Trans Resources is the contractor of the RM138 million airport terminal. Work on the terminal began in November 1996 and is about 70 per cent completed.

The terminal has a built-up area of about 1,600 square metres while the airport will have a 2,900-metre runway.

The airport, scheduled to be completed at the end of the year, is expected to help Labuan become a tourist and business destination.
