'Hot videos' implicating four Pakatan Rakyat leaders will be exposed soon, Umno-owned Utusan Malaysia reports today.

These videos will be published 'at the right time', the Malay daily said.

NONThe people in the videos are said to resemble two top leaders of PKR, a male leader from PAS and another one from the DAP, the report says.

To back its claim, Utusan said that "a rumour" about the 'hot videos' was also reported in a 'pro-opposition' blog, suarapakatanrakyat.com.

Early this week several pro-Umno blogs released still images of footage allegedly showing a couple in an toilet tryst, with the claim that the man was PKR deputy president Azmin Ali.

Utusan then published the images on its front page, together with Azmin's denial.

Yesterday, Azmin demanded a public apology and withdrawal of the allegation the paper made in its report.

He also plans to take legal action against the daily, and to seek RM100 million in damages.

Azmin claimed that the toilet tryst claim was the latest in a string of recent allegations targeting his character, beginning with claims about his daughter's paternity followed by his alleged instigation of the Bersih 3.0 chaos.
