In his polling day eve message to all Malaysians, defacto PKR leader Anwar Ibrahim urged the country's 13 million voters to turn up and cast their ballots with "faith, courage and vision".

NONE"Your decision will take Malaysia into a new era. Go out and vote with strength, encourage all your family, friends and neighbours to cast their ballots," Anwar (left) said today at a press conference in Kubang Semang.

Anwar also thanked civil servants for their dedication, service and impeccable credentials that have helped run the government.

He also urged them not to get involved in the shredding or hiding of government documents if Pakatan were to seize Putrajaya from the BN tomorrow, after polling day.

"Please do not abet any quarters to complicate the smooth transition of power because that is against the law," he said.

He also urged Malaysians not to fear. "This transition will not only be historic but also peaceful.

"Pakatan's security advisory council of former generals and police will help myself and other Pakatan leaders through the process," he said in assurance.

NONEHe repeated his warning to the Election Commission and the caretaker government that the rakyat will not entertain any electoral fraud.

"We will be vigilant of all suspicious activities. We will ensure that only Malaysians will decide the fate of our nation, and Insyaallah, we will succeed," he said.

"To all Malaysians: our nation is a land of promise and fulfillment. Seize your destiny. Ini Kalilah!".
