Let the rich reach out

Bulbir Singh

MALAYSIAN Business' Feb 16th-28th, 2003 issue on the 40 richest Malaysians made a stimulating read.

Several new faces have cropped up in the list. I am glad. I wish them luck in all their endeavours. I hope Malaysia continues to have more wealthy people, both men and women alike. It is good to have them around as they can spur us ordinary folk to greater heights! I know now why our Prime Minister Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad wants wealthy neighbours!

But I sometimes wonder what these people intend to do with so much money? How much of it can they actually use for their day-to-day expenses? Yet, at the other end of the spectrum, there are many in this world who do not even make enough to have two decent meals a day! Talk about disparity.

However, we have to accept it as this is how the good Lord intended it to be. I only hope that these people assist the not-so-rich in one way or the other. Enjoy your wealth by all means, I say, but have a heart for the poor too!
