A message from our Prime Minister

Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad

I WISH to congratulate Malaysian Resources Corporation Berhad on the official launch of the Stesen Sentral Kuala Lumpur. This marks another step forward for the nation in terms of development for the people that ultimately translates to positive economic growth.

When the Government first conceived the plan for the development of Kuala Lumpur Sentral, the underlying objective was to create an efficient rail transportation hub that would serve as a complementary means of transport.

I am pleased to note that as the project emerged from that nucleus of Malaysia's rail transportation network and an airport city all in one.

The seamless continuity in architectural resemblance between the KL International Airport and Kuala Lumpur Sentral is just one feature in their complementary roles. Once the high-speed Express Rail Link becomes operational in early 2002, Kuala Lumpur Sentral will offer a continuity of airport services at the start and end of a flight.

I wish MRCB and its partners success in the on-going development of this national project.
