Magic under the mistletoe

VERNON ADRIAN EMUANG, creative consultant, multimedia performer, arts and Internet activist

1. It would have to be Madonna.

Or Marina Mahathir.

2. I'm in an M kinda mood (smiles). Madonna because she's looking more and more sexy with age.

In the cruel world of pop music, she has been able to keep her work relevant with the times and not look or feel dated. She's also a mother and wife, and that adds to her aura of unreachability.

Marina because I admire a woman of courage, who can articulate her thoughts and tangle with small-minded, self-righteous amoebas both within and without our public agencies and regulatory bodies. She's also a mother and wife.

Can we spend a long weekend at Marang Beach Safari together? I'd like to know what drives them. (Oh ya, they are allowed to bring their families!)

3. Obviously Marina.
