

and other health problems among the rural communities, but on-the-spot treatment is also conducted for ailments detected among the people involved in the Rural Health Study.

These studies no doubt provide important background information, to those Ministries involved in the planning and implementation of their programmes in the rural areas.

8C. I fully realise that the successful implementation of medical and health programmes, requires the coordinated efforts of several