

07/02/1998

People still refusing to clean up their act

WILL WE EVER LEARN? ... This sequence of pictures once again displays the public's apathy to cleanliness.

Taken outside the Sinar Kota building along Jalan Pudu in Kuala Lumpur on Wednesday evening by NST photographer Imran Mohkzan, this boy was caught in the act of discarding his paper cup among the stones around the tree.

The people around him were either oblivious to his action or just simply indifferent to the need to keep the environment clean.

It was not too long ago (August last year), that our Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad expressed disgust and embarrassment at the state of the city's surroundings along Jalan Bukit Bintang, which were unfortunately viewed by visiting Pakistan Prime Minister Nawaz Sharif.

(END)