
MIC: Indians Only.

Can you Spot the difference of which party are the racists political party? Do you understand the view of multi-racialism in malaysia ? Do you mind share us "Your understanding" of "Multi-Racialism".

salam YABhg Tun,
saya bersetuju dengan kenyataan YABhg Tun,pada pilihanraya di Sarawak isu perkauman cukup jelas...PAS dan PKR hanyalah menjadi buah catur DAP...kawasan luar bandar hantar calon PAS dan PKR untuk bertanding...dikawasan bandar mereka sapu bersih....sedarlah wahai bangsa ku..

Malaysia,tanah tumpah darahku!

Salam Sejahtera Tun,

The result in Sarawak election:

1. Anuar Ibrahim is "baruah" to DAP. Buat penat saja tapi DAP is the winner.
2. Anuar Ibrahim is good in raising up religion issues:-
 - i. In last general election, he was able to raise up emotional Hindraf issue;
 - ii. In the Sarawak election, he raised up the Christian issue;
3. Up next, is the Kuantan rare earth issue. Beware!!!
4. Some more, any Chinese tokong issue to raise up or not? I don't know.

I respect Anuar Ibrahim only because he is the genius of capable to raise up public emotion but I always believe he is not a capable leader to lead the country. If he is that good then he would have shown it when he was DPM. By the way, can we remember which issue or matters he has handled so handsomely that was respected or remembered by the public?

I strongly believe DAP and PAS leaders know that but they just close their eyes and happy with the situation because Anuar Ibrahim will be the cow to carry them to where they want to be.

Dear Tun,

The recent political result in sarawak has cause me as a malay, a suspicion feeling towards the chinese community which i don't have before this.

Even though i know this feeling is not good in a multiracial country like Malaysia, but i think this is just a natural reaction from my past experience as a ex-singaporean and a natural reaction for my race survivability.

What is my past experience as a singaporean?

The cleansing of a 'Malay' identity in a subtle and mild way that in the end of the day, 'Malay' is only known as a myth.

Why i say that?

'No' % increase in the Malays involvement on area in singapore such as

-Parliament Representative

-Economy Pie

-Government Key Position
since independence.

Why the natural reaction for my race survivability?

Everybody know that DAP (Malaysia) is a fraction of the PAP (singapore). Malaysia will met the same fate if DAP is in power (God Forbid). Malays will be 'Pak Turut' in their own land.

Think for a while, what will the chinese will feel if they are 'Pak Turut' in their own mainland China?

A pot calling the kettle black. UMNO is a racist party. Do you see it open to any other races?

DAP on the other hand is opened to all races and has other races in the party besides Chinese.

Why can't you accept the truth that the corruption is rampant in BN and the Chinese in Sarawak is rejecting the corrupted Chief Minister and his cronies who are siphoning millions from the poor people of Sarawak. Development is pitiful in a state full of natural resources. Where has all the money gone?

If there is a Malay, Chinese or Indian leader who is not corrupted, I will vote for him regardless of his party. I do not care about racist politics except for a party that can be transparent and get the job done. Lim Guan Eng has shown the rest of Malaysia how to run a state efficiently and with full transparency. Nik Aziz and PAS has shown the rest of Malaysia how to run Kelantan in a non corrupted way. The hawks of BN has been trying to discredit Guan Eng ever since DAP took Penang but it has been futile because there is no dirty laundry to hang out to dry. The rest of the country is taking notes and seeing how DAP conduct their policies and learning from it. If DAP continues to take care of the rakyat regardless of their race, it will be a formidable party in the next election. The people wants this kind of leadership. You and BN can harp as much as you want to try frighten the less educated Malays into thinking that DAP is a racist party. Eventually, results will overcome racial politics. Take care of the people and they will come back to you.

...peningkatan jumlah undi kepada DAP menunjukkan penularan virus " inferiority Complex " among the chinese in this country...

Pendatang Derhaka

Semasa Zaman itu,
Mereka datang tidak dijemput,
Diterima kita tanpa syaratnya,
Keberanian mereka seakan tiada,
Tiada taring ditunjukkan hanya senyuman senantiasaa,
Kini mereka telah mula berani,
Akibat kebaikan yang diberi,
Akibat tiada ketegasan lagi,
Mereka sudah mula mendesak!
Mereka sudah mula meminta!
Dek kerna diabaikan penjaga,
Yang dicerca mereka ,

Meminta sesuatu yang bukan Hak mereka,
Demi semangat kesamarataan katanya,
Dengan menidakkan Hak empunya ,
Desakkan demi desakkan,
Diheret Tuannya ke muka pengadilan,
Baik secara terang maupun halus,
Disapu kedua-duanya itu,
Pantang diberi muka,
Mau kita dipajaknya,

Apakah yang tinggal untuk generasi berikutnya?

Jika begini kekal hendaknya,

Tiadalah lagi keistimewaan jawabnya,

Tuan tanah dan penceroboh,

Tiada lagi perbezaan antara keduanya,

Kekuatan Islam hancurlah akhirnya,

Sia-sialah perjuangan sebelumnya,

Akibat tundukan pada tuntutananya,

Bertegaslah walau diludah mereka,

Bertegaslah walau diludah anak mu sendiri,

Agar selamat kemudian hari!

The Malaysian Insider reports: "Tun Dr Mahathir Mohamad said today that the Chinese community in Sarawak has rejected multiracialism after being infected by the virus of Chinese racism that he said is the guiding principle of the DAP. He also suggested that any DAP administration would only be ostensibly Malaysian... I congratulate the DAP for bringing its racist politics to Sarawak."

Tun, I think it is high-time you see a psychiatrist for your own sake, as well as for your followers who follow you blindly. Your mind is suffering from delusion. Actually, you are the one practising racism, not the DAP. How can DAP be practising racism when, in the same breath, you also said that "any DAP administration would only be ostensibly Malaysian"?

Assalamualaikum Tun..

As an expected result from the Chinese....

Saya memang dah agak dah keputusan kaum Cina akan tetap kepada DAP..saya dapat rasakan perkara yang sama akan terjadi Semenanjung..malas nak cakap apa...sebab saya lebih suka kaum cina di Malaysia ni lebih bersikap terbuka terhadap BN terutama kepada UMNO...supaya orang orang Melayu dan bumiputera boleh buka mata dan sedar akan situasi di Malaysia sekarang...

Bagi saya kalau semua jalan ekonomi kita telah berikan kepada kaum tersebut tetapi mereka masih lagi berpihak kepada pembangkang, perlu difikirkan di kemudian hari, adakah masih relevan kedudukan pemimpin mereka dalam kabinet Malaysia terutama dalam kementerian kerana mereka sudah tidak menyokong pemimpin yang sedang menjadi pemimpin mereka sekarang..

kepada Melayu dan bumiputera Sarawak, saya ucapkan tahniah kerana masih menyokong kerajaan dan masih mampu mengekalkan majoriti 2/3 walaupun tidak mendapat majoriti undi dari kaum Cina...ini membuktikan jika Melayu/Bumi bersatu menyokong BN..kita masih dapat mengekalkan kepimpinan negara ini kepada orang Melayu/Bumiputera walaupun tidak mendapat sokongan dari masyarakat Cina...

