Thanks to Games officials for free admission to stadium

Soo Ewe Jin

THANK you for publishing my letter (Be flexible, let us in to fill up Games venues, NST, Sept 16).

We were pleasantly surprised the following day when we walked by the MPPJ Stadium in Kelana Jaya. The ushers at the South Wing and police personnel on duty rushed up to me and asked if we would like to enter the stadium for free that day.

Since there were no RM10 tickets on sale again that day, we gladly took up the offer. Many others were also admitted for free that day and I am sure both the Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad and his Fiji counterpart Sitiveni Rabuka were very impressed at the huge crowds that evening.

On behalf of my wife and two young boys, I thank those who gave the green light for the free entry.

On Monday, my family was able to watch the badminton team finals at the Cheras Stadium for free because a businessman had donated the tickets his company bought to my sons' school.
