The PAS central committee will meet its Kedah leaders on Saturday night to patch apparent cracks between state chief Azizan Abdul Razak (below) and his deputy, Phahrolrazi Zawawi.

This was decided after a three-hour PAS central committee emergency meeting by in Kuala Lumpur last night, said PAS vice-president Salahudin Ayub.

He said that the meeting will take place at 9pm in Alor Setar but did not specify the venue.

"We will hold a dialogue between both parties to resolve the matter. We have decided what needs to be discussed," he said when approached after the meeting at about midnight.

Party wants to end feud by weekend

PAS deputy president Mohamad Sabu stressed that the central committee had heard opinions about the problems with the party's leadership in Kedah expressed in a cordial fashion.

He also revealed that other parties joining the dialogue include its state assemblypersons along with representatives from the Ulama and Youth wings.

"We will all give our opinion. God willing, we will find a good solution," said Mohamad (left), adding that the central committee was confident about resolving the problems by the weekend.

He added that all central committee members and state party heads from all over the country will be involved in the meeting.

He also expects Alor Mengkudu state assembly person Dr Ismail Salleh, who with Phahrolzi declined to be sworn in as state exco members on Tuesday, will attend the meet.