Sekiranya trend ini dapat dirasakan berterusan pada PRU 13..saya harap Melayu semenanjung dapat membuat keputusan yang sama seperti Melayu/Bumi di Sarawak untuk bersatu menyokong BN seperti mana bersatunya kaum Cina menyokong DAP untuk mengangkat martabat politik kaum mereka..mereka boleh buat..kita boleh buat...setelah banyak isu yang berlaku di negeri negeri yang diperintah oleh PR..huru hara negeri...kita boleh simpulkan PR memang tak boleh memerintah secara adil dan saksama...

Saya dapat rasakan kita dapat tawan semula P.Pinang sekiranya Melayu bersatu di sana dan memulaukan PAS dan PKR. PAS dan PKR hanya dapat menguntungkan DAP dari segi pembahagian kerusi di P.Pinang...

Saya harap kawan kawan di Selangor dan Kedah dapat merasai tamparan hebat yang berlaku di Sarawak sekarang dari DAP...jangan jadi boneka mereka semata mata nak mengubah kerajaan..silap silap dengan undi PKR dan PAS..DAP dapat menjayakan agenda mereka..meletakkan kaki ke Putra Jaya...masa itu..lupakan saja perlembagaan dan faedah yang dapat diwakili oleh kaum Melayu/Bumi sebab semua akan dimusnahkan dengan cara yang halus seperti apa yg mereka lakukan di P.Pinang dan Singapura...Bolehkah kita bersaing dengan mereka yang mendapat bantuan dari negara luar?...boleh percaya ke dengan mereka punya..meritocracy? opportunity? initiative? anti-corruption? depan kita memangla cakap perkara perkara ini...belakang..mereka pun main kayu tiga...takdenye meritocracy, oppurtunity, initiative dan anti-corruption kalau mereka memerintah sebab mereka yang letakkan dasar dan peraturan...mestila dasar dan peraturan hanya untuk memihak kepada mereka...

So harap kaum Melayu/Bumi boleh menilai dengan baik. Bagi saya di negara berbilang kaum seperti Malaysia ni, susah nak mengelakkan politik yang dikatakan bersifat rasis sebab masing masing hendak menjaga kepentingan kaum masing masing, cuma tolak ansur dan hormat adalah perlu dari kaum yang berasal dari negara lain kepada kaum Melayu/Bumi yang merupakan kaum asal atau Pribumi di negara Malaysia ini...sekian dari saya...

Salam Ayahanda Tun

The Chinese community in Sarawak now become arrogance. After all, they feel they have everything in place and may survive without the rest of other races. This is what happens in a democratic country like M'sia. You can grab everything comes by opportunity and choose to vote 'something else' if you think there is a bigger opportunity then. If they are somewhere in other country say X, they don't even have right to work or vote in the system. Em not against all of them you know. If they want isolation, give to them the isolation and we show it to them...What ?

By shafinazh on April 19, 2011 1:11 AM

Tun,

Saya tertarik dengan komen mgpunya pada 18 April quote "....what must the Malays learn from all this..???

They must learn to vote for a party...EN BLOC..!!! "

Saya tak tahu lah apa yang beliau maksudkan sama ada undi tersebut hanya untuk kerajaan atau pembangkang?

Kalau untuk pembangkang, saya harap orang Melayu jangan sama sekali akan berbuat demikian.Semoga dihindari Allah.

Tetapi kalau untuk kerajaan yang memerintah sekarang dan masa depan orang Melayu, masalahnya, macam mana nak undi EN BLOC? Sedangkan orang Melayu berpecah belah dan masih lena dibuai pelbagai mimpi yang menyeronokkan mereka atau ringkasnya syok sendiri (SS).

Ada yang bermimpi sudah tidak lagi jadi Melayu tetapi hanya berjubah dan berserban kononnya mereka sahajalah yang pandai dalam serba serbi termasuk menguruskan negara.

Ada juga yang terlalu mengagungkan sesetengah pemimpin politik dan keluarga mereka sehingga tidak boleh berfikir antara yang betul dan salah.

Mereka ini juga marah kononnya tidak baik mengaibkan orang tetapi pada masa yang sama mereka percaya pula mengenai fitnah terhadap pemimpin negara.

Pendek kata, kalau pemimpin negara bersumpah pun mereka tak percaya sedangkan yang tidak bersumpah, mereka akan mempertahankan bermati-matian.

Kalau orang Cina sebulat suara menyatakan pendirian mereka seperti dalam pilihan raya negeri Sarawak, orang Melayu bukan sahaja berpecah belah malah ada yang sanggup menuduh bangsa mereka sendiri sebagai rasis hanya kerana saudara mereka (orang Melayu lain) mempertahankan hak mereka.

Lihat sahajalah di blok-blok yang penulisnya terdiri daripada orang Melayu, kalau dibaca sungguh meloyakan dan menjijikan kerana sanggup menulis sesuatu yang menghina bangsa sendiri sebab kononnya memperjuangkan hak sama rata di negara ini bagi kaum asing.

Khatib-khatib yang kononnya golongan pandai agama juga tidak berasa malu masih meneruskan bacaan khutbah-khutbah Jumaat menyarankan kononnya perlu orang Melayu bersikap adil kepada kaum lain dalam semua bidang di negara ini.

Seperti yang saya tuliskan di atas, orang Melayu sudah dijangkiti virus SS, mereka bermimpi kononnya mereka sudah kaya, pandai dan sebagainya di negara ini.

Jadi mereka pun bersyarahlah termasuk di mimbar masjid menegah bangsa mereka daripada bersikap rasis walaupun bangsa mereka ditentang hebat daripada pelbagai sudut setiap hari oleh kaum lain.

Saya tidak tahu lah Tun sampai bila orang Melayu akan terus bermimpi.

Mungkin Tun sebagai seorang doktor boleh mencadangkan ubat yang sesuai untuk menyedarkan orang Melayu yang sedang tidur lena ini.

Salam Tun.

I am a Malaysian Sarawakian Chinese, currently working as an Architect in Singapore for 3.5 years now. I am currently a permanent resident here. I graduated top 5 percent of my class, from a Malaysian public University in Malaysia. At the final year of my course i did a conscious decision to start my career in Singapore, not because I am a Chinese and i feel the urge to flock with the people of the same feather (or skin color) in the little red dot, rather because its a great place for personal development, and the competitive spirit is such a pleasant surprise. And this competitive spirit extends to all races.

I have a few Singaporean Malay friends which I would like to point out, they are hardworking, successful, non racist (we can joke about each others culture without being sheepish about it), religiously pious and tolerant of other religious views, have kids that are high achievers in the Singapore public exams. In my view they are the epitome of a modern Malay, if you put them in a un distorted market situation, they will excell greatly. In fact i realized some of my Malaysian Malay course mates to, have flocked to this little island state to find employment in recent years, I doubt its because of the food here tastes better.

M, if your duck and I'm a chicken. wouldn't that make us the live stocks of the same farm called Malaysia? Are you more superior because you are a duck? Would we have slogans like ketuanan itik? Whats your point Mr Tun? Whats your agenda? oh i forgot its called the itik agenda...

