YOURSAY 'The blame should be on the PM who could do a lot more to make his comrades toe the line. One can't help feeling that he, too, is part of this unacceptable behaviour.'

MCA boss: Noh Omar must be crazy your sayOdin: MCA chief Dr Chua Soi Lek, I am afraid your criticism of Selangor Umno chief Noh Omar is similar to the gunner aboard a battleship firing off a volley of blanks.

As for you, MIC strategic director S Vell Paari, do reprint the same photographs and allegations in your daily, Tamil Nesan, should the probe be instituted.

One more thing. Please round up all your supporters and together with them get out of the MIC. Or, by hook or by crook get to be the party president and take it out of the awful joke of a coalition.

Astounded: With statements like those made by Noh, Umno vice-president Mohd Shafie Apdal (on reintroducing the Internal Security Act) and deputy president Muhyiddin Yassin (on wrongly accusing non-Muslims for insulting Islam), it looks like Umno is hell-bent on self-destruction.

Good luck to them and the sooner Umno gets out of our lives, the sooner the country can begin the healing process and start to develop socially, politically and financially.

Tehachapi: After years of abusive rule, Umno leaders like Noh Omar have totally lost touch with the sentiments of ordinary people of Malaysia.

They behave like hooligans with exaggerated self-importance, using intimidations, threats of violence and senseless outrageous statements to attract public attention.

Under Umno's political leadership, the prestige of Malaysia in the eye of the world community will continue to decline and regress into the dark ages of our civilisation.

This is certainly not a destiny we have hoped for. People have to rise up and put Umno in its proper place - the dustbin of history.

Fantastic4: It's no wonder why the party is in a shambles when they put illiterate people to lead. Since the last GE, they have worked hard to display their illiteracy and folly to set the party on the pedestal for the world to laugh at and the rakyat to scorn at.

Umno would have these people to thank when the party ceased to be relevant to the rakyat.

Shah54: This is the proper way to act. MCA, MIC, Gerakan are beginning to open their eyes against the wrongdoings of Umno. This should have been done before.

It Umno tries to be funny, they should leave BN coalition. This shows how stupid Noh is. He, as a senior Umno leader, must use his brain before he speaks. What Chua says is right.

Jessy43: I understand health inspectors check school canteens regularly. What action will they take if they find students eating next to the shower rooms? Will they allow it?

Health Ministry, what do you have to say regarding this? Will the SK Seri Pristana principal's feeble excuses be accepted?

Monkey Wrench: Isn't this the wallah Noh Omar that has a prawn farm that did not do so well? What a running sore of a man, less a leader of men, and that from the business house call Umno.

Noh should do the correct thing, haul up those beggars who insulted Hindus and spoke of burning the Bible. Also, those that asked Malaysians of the Chinese and Indian tribes to leave their home country for other lands.

Fairnsquare: People of Noh Omar's calibre are bringing down the standard of Umno. Umno as the majority must take the lead in displaying fair and just thinking to regain the confidence of not only the Malays but all races.

Hopefully Noh Omar will be replaced by more capable leaders in Umno.

Clever Voter: No one can fault Nor Omar since he is well-protected by his boss, and probably encouraged as well.

The blame should be on the PM who could do a lot more to make his comrades toe the line. One can't help feeling that he, too, is part of this unacceptable behaviour.

Malaysian Born: Again another indication of just how dumb some of our politicians are and this explains some of the silly messes that are allowed to become crises.

Noh Omar shooting his mouth off is one thing but to make such utterly obtuse and absurd comments makes it plain that he is really quite unfit for high office.

He is making grunting sounds in advance of the coming Umno elections as are others to show that they are the heros of the Malays and in this case will be the one taming the non-Malays.

He will achieve neither but we really need some intelligent leaders to step up, we must have better people, this gives new meaning to scraping the bottom of the barrel.

It is a real concern when only fools like this are out there making the comments.

Responsible Malaysian: Now everyone in the world knows that Malaysia is run by bunch of crazy politicians. Don't let foreigners know that you are Malaysians, otherwise they will think that you are crazy too.

Newday: The blinkers are off. I hope they now realise that Umno will never learn, will never change until Umno loses power.

Onyourtoes: You know what; it surely takes a long time for psychopaths to know their long-time partner are crazy.
