ASIAN WALL STREET JOURNAL PROVIDES SAME-DAY DELIVERY IN LABUAN

KUALA LUMPUR, Aug 29 (Bernama) -- The Asian Wall Street Journal (AWSJ) is delivered to Labuan from Kuala Lumpur on the same day of printing beginning today.

"Our Kuala Lumpur printing site allows us to distribute copies of The AWSJ on a timely, same-day basis to this important new market," AWSJ managing director William Adamopolous said in a statement today.

"Labuan's strategic location in Southeast Asia positions it well to develop further as a financial centre," he added.

Investors in Labuan previously received copies of the regional business newspaper by postal delivery. The newspaper became the first regional paper to print here since March by Papyrus Printing Sdn Bhd, the printing arm of Star Publications (M) Bhd.

This additional new service coincides with the official opening of Labuan Financial Park office complex by Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad today.

At present, the AWSJ same-day delivery service is available in Kuala Lumpur, Petaling Jaya, Pulau Pinang, Butterworth, Johor Baharu, Kota Kinabalu and Kuching. -- BERNAMA