Kepada Shahrul, at least we can still remember 13th May. I was a studying at ITM, Jalan Othman then. DAP leaders at that time were really abusive towards the Malays. Really pity that young Malay graduates now blindly support those Malay leaders in PAS and PKR who are so dumb to be stooges of DAP.

Greetings,

The following statement troubles me:

"The Malays make up 15 per cent of the island's population but their share of political power and wealth of this very prosperous nation is about one per cent."

With respect to political power, I agree with you that only 15% of Singapore citizens are Malay, however, we can see that $4/20 = 20\%$ of the PAP's Government Committee consist of Malays (http://www.pap.org.sg/parliamentary_comm.php) while there are around 13% of Malay MPs in the government (<http://www.parliament.gov.sg/list-of-current-mps>). This, I feel is a respectable representation.

As for DAP's Chinese based racism, I feel that in this post, you have been accusing DAP without providing a reason why you believe DAP is racist other than saying that the party is composed of majority Chinese. Before accusing DAP of being racist, one should consider that DAP won the Dudong, Kidurong and Batu Kawah seats despite "The Dudong state seat is 51 per cent Chinese, 36 per cent Iban and 11 per cent Malay/Melanau. Kidurong is more than 60 per cent non-Chinese and half of Batu Kawah's voters are non-Chinese."(<http://malaysia-today.net/mtcolumns/newscommentaries/39793-dap-says-sarawak-win-reflects-its-broad-support>). This reflects on how non-Chinese are also moved by the issues raised by the party.

Personally, I feel that the reason BN suffered a set-back this election is the issue of Pehin Sri Haji Abdul Taib excessively long term and alleged corruption and nepotism. Furthermore, unsustainable logging approved by the government (<http://www.nst.com.my/nst/articles/12dive/Article>) is also a main concern of voters this election. While the verdict is still out on corruption allegations, there have been a lot of voices asking for an inquiry into the matter which been brushed aside by the federal government, leading to discontent not only among the Chinese, but urban bumiputeras as well.

As for the for the BN's smaller winning margin in rural areas, I believe that the following story can shed some light on why natives are discontent with the ruling government.:

The Kelabit, Penan and Lun Bawang plaintiffs have been living in the Upper Limbang region for hundreds of years. Since the early 1980s, the region has been logged under a number of logging concessions. Currently, the area is being threatened by a major dam project on the Limbang river and the conversion of secondary forests into oil palm and paper tree plantations. All this while, the native communities had no say whatsoever on the use of their native lands by the Sarawak government and had only received ridiculous compensation payments by some logging companies who made millions of the dollars from logging the tropical hardwoods in the region.

<http://www.world-wire.com/news/1103070002.html>

Going back to the post's 9 out of 11 "points" that claims DAP of being racist, there is little support within the posts to reinforce such claims. I wish to see more arguments to support the claims if possible.

Finally, I hope that future posts would be more informative in shedding light on current situations instead of publishing claims without support so that as a reader, we can be more critical in our analysis of ideas, information and arguments.

Thank you for taking the time to explore the outcome of Sarawak's 2011 State Election with me.

By joehenry on April 18, 2011 11:45 PM

Tun, do you really think that the people in Sarawak would have paid heed to the muhibbah spirit to vote into power parties whom some testosterone-rich hachetmen of the henchmen would term as disgruntled housewife or disgruntled concubine or disgruntled lover?

1) Why are some folks adversed to Malaysian Malaysia?

It's simply a catch phrase that represents EVERYONE. Now, how could that be deemed racist? People who oppose Malaysian Malaysia are the real racists!

On the other hand, 1Malaysia (according to BN) is outright racist simply because Malays come first before the other ethnic groups.

Can you see the difference? 1 slogan that advocates inclusiveness for EVERY Malaysian and another one that proclaims the hegemony of Malays over others.

2) A two party system provides checks and balances. For example, in the US, both Democrats and Republicans cross swords with each other. This means voters have access to opposing views (instead of one-sided government controlled media like in Malaysia) and can have choices.

My question to you is how is it unhealthy and imbalance to have two parties checking one another? That is similar to the principle of entrepreneurship where competition leads to improvement. What's wrong with that?

Please don't spin the two party system into a Malay and non-Malay system. It's simply about two parties CHECKING each other. Period.

3) People in Sarawak voted for change. Majority of people voted for better governance i.e. Competency, Accountability, and Transparency. Besides that, the voters also want fair policies etc.

What is wrong with that?

Secondly, people voted on issues; however, you chose to play the racism card!

You're churning lies when you say DAP is spewing racism. Is it racist or bigotry in nature if one opposes corruption, discriminatory policies, unfair treatment, land grab, and other such unsavory events/qualities/rules?

4) You're spinning the truth to untruth or half truth. That DAP has mostly Chinese is not DAP's fault but because Malays chose to join DAP in only small numbers.

5) The power sharing formula has regressed to one party rule.

BN's policy has been skewed to benefit only the chosen and the timeline for race based policies (NEP and now NEM) been shifted to perpetuity.

Your old paradigm says the political contest is due to race issue, and the so-called culprit is DAP.

The reality is the emergence of a new paradigm, which focuses on ideologies such as anti-corruption, transparency, accountability, better governance, fairness, justice, truth, righteousness, equal opportunity, freedom of expression of religious faiths as enshrined in the Constitution, uplifting the marginalised regardless of ethnicity, culture or religious faiths. Only true blue racists and bigots would oppose these qualities!

6)Lastly, Malaysia is for all. Only racists and bigots would cling to outdated discriminatory practices/rules.

regards,
Malaysian sewerRat

Salam hormat buat Tun.

Setelah melihat tren mengundi kaum cina d Sarawak, tidak dapat tidak kita boleh menyimpulkan bahawa kaum ini memang rasis. Sebelum pilihanraya mereka akan ambil kesempatan untuk meminta sumbangan berjuta2 untuk sekolah2 vernacular mereka atau meminta pelbagai bantuan dan kemudahan. Bila permintaan ditunaikan ingatkan mereka akan balas budi tersebut namun sebaliknya lain terjadi. Duit dan apa juga Peruntukan mereka garap namun undi tetap juga pada kaum parti rasis mereka DAP.

Ini bukan satu fenomena tapi taktik yang memang suda kerab diguna pakai dimana2 pilihanraya kecil, negeri atau umum. Kaum cina rasanya hampir 80 % adalah rasis. Calon cina BN hanya boleh menang dikawasan2 campur. Saluran undi dimana kaum ini majoriti pasti saluran tersebut BN akan tewas. Sebaliknya mana saluran kaum Bumi / Melayu tetap undian disitu membawa kemenangan kepada calon cina atas tiket BN ini. Apakah ertinya ini ? Bagi pandangan saya kaum ini punya pendirian cekal " tak akan undi BN ". Berilah apa saja mereka akan ambil namun undi pantang mereka akan beri.

Sepatutnya BN should devise a plan to accomodate the Chinese tactical strategy that is to allow only Bumi/Malay candidates to stand on the BN ticket to all those identified mixed race seats. Allocate the 90% chinese majority areas to our chinese component (MCA, Gerakan, Supp, LDP) to fight it out with the opposition DAP. If they still decide to vote against the chinese BN candidates its up to them. Jika masih kalah lagi dan memang pun tetap kalah maka Jangan sekali-kali beri muka untuk mereka dilantik n diberikan jawatan menteri atau apa saja. Biarlah mereka tak ada wakil dalam kabinet.

