Let's not bow to demands of outside forces

P. Selvakumar

I WAS stunned after reading the report citing a motion sponsored by one Robert Wexler, a US Congressman who, along with another 33 others, attempted to table a motion to force our Prime Minister, Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad, to either step down or apologise for purported anti-Semitic remarks.

It is arrogant of these US Congressmen to attempt to table such a motion.

Malaysia is an independent and sovereign nation. We practise democracy based on a parliamentary constitution.

No outsider has a right to meddle with our internal affairs, what more to dictate who should run our country.

The United States may be a superpower, but it should not delude its people that it is the world's police.

There is a world body called the United Nations which "theoretically" is the supreme power in the world. It was established to maintain peace and security and to promote co-operation between nations in solving social, economic and cultural problems.

If the US as a single nation can command more clout than the UN, which comprises almost 200 countries, then the world body should be dissolved.

In times like these, all Malaysians should voice their united support for Dr Mahathir who has led our nation to industrialisation.

Let us not tolerate or bow to whimsical demands of outside forces who use strong-arm tactics to rob us of our sovereignty.
