A little effort can make our cities look clean

DOING IT RIGHT ... There may still be hope for a cleaner Kuala Lumpur.

After last week's criticism by Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad of the deplorable state of cleanliness along highly visible areas of Kuala Lumpur, some people have taken notice.

Yesterday, this girl demonstrated civic-mindedness at the Kota Raya complex by disposing of her rubbish in the correct place.

However, some people still need to be taught how to throw their rubbish into the bin and not merely place it on the bin.

It just goes to show that a little effort could go a long way towards making our cities clean again.
