

5.

- (a) A major role has been assigned to the private sector to provide the impetus to growth and to sustain the rapid rates of advancement necessary for achieving the objectives of restructuring society under the New Economic Policy.
- (b) Strengthening of business confidence through the use of fiscal and monetary policies.
- (c) Streamlining administrative procedures to facilitate the implementation of projects.