They ask for it and they deserve it.

As a Sarawakian i say that you are misleading the people visiting your site with this post.

Although i was not in Sarawak for the election, i had the chance to view the political speeches made by a few prominent opposition leaders prior to the election day.

DAP hardly touch on racial politics. They were more focused on transparent government, the effects of an overstaying Chief Minister, the plundering of Sarawak's vast resources, the inequality of wealth distribution to the poor and needy and assault on the integrity of people's religion.

The lost of Chinese seats are mainly due to force and effect basically. If the Federal government treat us like shit, we give shit back to them.

If Sarawak, despite being a top contributor to the Malaysian economy, has adequate broadband or more accurately, internet connection penetration, BN may not have a strong foothold in our State. Just like Selangor, Sarawak has a substantial percentage of Malays. Unlike Selangor, the Malays of Sarawak do not have the opportunity like their counterparts in Selangor to access internet contents which may help them relate to the overall sentiment of Malaysians who are fed up with corruption and cronyism.

This will change over time as the country progresses and people will start questioning the way the government handle its finances and expenses. For the Malays to do so, its always a challenge. Malays are comfortable with continuity, not changes. But soon the Malays and Bumis in Sarawak will come to an understanding like their counterparts in KL (even Kampung Baru) and Selangor did.

At hindsight of every Sarawakians, there is a notion that we will be better off separated from the Federation. Most recently, there was a poll conducted which touched on the issue of separation and overwhelmingly, most Sarawakians support this notion.

We are sick of the Federal government's lack of enthusiasm to develop Sarawak. We are sick of knowing that the profits which are derived from our resources are being pooled to be used to pay off debts of most states in Malaysia (which are virtually bankrupt)who are run by morons anyway.

We are sick of being held back from our fullest potential because of Malaysia and despite being so, we are richer than most Senanjung per capita. I know the funds wasted on Semenanjung can be utilised to help the poor people in my beloved state by improving their lives substantially if our resources are not used to fund dipsticks in Semenanjung.

We are sick of being subjected to an official religion even though the 18 point agreement states that no federal official religion will ever apply to us.

We are also sick of the fact that the Federal government, which is located all the way at Putrajaya on the other side of the world's largest sea, and with its "almighty wisdom" and "good virtues" knows what is best for us. You are out of tune with us and you certainly do not deserve our timber and gas if you are going to bloody waste it by buying submarines and "megaprojects" which we derive no benefit from.

Its nothing racist about wanting a better lives for ourselves as Sarawakians. It so happened that the Chinese who are living in the cities have better access to internet infrastructures and are better informed than the other races. The Chinese have historically always been more passionate about good governance and transparency.

Hi Tun, if you ever came to join the DAP ceramahs, then you know what message they were sending. "Anti Taib" was the main topic. Why anti Taib? Not because he is too old, not because he is not handsome enough, not because he has just married a young wife. The reason may be you know better than us or the Sarawakian. The Sarawak Chinese rejected the Chinese Party is also called a "racist"? George Chan has been toppled by Chinese voters also called a "racist"? We were talking freely with other races during the DAP ceramah, where the hell is the racism?

Hi Tun,

>8. The presence of a few Malays in the DAP is just window dressing.

The presence of Malays in DAP, when compared to the presence of NO non-bumis in UMNO, is far better. The people who supported the DAP knew very well that PKR and PAS were their allied, so no issue.

>For more than half a century the races in Malaysia had worked together to build the nation.

In the past, people believed the BN, that the discriminatory action would end after a certain period of time, so they patiently waited.

Dear Tun,

I believe you are close with Taib Mahmud and you know what he did, and still doing it. That is why most of the people disagree with it now. Over 32 years he has ruled, our state benefits nothing, anything good, we are always the last taker, even though our state are one of the most resourceful state in Malaysia. Where has our money and resource gone? We do not want CORRUPTED government that eat our money and not responsible for any development. Other than that, look at those bumiputra, bullying those low-educated people and taking advantages of their land is it nice? Someday they will be extinct. Sarawak which is also one of the most wonderful rainforest in the world. Take a look at other nation how they preserve the forest, and compare to us what our government has did with it? I believe most of the Chinese include those other races don't and won't bother about which race that win the election, as long as it is not corrupted and provide good development to our states! 30+ years and we don't even have a proper north to south highway connecting the states. 30+ years some of our district are still hardly accessible. We are not FIXED DEPOSIT! Develop our Sarawak states and not go into pocket!!!

Good evening Ayahanda Tun,

1. Dr George Chan said, 'Don't worry lah' with no bitterness in his heart because he has enough of politics.
2. The people who starts 'takutkan bayang2nya sendiri' are Lim Guan Eng and DS Anwar Ibrahim.
3. Today, the Chinese Community can be frustrated by DAP to dump MCA, Gerakan and SUPP.
4. Tomorrow the Chinese Community can be frustrated by MCA and Gerakan to dump DAP.
5. Dr Chua said in Sarawak, 'v Chinese must not beat Chinese.'
6. But we Chinese said, it's the blaming game whereby DAP sure hantam MCA, MCA sure hantam SUPP, Gerakan sure hantam DAP in order to taste the Cabinet Power of Emperor, but today Emperor is replaced by Panda Bear.
7. The myth of '4 orang Cina jadi 1 ekor Ulat' came true right after Sarawak GE10th as reported by Christina Tan when Dr Chua buka mulut of MCA boleh buat, lain2 parti tak boleh buat kerana aku Emperor kepada Kaum Cina di Malaysia, stupid Dr Chua.

8. That's why we study and work hard to make sure we are not manipulated by these so-called politicians again and again.

9. With or without them, we have someone in our heart whom we can rely on...1 Malaysia, 1 Raja, 1 Negara, 1 Bangsa because we do not nuke them by drawing out their internal organs.

10. What the Chinese want is not 2 political systems, what we want is be fair and stop terrorizing and harrasing us with Ketuanan Melayu because our naked Emperors @ leaders are dam lousy and sissy (means yes men) and have gadaikan our marauh and freedom untuk skim cepat kaya mereka saja.

11. Tunggu apalagi PM Najib, just call for GE13th to tell Malaysians that you want your mandate so that you can fulfill what you have promised to we 1 Malaysians, and when BN wins, KLCI will increase normally and healthily so that all Malaysians will enjoy our economy fairly and equally tak kira kaum dan agama.

12. Malaysian Little Lions are 'non-kafir' and loyal to the original owners of this soil which no Chinese politicians can changed as and when they see fit politically.

13. Suka tak suka ahli2 politik Cina, ikut protokol dan diplomacy antarabangsa, TS Myuhiddin, as Vice Premier Malaysia, is invited by Vice Premier Mr Li Ke-qiang to meet him in Beijing, Ayahanda Tun should know why.

