'Umno can't control Papagomo, Parpukari'

Love Boy: Umno New Media Unit chief Tun Faisal Ismail Abdul Aziz, much as you try to say that the Umno bloggers are not under your section, they are in fact very much under the direct influence of Umno. I am sure they are also given a grant by Umno to attack the opposition.

Let me explain. You recall the Scorpene trip where Lim Guan Eng was invited, can you tell the public how come blogger Papagomo was able to get into the submarine?

You mean to tell the public that our Scorpene submarine is like KTM (Keretapi Tanah Melayu)?

Only people with connections can get into such a high security area and only Umno can direct the Navy to allow their favourite son to go on board the sub, so don't bluff the public that Papagomo is an independent blogger.

ACR: There is no need for Umno's New Media Unit to control these two 'P' bloggers (Papagomo and Parpukari).

What has happened to the Malaysian Communications and Multimedia Commission (MCMC) and a host of other authorities who are so efficient in clamping down on bloggers who are critical of BN-Umno?

Can't they act against these 'P' guys for using defamatory material?

Swkdayaks: They are Umno's heart and soul, sponsored, guided and protected by Umno to achieve Umno's goal - that is, to demonise Umno's enemies, Pakatan Rakyat, civil society groups and anyone who fights for justice and freedom who and which Umno hates.

Dump Umno and BN and let a new government take over Malaysia, only then we can hope and dream of justice and democracy in Malaysia.

Remember, when Umno-BN had a two-thirds majority in Parliament and controlled all the states in Malaysia, atrocities, corruption and abuse of power were so pervasive and blatant.

Even after losing its two-thirds majority in parliament in the 2008 general election, (GE) their corrupt leaders like Abdul Taib Mahmud in Sarawak are still untouchable.

What more to say if they regain their two-thirds majority in the 13th GE, Malaysia will return to the dark ages again. So please don't vote for Umno and BN again in coming GE. Save Malaysia.

Anon99: Until now, no one has admitted who leaked the sex tape which the Datuk T trio publicly mentioned that they handed over the one and only copy to the police.

So, you don't want them to post vulgar stuff, but you fed them with the entire sex tape?

Cannon: Umno can't control Utusan Malaysia either.

'Ah Jib Gor' gives RM2.5mil 'ang pow' to KL school

Call me Jibby: Ah Jib Gor (Brother Najib), I dare you to recognise the United Examination Certificate (UEC) in every local higher education institution.

That is a bigger 'ang pow' than a mere RM2.5 million, or perhaps the biggest 'ang pow' you could possibly offer to the Chinese community in Malaysia.

It's a shame that almost every world class universities in United States, United Kingdom, Australia and Western Europe recognise UEC but not the Umno-BN government and local universities.

SKT: I wonder which PR (public relation) firm is now given the task by Najib to come out with the 'Ah Jib Gor' campaign. That is one of the worst 'branding exercises', seriously.

Mamak Bendahara: Thank you. This is a long deserving package which has been neglected all these years. The money is after all, ours.

And if Pakatan Rakyat takes over the federal government tomorrow, it's not only Chong Hwa school but many other Tamil, mission and Chinese schools which will be getting the allocations. The national schools will also be revamped.

Macha97: It's taxpayers' money. This money does not belong to Najib. The headline should read 'Taxpayers give RM2.5 million to KL school'.

Evening breeze: That's one percent of the loan given to Women and Family Development Minister Shahrizat Abdul Jalil's family.

Come on Najib, Chinese New Year comes once every 12 months, I am sure you can do better than that. Ah Jib Gor, how about doubling that? Otherwise, how to be big brother... tua lampar maybe.

Onyourtoes: What a coincidence, RM2.5 million to the school is one percent of the RM250 million loan given to the cows.

2CTS WORTH: Ah Jib Gor, please don't get carried away by your generous nature. Don't forget to keep some for yourself.
