

MIC to hold
STAR 27 OCT 2003 national convention on election

KUALA LUMPUR: The MIC will hold a national-level convention for all the 4,300 branch leaders, including division and state chiefs on Nov 9 to launch a campaign to prepare for the next general election, said party president Datuk Seri S. Saif Vellu.

He said the one-day convention, to be held in Shah Alam, was aimed at mobilising the party's strength in facing the general election and to map out election strategies.

The convention would also record its full and undivided support to Datuk Seri Abdullah Ahmad Badawi who would assume the post of Prime Minister on Friday, he said yesterday.

He said the Nov 9 gathering would also record its deepest appreciation to Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad whom he described as a "Great Warrior" for the prosperity brought by the Prime Minister to the nation and the people. — Bernama