14. Our VP is also scheduled to visit Press Metal Bhd (?) subsidiary plant in Guangdong.

15. Panda Hao Hao adapted by Hong Leong's Violet Lee meant 'Humility', similar to the kanji of 'H' in HBT, bukan maksud 'Good' as reported by The Star paper lah.

Goodnight Ayahanda Tun.

Salam YABHg Tun,

Pakpandir08 ..get a grip of reality ..it is you who is spinning not Tun.

Simple reason city folks in Sarawak vote for DAP based on ethnic reason alone. Do not try to deny the obvious. And city folks also do not vote solely because they are better inform, APek jual sayur who never use the internet also vote for DAP ..why? is he well informed or because he voted base on sentiment and race alone? In any case no point arguing with lost soul like you Pakpandir08 who has little respect to anyone else who have dissenting views from you. By austози on April 18, 2011 9:05 PM

Dear Tun,

Strangely enough, before and during the election campaigns, race was never on DAP or PR's agenda, but featured heavily in BN's propaganda. If you only cared to look, PR's campaign was focused on Taib Mahmud's extraordinary (purportedly ill-gotten) wealth, the poverty of the natives (not the Chinese, mind you) of Sarawak, and the inefficiency and corruption of the BN government. These are real issues that deserve the people's attention. BN, on the other hand, kept threatening the people that if they should vote for the opposition, they would lose representation in (a very corrupt but powerful) government.

I'm extremely happy that the Sarawakians, after years of expressing discontent in private at Taib's plundering of the state's resources, have finally translated their disapproval into action. Granted, many were still bought by promises of short-term gain by the corrupt leaders of BN, the swing of votes away from BN was a step in the right direction nonetheless.

It must also be said that the entire state's (and nation's) machinery was mobilised to PR's disadvantage. The police and electoral commission had behaved in a way that strongly projected themselves as pro-BN (not that we had any doubts before but their blatant display of political allegiance was still shocking). Of course, there were also the denial of service attacks that affected a number of online news portals that had the courage to expose the misdeeds of the previous Sarawak government. The timing was too uncanny to have not been sponsored by some parties who wanted desperately for BN to win the election. That the PR still managed to gain seats under such intense pressure only serves to remind us of the true measure of popular support they would have got had the police and electoral commission been thoroughly fair in their conducts.

You can try to spin it however you like, but many have begun to see that it's not about race but what is right. A politician stealing from the people to enrich himself for three decades is simply not right. A government spending the riches it steals from its people to deny them the truth is not right. That you have chosen to congratulate Taib and keep mum on his alleged corruption is understandable as your track record isn't particularly convincing either. It's a long road to right all that's wrong with our government but many are unwavering in their effort to do the right thing. In the meantime, please just remember that the longer you seek to perpetuate the wrong, the more wrong you are committing. When the day of change comes (and it will), the punishment for all the wrongs that you have committed will be proportionate to the wrongs you have done. And this is a seed you're sowing not only for yourself but for your posterity for decades to come. And they will have no one else to blame but you.

Kebimbangan Tun memang kami turut kongsi. Tidak tahukah, selama 54 tahun Barisan Nasional lah yang membawa pembangunan dan kekayaan ke bandar-bandar yang di kuasi orang cina. Sesudah menikmati semua yang di beri, paling-tadah bagaikan kacang lupakan kulit. Kini tukar kepada PR. Selesa kot...

Kita ini bukan lah racist, tapi untuk orang cina tidak adanya maksud setiaan atau syukor. Bahkan dari segi moral pun tidak ada, maksiat untuk mereka adalah biasa (judi haram, brg haram, sex bebas dll). Kalau bawa bincang, maklumbalas yang kita dapat adalah kononnya mereka di anggap kerajaan sebagi 3 class citizen. Siang-malam ini yg di bincang di kedai kopi.

Jika kerajaan melaksanakan undang-undang dengan sekeras-keras, kerajaan semasa tidak guna. Ini yg berlaku di KDRM. Yang beri rasuah orang melayu ka...?

Cari pendekatan baru Tun...from now alter the score form the equation.

By ekompute on April 18, 2011 8:43 PM

Hi Tun, this article is rather pathetic and doesn't speak well of you. You don't seem to be aware that the Chinese community is sick of Abdul Taib Mahmud and his alleged corruption. Yet, you seem to condone his immense wealth. As for the Malays, I would say that they seem rather pathetic. They know not what a clean government is all about. Corruption is not just at the top, it spreads to the people and the people therefore deserve who they vote for... a corrupted government.

Tun, you seem to blame the DAP for racism in Malaysia. Have you ever take a mirror and take a good look at UMNO (except probably Najib now) and your ownself? Why are you siding with Ibrahim Ali and Perkasa then, if not for racism? Tunku Abdul Aziz has this to say about the DAP: "While other parties talk about democracy, justice, and equality... DAP not only espouses these values but try much harder than the rest." Why didn't this former President of Transparency International Malaysia say the same thing about UMNO?

And fancy you writing a memoir when you coincidentally suffered amnesia when your testimonies were so crucial during the V. Lingam Royal Commission of Inquiry! Do you think that you have done justice to Malaysia and Malaysians? And are you sure your memory did not fail you when you wrote your memoir?

At your age, I would think that you have mellowed considerably and are wiser, but this article tells me that you are as racist as ever. Can you meet your Maker with a clean conscience? Why don't you write an article on Islam and the Prophet's Last Sermon, particularly the paragraph relating to what He says about Ketuanan Bangsa, and then try to justify your Ketuanan Melayu?

Oh, by the way, you said that your son bought into San Miguel's Corporation to help them get out of the beer business which happens to be their rice bowl. Can you update us on the progress? And his share of the beer profits so far. What is he doing with that?

Hopefully, you will publish this comment so that I can see what dirt I get from the other commentators.

Keputusan pilihan raya Serawak merupakan satu iktibar dan kesedaran pada kaum bumiputra yang bangsa pendatang tidak pernah setia dan tidak mahu kerjasama dengan kaum lain. Ini sangat bahaya untuk masa depan kaum bumiputra sama ada di semanjung atau di Sarawak. Parti politik yang membela nasib bumiputra harus segera sadar dan segera merubah agenda mereka sebelum Negara jadi kocar kacir yang disebabkan oleh kaum pendatang.

Bangsa pendatang segera tidak mengakui pemimpin mereka Anwar Ibrahim seorang yang tidak jujur dan tidak layak memimpin sesiapa pun, beliau tidak berani kasi DNA kononya di salah guna. Mengapa harus takut kalau tidak bersalah. DNA nya boleh di uji di negara yang neutral contoh di America atau di Australia. Raayak jelata khusus kaum muslim bukan bodoh dan buta. Kali ini timbul lagi video sex. Wan Azizah memang tahu siapa yang sebenar di video tersebut karna pada waktu tersebut saya percaya Anwar Ibrahim tidak jelaskan di mana beliau berada. Saya tidak paham mengapa pengikutnya pura2 tidak mahu tahu atau buta apa lagi parti PAS kononnya menegakkan lambang Islam. Kaum bumiputra sama ada di semanjung atau di Borneo harus bersatu sebelum hak pusaka mereka hilang dan hidup jadi hamba di Negara Sendiri.

