

29/06/2001

Getting together in the name of development

THE 10th World Economic Development Congress saw two of the region's top leaders - Malaysia Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad and the Philippines President Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo - delivering the opening address on Wednesday.

It also saw various industry and business leaders from around the globe converged at the congress to learn more about the current issues and trends in the world as well as to build business connections.

Besides the business pundits, the event also brought together political and finance leaders to share ideas on pushing forward growth in developing countries.

Kuala Lumpur played host to the three-day event that ends today. The Congress is organised by World Congress LLC in cooperation with Ecoevent Sdn Bhd, Asia Leadership Forum and BusinessWeek.

(END)