New blood needed

Dr Sanan

IT will be a sad day for all of us today, when Datuk Seri Dr Mahathir Mohamad steps down. He will be affectionately remembered as the father of modern Malaysia.

No one has asked him to leave but he has decided to call it a day. Such noble gesture is rare.

It is sad to note that the other old guards are not prepared to go. It is sad to read the excuses they give to hold on to their posts and power. The country needs new blood to complement our new PM.