Dearest YAB Tun,

1. Yes, I AGREE with Tun.
2. In the past, I was told that Chinese people in Sarawak were different from Peninsular Chinese, but now this is no longer true; proven by the elections' results.
3. As a Malay/Bumiputra, I will continue to support UMNO/BN. Even in 2008, I still gave my vote to BN even though I was so mad at Tun Abdullah for his WEAKNESS and IGNORANCE. He caused all these racial issues/problems that we are currently facing.
4. Tun Abdullah is responsible for letting DAP/PKR/PAS accomplished their goals of destroying our unity. We have seen this happened in GE 2008.
5. To UMNO/BN leaders, please reward the BUMIPUTRAS as appropriate for their undivided support. Jangan dihiraukan sangat mereka yang menolak BN – buat apa yang perlu sahaja. Jaga baik-baik PENYOKONG BN. Kalau tiada penyokong BN, “BN is OVER/HISTORY”. Jangan nanti YANG DIKEJAR TAK DAPAT, YANG DIKENDONG BERCICIRAN.

Thanks Tun.

Tun, if you try to think out of the box ... it seems like your blog is describing your own feet ...

for example: who should be the racists party and window dressing?

MCA & Gerakan does not seems to be window dressing all the while? i though most of the people will have this mutual understanding or may be i am wrong ... hehe ...

each time any words come out from you or your side ... most of the people will stunt and "mata terbeliak" coz it always sound like pointing back at your own ... hehe no one buy your idea Tun unless for those that who worry about contracts on their hand ... hehe ...

By pakpandir08 on April 18, 2011 6:01 PM

if you ask most of the chinese now adays ... if there is option either to send Chinese from MCA/Gerakan or Malay from PKR/PAS to parliment or DUN ... they will definately send the clean Malay in, the chinese from MCA/Gerakan will be bungkus ... so where is the basis of racist from your fact?

or what you can do is go for another election again in Sarawak, with only Malay from PKR/PAS vs Chinese from MCA/SUPP/Gerakan ... and see who will be selected by the chinese in Sarawak city ... for sure again the Chinese from MCA/SUPP/Gerakan will be bungkus again and the Malay from PKR/PAS selected 100% ... so where is the basis of racist from your fact? A good Malay cannot represent other races?

i think may be during childhood, someone is bullied by a chinese neighbourhood's kid ... may be fight when play guli or etc .. i don't know ... that's why he hates chinese so much until now ...

By kzso on April 18, 2011 5:56 PM

pakpandir08,

Another point is the city folks feel that BN is really no cure. Why? It is very simple BN is the government with plenty of resources compared to opposition in order to gain back 100% support, what you need to do is as simple as:

(a) fight corruption

Agreed. Let's get Azmin Ali, Rahim Hhouse, Anwar Ibrahim, Dato' Ibrahim and hundreds-and hundreds of Anwar's and DAP cronies in Selangor and Penang too.

(b) don't create racist issue (eg: threaten others with weapon annually)

Agreed. Tell this to Lim Kit Siang, Lim Guan Eng, Teresa Kok, Elizabeth Wong and others in DAP too.

(c) fight crimes & improving security in the societies & communities

Agreed. ISAed who created disharmony among Malaysian and the country.

By TuaCheng on April 18, 2011 5:55 PM

Congratulation to the Urbanites of Sarawak, that is wise and educated.

Honestly, their vote has shown democracy beyond racist lines, unlike Mr. Mahathir racializing everything through SUPP/UMNO/MCA or etc.

Cant the Dayaks/Melanau/Malaysian Chinese vote for Multi-racial DAP party??

Mr. Mahathir, please do not treat the urbanites of Sarawak as people still making coconuts for living.

They have vision for greater things and nepotism/corruption is not their flavour of the day.

Bravo, as the impenetrable was penetrated.

By pakbelalang on April 18, 2011 5:37 PM

Time to change, Tun. If you are not racist all this while now is the time to be racist once and for all. After all you are branded as racist. So let's all be racist. I love to be racist. Make a T-shirt and distribute "I AM RACIST" !!

Dengan depa ni dah tak boleh bagi muka. Kita nak bersatu tapi dia jual mahal. Tak habis-habis gunakan salah guna kuasa dan rasuah sebagai alasan untuk menentang kerajaan. Sebenarnya depa ada agenda yang lebih besar lagi tapi orang kita dah bodoh stupid. Tak nampak!!!

By goldenscreen on April 18, 2011 4:51 PM

I'm sorry but I completely reject your arguments Tun Mahathir. The Chinese had rejected the Chinese based SUPP because the party is seen as a corrupt party dominated by Taib yes-men and greedy large towkays i.e. it is no longer a party representing the Chinese in Sarawak but a party that represents Chinese towkays in Sarawak.

And don't Tun pretend that the writing was not already on the wall for SUPP since before the 2006 state elections. Grumbling by Sarawak Chinese on urban issues, rampant gangsterism in the state (which is perceived by the community as being protected by the political and business godfathers that dominate SUPP), corruption in the local councils, frequent and repeated shortages of basic commodities, lack of jobs, the land lease premium issue which has been festering since 2001 as well as the perceived arrogance of SUPP in handling urban grievances contributed to the slow and steady decline of SUPP.

Being the PM for 22 years and now still active in politics, it is not possible that Tun had overlooked these factors unless Tun was misled on the real situation on the ground by the Sarawak BN component parties.

FYI Tun Mahathir, the majority of information regarding corruption, abuse of power and gangsterism issues that are widely circulated in Sarawak's urban areas come directly from SUPP informants as well as employees of the large towkays through their family members and clan networks.

In fact these are not new issues, but has been going on since the 1990s and allowed to fester for so long that SUPP was nearly wiped out in 2011. The same goes for Gerakan in Penang. It was not DAP that came in suddenly and infected the Chinese in Sarawak with what you term as "Chinese racism", the Chinese was already ready to revolt for a long time. All it took was for the perfect storm of issues to push the community towards DAP.

Hopefully Tun can see beyond petty issues of race and look at the real problems faced in Sarawak's urban centers.

By ah_heng on April 18, 2011 4:48 PM

Tun,

Racist politics? Are you new in Malaysia?? Oh, wait.. You were our "beloved" PM for 22 years!!!

You might have forgotten (Melayu/Mahathir Mudah Lupa)...

Aren't they not racist? Aren't you?

It's time I think you should go. For good. Forever.

By asampedas on April 18, 2011 4:45 PM

Tun,

PAS and PKR are in no small way contributing to DAP's present 'success' in making significant inroads into Sarawak's political landscape. In fact, as far as the Chinese electoral votes in Sarawak are concerned, it was a 'tsunami' of sorts. A tsunami of Peninsular magnitude simply did not occur due to the less enthusiastic support of the other races, namely the bumiputras.

The success of PR in the last general election send a very strong signal, especially to the Chinese community. Many now believe that with the PR 'pact' the way to Putra Jaya is indeed within reach. A 'gotong-royong' of sorts insofar as casting of ballots is concerned occurred. We find PAS, PKR and DAP coming to terms in many aspects and their supporters casting votes for one another to ensure defeat for BN candidates. The euphoria didn't last long. However, it was enough to 'arouse' Chinese sentiments in Sarawak. Not so for the Bumis, for they perceive that the so-called pact is a costly one for them. They realize that now even the special privileges as enshrined in the Constitution are openly being challenged and they have yet to hear where PAS and PKR stand on such issues. There are other factors too, of course, that diminish the strength of the pact.

