PKR de facto leader Anwar Ibrahim (below) said that no official proposals for a unity government had ever come from Prime Minister and BN chief Najib Abdul Razak.

However, he does not deny that this matter has been "discussions...in private" within political circles.

"I deny hearing from Najib on any specific proposals. Period...

NONE"Let us confine ourselves to the facts. No formal or designated representation (from the BN)

"I don't think in the realm of politics these rumours (and) discussions in public places can be an issue," he told reporters.

PAS vice president Salahuddin Ayub, also at the post-Pakatan Rakyat leadership council meeting press conference, too, denied that PAS embarked on such talk with veteran BN MP Tengku Razaleigh Hamzah.

"At this stage, not at all. We stick with Pakatan. Any decision we make it under Pakatan, it's very clear," he said.
