

Egret Books

The UMNO Drama

Fan Yew Teng was born in Malaysia in 1942. He is a former teacher, trade unionist and opposition MP. He received a Certificate in Education from the University of Birmingham after attending a two-year teacher training course at the Malayan Teachers College near Wolverhampton, England in 1961-62. He was a Parvin Fellow at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University during the 1976/77 academic year. In 1980 he received a Diploma in Education from the University of London, and the following year he obtained his MA from the University of Sussex. His other books are Oppressors and Apologists, If We Love This Country, and The Song of the Merbuk (a selection of poems).

He now spends most of his time writing, and is a human rights activist.

The UMNO Drama: Power Struggles in Malaysia

© Fan Yew Teng, 1989

First published in Malaysia by Egret Publications,
92B Jalan Burhanuddin Helmi,
Taman Tun Dr Ismail,
60000 Kuala Lumpur,
Malaysia.

Cover design by Renee Kraal

Printed by Kong Lee Printers,
34 Jalan Merlimau,
Off Jalan Kenanga,
Kuala Lumpur,
Malaysia.

The UMNO Drama

Power Struggles in Malaysia

An Egret Book
Kuala Lumpur

Acknowledgements

I owe a great debt of gratitude to many people who helped me in bringing out this book. I am especially indebted to all those people who had kindly agreed to converse with me on the subject or to be formally interviewed, including my friends in Ampang Jaya, Pudu, Taman Tun Dr Ismail, Ulu Klang, Wangsa Maju, Marang, Ipoh, Petaling Jaya and Johore Baru. Because of the prevailing political climate in Malaysia today, I have decided not to name any of them here.

I also wish to thank Professor Syed Husin Ali of the University of Malaya and Cik Saliha Hassan of Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (the National University of Malaysia) for their useful advice. To Associate Professor Halim Ali of Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia, I am grateful for his generous consent to read the manuscript and to make critical comments before publication.

To my late sister Wai Fun, my friend the late Saminder Singh, and my childhood friends Kaliluddin and Ismail who taught me so much about the beauty and spirit of this country, I would like to dedicate this book.

Fan Yew Teng