A reversed tsunami will likely happen, insofar as the non-Chinese are concerned, in the next PRU.

By Shawn Tan on April 18, 2011 4:44 PM

Dearest Tun,

While I agree with most of what you say and also your fears for the future of Malaysian unity, I have to say that the very same can be said of the BN component parties - they are also very adept at playing the race card and dividing everyone up by race.

Divide and conquer is a well proven strategy after all.

I would really like to know, if you have some idea of a way to break down the barriers and have everyone working together towards a better Malaysia.

Otherwise, this is just a case of a pot and kettle.

By prof_ridcully on April 18, 2011 4:24 PM

Salam Tun,

"3. I congratulate the DAP for bringing its racist politics to Sarawak..."

Ouch.

Once again you've hit the nail right on the head. I'll bet once again you'll be called "racist" by the very racists who support DAP's chauvinism and racism.

But many Malays and Bumis, the so-called post-race political types cocooned in their material "achievements" [many as a result of the NEP] and feeling rather smug and secure about their place in this blessed country, will wonder why you write about this. I hope they will take their blinkers off.

This is also to expect when you have a kerispondan hishamudin as the home minister. I think he is the most under-performed home minister Malaysia ever had; where

1. he is seen of having no clout,
2. not seen or been seen and firm of any racist statement raised by dap, pkr etc,
3. even when the malay right enshrine in constitutions were challenge by the chinese, he did nothing;

4. when the perak sultan was be-little by karpal singh and others, nothing happens, no action taken;

5. when Islam and bahasa melayu was question by the chinese hedid nothing although Islam and bahasa melayu is 'protected' in the constitutions

6. lots of racists and provocations remarks during by-elections were uttered by dap, pkr and did home minister keeps a deeeeeeeppppp silent and did whathe do best ie smiling and show his white teeth.

Hope Najib and Muhyiddin seek umno veterans ideas the best way to solve this problems created by the previous bn government...

I salute the voters who make this possible and using thiers votes courageously to send a signal to the arrogant BN.

Do not dismiss the power of the people. If BN don't change its attitude, we may see a change in Government in the future or perhaps sooner come this 13th GE.

As'kum Tun Yang Dihormati,

Saya SOKONG 100% statement Tun. DAP sangat licik dalam permainan politik & DAP sememangnya tak hirau tentang masa depan negara ini (Ini tidak hairan sebab matlamat UTAMA untuk tawan Malaysia adalah untuk menjadikannya seperti SINGAPURA). Dan hati mereka2 yang menyokong ini tidak ada TAAT SETIA kepada negara (buat la mcmmana pun - bagi emas segunung pun tak akan ubah hati mereka ini)..yang penting negara TERCINTA ini mereke yang punya.

Sejurus diumumkan keputusan Pilihanraya Sarawak..malam itu juga statement dari Lim Kit Siang - "Sarawak Not More A FIX DEPOSIT for BN". AWAS! AWAS! AWAS! kepada semua wakil rakyat & rakyat yang menyokong BN (UMNO, MIC, MCA DLL).

Saya kaum Melayu (lelaki 35 thn), Ipoh Perak..ada satu kes dimana kaum pendatang ini MENGHERDIK seorang perempuan Melayu di TESCO Ipoh yang anak kecilnya potong Q pergi ke emaknya semasa beratur dikaunter dengan mengatakan "...lu balik kampung la..ini (Malaysia) kita orang punya"..sakit hati saya, sumpah lilahhitaala. Mereka ini kaum pendatang tak ada sence of hormat pada kaum Bumiputera (memang dah tersemat dalam hati).

Dato' Seri Najib perlu lebih bijak lagi tangani hal ini. Pada pandangan saya :

- 1). Isu Video Sex Anuar - tolak ketepi, buat la mcmmana pun samada dia salah @ tidak, org akan simpati. Biar dia dengan 'labunya' dan Allah tentukan kerana ini aib org.
- 2). Wakil rakyat yang dah lama pegang kerusi, minta Dato Seri Najib arahkan utk turun - ini akan dijadikan isu & melemahkan BN.

Harapan saya kepada pengundi negeri2 berikut:

PERAK / selangor - undilah BN, sebab tanah, harta etc akan ditukar kepada sesuatu kaum sahaja. Dah ada contoh terjadi - 999 tahun Hak Milik Tanah, Tanah Rizab Melayu ada yang telah ditukar dahulu semasa MB PAS.

KEDAH / KELANTAN - saya tak risau sebab pembangkang kaum Melayu juga.

CELIK2 LAH KAUM MELAYU - anda benar2 digunakan oleh mereka ini untuk kepentingan kaum mereka. Fikir2 lah...untuk masa depan anak cucu kita.

By checker on April 18, 2011 3:44 PM

Salam Tun & othe fellow bloggers.

Definitely many will accuse you as racist. If the trend remains unchanged, what prevent that Malaysia will one day return to its original status.... just Semenanjung Tanah Melayu? Only for the Malays and those who are willing to comply to the term of the agreed social contracts. The rest should surrender their citizenship status if they are not willing to abide by the agreement. I sound very racist indeed for simple reason ... we have ONLY this country called Tanah Melayu and if somebody else want to get rid of us in so "democratic" way, we have no other choice but to fight back for the survival of the Malay race.

We have seen what happened in Palestine, in Iraq, in Afghanistan, in Sudan, in Somalia, in Libya and more to come. What in the world that these "powerful countries" have the right sitting down in London to discuss about who and what kind of government should take over from Gadaffi (not that I like him). We cannot discount for foreign intervention in the geopolitical system especially in Muslim countries. We should be alert on this eventual possibilities.

The Malays have no other choice but to UNITE as Muslims yg BERIMAN kpd Allah. Allah berfirman, " berpeganglah kamu kepada tali Allah, jangan berfirqah2/berpuak2, ta'at kpd Allah dan ta'atlah pada utusannya Allah SAW". Insya'allh, Allah will protect us....ameen.

Salam Sejahtera Tun.

paragraph 4. But others in BN also committed many wrong things.

Memang benar apa yang Tun katakan,banyak perkara pun kita turuti kehendak kaun cina,hasil nya pun sama.

Kalau BN masih lagi begini habis lah.

Semakin kita mundur nereka pun makin ke depan.

Ingat kan 1 Malaysia boleh menyatukan,tapi apa yang jadi?

Sedih lah Tun,rindu sangat lah kepimpinan Tun.

Najib must go on with his national agenda with or without the Chinese participation, period. It is their doing for not wanting to be with the government. They are still thinking confidently that Pakatan now is the best bet for them to fall back. Let see how it goes this coming election. Who will be the main losers !!

SUPP should not accept any state Cabinet position
By CHRISTINA TAN

KUALA LUMPUR: SUPP should not accept any position in the Sarawak state Cabinet as the party had lost the Chinese community's support, the MCA said.

