Former inspector-general of police Musa Hassan today said the police must ensure peace if there was a peaceful transition of power.

"The police must ensure the situation is calm for a smooth transition of power.

"If there are any parties that are planning to do something (to disrupt the transition), they must take action straight away," he told a press conference in Petaling Jaya this afternoon.

He said regardless of whether BN or Pakatan Rakyat comes to power, both sides must accept the results of the upcoming general election.