"If it takes part in the Cabinet, I feel the Chinese of Sarawak would think they (SUPP) are there only for the seats and not to serve the community," said MCA president Datuk Seri Dr Chua Soi Lek.

comment:

Yes, I agree with Dr Chua. Taib must not appoint any representative from the Chinese community. It is best to give the Iban, the dayak, the Malanau additional cabinet posts. Forget about the Chinese. They just want to be out from the govt. There is no logic to appoint Chinese cabinet ministers because the ministers will be ridiculed by their own community. It will embarrass them if they accept the ministerial posts.

I pity Dr Chua. He is struggling to revive MCA. But if the Chinese have decided to be with DAP. Let it be !! Just see how the Chinese will fare with DAP.

Well said Tun. The DAP leadership are "blind, deaf and dumb". Likewise their followers and supporters. They think they can have it all. The Chinese are forever not thankful. What a pity !!! This time around BN must give everything to all bumiputras Melayu, kadazan, iban, dayak, kelabit, malanau and other ethnic bumiputra groups.. No point of giving sweets to the Chinese. They don't appreciate it. They are a selfish race. They will never like to share. The sweets given to them always tasted bitter because their tongues are made of plastics!!!!

Hai Tun N All

i like to joint one guy in this blog. he is racist.
I like to be racist too. ha ha ha

I only support one race same like that guy.

HUMAN RACE. hahahahahaha

I tak support this race

F1 RACE hahahaha
explore race hahahahaha

but biler citer pasal melayu china india ni...

very tired oredy.

leceh bn, leceh pas, leceh dap, leceh pkr leceh semuanyer.

one thing for sure... pr 13

saya cuma akan undi org dot dot dot ajer hahahahaha kalu orang dot dot dot menang senang ... nak mintak kat depa ni..

tarik balik kerakyatan "rakyat rakyat tu" .. dan malaysia kita ubah balik nama ... semenanjung tanah dot dot dot senang nak citer kalu "rakyat rakyat tu" kecoh...

Pilihan raya Sarawak kali ni nampak dah kecenderungan nyer.. terbukti kelainannyer..

so kene ubah...kene berfikiran sempit plak...
biler kiter berfikiran terbuka.. "rakyat rakyat tu" never appreciated on what we have done.

about time isn't it? what do you think? argh.. be cool my fren.

Hi Tun,

You had been my PM for almost all my entire childhood life. Thank you Tun for all the contributions to our country, except one.

>The world saw stable BN Governments with power and wealth being shared by all races quite fairly.

Fairly? I was consistently among the top in the whole cohort of around four to five hundred people. The result of my Malay language subject was as good as the other subjects in SPM. But I got rejected by the UPU (the then centralized university admission body, I'm not sure what it is called now). I can also assure you that people with bad English, so bad that I sometimes don't even know what they are talking about, just because they're from a certain type of schools, had scored the same grade, in English.

The Chinese subject in SPM, for this year alone, how many people scored A+? 0.1%?, whereas other subjects: 8%.

So, if the gov says, oh.. anyone who scores full A+ can get a scholarship. I would say, such a dumb statement is only used to cheat the dumb people. The gov thinks the Malaysian Chinese people, mostly "kacukan" (or genetic hybrid) people between the various ethnic groups in Asia, are so dumb not to know what that means?

The Malaysian Chinese are not racist. What we want is very simple:

Equality, and a healthy check-and-balance 2-party political system.

Racism? What racism?

By pakpandir08 on April 18, 2011 2:18 PM

correction Tun ... u should not twist the facts (which is your hobby) ... the sarawak people in city reject BN as simple as they feel there is culture of corruption & misuse of power ... whether the feel is true or not i think u know better than anyone else since u r so smart (with condition that u are not selectively memory lost) it does not relate to anything about race issue. If there is Malay leader such as Tok Nik Aziz who is clean and responsible, either chinese or indian will give full support ... what's wrong if there is clean Malay that lead the country and other races? i think only brainless human will think only leader of own species will protect their interest rich chinese cannot help poor malay? rich malay cannot help poor indian? and rich indian cannot help poor chinese? I think you will be the only human on earth will say Yes to these questions ...

i think what make u so worry and come out with this blog is because u saw young malay holding DAP flags and young chinese holding PAS flags recently ... and the most important thing is you are so afraid of seeing Anwar become prime minister .. i don't know why but definately there is some reasons ... haha ...

if you are free, suggest Tun to visit some cities or kampung baru cina together with MCA/Gerakan leaders & PAS leaders ... see what are the responses you and the MCA/Gerakan leader will get compared to PAS leaders ... i can guarantee you even MCA/Gerakan leaders are chinese, but still are not welcomed compared to PAS leaders so the fact is clear, is it due to racist?

Another point is the city folks feel that BN is really no cure. Why? It is very simple BN is the government with plenty of resources compared to opposition in order to gain back 100% support, what you need to do is as simple as:

- (a) fight corruption
- (b) don't create racist issue (eg: threaten others with weapon annually)
- (c) fight crimes & improving security in the societies & communities

However, don't know why it seems this is a very tough job for BN ... as hard as just like u r asking a 100 years old man to climb KLCC twin tower with bare hands ... that's y u r rejected ... haha

Salaam tun, if only we can get you, Helen Thomas, Norman Finkelstein and maybe Noam Chomsky in a forum on Palestine here in Malaysia..

By airuladiba on April 18, 2011 2:05 PM

Salaam tun, i couldn't agree more.. May Allah continue to bless this country..

By khairuddin on April 18, 2011 2:00 PM

YABhg Tun,

Salam hormat. Saya merujuk para 8...few Malays in DAP.. as window dressing. Saya tidak faham Melayu yang ada dalam DAP dan orang orang Melayu dalam PAS dan PKR yang bersekongkol dengan DAP yang bersifat perkauman dan anti Melayu. Saya masih ingat lagi 13 Mei...bagaimana pemimpin pemimpin DAP yang berarak melalui Jalan Othman, PJ sambil melaung-laung kepada pelajar pelajar Melayu supaya balik kampung. Mereka menghina orang orang Melayu.

Dear Tun,

I was looking forward to view you feedback on the Sarawak Election and glad to read your post. I agree with you on the said matter that DAP is practicing the racial base politics. Generally the chinese buy what the DAP emphasize that is the chinese is the main contributor for the personal income tax and the benefits been wasted to the Malays. This is not healthy politic especially in a country of multi racial as Malaysia, from this the gap between races will be prominent.

Tun, i hope that you could comment about the two party system cons, as now everyone is being seduce to have a two party system as it will be good for the country, i personally dont think so? well then they will ask us to take the Almighty US as the example and fools us away on this. Hope you could post on this.

I believe that democracy is the ultimate way of world future in administration of government, it seems to be fair and just. But i also believe that that absolute democracy would be harmful for a country like Malaysia. A developing country should always have exception in the democracy or else it will harm the country development, as what you had quote in your interview with BBC Hard Talk, that democracy doesnt always work for every nation, some superpower nation as China has prove that.

Hope you could comment on the two party system and absolute democracy for us to understand the good and bad in the system.

Thank you.

Fadhil

YABhg Tun,

....what must the Malays learn from all this..???
They must learn to vote for a party...EN BLOC...!!!
